Promptly at 8 o'clock Ald. Bell stepped upon the platform and just as promptly was voted to the chair amid loud applause. Among those on the platform with him were: Rev. Alexander Cuthbert of College-square, Belfast; Mr. Alexander Astrich of Cork, J. Cuthbert, J.P. of Coleraine, Ireland; Bishop Campbell, James L. Hughes, Ex-Mayor Beaty, Dr. Oronhyatekha, Ald. Bailey, W. Douglas Armour, N. Clarke Wallace, M.P., Rev. W. S. Blackstock, C. F. Gallagher, John McMillan, James McMaster, John Beatty, Rev. W. Brookman, William Burton, R. B. Elgie, John Mills, G. H. Evans, E. J. S. Vicars, John McFaul, M. B. Allison, Richard Lowe, W. Wilson, Rev. H. Softly, Rev. G. Howie, W. M. Milligan.

A Voice from Belfast.

Rev. Alexander Cuthbert of Belfast was the first speaker, and he was received with tumultuous applause. His speech was vigorous and touched responsive chords in the hearts of the audience. "Mr. Chairman and friends," he began, "I assure you it gives me great pleasure to take an humble part in this magnificent demonstration. It proves that you are interested in my native country, Ireland, and it also proves to me that all Canadians are not in favor of Home Rule. I think it has been said that four-fifths were in favor, but I don't believe it. [Cries of "yes" and "no" and interruption in rear.] I love Ireland and Irishmen. [Applause.] I, personally, who have studied this subject (Home Rule) have come to the conclusion that Mr. Gladstone's policy would be disastrous. I don't know how many of you are in favor of Home Rule, but I can assure you that 99 per cent. of the people of Ulster have said that we will not have Home Rule. [Tumultuous applause.] And the reason is we will not have it. We believe that Home Rule would mean to a certain extent Rome Rule. [Cheers.] And we have had that proven in many events in the history of Ireland. One example. We hear of toleration. We hear that the Roman Catholic Church has been tolerant. I ask you to point out one place, where that church has had the power, if there has been religious liberty." He held that it was on the contrary, for in some parts of Ireland the peasant had to take his politics from the Catholic Church.

Logic and Sarcasm.

Mr. Douglas Armour was called upon to move the first resolution. A sarcastic vein ran through his address. "Mr. Chairman, ladies and gentlemen,—I have much pleasure in greeting to-night the unenlightened, the uninformed and uneducated, and altogether very much to be pitied remnant who did not believe in Home Rule for Ireland. [Laughter.] As at present advised on the subject if I am the only one in Canada to remain unconverted, I shall remain unconverted." [Cheers.]

Proceeding, he said that he did not believe that the question of Home Rule came within the province of Canada. "At the same time I think we ought to protest when it is said by a Canadian that Canada is practically unanimously in favor of Home Rule." [Loud cheers.]

He next ridiculed Mr. Blake in presuming to come back to Canada and ask for support for the Home Rule cause. Then he referred to the Home Rule resolutions brought up in the Dominion House of Commons at different periods, and laughingly pointed out that several of the members in speaking on these resolutions had attempted the Irish brogue. One gentleman, he added, had said in addressing the Speaker: "I too am an Irishman on my mother's side." [Laughter.]

"If I am asked who are the people that are asking for Home Rule I reply that it is the people that have produced Fenians, people who won't respect the rights of property, people who won't pay their rents, people who shoot their landlords from behind a hedge. [Loud cheering.]

"If they maintain the moral right to shoot a landlord they would soon wish to legalize that right. [Renewed cheers.] Probably they would wish to legalize hamstringing of cattle. Again, it is the most illiterate portion of the people that is asking for Home Rule."

Before taking his seat he moved this resolution:

That this meeting of the citizens of the city of Toronto and of the Province of Ontario express the hope that the Imperial Parliament refuse to grant Home Rule to Ireland or pass any measure which would place the control of the lives and properties of our fellow-subjects in that land under a local Parliament nominated by the leaders of the so-called Irish National Party who have hitherto shown marked hostility to the British Government and British connection, and an utter disregard of the rights of property.

The Link Must Be Kept Intact.

Rev. Stewart Acheson seconded the resolution. He quoted from the speech of the late Mr. Parnell at Cincinnati on Feb. 23, 1890, "None of us, whether we are in America or in Ireland, or wherever we may be, will be satisfied till we have destroyed the last link which keeps Ireland bound to England."

Has not Mr. Parnell authority to speak for Irishmen more than any Canadian?

Mr. Acheson also quoted from a speech of Mr. Redmond, M.P., at Dundalk in 1885: "We will be satisfied with nothing that England can give so long as Englishmen rule over us and so long as the English flag takes the place where the green flag ought to be."

Denies There Are Disabilities.

Mr. Clarke Wallace, M.P., in an able speech, maintained that in no country in the world had the Irish so many privileges as in Ireland. The landlord could not put a man out if he paid his rent, and he could not put him out if he did not pay his rent. They had their rent legally fixed, had tenant right and compensation for improvements. Under what disabilities, then, asked Mr. Wallace, did the Irish labor? And he proceeded to show they had none. He then proposed this resolution:

That we believe the attempt to set up a Home Rule Parliament in Ireland will result in disorder and confusion, and will produce disastrous results to the well-being and harmony of the British Empire.

What Mr. Blake Said in London.

Captain Ridout in seconding the resolution said that to grant Home Rule to Ireland would be nothing less than a cowardly surrender of the minority to their hereditary foes and to the domination of the priests.

An Unconstitutional Proposal.

Dr. James Beaty, Q.C., moved the next resolution:

That this meeting disavows and repudiates the claims publicly expressed by the Hon. Edward Blake and others of the Liberal party in England that there is any real analogy between the system of constitutional government in Canada and the proposed system of Home Rule for Ireland, and that this meeting further expresses the well-founded misapprehension that Home Rule in Ireland as now understood would tend to the disruption of the British Empire and destroy that unity and prestige which command influence in all parts of the world.

Mr Beaty, in an able speech in support of the resolution, showed that Mr. Blake's proposal was unconstitutional. "I have read all that has been reported of Mr. Blake's speeches in Ireland and England, especially those interesting letters which were communicated by my friend, Mr. Howard, to find out what Mr. Blake was after. We know the hon. gentleman's legal acumen, and I must confess that I was astonished to find that he was proposing to establish anything in Ireland analogous to what we have in Canada."

Mr. Seymour Corney seconded the resolution, which, like all the others, was carried unanimously.

The School Inspector Speaks.

Mr. James L. Hughes delivered a stirring address. He said that he was proud of what Mr. Blake had done for Protestantism in Canada, but was sorry he should try and dismember the British Empire on the other side of the Atlantic. Mr. Blake, he contended, was out in his arithmetic when he said that four-fifths of the people of Canada were in favor of Home Rule.

Before taking his seat he moved this resolution:

That we heartily approve of the determination of the Anti-Nationalists of Ireland to protest against the establishment of a Parliament which we believe would be controlled by men hitherto largely responsible for the outrages and boycotting which have unsettled and disturbed the peace and prosperity of Ireland, and who would, we believe, be instruments of a dominant ecclesiasticism.

Bishop Campbell of the Reformed Episcopal Church seconded the resolution. "Home Rule means for the Protestants of Ireland disaster and misery." "If Home Rule means Rome Rule, which I believe it does, then I am utterly and eternally opposed to it." [Cheers.]

Rev. Mr. Coburn moved a resolution of thanks to the chairman, which was carried unanimously.

SHOT HIMSELF IN THE HEAD.

A Young Farmer of Trafalgar Township Commits Suicide.

OAKVILLE, Sept. 21.—Robert Stewart, aged 32, was found in his home Saturday evening with a bullet hole through his head and his body in a terrible state of decomposition. The facts are somewhat singular. Stewart lived with his mother on sixth line, Trafalgar Township, about 5½ miles northwest from here. He had lately been employed with John Johnstone of Postville in the threshing business. His mother went a little over a week ago to the Toronto exhibition, and at the same time to visit her daughter, residing in that city.

Last Saturday evening one of the women of the neighborhood was walking by Stewart's house and noticed a very unpleasant odor. Some neighbors went to the house, forced open the door, went upstairs and beheld a dreadful sight. Stewart's body was lying across the bed with a bullet hole in his head. A 32-calibre revolver was found on the floor loaded, and one chamber empty. The dead man was dressed in his best clothes complete.

A note was found on a table in the same room in his handwriting, dated Wednesday morning at 7 o'clock. It merely stated he wished to be buried as he was at Omagh, and not to search his pockets. His pockets were examined, but nothing of importance found. The funeral took place Sunday afternoon, an inquest being deemed unnecessary. His mother was not home for the funeral. Stewart was last seen at Drumquin on Tuesday.

Why deceased took such a desperate step is not exactly known. It is alleged, however, that a reverse in love was the prime cause. Stewart had been very attentive to a young lady for some time. Lately a rival seemed to be the favorite. Stewart made threats that he would shoot his rival and then shoot himself. Deceased had been considered a cheerful, sensible and respectable man.

A DEMAND ON DIBBS.

A Man Elected by Labor Must Do Something for Labor.

SYDNEY, N.S.W., Sept. 21.—A crowd numbering 6000 person sent a deputation to Sir G. R. Dibbs, Prime Minister and Colonial Secretary of New South Wales, to demand the release of the labor agitators who were arrested in connection with the strike at the Broken Hill mine.

The Prime Minister refused to see the deputation until to-morrow morning. This action incensed the crowd and they rushed to the House of Parliament and tried to effect an entrance, but were repulsed by armed policemen. Threats of violence were made, and it is feared the mob will attempt to release the prisoners from the jail.

TROY, N.Y., Sept. 21.—President and Mrs. Harrison left Loon Lake for Washington at noon yesterday. Mrs. Harrison is improved in health, and the doctors decided that her condition would warrant her departure. The entire trip will be made by special train.

Canadian Canoe Factory.

A Newly-organized Business With a Skilled Proprietor, Mr. A. R. Tebb.

The Canadian Canoe Factory, Mr. A. R. Tebb, late of Victoria, B.C., proprietor, is among the latest acquisitions to the canoeing industries in the town of Peterborough—which is the veritable home of the canoe. This new enterprise is situated in the Birdsall's block, on the corner of Brock and Water streets and and occupies a convenient and commanding site. The flooring space of the establishment is large, extending over three flats, size 45 x 55—a total of 7425 square feet. Mr. Tebb has a competent staff of builders and although the business has been only established a few weeks, it has made no mean showing. The proprietor has a full set of moulds of the latest and most approved design completed, and having one of the finest set of moulds out, he has now began in earnest the building of huntings sailing, fishing, etc., canoes of all kind. out of such woods as basswood, cedar, butternut, Spanish cedar and planking. Mr. Tebb also manufactures all kinds of canoes both smooth seam and lap streak. The Canadian Canoe Factory will make a specialty of manufacturing portable steam launches, complete in all particulars from 20 to 40 feet in length and 40 inches to 8 feet in width. These snug little crafts will carry from 6 to 20 people comfortably, according to the length and build of the bark. They are gotten up, finished in every respect and ready to kiss the waves for $150 and upwards. The speed is about six miles an hour. These launches are steered by levers from any part of the boat. The engines are of an oscillating type and made to burn either coal, wood or oil. The steamer is driven by a propeller wheel, while the boiler is of a safety tube pattern and non-explosive. The engines are mounted up on substantial bases and for an additional cost of $25 can be made to burn either coal or wood, coal or oil, wood or oil, etc. Mr. Tebb has had 12 years experience in canoe building and is a first class and skilled workman.

Existing Troubles.

Mothers are Often to Blame.

Cross, peevish and fretful babies are a source of annoyance and discomfort to all who come in contact with them. Such babies are burdens to the mothers who minister to them.

The fault does not lie entirely with the helpless babies; in the great majority of cases, the mothers are to blame for existing troubles. If an investigation is made, there is no difficulty in determing the cause of unrest and fretfulness.

In almost every case the root of the trouble will be found in imperfect food—dieting that is not suited to the condition of the little ones. Poorly prepared artificial foods are fed to babies, day after day, which derange and almost destroy the weak organs of digestion. These foods irritate and inflame the bowels and stomach, and cause the babies to suffer severely.

Is it any wonder then that we see so many cross and troublesome babies?

Mothers who know the value of Lactated Food, and who do not procure it for their infants, are alone to blame when their little ones are sick. The mothers of Canada should know that Lactated Food is health and strength for babies. Its composition is pure and healthful; it is the choice of our best physicians, and can be fed to the weakest infant with perfect success and satisfaction. It makes the cross baby happy; it gives sleep to the wakeful child; it brings strength to the puny and frail one. Try it, mothers, for the sake of the weak ones who cannot help themselves. Try Lactated Food if you earnestly wish to see your little darlings live.

Another Fine Holstein.

Messrs. Stothart Bros. have purchased and added to their herd of Holsteins the Holstein bullock, which took first prize at the Toronto Industrial Exhibition. This fine calf was dropped last February and tares the scale now at 560 lbs. The new acquisition to Stothart Bros. herd bids fair to be a worthy successor to "Valparaiso," who has such a splendid record as a stock-getter.

Many of the worst attacks of cholera morbus, cramps, dysentery, colic, etc., come suddenly in the night and speedy and prompt means must be used against them. Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is the remedy. Keep it on hand for emergencies. It never fails to cure or relieve. dw

A New Ensilage Experiment.

A despatch from Ottawa says:—"The staff at the Central Experimental Farm was engaged the other day filling the silos, in regard to which Prof. Robertson is undertaking a novel experiment. The ensilage will consist of Indian corn, mammoth Russian sunflowers, grown purposely for cattle feeding, and English horse beans, including the pod, stem and bean. Prof. Robertson's desire is to obtain an ensilage which will be a perfect ration for animals without the addition of meals, and he thinks he has obtained it with these constituents." A practical stock raiser in Smith speaking to an EXAMINER representative, regarding this experment, says that it is an important one. He thinks the new ration may do well for young stock that can thoroughly masticate the seeds of the sunflowers, but he doubts its value with adult stock, owing to their well known inability to chew grains sufficiently to prevent them passing the alimentary tract undigested.

No person should travel without a box of Ayer's Pills. As a safe and speedy remedy for constipation and all irregularities of the stomach and bowels they have no equal, and being skillfully sugar-coated are pleasant to take, and long retain their virtues.

A Month in Manitoba.

A Farmer's Observations in the Prairie Province.

Mr. J. Fred Davidson, of Smith, returned home on Monday from a month's trip to Manitoba, where he went to look after some business interests and to prospect and observe the agricultural operations and probabilities of the country. During the month he spent in the province, he was, as was to be expected of him, on the move pretty briskly, going over a large portion of the province with his eyes open. He first spent fifteen days in the Morden district, going as far north as the Northern Pacific. He saw some fine farms in this district, well and successfully tilled—miles upon miles of wheat waving in golden billows heavy with hard Manitoba wheat. Most of the land in this district is broken up and under cultivation. The face of the country is agreeably broken with fringes of timber along the streams. The averaged yield of the wheat fields is from 20 to 30 bushels per acre. In this district the season is somewhat earlier than in other sections, and the wheat at the time of Mr. Davidson's visit was cut and stooked and a large proportion of the threshing done. In this vicinity, to the south-east, there is a large Mennonite settlement. These people are poor and slovenly farmers. They allow the weeds to run riot and their neglect in this respect off on not only themselves, but their neighbours. They crop without adequate cultivation and the results are in direct proportion to their free and easy style of farming. He does not regard them as desirable settlers.

In the Boissevaine district the soil is very rich and there is plenty of good water. This district is not so well settled as the Morden district, but it is well adapted to mixed farming. The face of the country is more rolling. The presence of considerable "slough" land, which grows a large quantity of coarse but sweet and nutritious hay, makes stock raising a profitable adjunct to grain farming. This hay is eaten readily by stock, which thrives well upon it, and tons of it are grown per acre.

Next a drive of forty miles took the prospector to Hartley, which has similar features of landscape and soil, though the soil is somewhat lighter, and there is less timber than in the Morden district. This district is fairly well settled, several Peterborough people, the Turnbull's, T. Milburn and Harry Donnelly, of Smith, have comfortable homes, good farms and good prospects. They like the country; some of them would not exchange for their former residences.

In the Deloraine district the crops are the best that have been harvested for years. In the famous Ox-bow district, west of Melita, the crops are lighter this year than usual.

Throughout the province there has been an agreeable absence of frost—not enough to do any considerable damage. In many cases the wheat is threshed directly out of the stook, and in places where elevators are convenient, the grain is taken directly from the field to the elevator.

Altogether as a result of his month of inspection Mr. Davidson, who is a shrewd observer and was brought up under one of the most progressive farmers in the county—the late Mr. Hugh Davidson—is very favourably impressed with Manitoba. He regards it as especially favourable to the young man beginning farming with a limited capital, to the tenant farmers in Ontario and others similarly situated. The country also presents a splendid opportunity to a man with a large family of sons, whom he may wish to place on farms. But any one who is comfortably situated in Ontario, will not be wise to exchange the comforts of an Ontario home with settled conditions, for the comparative hardships and privations that come to settlers in the best of new countries.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

The Otonabee annual agricultural exhibition will be held here on the 6th and 7th of October. As our shows in past years have been a success we anticipate that this year's exhibit will surpass that of last year.

A number of our villagers attended the Toronto exhibition last week and report the exhibits as being varied, good and numerous.

The potato crop in this neighborhood although good is not equal to last year's either in quantity or quality.

Several young men who consider themselves decent and, respectable on Sunday night last desecrated the Lord's day by stealing their neighbor's grapes.

Mr. Hugh McFee, tailor of Centreville, and a former resident of this village paid us a visit on Monday last. He is hale and hearty and reports business to be lively in his little village.

Several from this vicinity attended the circus held in Peterborough on Tuesday last and if rumor be true one young man was duped out of a five dollar bill by a sharper in connection with the circus. Surely we are warned often enough through the press to beware of such cranks but yet some will not take advice and therefore must bear the consequences.

The New Parliament Buildings.

Honest and Economical Expenditure.

The Toronto Mail says:—It was a happy idea to combine the celebration of the hundredth anniversary of Parliamentary government in Ontario and the opening of the new Legislative buildings. Ontario's progress is well symbolized by the massive structure in the Queen's park. The prompt and workmanlike way in which it has been erected and the honest and economical expenditure of the funds voted for the purpose form a great tribute to our provincial Administration. But although comparisons are odious, most people will be struck by the strange contrast between the outcome of our provincial government as represented by the Legislative buildings and the product of our municipal institutions as represented by Toronto's Court-house and City hall.

When weak, weary and worn out, Hood's Sarsaparilla is just the medicine to restore your strength and give you a good appetite.

IS PREPARING FOR FALL BUSINESS.

The reading public of the town and county of Peterborough must have noticed from time to time our advertisement in this paper. We do not wish to trouble the public too frequently with astounding advertisements, telling them that at our store, and our store only, is the place to deal. Come to think of it, we never advertise in that style at all. We have always tried to stick to ONE GRAND PRINCIPLE, viz.: TO ADVERTISE EXACTLY WHAT WE INTENDED DOING, AND TO DO EXACTLY WHAT WE ADVERTISED. Having just returned from the wholesale markets, where a purchase of $3,271,56 was effected for CASH, will simply mention here a few of the various classes of goods bought, and leave the purchasing public to judge if we have or have not kept faith with our announcement.

HERE ARE THE PRINCIPAL LINES:

1 Lot of Ladies' Mantles in the latest styles, amounting to $575.00. Of the dozens and dozens of them there are not two alike. No use in quoting prices; not two are the same price. Just come and examine them.

Dress Goods, $875.60. Space does not not permit us saying what we would like to about these goods. Suffice it to say this much: We will give you 12 yards of all-wool Serge, in choice of shades, Trimmings and all for $2.15.

Mantle Cloths, $508.40. The balance of our purchase was made up in many lines of Staple and Fancy Goods. Perhaps you'll smile when we say that we have a Large Table in the Centre of the Floor covered with Lovely Dress and Mantle Buttons, worth 25c, 40 and 50c. per dozen. Come in and help yourself to any of them AT THREE AND ONE-HALF CENTS PER DOZEN.

We have always claimed to keep on hand the most reliable stock Gloves and Hosiery to be had in town. We will just add once more that should any of our Celebrated French Kids burst on first trying on we will replace them with pleasure.

YOURS FAITHFULLY,

J. J. SHEEHY.

The Band Concert.

The 57th band had a splendid practice last night, and their programme is getting into first class shape. They are putting in practice every night, and the public who are wise enough to patronize the concert on the night of the 27th will have a genuine musical treat. Their programme will contain some of the best selections obtainable, including special Irish and Scotch music that will appeal strongly to the patriotic instinct. The hall will be beautifully and appropriately decorated, and no detail will be omitted that will make the concert one of the most notable events in the musical history of the town. Admission, 25 cents.

He Is Ever on the Move.

Mr. Chas. LeGros, the well known George street tobacconist and barber, is ever on the move. Monday he added another elegant chair to his fine, shaving parlour, making his establishment a five-chair barber shop. His premises are brilliantly lighted by 25 incandescent lights, and the dazzling brilliancy of these electrics, combined with the clear, undimmed reflection from a score of costly mirrors, presents an interior appearance which is both attractive and inviting. Mr. LeGros has a mechanical system of brushing machines in his fine establishment which he intends running by an electric motor in the near future, instead of by hand as at present.

A Successful Parlor Social.

A successful parlor social, given under the auspices of the St. Andrew's church Young People's Society of Christian Endeavour was held at the church manse last evening. About fifty young people were present and spent an enjoyable evening. Mr. W. S. Johnston presided in a happy manner and a programme of superior taste and merit was pleasantly carried out. An instrumental duet was rendered in fine style by Misses Wrighton and Hall, Miss Harris sang in excellent voice "The Old Looker," Mr. Tilley, the new precentor of St. Andrew's church, sang "The Mighty Deep," and Miss Fisk, "A Summer Shower," both numbers being especially well rendered, Miss Harris and Miss Code each contributed a capital instrumental solo, Miss Harris and Mr. Tilley rendered a duet entitled "Life's Dream is o'er," Mr. John Crane sang in a well trained voice "Folly," and the interesting programme was brought to a close by an instrumental solo by Miss Hall. Afterwards refreshments were served, when the happy company dispersed.

Educational Sermons.

The annual educational sermons of the George and Charlotte street Methodist churches will be held on Sunday, Oct. 2nd. Through the influence of Rev. Mr. Locke, pastor of the George street church, Rev. John Potts, D.D., general secretary of the educational bureau of the Methodist church, will preach in George street church in the evening and in the Charlotte street church in the morning. Rev. Dr. Dewart of Toronto, editor of the Christian Guardian, will conduct the services in the George street church in the morning, and will probably occupy the pulpit of the Charlotte street church in the evening.

More George Street Improvements.

Mr. McFarlane Wilson, the energetic proprietor of China Hall, has recently added some creditable improvements to the front of his large and varied establishment. Two good sized lights have been placed on each side of the main entrance showing to perfection the immense stock of fine crockery, glass and silverware in his windows. The doors and windows have been painted a becoming color. Next year Mr. Wilson contemplates making sweeping changes in his well appointed premises. Large plate glass fronts will be placed along the side of the store on Simcoe street and other great interior alterations made. Pending these renovations Mr. Wilson will move into other quarters.

New Roman Catholic Church.

Sunday was a happy day among the Roman Catholics of Read, Hastings County, for it was the event of the formal opening of their handsome brick $1,500 church. The ceremony of dedication was performed by His Grace, Archbishop Cleary, of Kingston, accompanied by Rev. Mgr. Farrelly, Belleville, Vicar General Gauthier, of Brockville, Rev. Father Kelly, of Kingston and the parish priest, Rev. Father McCarthy. A large congregation was present including friends from Deseronto, Picton, Napanee and other places. After high mass had been celebrated by Rev. Vicar General Gauthier, the congregation presented His Grace, Archbishop Cleary with a neat address and to which the Archbishop replied in thankful terms, congratulating the people upon the sacrifices they had made and the zeal they had shown in the erection of one of the finest country churches in the province of Ontario.

Dry Goods Bill-of-Fare.

There are good things in store for the ladies of Peterborough, town and county, for the coming week. People are evidently realizing now that when Mr. Sheehy advertises anything it is not only worth reading it; but, it is worth while calling at the store and looking at the lines advertised. For the coming week there will be offered the following "Dry Goods Bill-of-fare" to select from: Dress Goods at 7c. per yard; Dress Buttons at 3½c. per dozen; Cashmere Hose at 25c. per pair, extra heavy; All Wool Cashmere, 36 inches wide, in variety of shades and black at 19c.; a beautiful Serge dress, trimmings and all for $2.15; White Blankets, slightly soiled, at mill prices; Ladies Mantles in the latest styles at manufacturers prices; Cashmere Gloves with cuffs, 23c., beautiful quality. On the counter bargain table are known a lot of ladies fine Scotch Wool Vests, can't just say what price, all prices through from 22c. to 95c. for the best of them. Now just a word! Cut this advertisement out, bring it with you to the store, and see, just for the fun of it, if what he says is right. 1dw

Exhibition Inklings.

The executive met at the Morgan House yesterday afternoon and appointed gatekeepers and ticket sellers for the forthcoming exhibition, on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week.

The judges will commence their work on Monday afternoon and judge all the contents of the crystal palace, such as ladies' work, fancy articles, etc. On Tuesday afternoon at one o'clock the judges will judge the exhibits of horses, cattle, sheep, pigs, and all the outside products.

The attractions of speeding in the ring will take place on the same day, and the same events will come off on these days, as are announced on the large posters and in the prize lists. Much interest is being taken in the speeding events and they all promise to be keenly contested by a large field of trotters.

The bicycle race will come off on Tuesday afternoon. Several of the "riders of the winged Pegasus" have signified their intention of entering this race.

The baby show will be held on Tuesday afternoon. Mothers, don't forget this and Gough Bros.' special prize of $25 to the winner.

The editors of the local papers have been invited by the directors to act the merciless and ungrateful part of judges in the baby show on Tuesday.

Mr. John McClelland jeweller, generously offers three handsome silver cups, valued respectively at $20, $10 and $5 in the two mile bicycle race as prizes to the successful ones. The cups will arrive this evening. The $20 cup is a model of workmanship and beauty, and is an emblem of the Canadian Wheelman's Association.

Babies at the Central Fair.

A lady, and one who ought to know, suggests that intending exhibitors of "their sweet little darlings" should give them plentiful doses of boiled rice and milk. She declares that this diet will fatten and beautify the babies "beyond all power of words to tell or tongue to speak." It would perhaps be well for all mothers to act on this disinterested suggestion (as the mother volunteering the advice has no children young enough to compete in the baby show) and have their babies looking fat, plump, round healthy, smiling, sweet, etc. at the great baby show, gotten up by the Directors to be given at the Central Exhibition on Tuesday afternoon next, the 27th. The prize offered for the best "bouncing brand new baby" in the baby show is well worth competing for as it includes a valuable prize for the mother, a handsome reward for the father, and an enviable donation to the baby itself. Messrs. Gough Bros. the hustling ready made clothing dealers, have with their customary enterprise and excessive liberality offered the following prize to the parents and to the child who is awarded first prize by the judges. The father will get a $10 suit of clothes and remember that is one of Gough Bros. latest and best, the mother will be given a fine $10 cashmere dress, and the cunning, cooing baby, will be handed a $5 gold piece—making $25 in all. Mothers now get out your babies for Gough Bros. stand ready to make the above liberal donations as prize to the successful baby competitor.

Yesterday's Excursion to Orillia.

The excursion to Orillia yesterday, though rather late for picnicing, was a huge success. It was given under the patronage of the North Monaghan and Springville Councils of the Royal Templars of Templars and was patronized by about two hundred people, who embarked on the regular train at the G.T.R. station here at 8 25 o'clock. Orillia was reached shortly after noon and the party spent nearly five hours of pleasure and sight seeing in that beautiful town. All were well impressed with its buildings, people and natural advantages. The return home was made at 4 30 o'clock and Peterborough reached by a quick run, including few stoppages, at 9 o'clock. The affair was in every way a success and all on board heartily enjoyed the day's outing.

A New Business Firm.

Messrs. Ed. Manning & Co. will open out great business in picture frames, room moulding, etc., in the shop lately occupied by Miss K. E. Somers, on Hunter street on Saturday next. Mr. Manning who has been a valued clerk in Mr. C. B. Rentley's store for the past eight years is a young man of energy and perseverance. He has purchased Mr. Rentley's large stock of well assorted and finely designed picture frames at a great reduction and is prepared to give all those who will favor him with a call many bargains in this line. His partner Mr. Stewart is also well known in Peterborough. The firm will do enlarging from small photographs in all styles and in a first class manner at prices that cannot fail to suit. Mr. Stewart is a photographer of several years experience in Hamilton and other cities. The new firm's many friends will wish them abundant success in their new enterprise.

Chemong's Great Regatta To-morrow.

He, for Chemong Park to-morrow on account of the great regatta. It will be the first annual regatta given under the park management, and doubtless from the interest and enthusiasm shown by the promoters of the great affair it will prove a magnificent success. The following interesting events will take place in the afternoon on Chemong Lake beginning at two o'clock.

1 A Match Canoe Race—One mile, between Gardiner Nicholls, of Bobcaygeon, and John Taylor, of Chemong Indian Village, both well known canoeists. The race will be for $50 a side and the championship of the county. Much interest is being taken in this struggle and the friends of each are straining every nerve to see their idol win.

3rd Sailing boat race, 2 miles—Prize $3.

4th Sailing canoe race, 2 miles—Prize $3.

Annual W. F. M. S. Meeting.

The annual meeting of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society of the Charlotte street Methodist church was held in the Sunday school room yesterday afternoon with a fair attendance of members. Mrs. Clarke, president, presided. The minutes of the previous meeting were read by the recording secretary, Mrs. Bacon, and the work of the society talked over generally. Appropriate hymns and some fine instrumental music was rendered. Mrs. Brooks gave an excellent reading. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

PRESIDENT—Mrs. J. W. Taylor.

VICE PRESIDENT—Miss Kennedy.

CORRESPONDING SECRETARY—Mrs. Price (re-elected).

RECORDING SECRETARY—Mrs. Bacon (re-elected).

TREASURER—Mrs. Geard (re-elected).

The receipts of the missionary mite boxes which were returned amounted to $6 60. All the yearly fees are not yet paid into the treasurer, and it was requested that this be done by the members as soon as convenient. The society is now in a flourishing state, having thirty active members, which is a good record, considering that the ladies of Charlotte street church only resolved themselves into a Women's Foreign Missionary Society a little over a year since with the small membership of eight.

Sporting Sparks.

The tailors' nine, who had such a successful season at baseball last year, are anxious to play any baseball team in the town, barring the Edisons. They would like a crack at the Vatican Park nine in particular.

The Norwood lacrosse team are expected to play the senior Shamrocks here on Saturday next.

The Rugbyites had a great five mile run last night. About fourteen turned out to improve their "wind." The course was from Schofield's drug store down and up several streets to Eastintown and the Fair grounds, returning by the R. C. cemetery, up Gilmour street by Brock to the starting place. It was a good test of the powers of endurance of the players.

MANTLES

We've got a Mantle stock big enough and stylish enough to talk about. Ladies have been here during the past few days who are not obliged to purchase at any particular store. They were only looking, but the large majority bought, and from the balance we've been complimented on the stock we put before them this season. We don't believe there exists a store in Peterborough today that shows a stock of saleable and wearable Mantles equal to ours. All we want is an opportunity to prove to you, as we are daily doing to others, that our claims are good.

Our Millinery Opening will be on TUESDAY next, Sept. 26th, and following days.

Our Fall Fair Number.

The EXAMINER has much pleasure in again presenting to the public, through Mr. Walter Stocker, Peterborough's Bill Poster, at the Lakefield exhibition to-day, the annual edition of the Fall Fair Advertiser, which as regularly as Autumn comes, brings to the public intelligence of the greatest interest to their homes and pockets. A bountiful harvest has improved and brightened the financial outlook of the farmer, but that renders it none the less important that he should be informed as to how to spend his money to the best advantage.

In the pages of the Fall Fair Advertiser which is gratuitously distributed in such a manner that it reaches every home, the buyer will find who are the most enterprising business men in Peterborough — the men whom it will pay best to patronize; the men who will give the best value for the people's money, men who are not afraid to invite inspection of their goods, feeling that they will stand the closest inspection, and that they can deal with these business men with confidence. And advertisers may rely on it that their announcements in the Advertiser will receive the widest possible publicity, and that they will reach homes which are not reached by the ordinary advertising media.

The high esteem in which the Fall Fair Advertiser is held by the merchants is shown by the fact that its increased patronage has made it necessary to enlarge it to 16 pages. It contains besides the live advertisements of our live business men, a large amount of interesting reading matter, which will cause it to be read in a thousand homes, and thus give the greatest prominence to the business announcements.

As each exhibition comes along Mr. Stocker will see that every head of a home secures one of these popular papers.

"No, no, no. They will come back in two weeks' time, they will come because they could not keep away, then complete knowledge lies in there."

He held up his thin, sinewy hands, trembling with the intensity of the greed to grasp knowledge. He looked into the still vastness of the sky away beyond the stars, and in a voice of sublimest compass, cried out:

"Cursed be they who bnt a pebble lay in science way. Murder means malice. Slew I thousands to add one sparkling gem to wisdom's crown, it would be but manipulation of the material at my command, and not murder. 'Call them back'. Never, never, never! Science, the crown of wisdom, will glean from Ishmael one perfect gem."

"Thou shalt not kill."

The low, firm voice the comment was spoken in broke the tension.

"No, not after this four. They must go as did the others. I have gained my learning cheap. Slowly died the other four. Slowly and as surely will these die, that will be eight. The other one the ninth's life went out lightly and painlessly as doth a thistle down caught in the curling lap of an ocean billow. I hurled her down from yonder cliff, and watched the water start back a moment, amazed, then close; in loving mercy it folded her in its embrace. Even the cold chastity of the water could not resist her beauty. To her I was merciful. I put her in the deepest sleep my power would give, then cast her from me. It had to be. She would have won me from my pursuits. She would have taken me to sunny Italy."

"Ishmael, you will never garner the return you hoped for. Such deliberate, inhuman murder will indubitably be sterile, else bear fruit worthy the method of propagation—"

"Censure not Ishmael this night. Terry Denver. Weary and overwrought past the endurance of his ninety and nine years, he may wax querrelous as well as loquacious. Spare him."

"I did not seek the information. Zanea. that he has imparted to me. I had left you both at the cave, and my surprise was considerable when Ishmael stood by me and answered a question I asked myself. I hope I have not been overly censorial to one of Ishmael's years, but his censurableness is infinite even you will admit."

"No more to-night. Come, Ishmael. take my hand. I fear the dark. Lead me. See the moon has gone and Zanea trembles."

What unbounded tact she used with the old man. Strong when he needed it, and a trembling child at times to bring out his strength. He took her hand and said gently:

"Poor little one, thou art my stay. Thou hast never thwarted the most vapory idea that struggled for condensity. Thou hast ever proved the lightning flash, illuminating and purifying the density of old Ishmael's brain."

Still holding her hand he led her up the hill, utterly forgetting Terry, who stood watching them until they entered by the off rock from where the men and boat had come. He then started for home. At the door, in the darkness, sat Shem.

"I feared Ishmael had brought you, too, under his will. It is long past mid-

"Where is Zell?"

"Long since retired. Thou couldst not have the child lose her sleep to wait for thee."

"No; but I miss her."

"So I thought. 'Tis well. Thou hast been with us now for half a month, only another half to stay. I have watched thee well and am more and more convinced that thy past has been pure and upright. None can say thou hast evil thought or wrought. Tell me, Terry Denver, why it is thou hast questioned not about the things so queer you see here?"

"I deem inquisitive people and the foxes homogeneous. Foxes to me are the most contemptible of the animal kingdom. If you wished me to know you would tell me."

"Well said. A light is in your apartment. Good night."

"Good night, Shem, and if I sleep late do not wait breakfast for me. I am tired."

A Voice From the Canadian Press:

The Black Death!

The Scourge of the East.

Grim Asiatic Cholera is marching with stealthy but steady strides to these Western shores.

The foe is at our doors. Sanitary science with powerful disinfectants, fumigations and rigid quarantine regulations, stands guarding our ports.

But this fell destroyer on pestilential wing seems to float in the very air, and defy all efforts to beat him back. Wherever there lingers impurity and putrefaction he takes up his abode, and the seeds of the pestilence germinate and multiply.

Public sanitary vigilance is imperative. Let the sewers be flushed and every form of impurity be swept away. Let the health of the community be maintained to the highest possible degree. But in addition to all this let every individual be on the alert.

The human body has the most perfect complete system of sewerage, defying the utmost art of man to rival.

A wise Creator has provided means for the eradication of all effete and impure materials from the human body.

Morse's Indian Root Pills is such a perfect combination of the best and most energetic remedies provided by a beneficent Providence for the purpose of cleansing the whole system, "flushing the sewers," rousing up the liver, the kidneys and the whole intestinal tract to their proper functions and at the same time imparting vigor and tone to the whole system, that it is with the utmost confidence that we recommend it to the public as the best preventive of the fearful ravages of that justly dreaded disease, Asiatic Cholera.

Preferential Trade.

Preferential trade properly consists in giving the preference to Burdock Blood Bitters when seeking for a cure for constipation, dyspepsia, headache, biliousness, jaundice, scrofula, poisonous humors, bad blood, rheumatism or kidney complaints. It is the true cure and has cured cases which had resisted all other treatment. dw

When the kidneys are clogged, good health is an impossibility; but when working properly the reverse is the case. That dull headache is the kidney's cry for relief. If Dodd's Kidney Pills are used the result will be marvellous. We emphatically state that we have never known a case of kidney disease that a persistent use of Dodd's Kidney Pills will not cure.

Timely Wisdom.

Great and timely wisdom is shown by keeping Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry on hand, It has no equal for cholera, cholera morbus, diarrhœa, dysentery, cramps, colic and all summer complaints and looseness of the bowels. dw

GOSSIP!

"Dear me, these are the most beautiful photographs I ever saw."

"Yes, they certainly are very fine and elegantly finished, besides, they are permanent."

"Do they cost more than before"

"No, not to us, though the material is much more expensive, yet Mr. Sproule believes in having the best obtainable. He says nothing is too good for his patrons, and these certainly bear out his statements; and his studio, is so convenient—no stairs to climb yourself, nor have you any fear about the children."

"Yes, I have heard about the ground floor studio being so convenient,—but those photographs."

"Will you come down with me to-morrow to Charlotte street? I must have some."

"Yes, that is the only place where such work is made."

The sheriff is a gentleman fifty-nine years of age, and this is what he says: "I have "used your August Flower for several years in my family and for my "own use, and found it does me "more good than any other remedy. "I have been troubled with what I "call Sick Headache. A pain comes "in the back part of my head first, "and then soon a general headache "until I become sick and vomit. "At times, too, I have a fullness "after eating, a pressure after eating "at the pit of the stomach, and "sourness, when food seemed to rise "up in my throat and mouth. When "I feel this coming on if I take a "little August Flower it relieves "me, and is the best remedy I have "ever taken for it. For this reason "I take it and recommend it to "others as a great remedy for Dys-"pepsia, &c."

DISPOSED TO TROUBLE.

THE PARNELLITES GIVING MR. GLADSTONE TROUBLE.

Mr. Labouchere Looms Up Again in a Letter to the Northampton Liberal and Radical Association—Only a Radical Ministry Can Hope for Radical Support.

LONDON, Sept. 30. — The Parnellites, though not numerous in Parliament, are numerous enough to cause not only trouble but defeat to the Government if they see fit.

It begins to look as if their intentions were not amicable. In spite of what Morley has done in removing the remaining proclamations in force under the Criminal Law, thus virtually rendering the Crimes Act inoperative, the Irish Secretary is warned by William Redmond, in a letter to The Dublin Independent, that he must prevent the police from assisting landlords to collect their rents. This warning sounds very much like a threat.

Redmond would not write such a letter off his own bat, so it may be accepted as coming from the Parnellite section, of which his brother, John, is the recognized chief.

However, Morley and Gladstone can hardly expect more delicate treatment than the priesthood.

The Parnellites of Kilrush have warned Father Scanlon, in resolutions passed by the Young Ireland Society, to drop politics while in the pulpit, and have called the attention of his bishop to "the continuance of those uncalled-for attacks in the house of God."

Labouchere Utters a Threat.

Labouchere has addressed a long letter to the chairman of the Northampton Liberal and Radical Association, which is a scarcely veiled menace to the Ministry.

He "trusts that as they have attained power by the Radicals' support they will retain that support by being Radicals in power."

"If they are, well and good, but if not, I shall act as in 1886. No ministry that is not Radical can expect Radical support."

There is no mistaking the meaning of these words, though their significance may be diminished by Labouchere's revelation of his personal bitterness. He tries to write calmly, but every now and then you hear a choked curse.

He calls Gladstone's acceptance of the whole responsibility for his exclusion "senile nonsense," and while denying any wish for office says:

"It is, however, one thing not to desire office, and another thing to be stigmatized as a political leper unfitted for it, owing to incidents which, whilst testifying to my energy and influence, are in no way disparaging to my honor."

The last words are a quotation from a letter of Mr. Gladstone's, and certainly mean that, in Labouchere's judgment, Mr. Gladstone has treated him as a political leper.

McCarthyites Stayed Away.

DUBLIN, Sept. 20.—At a meeting in Limerick yesterday a resolution was adopted urging the Government to release Daly and the other Irish-Americans imprisoned in English jails for political offences.

The McCarthyite members of the House of Commons and the Mayor of Limerick declined to attend.

Michael Davitt wrote that he would not take part, owing to insulting statements made about him by the promoters of the meeting. He said that these utterances might be repeated at the meeting and in that event would doubtless lead to much disorder.

Mr. Redmond, one of the speakers, hotly denounced the McCarthyites for refusing to attend. If Mr. Dillon had the private assurance of Mr. Gladstone that the prisoners would be released he challenged him to say so. Until then, declared Mr. Redmond, the Independents will continue to hold amnesty meetings, and will accept no Home Rule measure as satisfactory unless it provides for the release of the prisoners for whose freedom they are fighting.

THE BEST FAMILY PILL IN USE

Keep the Works in good order.

NORMAN, ONT., January 15, 1890.

W. H. COMSTOCK, Brockville, Ont.

DEAR SIR,—Your "Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills" are the best regulator for the system that humanity can use. Life is as the time-piece: frail and delicate are many of its works. A tiny particle of foreign substance adheres to the smallest wheel in the works, and what is the result?—at first o'er a slight difference is perceptible in its time-keeping, but wait you; as the obstruction grows, the irregularity becomes greater, until at last, what could have been rectified with little trouble, in the beginning, will now require much care in thoroughly cleansing the entire works. So it is in human life—a slight derangement is neglected, it grows and increases, imperceptibly at first, then rapidly, until what could, in the beginning, have been cured with little trouble, becomes almost fatal. To prevent this, I advise all to purify the system frequently, by the use of Morse's Pills, and so preserve vigor and vitality.

Yours faithfully,
H. F. ATWELL.

BANK ROBBERY IN B.C.

A Scheme to Systematically Pilfer the Funds.

VANCOUVER, B.C., Sept. 17.—E. H. Roome, a ledger keeper in the Bank of British Columbia, who was accused of embezzling $5000 from the bank and who has been under surveillance pending an investigation of his books, made his escape from the third story of the bank building yesterday morning. It is believed he has gone to Mexico.

C. H. Bonner, who formerly held a similar position in the same bank here, but who was recently transferred to the Nanaimo Bank, skipped out, taking with him $30,000 belonging to the bank there. He went to Victoria and there caught the steamer Umatilla, bound for San Francisco. He was arrested on the arrival of that boat.

Everything tends to show that there has been a scheme to rob the Bank of British Columbia out of thousands of dollars. But for the examination made of Roome's books the scheme would not have been detected, for the defalcations had been going on for more than a year.

Alarming reports of the health of M. Pasteur appear from time to time, and are always proved to be much exaggerated. Still, they have some foundation in fact, as the eminent scientist is subject to an affection of the heart, and about a month ago he suffered from a bad attack that left him very weak. But he is gaining strength.

At Goodwood the other day the Duchess of Portland was beautifully dressed in white silk muslin figured over with a tiny flowered design and finished with soft frills of lace and bands of moss-green velvet. As the weather, though bright, was chilly, her grace wore a long tan coat, with sleeves of wonderful ecclesiastical brocade. The Duchess never wears a hat, and indeed a bonnet suits her so well that her partiality for it as headgear is not surprising. On this occasion it was a small one of rough green straw, trimmed with green velvet, green ostrich tips, and pink roses.

The position of a popular dramatist is, it appears from some details of Victoire Sardou's life just published, no sinecure. All the year round the great man is up at seven, and upon a cup of coffee does four hours' work on end. After dejeuner, at noon, he gets in another two or three hours' vrriting, and the rest of the day is given to more technical worries, the interviewing of stage managers and actors, and the supervision of innumerable details in the scenic department.

Lord Sherbrooke ("Bobby Lowe," at one time English Chancellor of the Exchequer, who died recently,) will be remembered by many witty sayings. Of course the least good-natured will be quoted the most often; as when his wife, remonstrated with him for declaring he had endowed her with no worldly goods, remarked, "But your intellect!" the reply was, "No, no, my dear, not even with that.

A Parisian journalist, reckoning up Sarah Bernhardt's money, says that she made $30,000, during her stay in London. His basis of calculation is $300 a night and extra for matinees. But the great actress was guaranteed $500 for each performance, whatever the takings might be, she was to have a third if the receipts exceeded $1,500 a representation. As much as $3,000 was taken at some performances, and frequently, therefore, her share on such pleasant occasions was $1,000

They make one feel as though life was worth living. Take one of Carter's Little Liver Pills after eating. It will relieve dyspepsia, aid digestion, give tone and vigor to the system. dw

Truth will Prevail.

DEAR SIRS,—I have been afflicted with chronic rheumatism for several years, and have used numerous patent medicines without success. But by using six bottles of Burdock blood Bitters I was entirely cured.

NOTE.—I am acquainted with the above named lady and can certify to the correctness of this statement.

If you are nervous or dyspeptic try Carter's Little Nerve Pills. Dyspeptic makes you nervous and nervousness makes you dyspeptic; either one makes you miserable, and these little pills cure both. dw

Cure for A Cough and Headache

Dr. Silas Lane, while in the Rocky Mountains, discovered a root that, when combined with other herbs, makes an easy and certain cure for constipation. It is in the form of dry roots and leaves, and is known as Lane's Family Medicine. It will cure sick-headache in one night. For the blood, liver and kidneys, and for clearing up the complexion it does wonders. Druggists sell it at 50 cents a package. dw

A CLASH OF AUTHORITIES

THE N.Y. HEALTH BOARD AND THE MILITARY POWER.

There is a Difference of Opinion Between Dr. Jenkins, Health Officer at New York, and Surgeon-General Hamilton at Camp Low—One Charges the Other With Being Injudicious.

QUARANTINE, Sept. 21.—There is a growing feeling at quarantine that a clash will sooner or later take place between Dr. Jenkins and ex-Surgeon-General Hamilton, now presumably in charge of Camp Low. Dr. Jenkins has gone so far as to state that he thinks it was very injudicious for Dr. Hamilton to announce cholera being present in the Camp unless he had absolute proof by a bacteriological examination. The matter, says Dr. Jenkins, will be absolutely settled when he obtains the body, as he will have an immediate examination made.

With regard to the attributed statement of Dr. Hamilton that Camp Low was a federal camp and that the health officer had no authority there, Dr. Jenkins says he certainly did not gather that idea from Secretary Foster's letter placing Camp Low at his disposal. Some of Dr. Jenkins' friends say Gen. Hamilton is anxious to obtain some glory out of the situation and is necessitated thereby to create a cholera case or two and successfully stamp it out.

The Report from Camp Low.

CAMP LOW, Sept. 21.—Dr. Abbott of Health Officer Jenkins' staff has just left here on a tug which came down for the body of the man who died Monday. Gen. Hamilton told him the man was buried and refused to allow him to land. The officers of a Hamburg steamer here have been creating trouble by their familiarity with female passengers. Gen. Hamilton gave them a severe reprimand and threatened to punish them if they were again complained of.

Gen. Hamilton has just issued his official bulletin of the condition of the camp. In it he says there have been no deaths from cholera yesterday and no new cases of a auspicious character have occurred.

The dead now at the camp are Francisco Morene, aged 23, died at 10 p.m. yesterday, a passenger by the Rugia, not by the Normannia as previously stated. Cause, asiatic cholera. Louise Scheid, aged 38, married, died at midnight, cause peritonitis following premature confinement on Hoffman Island.

The sick in the hospital are: Mrs. Schlesinger, aged 27, a passenger from the Normannia, ill from the effects of premature confinement; Henry Albert, aged 1½ years, diarrhœa, recovering; Marie Albert, aged 3 years, diarrhœa, recovering, and an unknown infant from the Rugia, whose mother died on the voyage from the effects of starvation. It is claimed the child was neglected by the ship's stewardess, and the officials at Hoffman Island are suspected; Mrs. Gutel Donniz, aged 32, suspected cholera, a passenger from the Rugia.

The official census of the camp shows: Commissioned officers 4, warrant officers 2, employes, including mechanics, 77; telegraphers and reporters 18, passengers 944, of which in hospital 7, dead 2; total passengers now alive 942, total persons now in camp 1043.

A Touching Incident.

CAMP LOW, Sept. 21.—A touching incident occurred last night. When the evening mail came into camp Mr. Scleidt begged for a newspaper in which to read the account of his wife's death. The poor man is nearly broken-hearted, and his two little children do not realize their loss and are continually asking for their mother.

Gen. Hamilton's Dictum.

CAMP LOW, Sept. 21.—Gen. Hamilton last evening denied that there has been friction between him and Dr. Jenkins. Their meetings have been pleasant, but, he said, the state authorities have not acted according to promise in sending infected passengers to Camp Low, and that no more such will be received.

Three Cases in Berlin.

BERLIN, Sept. 21.—Two bargemen and a workman who has not been outside of Berlin in years were seized with cholera in this city to-day. The barges, where the cases occurred, were lying in the centre of the city. The authorities are inquiring to ascertain where the workman referred to became infected.

Eight suspicious cases were brought to the Moabit Hospital this afternoon, and one of the patients subsequently died.

A Fast Mail Service on the Atlantic.

LONDON, Sept. 21.—Mr. Van Horne, President of the Canadian Pacific Railway, will sail on the Parisian on Saturday for Montreal. It is understood that the enquiries which he has instituted convince him that the whole question of an Atlantic mail service must be reconsidered with the Government on a business basis. Such questions as the best English port and the necessity of calling at a French port must be reviewed apart from politics and in the light of pounds, shillings and pence, as it is absolutely necessary to keep closely in track with the freight traffic if the line is to pay.

THE STAPLES CATASTROPHE.

The Jury Finds That No One Was to Blame for the Occurrence.

COBURG, Ont., Sept. 21.—The jury empanelled to enquire into the cause of the death of John Papineau and others met at Staples to-day and found, according to the evidence, that the said John Papineau and others came to their death on the 17th inst. while in the employ of Messrs. Force & Dickenson by the explosion of a boiler in their mill, said boiler having exploded accidentally, and the real cause not being known to the jury they recommended all users of boilers to be compelled to have them inspected at least once a year, and that a law enforcing the examination of all engineers of stationary engines should be enacted and certificates granted to those passing the proper examinations and a penalty imposed upon any person assuming charge of an engine who could not produce a certificate.

FIRE AT TORONTO JUNCTION.

The Paint Shops of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company Badly Damaged.

TORONTO, Sept. 21.—The heaviest loss by fire Toronto Junction has sustained was caused last night by the destruction of the C.P.R. paint shops there.

At 7.10 p. m. Watchman Campbell noticed smoke issuing from the building and gave the alarm. The fire department responded quickly with their hose reel and chemical engine from station No. 1. It was some time before they could find their way through the high fence that surrounds the yard, and then the fire had gained such headway that the chemical engine was powerless to extinguish the conflagration. The pressure was very poor, and it was half an hour before water could be thrown 10 feet high.

The fire was got under control before 10 o'clock, and the part of the building where the paints and oils were stored was not destroyed.

The loss on the building was estimated by the firemen last night at $4000. Two coaches worth $3000 each were burned in the building.

The cause of the fire is unknown, as there is never any fire in the building. But for the work of the firemen and of the Brockton fire brigade the whole of the shops would probably have gone up in smoke.

Another Gunning Accident.

MOUNT FOREST, Ont., Sept. 21.—Harry Perry, aged 19, eldest son of Town Clerk Perry, with two sons of Dr. Jones, went shooting yesterday. One of the Jones boys wounded a fox and Perry started to club it to death with the stock of his gun. He forgot that the hammers were raised. The gun was discharged, the contents entering his groin. He died this morning.

ON FIRE WITH ECZEMA

Terrible Sufferings of Little Baby. Seven Doctors and Two Hospitals Fail. Cured by Cuticura.

My baby boy, 5 months old, broke out with eczema. The itching and burning was intense; the eczema spread to his limbs, breast, face, and head, until he was nearly covered; his torturing agonies were pitiable to behold; he had no peace and but little rest night or day. He was under treatment at different times at two hospitals and by seven doctors in this city without the least benefit; every prescription of the doctors was faithfully tried, but he grew worse all the time. For months I expended about $3 per week for medicines, and was entirely discouraged. I purchased CUTICURA, CUTICURA SOAP and CUTICURA RESOLVENT and followed the directions to the letter. Relief was immediate, his sufferings were eased, and rest and sleep permitted. He steadily improved and in nine weeks was entirely cured, and has now as clear a skin and is as fair a boy as any mother could wish to see. I recommend every mother to use it for every Baby Humor.

PRESBYTERIAN COUNCIL

DELEGATES PRESENT FROM ALL PARTS OF THE WORLD.

Opening of the Convention in Toronto Yesterday—Principal Caven Preaches, President Blaikie Delivers His Inaugural and Major Cosby Entertains—To-Day's Proceedings.

TORONTO, Sept. 22.—The Fifth General Council of the Alliance of the Reformed churches holding the Presbyterian system convened at 11 o'clock yesterday morning in St. James Square Presbyterian Church, but long before the opening hour every available seat in the body of the church and the galleries was occupied, and the space reserved for the delegates was encroached upon.

The platform was occupied by the following divines: Rev. Dr. Smith, Rev. Dr. Chambers, Rev. Dr. Mathews, Rev. Dr. Roberts and Rev. Dr. Waters.

The initial service was conducted by Rev. Principal Caven. Upon either side of him were seated Rev. Dr. Blaikie, of Edinburgh, President of the Alliance, and Rev. Dr. Hodge. The latter offered a short prayer, after which the "Old Hundred" was sung with much fervor. Portions of Scripture were read by Rev. Principal Caven, at the conclusion of which Rev. Dr. Smith led in prayer.

The Opening Sermon.

The Marquis of Lorne's rendering of the 121st Psalm was given by the choir, after which came the sermon. It was founded on the words:

When He, the Spirit of Truth, is come, He will guide you into all truth: for He shall not speak of Himself; but whatsoever He shall hear, that shall He speak; and He will show you things to come.

Principal Caven preached with unction and eloquence. He took as his theme the necessity of the spirit's guidance in the study of divine truth, and reviewed with great clearness the revivals of the time of Augustine, the Reformation and that of the present age.

The singing of the 73nd Psalm came next, followed by a prayer from Rev. Dr. Blaikie, invoking the divine blessing on the work of the alliance.

The Presidential Address.

President Blaikie then delivered his opening address by complimenting Toronto on having secured the honor of having the Alliance hold its fifth session within its portals.

He then said: Fathers and brethren, since we met in London two councils or conferences have been held in connection with other branches of the church, which serve to show the wisdom and the reasonableness of the step we took when we formed this Alliance. One of these was the second meeting of the Methodists held at Washington in 1890.

The other event was the international conference of Congregational churches held in London last year. I well remember the great unbelief of my own heart before the meeting of the Edinburgh council, and the torment I felt as the fear arose that possibly the meeting of so many delegates, representing diverse races, languages and countries, with diverse views and methods, and possibly differences too among themselves, might prove an occasion of painful collision instead of brotherly harmony. But it was delightful, when the Edinburgh meeting actually took place, to find the various elements coalescing with perfect readiness under the influence of a common faith, a common aim and a common charity, and the influence of this, which could not fail to be apprehended by the community, was a testimony to the unity of the Church of Christ, as impressive as it was fresh and novel. But what I would mainly gather from the Methodist and Congregational experience is that we Presbyterians took a right view both of our duty and our privilege when nearly 30 years ago we began to move for a world-wide Presbyterian alliance; that we rightly interpreted one of the purposes in Providence of that unprecedented facility of travel which our age supplies, when we used it to bring brethren together from far distances; that we were right in thinking that from so large and varied a constituency we might derive much valuable information as to methods, and much valuable stimulus as to the spirit and consecration with which we ought to do our work; and that we had good ground for the hope that our conferences might lead to useful practical results bearing on the advancement of the kingdom of Christ.

It Has Been a Success.

Nor have the evils that were predicted of our alliance come to much. Some sneered at the idea—it would be a mere talking concern, a wind-bag which would speedily burst. Others said it would serve merely as a trumpet to proclaim the glory of Presbyterianism—it would make bigots of us all. No doubt there has been talk; but read the volumes of our proceedings, and you will see it has neither been idle nor empty talk. No doubt our alliance has made known more widely the scriptural basis, the wide extension and the wholesome influence of the Presbyterian church; but if it has made us more Presbyterian, it has made us more catholic, too. It has enlarged our horizon; it has elevated our point of view; it has taught us to embrace in our survey the wide, wide world; to think of the vast work that has yet to be done by the Christian church before, like a sea of glory, it spreads from pole to pole. It has led us, I am persuaded, to a more brotherly and sympathetic view of all who are bearing an efficient part in this great work of union in the Christian Church.

We may say that the more you have of it the more you desire to have—"increase of appetite grows by what it feeds on," and, for my part, I think the day may not be very distant when something will be accomplished in the direction in which our friend, Dr. McCosh, has lately been working—when a federal relation may be established among the evangelical churches, more especially with reference to mission work among the heathen. All this, I think, encourages us to believe in the vitality of the alliance, and in the duty of doing what we can to maintain and perpetuate its influence.

Let us make it impossible for the world not to feel that the spread of Christianity means the spread of all that is honest, lovely and of good report, and impossible for the world to doubt that the reception of such a religion will make the heathen world infinitely better and infinitely happier. This is the true way to commend Christianity; this is the apologetic which the world needs: this were at once the fulfilment and the vindication of the angels' song.

Towards a consummation so devoutly to be wished, may all the proceedings of this council tend.

Now for Business.

At the conclusion of the address the president requested Rev. Dr. Paton to lead in prayer, which he did, referring in touching terms to the families of those members of the Alliance who had passed away since the last council was held.

Principal Caven, chairman of the committee appointed to make arrangements for the entertainment of the delegates while here, announced that hereafter the sessions would be held in Cooke's Church, that there would be an excursion to Niagara Falls on Saturday. A trip to the Pacific coast is also offered. Return tickets by lake route $85.35, to be used before Oct. 15 and good for return for six months.

An invitation from Mr. and Mrs. Cosby was read inviting the delegates to a reception in the afternoon, also one from Mrs. Kirkpatrick stating that she would be "at home" at Government House on Friday afternoon.

The invitations so hospitably extended were accepted.

MAJOR COSBY'S RECEPTION.

Brilliant Gathering at Maplehyrn Yesterday—Pleasant Proceedings.

The hospitable portals of Maplehyrn, the handsome residence of Major and Mrs. Cosby, St. George and College-streets, were thrown wide open yesterday afternoon, a reception being held in honor of the delegates to the Pan-Presbyterian Council.

The guests upon first arrival were ushered into the south drawing room, where Major and Mrs. Cosby were receiving, and afterwards passed out on the verandahs and lawns.

The Lieutenant-Governor's and Mrs. Kirkpatrick's arrival was the signal for a general movement towards the pavilion, where Major Cosby, as host, addressed his visitors in a few warm words of welcome and requested Dr. Caven to take the chair.

Dr. Caven evidently wished to speak his words of wisdom and of cheer at a more convenient season in a meeting of the convention, and so called on the Lieutenant-Governor without more ado.

The Lieutenant-Governor Speaks.

His Honor said: "The selection of Toronto as a place of meeting by the alliance of the reformed churches is an honor appreciated by the people of the city and of the province, and as their Lieutenant-Governor I extend to you all a hearty welcome. We would be inclined to mark the day of your meeting amongst us in red letters upon our calendars, but that is the way we designate our saints' days. I trust that you may long have kind recollections of your sojourn in Toronto, for you must know that we claim that it is the best city in the finest province in the globe. [Cries of "Well, it is."] In no place in the world is the Sabbath better observed." The speaker then went into statistics to give the delegates a correct idea of the size of the province and the Dominion and then added: "But the best of it is that one man in every five you meet is a Presbyterian."

Ontario's Premier.

Sir Oliver Mowat felt he could bid them welcome from many standpoints, as a resident of Toronto for over 50 years, as Premier of Ontario, as a Presbyterian layman and lifelong adherent of that church. He catalogued at length the schools, colleges and other public institutions of the city. He spoke of the good feeling that existed between the different denominations, and mentioned the convention held some years ago with a view to securing the union of all the Protestant churches in Canada, closing by declaring it his fondest hope that the feeling of good fellowship among the churches would increase with the years.

Ald. Leslie, as a devoted son of the auld kirk and representative of the Mayor, briefly welcomed the delegates to the city.

Dr. Caven next introduced Rev. Dr. Reid as the Nestor of the Presbyterian Church in Canada. He said: "It is my opinion that you don't need any more welcome. The Lieut.-Governor, the Attorney-General and Ald. Leslie have bid you welcome, so it is clear that there is no legal impediment to your visit." [Laughter.] Then, in Gaelic and in English, he asked, "How are you getting on?"

The President's Reply.

Rev. Dr. Blaikie of Edinburgh was glad to see the features and hear the accents once more of Sir Oliver, with whom he had been acquainted for 23 years. He then went on to state the reasons why Toronto had been selected. It was the centre of a large and influential district; it had a powerful newspaper press, which would give the world an account of their deliberations; it could be easily reached by rail and ocean steamers by most of the delegates. He concluded by referring to the Orphans' Home his wife had established, which had been the means of finding homes in Ontario for over 300 little waifs.

Mr. Mortimer Clark, who had invited the Alliance four years ago to come to Toronto this year, also made a few remarks, and an adjournment to the lunch tables was made, where a most recherche repast was spread.

The Queen's Own Regiment orchestra was present, as were also the pipers of the 48th Highlanders, and many an old Scotch divine present straightened his figure and threw up his head when the music of the pipes first fell on his ear.

Including the delegates there were probably 500 guests present.

CHURCH OF ENDGLAND SYNOD.

Ratification of the Proposal of a General Synod At Toronto.

MONTREAL, Sept. 22.—The whole of to-day's session of the Provincial Synod of the Church of England in Canada was occupied with discussing the constitution of the proposed general synod, which is to be held at Toronto next September, and which is intended to consolidate the various sections of the Church in Canada.

The Synod finished the consideration of the question to-night, and the constitution as proposed by the Winnipeg conference was finally adopted, with a few slight amendments.

The Locomotive Firemen.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 22.—The Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen are nearing the end of their session. Yesterday they completed the election of officers by choosing the following executive committee: Eugene Ball, Stratford, Ont.; Harry Walton, Philadelphia; George Brown, Chicago; Frederick Keller, Houston, Tex.; T. P. O'Rourke, Pocataligo, Idaho.

Harrisburg, Pa., was chosen as the place for the next convention, to meet the first Monday in Sept., 1894. The newly-elected officers were installed.

She is Laden With Munitions of War.

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—Collector Hendricks yesterday received from Washington a telegram ordering him to release the steamer South Portland. He at once granted her clearance papers, and as soon as Captain Smith received them he hurried to his vessel, saying there would be no time lost in getting out to sea.

It is expected the steamer Catharine Whitney, chartered by the Venezulean Consul, will follow the South Portland and endeavor to prevent her landing her cargo of arms in Venezuela.

Railway Telegraphers on Strike.

CEDAR RAPIDS, Ia., Sept. 22.—All of the telegraph operators and train dispatchers on the Burlington & Cedar Rapids Railway, with one exception, went on strike to-day for higher wages and to secure adjustment of other grievances. The superintendent of the railway yesterday refused to accept a schedule presented by the Grievance Committee of the operators. About 200 men are out.

Mrs. Harrison at the White House.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—The special train bearing Mrs. Harrison reached here at 8.45 yesterday morning. Mrs. Harrison stood the journey very well and was removed at once in an ambulance to the White House.

Charged With Murder and Riot.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 22.—The grand jury returned true bills yesterday against 167 Homesteaders for murder and aggravated riots. It is not known when the trials will begin.

ON MISS BORDEN'S TRACK

SHE INTERVIEWED A LAWYER IN PROVIDENCE.

She Was Anxious to Learn What Would Be Her Rights at Law in the Event of Her Father's and Her Stepmother's Decease—The Lawyer Gave Her an Opinion and the Murders Followed.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Sept. 22.—The local police, speaking for the prosecution in the Borden murder case, have announced that they had pretty conclusive proof that the late Andrew J. Borden intended to make a will. It supplied what has appeared to be a bad break in the government's case—a positive motive for the dual murder.

The defence endeavored during the preliminary hearing to disprove the published statement by putting C. C. Cook, Mr. Borden's man of business, on the stand and securing from him the testimony that the murdered man had expressed no intention of drawing up a will.

Will Give It Attention.

The Government did not bother with this testimony at the hearing, but unless all signs fail the prosecution will give this phase of the case a great deal of attention when the trial opens.

Lizzie Borden's movements for a period of six months previous to the discovery of the crimes have been the subject of police investigation, and within the last two weeks they have been placed in possession of the facts that Lizzie Borden went to Providence by way of New Bedford from this city; that she consulted one of the most prominent lawyers in Providence, and after detailing the condition of her father's estate and the position which her stepmother occupied with reference to the property, asked what her rights in the estate would be in case of the death of her father or stepmother. The lawyer wanted a chance to look up the Massachusetts law, and he told her to call again. She went to Providence again by the same circuitous route on the Thursday before the murder, and was informed as to her rights in the property.

How the Police Got the Clue.

When Lizzie left the lawyer's office she purchased a lamp at a Westminster-street store and had it expressed to her home in this city. She also purchased other articles. The police have in their possession the tag which was attached to the bundle, and it was by this piece of paper and the records on the express company's books that she was traced to Providence.

On the day of the murders the lawyer mentioned was in a barber shop, and when a paper containing an account of the crime was placed in his hands he made an exclamation which caused a detective to follow him. Various attempts were made to get him to come to this city after the murders, but he persistently refused. He did come, however, on the Wednesday before the hearing was closed and recognized Lizzie as his client. After the hearing he announced himself as willing to tell of the prisoner's visits to his office. He will go on the stand and swear substantially to the above story.

The letter which Lizzie Borden wrote to Miss Johnson about the "very sharp hatchet" is said to have been burned, but this statement is not believed. The police have seen it within a week. Miss Johnson is a prominent school teacher of this city.

OFF-HAND RIFLE SHOOTING.

Result of the Shooting at the Aurora Meeting Yesterday.

AURORA, Ont., Sept. 22.—The Dominion Off-Hand Rifle Association met yesterday, there being about 80 visiting riflemen, representing 11 clubs. The weather was all that could be desired and the shooting was excellent. In club shooting Bradford won first, Everett second, Barrie third and Scarboro fourth. The shooting continued too late for a detailed report.

At 8 o'clock the association met in the town hall, President J. W. Crossley in the chair, and the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Simpson Rennie, Milliken; hon. president, J. W. Crossley, King; 1st vice-president, J. B. Miller, Parry Sound; 2nd vice-president, G. May, Barrie; secretary and treasurer, J. C. Clarke, Agincourt.

THE SCENE OF ACTION IS BOSTON.

And Tells the People There that Canada Is Very Friendly to the States.

BOSTON, Sept. 22.—Ald. E. A. Macdonald of Toronto, who is in Boston on the invitation of the North American Union League, believes strongly in the annexation of Canada to the United States. While he does not pretend to say Canada is openly wildly enthusiastic for annexation, he does claim that all through the Dominion there is a feeling of great friendship for the United States. So far as Canada is concerned, he says, annexation will be the only important thing to be determined at the next general elections.

A SOCIETY EVENT IN MONTREAL.

The Late Sir Hugh Allan's Daughter Weds a Wealthy Rancher.

MONTREAL, Que., Sept. 22.—A big society event was the marriage of Miss Edith Allan, youngest daughter of the late Sir Hugh Allan, to Mr. J. T. Routledge, a wealthy rancher of Pincher Creek, Alberta. The marriage was solemnized in St. Andrew's Church, a large number of guests being present. The bride was given away by her brother, H. Montagu Allan. Mr. and Mrs. Routledge left for Bellmere, Lake Memphramagog, where the bride has a handsome country residence.

His Majesty of Voy.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 22.—A young negro who has spent four years at the Central Tennessee College in this city has been called to a throne in Africa. His name is Momolu Massani and he is from the Vey country, a region of interior Africa adjoining Liberia. He was converted some years ago to Christianity by Mrs. Mary Brierly, an English missionary, and through her influence and that of Bishop Pennick of Louisville he was brought to this country and put to school. He received the news to-day that his father, King Balah, had been killed in a war, and he is called to reign in his stead.

The Cost of the Buffalo Strike.

ALBANY, Sept. 22.—Although not a single regiment which did duty at Buffalo has sent in its pay-roll to the adjutant-general, the state officers have estimated the entire cost of the troops during their week's tour there, and are preparing to raise the necessary amount to pay all bills. This amount, Governor Flower says, will be about $200,000, but not in excess of $250,000.

A Canadian Girl's Success Abroad.

Nora Clench Creates a Furore with Her Fiddle at Ostend.

In a letter to the Boston Sunday Herald "Max Elliott" chats about the King of the Belgians, and of balls, concerts, the Casino, and the Kursaal at Ostend, and has many pretty compliments for Miss Nora Clench, Hamilton's favourite violinists. He says:—"There is a ball every night, though, at one place or the other, then there is an afternoon or evening concert by a symphony orchestra, composed of picked musicians from Brussels or Leipsic, with a capital military band also at hand to play between times, or in the pagoda on the digue, or when the symphony orchestra is giving it services at some special affair—like the other afternoon when a recital took place in the big white ballroom in the Kursaal, at which such a pretty girl created a furore with her violin playing. This young lady, by the way, had not a few questions to ask me as to the welfare of Boston's famous orchestra and its present conductor. She is an American, though, herself, having lived in the States a good deal, although by birth a Canadian. It was on the other side of the Atlantic that Miss Nora Clench first began the study of the viola, when quite a wee young lady. Then came four years' serious study in Leipsic with the celebrated Brodsky, after which a successful debut was made. An additional year with Ysaye in Brussels, just completed, has introduced to the musical public a really exceptionally gifted violinist, and certainly one of the best among the many young women who have elected to be heard upon this sweetest of all instruments in some years. Miss Clench reminds me not a little of that fascinating young Italian violinist Teresina Tua, in her bowing and appearance, but she is a more serious and scholarly player, and absolutely devoid of certain little tricks (charming as they were) possessed by the little Italian. The Canadienne is far prettier, too; she has the daintiest head and mignonne face, with a pair of sparkling Irish grey eyes fringed with long black lashes, like a child's. A smart yellow frock of some clinging, silken material, cut to show the neck and a pair of pretty round arms, made a picture of the little musician who created the most favourable expression, as I have told you. Three and four times was she recalled, even after twice giving an encore. And then a magnificent big bouquet of crimson roses was handed the little lady, and she was allowed to retire."

A striking example of Yankee brag. Nora Clench was a Canadian till her genius forced her to the front. Now she is "an American." As a matter of fact Nora Clench spent about six months in Buffalo in a professional capacity. Nora Clench is a Canadian born, Canadian bred, and educated in Canada, except the years she spent at Leipsig and Brussels. But the Yankees are anxious to steal the whole country. Stealing a talented Canadian is a comparatively modest sort of felony.—ED. EXAMINER.

What is Dandruff?

A disease of the scalp that causes falling of the hair, fading of the hair, in fact, death of the hair. It irritates the scalp and causes scales and eczematic eruptions—produces baldness. Bear in mind that Anti-Dandruff removes Dandruff with three applications—stops falling and restores fading hair to its original color. Sold by druggists at 75 cents per bottle.

Preferential Trade.

Preferential trade properly consists in giving the preference to Burdock Blood Bitters when seeking for a cure for constipation, dyspepsia, headache, biliousness, jaundice, scrofula, poisonous humors, bad blood, rheumatism or kidney complaints. It is the true cure and has cured cases which had resisted all other treatment. dw

Do not suffer from sick headache a moment longer. It is not necessary. Carter's Little Liver Pills will cure you. Dose, one little pill. Small price. Small dose. Small pill. dw

Forewarned is Forearmed.

Many of the worst attacks of cholera morbus, cramps, dysentery, colic, etc., come suddenly in the night and speedy and prompt means must be used against them. Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is the remedy. Keep it on hand for emergencies. It never fails to cure or relieve. dw

The Tissues Waste Rapidly!

It should be remembered that the tissues of the body waste rapidly, when men and women are laid low with fever of any kind.

When the patient has got rid of fever, the body is weak and emaciated, and many people are unable to move hand or foot. At this time a flesh builder and strengthener is absolutely a necessity, so that strength may be regained.

Long experience has proved that Paine's Celery Compound is the grandest strengthening agent that can be used. Every tissue, nerve and muscle is fortified, and the whole system is benefitted after the use of a few bottles.

Thousands of men and women in Canada have been raised from a weak and sickly condition to health and ruggedness, after having used this Compound.

It is confidently recommended by our most able physicians; the testimony of hundreds of our people fully demonstrates its usefulness and necessity.

Hall's Bridge.

From Our Own Correspondent.

The Buckhorn excursion took place Saturday, Sept. 17th, per steamer Sunbeam. About 60 persons boarded the boat from this vicinity. Dancing, the order of the day, was immediately commenced. The sail up the lakes was delightful, although the weather was cool in the early part of the day. Passing through Bobcaygeon the excursionists came to picturesque Sturgeon Point, and at length arrived at their destination, Fenelon Falls. Here the party was allowed one hour. A magnificent view was obtained from the summits of the hill on which the church is situated, the lake stretching far in the distance, and the village at your feet, is a most charming sight. As the steamer was leaving two of the party came rushing down the hill, jumped into a punt and reached the boat amid the cheering of the crowd. A most enjoyable time was spent.

No person should travel without a box of Ayer's Pills. As a safe and speedy remedy for constipation and all irregularities of the stomach and bowels they have no equal, and being skilfully sugar-coated are pleasant to take, and long retain their virtues.

Lakefield's Successful Show.

Annual Exhibition of Smith, Ennismore and Lakefield Agricultural Society.

The annual exhibition of the Smith, Ennismore and Lakefield Agricultural Society took place on Tuesday and Wednesday, and like its predecessors of late years was a very gratifying success. The weather was favourable, the attendance was large and the exhibit was a very creditable one. The first day was chiefly given over to the placing of exhibits, and judging of certain classes of the exhibits.

The beautiful weather of the second day attracted a large attendance, who were much pleased with the excellent exhibits in nearly every department. Inside the building there was a good display. Ladies' work was especially well represented, the taste of the lady members in this department being well known. The fine arts were also well represented, one tasty exhibit of pressed flowers in the shape of a horse shoe being particularly well arranged. There was a good display of apples and also a good show of grapes and pears. Dairy products were well to the front, the pyramidal trophy of the Lakefield cheese company attracting considerable attention. Domestic products, bread, etc., and domestic manufactures, made a good shewing. There were several miscellaneous exhibits, including a Chatham fanning mill and bagger shown by Mr. J. W. Hales, the agent, Mr. Jas. Seucoe, Bridgenorth, showed a farm wagon, two buggies, a spindle buggy and two road carts. Mr. John McWilliams showed a buggy and a road cart, and Mr. D. Smith a farm wagon, Mr. T. Gordon had a canoe on exhibition, and Mr. R. Chapin, an assortment of furniture. The Peterborough Music Company had a Bell organ on exhibition, whose musical capabilities were shown off to good advantage by the excellent playing of Mr. A. J. Smith. Mr. J. W. Crosby also had a phonograph on the grounds which was heard with delight by large numbers.

On the grounds there was a good show of cattle, not large but containing some good animals. There was also a fair collection of sheep, pigs and poultry. Horses of all kinds were well represented, some unusually excellent specimens being shown. The horse ring was the centre of attraction and the events were very creditable. The lady drivers four in number, handled the ribbons very skilfully. They were Miss Dean, Miss Hendren, Miss McKee and Miss Walton. Miss Dean was the only representative of ladies in saddle. The speeding in the ring was good sport, Mr. W. Clancy and Mr. Alex. Patterson, town, and Mr. R. D. Dandane, Lowlands Stock Farm, were judges. The following is a summary of the heats, three in five:

Fred McKee	1	1	2	1
Thomas Bell (A. Moffatt, driver)	3	3	3	2
John Garbutt	2	2	2	3
J. J. Bickle, (T. Pettitt, driver)	4	4	4	4
M. Bell	5	5	dr.

The three first were winners.

The following is the result of the contest of double drivers:

J. B. Fowler	1	1
J. E. Cullen	2	2
J. Garbutt	3	3

NOTES.

The entries were 728 as against 730 last year.

The directors contemplate the purchase of the building where the show was held.

The track was terribly heavy and very trying upon the speeders.

The fourth line of Smith band furnished excellent music during the day.

Several persons complained of the heavy charges made for the privilege of doing business on the grounds.

The attendance at a Lakfield show contains an unusually large percentage of handsome and well-dressed girls.

Below is a portion of the prize list, the remainder will be published to-morrow.

The richness, color, and beauty of the hair, the greatest care is necessary, much harm being done by the use of worthless dressings. To be sure of having a first-class article, ask your druggist or perfumer for Ayer's Hair Vigor. It is absolutely superior to any other preparation of the kind. It restores the original color and fullness to hair which has become thin, faded, or gray. It keeps the scalp cool, moist, and free from dandruff. It heals itching humors, prevents baldness, and imparts to

"Over a year ago I had a severe fever, and when I recovered, my hair began to fall out, and what little remained turned gray. I tried various remedies, but without success, till at last I began to

IS PREPARING FOR FALL BUSINESS

The reading public of the town and county of Peterborough must have noticed from time to time our advertisement in this paper. We do not wish to trouble the public too frequently with astounding advertisements, telling them that at our store, and our store only, is the place to deal. Come to think of it, we never advertise in that style at all. We have always tried to stick to ONE GRAND PRINCIPLE, viz.: TO ADVERTISE EXACTLY WHAT WE INTENDED DOING, AND TO DO EXACTLY WHAT WE ADVERTISED. Having just returned from the wholesale markets, where a purchase of $3,271.56 was effected for CASH, will simply mention here a few of the various classes of goods bought, and leave the purchasing public to judge if we have or have not kept faith with our announcement

HERE ARE THE PRINCIPAL LINES:

1 Lot of Ladies' Mantles in the latest styles, amounting to $575.00. Of the dozens and dozens of them there are not two alike. No use in quoting prices; not two are the same price. Just come and examine them.

Dress Goods, $875.60. Space does not not permit us saying what we would like to about these goods. Suffice it to say this much: We will give you 12 yards of all-wool Serge, in choice of shades, Trimmings and all for $2.15.

Mantle Cloths, $508.40. The balance of our purchase was made up in many lines of Staple and Fancy Goods. Perhaps you'll smile when we say that we have a Large Table in the Centre of the Floor covered with Lovely Dress and Mantle Buttons, worth 25c, 40 and 50c. per dozen. Come in and help yourself to any of them AT THREE AND ONE-HALF CENTS PER DOZEN.

We have always claimed to keep on hand the most reliable stock Gloves and Hosiery to be had in town. We will just add once more that should any of our Celebrated French Kids burst on first trying on we will replace them with pleasure.

YOURS FAITHFULLY,

J. J. SHEEHY.

Will Enforce the Law.

The Kingston Whig says:—H. K. Smith, a game warden of Belleville, was in the city to-day consulting sportsmen as to the necessity of enforcing the game laws of Ontario. The Whig's exposure of the infractions of the law has stirred the commission, and it is bound to make marks of all offenders in this the greatest sporting section of Ontario. Mr. Smith says wardens will be appointed at various places, and the game laws will be made live measures to stop lawlessness. He said to a reporter:—"The law allows two months in which to make complaints. If anyone knows of infractions of the law and will write me giving proof possessed by them, I will at once attend and prosecute."

A Happy Michigan Event.

The Palladium of Benton Harbor, Mich., of a recent date, contains an extended account of a happy wedding. It says:—"Dr. Nathan D. Yale, of Deerfield, Michigan, and Miss Eliza O. Edgcumbe, of this city, were united in marriage Tuesday evening, Sept. 13th, at the home of the bride's brother, President J. Geo. Edgcumbe of the College and Normal. About twenty guests attended, including the teachers of the College and other immediate friends and relatives. The ceremony was performed by Rev. E. B. Patterson, and prayer was offered by Rev. Samuel Edgcumbe, brother of the bride, after which cordial congratulations were offered and the company partook of refreshments daintily served in the dining room which had been prettily adorned for the occasion. Dr. and Mrs. Yale left by the evening boat for Chicago, and will go thence to Washington, D.C., intending to be absent in the East about two weeks, following which they will return to their home at Deerfield, where the groom is established as a prominent and well-to-do physician. Dr. and Mrs. Yale were the recipients of a number of beautiful presents. Miss Edgcumbe, who has been one of the valued instructors of the College, having been the lady Principal since its organization, will be greatly missed by her associates and the pupils. Her work will devolve upon others, being partially assumed by Miss E. K. Edgar, of Davenport, Iowa, newly connected with the College."

The happy bride, for some years a faithful instructor in Benton Harbor College, is a sister of Mr. Jas. Edgcumbe, the well known George street grocer. President George J. Edgcumbe, at whose residence the interesting ceremony took place, and the Rev. S. Edgcumbe, mentioned in the above affair, are also brothers of Mr. Edgcumbe, town, and of the bride.

Some Fall Fairs.

The following are the dates for some of the annual fairs of the agricultural societies around Peterborough. It would be well to cut the list out and paste it in your hat for future reference.

South Monaghan, at Centreville on October 6th and 7th.

East Peterborough, at Norwood, on October 11th and 12th.

Burleigh and United Townships, at Apsley, on October 5th.

Peterborough Central, at Peterborough, on September 26th, 27th and 28th.

Calcutt's Grand Fall Show, Idyl Wild, Sept. 23rd.

Calcutt's Exhibition, Jubilee Point, Sept. 30th.

They are Magnificent Awards.

The three handsome silver cups offered by the Central Fair Directors as prizes in the two mile bicycle competition and supplied by Mr. John McClelland, jeweller, have arrived and are now on exhibition in Mr. McClelland's shop. The workmanship, design and pattern of the three elegant silver vessels are first class in every particular and universally admired. The first cup is valued at $20, the 2nd at $10, and the 3rd at $5. The $20 cup is emblematic of the Canadian Wheelsmen Association. It is supported on a pretty round base and a pedestal of ornate design and finish. This is surmounted by the cup itself which is gold lined, and has fine handles on either side. The cover is a magnificent piece of engraving and art. The other two cups are also especially fine and well worth an examination.

Battalion Movements.

Through the kindness of the colonel commanding and the officers, the guard of honor from the 57th Battalion will turn out to receive Lieutenant-Governor Kirkpatrick on his visit to Peterborough. The officers have gone to a good deal of trouble and spent considerable time in order to turn out a guard of honour to receive His Excellency and to please the citizens, at whose special request they have done so. The mutual good feeling existing between the town and the battalion is exceedingly gratifying.

The following orders have been issued by Lt. Col. J. Z. Rogers commanding the 57th Battalion of Infantry, Peterborough Rangers.

The battalion will form a guard of honour to parade with helmets at the drill shed at 1 o'clock p m. Tuesday. Band, bugle and drum corps will parade at the same hour.

The men forming the guard of honor to receive His Excellency the Lieut. Governor will parade at the drill shed on Monday evening at 8 o'clock.

Prosecutions Entered.

Manufacturers of threshing machines, says the Belleville Intelligencer, were last week prosecuted and convicted in different parts of the Province by the Inland Revenue Department through through Mr. Wm. Johnson, of that city, district inspector of weights and measures, for allowing unstamped measures to be sent out with their threshing machines, and now prosecutions will ensue against grain threshers for using and having in their possession these unlawful measures. Mr. Johnson has recently entered much more serious complaints against two grain threshers, one in the township of Ameliasburg being charged with wilfully diminishing two measures so as to make them measure unjustly, from one and a half to two inches having been taken off the lower rim, and the bottom re-inserted, although they were stamped measures. The one in Tyendinaga had false bottoms in his measures. He probably learned this trick from an enterprising firm that once flourished in Belleville.

To Welcome the Lieut. Governor.

Arrangements for tendering the Hon. Geo. A. Kirkpatrick, Lieut Governor, of Ontario, a loyal reception, have been all completed, and everything now down to the smallest detail of the public welcome which Peterborough will give the ghbernatorial guest has been satisfactorily arranged. His Excellency accompanied by Lady Kirkpatrick, will arrive at 11.50 o'clock, a m., per C P R., on Tuesday. Mayor Jas. Kendry and President Geo. E. Elliott, of the Cenaral Fair, are a committee appointed to receive the Lieut. Governor on his arrival and welcome him to Peterborough. Escorted by the band, the vice-regal visitor will be accompanied to the large new market hall, where luncheon will be served in elegant style at 12 o'clock noon. The invitations have been tastefully printed and hand to some sixty invited guests including the directors of the exhibition, members of parliament, and the town and county councillors and officials. Mr. D. Locke, proprietor of the Grand Central Hotel, will provide the spread which will be a most elaborate one. The remainder of the details in connection with the afternoon's proceedings and the formal opening of the fair have been already stated in the EXAMINER. Councillor Bradburn is the chairman of the joint reception committee and ably assisted by the other members of the committee. They are to be congratulated on having all matters of detail so successfully arranged at so early a date.

—A meeting of the Philharmonic Society will be held this evening over Mr. Thompson's bookstore to re-organize for the coming season. All are invited to attend.

—A Warkworth despatch announces that the bonus by-laws for the Cobourg, Northumberland & Pacific Railroad were carried in Brighton and Seymour Townships yesterday.

—The great sign on the main building of the Edison Works was yesterday, changed from "The Edison General Electric Company" to "The Canadian General Electric Company."

—Mr. Slattery, deputy inspector of weights and measures, Belleville, has thoroughly inspected the market public weigh scales here and found them standard and accurate in every particular.

—It is rumoured that if the Edison sewer is constructed down Kirk street to enter the lake at McDonald's Point by the town, the Corporation of Ashburnham will enter action against the former for damages.

—The coils were dark and gloomy last night. No one occupied them.

—The street crossings were scraped of their thick coating of mud at an early hour this morning. Street Inspector Pope deserves credit for the speedy manner in which he always attends to the comfort of pedestrans in this particular.

—The new Methodist church, situated on the government road in the township of Harvey, Rev. W. S Boyce, pastor, will be formally dedicated on Tuesday, Oct. 4th. The services will be conducted by the chairman of the district, Rev. Jos. H. Locke, assisted by Rev. G. H. Raley, of Bridgenorth.

—On Sunday night last, lightning struck the barn and outbuildings of a prominent farmer named Bryant, living between Stockdale and Wooler. The premises were an entire loss. The building and contents were only insured for $900. The loss will not be less than $4 000, as everything was burned including implements and crop.

—A new dam is being erected at Healey's Falls, four miles north of Campbellford. A portion of the old structure across the river has been already dismantled. The government engineer visited the dam some time ago and found that it was in a very imperfect state of repair, and its condition having been reported at Ottawa orders were given for its removal.

A Fine Promenade Concert.

A grand promenade concert will be given by the 57th Battalion band on Tuesday evening next under the distinguished patronage of Hon. Geo. A. and Mrs. Kirkpatrick. The band had another splendid practice last night and will at this great coming musical event dispense some of the finest selection they have ever played. The band should be assured of a large attendance by the general public as the concert will be the grandest and most elaborate ever given in Peterborough.

Collegiate Institute Sports.

The Collegiate Institute pupils will inaugurate their initial Day of Sports on the P.A. A.A. grounds to-morrow afternoon. The attractions as published in the programme of yesterday will be well worth witnessing, and it is but meet that the friends and admirers of the Institute should turn out and lend their encouragement and patronage. The events will begin sharply at two o'clock, and the small admission fee of ten cents will be charged. Several of the events are not open to the pupils of the Peterborough Collegiate Institute alone, but to students of Norwood, Port Hope and Trinity College schools. The entries in each event are many, and the boys have been training to a nicety, until they are in the pink of condition. The prizes are useful and fancy articles, generously donated by the town merchants, and valuable enough to inspire keen competition.

The New Market Scales Building.

Mr. Henry Carveth has completed the contract awarded him by the Market Committee of erecting a shed over the market scales, a clerk's office and two other sheds adjoining and he has done his work well and to the satisfaction of the committee. Mr. Butler is now laying the last brush on the structure which is a great improvement to the market square. Four gates, two at each end are strung across the roadway leading to the scales and afford the greatest facility for weighing live stock such as cattle, hogs and sheep, heretofore unenjoyed and from which fault the market clerk has lost a substantial revenue. The roof of the sheds adjoining the clerk's office are of Swiss architecture and covered with zinc. Here farmers may leave their hogs, butter, meats, etc., after getting them weighed, and before they care to cart them away. There is another matter which the market committee should give attention to, and that is the laying of a wide sidewalk north and south across the centre of the square. This is greatly needed, as the market was so large last Saturday that over twenty wagons were unable to get accommodation room and a walk such as that mentioned would afford much more room for Peterborough's large and ever-increasing market.

Nicholls Captures the County Championship.

He Gets Over the Winning Line a Length Ahead of Taylor.

The matched canoe race, a mile with turn, for the canoe championship of the county and a purse of $50, was paddled this afternoon at the Chemong Park course, between Gardiner Nicholls, of Bobcaygeon, and John Taylor of Chemong village. Nicholls led from the start, and though the Chemong canoeist stayed with him fairly well, he won without much difficulty by a canoe length.

A most estimable lady almost d stroyed until Dr. Butler's Golden Pills came to the rescue. After their use for a short time she was able to resume her duties, after suffering untold misery from nervous prostration and the ills that attend that most distressing disease. These, if not checked in time, lead to insanity and death. Golden Pills are guaranteed to cure all nervous and blood d seases.

Colorless, Emaciated, Helpless

A Complete Cure by HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA.

This is from Mr. D. M. Jordan, a retired farmer, and one of the most respected citizens of Otsego Co., N. Y.

"Fourteen years ago I had an attack of the gravel, and have since been troubled with my

gradually growing worse. Three years ago I got down so low that I could scarcely walk. I looked more like a corpse than a living being. I had no appetite and for five weeks I ate nothing but gruel. I was badly emaciated and had no more color than a marble statue. Hood's Sarsaparilla was recommended and I thought I would try it. Before I had finished the first bottle I noticed that I felt better, suffered less, the inflammation of the bladder had subsided, the color began to return to my face, and I began to feel hungry. After I had taken three bottles I could eat anything without hurting me. Why, I got so hungry that I had to eat 5 times a day. I have now fully recovered, thanks to

Hood's Sarsaparilla

I feel well and am well. All who know me marvel to see me so well." D. M. JORDAN.

MANTLES

We've got a Mantle stock big enough and stylish enough to talk about. Ladies have been here during the past few days who are not obliged to purchase at any particular store. They were only looking, but the large majority bought, and from the balance we've been complimented on the stock we put before them this season. We don't believe there exists a store in Peterborough today that shows a stock of saleable and wearable Mantles equal to ours. All we want is an opportunity to prove to you, as we are daily doing to others, that our claims are good.

Our Millinery Opening will be on TUESDAY next, Sept. 26th, and following days.

Young Women's Christian Association.

Its Aims and Objects Explained—A Worthy Institution—An Appeal Made to the Public for Funds to Sustain a General Secretary for the Association.

The EXAMINER has been handed the following communication from a prominent member of the Young Women's Christian Association, who has the interests of the association and the good work, it is endeavouring to carry to on among all the ladies of Peterborough, thoroughly at heart. The following letter should commend itself to all:

The Young Women's Christian Association desire to place before the public the aims and needs of their work. We understand that there are some who do not know anything about the work, and as the collectors are starting out to solicit aid we thought a synopsis of the work being done should be published.

The Association was started in January of the present year, and is based on the same lines as the Y.M.C.A. The rooms are comfortably furnished and are open to all young women of good moral standing, is undenominational, and the fee is only 50 cents, and that entitles the member to all the classes. We have been handicapped for want of a general secretary—hence our appeal. There has been a good work done, but the need of a secretary has become so great that we feel that if the work is to go on successfully we must have one at once.

Through the kindness of friends of the work we have not been in debt, money always being forthcoming—sometimes left with some of the members, again coming through the post.

We feel that God has blessed this work, and that it can be extended. If we had a secretary the rooms could be open all the time, whereas, now, they can only be open certain nights for a few hours, the members of the Board of Management taking in turn the oversight.

As one of the most encouraging classes is our Bible class, if those not knowing about the work could spend one Tuesday night at the rooms they could not help being impressed with the idea that the rooms were a help to many.

We want to extend the work, but must have some one at the rooms all the time, one who can find out the needs of the different members, as we cannot do under the present system. We feel that the work has only to be known and understood to receive the sympathy of the people of our town. "Give and it shall be given unto you." The gold and the silver are His, we are the stewards.

BEECHAM'S PILLS, cure Bilious and Nervous ills.

A STARTLING CASE,

In Which a Young Gentleman of Brockville District Figures Prominently.

A Marvellous Record Which is of the Greatest Interest to All—No Romance but Simply Solid Facts that Will Bear the Fullest Investigation.

A N. Norton, aged 17, lives with his parents on lot 24 in the 7th con. of the township of Elizabethtown, near the village of New Dublin, twelve miles from the town of Brockville. His father is one of the most prosperous farmers in the vicinity and was enabled to give his son all the advantages that money could procure. The boy was naturally bright, gifted with a good memory and a fondness for knowledge that, prompted by application, gave him a foremost place in his class. He was, however, prevented from regular attendance at school, much to his own and his parents' disappointment, because of a very painful disease. For six years he was afflicted with that most distressing of all nerve diseases, chorea or St. Vitus' Dance. For weeks at a time he was confined to the house suffering untold misery. His disease was characterized by twitching of the muscles of the neck arms and legs. His head was at times drawn backward. His gait was irregular and he walked with difficulty. Appetite very irregular and he had no desire for food. Altogether he became physically a wreck and all hope of his recovey was abandoned by his parents. During all these years he was under the care of a prominent physician who exhausted all orthodox remedies without success. His father had heard of Dr. Butler's Golden Pills, but like most others, had little faith in advertised remedies. He consulted the attending physician as to whether he should give Golden Pills a trial. Naturally averse (being a straight laced Esculapian) to advise resort to patient medicine he was honorable enough to allow their use on the principle that all other remedies having failed, if Golden Pills did not cure he would be in no worse condition On the strength of this cold approval the father purchased a box of Butler's Golden Pills and placed his boy under treatment, taking one pill after each meal. He had only taken them for a few days when a marked change was perceived in the suffering young man. His appetite improved wonderfully, and he could sleep throughout the entire night. The latter was a blessing he had been denied for six years. The use of the pills was continued for three weeks, two boxes (or one dollar's worth) being used. At the end of the third week the severe nervous spasms had ceased, he had gained in flesh, his strength returned, and he was able to assist in the fields and do chores around the house.

The parents were astonished at the remarkable change in his condition, as he was himself, and friends who called could scarcely believe that the young man they now saw in such excellent health, was he who was so prostrated a few weeks before. They give Dr. Butler's Golden Pills all the credit for the cure, and claim that but for their timely use restoration to health could never have been effected.

The magical curative properties of Butler's Golden Pills is not confined to St. Vitus dance only; they are equally efficacious in all diseases dependent on a vitiated condition of the blood and nerves, as Nervous Prostration, Rheumatism, Palpitation of the Heart, Shortness of Breath, Asthma, Nervous Headache, Neuralgia, Paralysis, Locomotor Ataxia and all forms of Female Weakness, Suppressions, Irregularities, and the many ills that attend women at change of life, all Blood Diseases, Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Catarrh of the Throat or Stomach, Incipient Consumption and Coronic Erysipelas.

These pills were formulated by a most distinguished practioner, after years of trial and study. They are recommended as one of the most potent and effectual preparations for the cure of nerve and blood diseases. They are offered to the public at a price that makes a course of treatment inexpensive. Never sold in bulk; always in packages wrapped in trade mark. No other remedy possesses such magical properties. Price, 50 cents per box, or six boxes for $2.50. They can be had at all druggists, or by mail from Dr. Butler Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Wedding Bells.

Billings-Barrie.

A pleasant event took place last evening at the residence of Mr. George Barrie, 310 Edinburgh street, when his third daughter was united in marriage to Mr. Fred Billings, of Hespeler, late of Peterborough. The interesting ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. E. Trotter, pastor of the Murray street Baptist church, in the presence of some thirty friends and relatives of the contracting parties. The happy bride was dressed in a pretty cream dress, with cream trimming, lace and silk ribbon, and wore the customary bridal veil. She carried a fine bouquet of white roses in her hand, as also did her bridesmaid, Miss Maggie Stinson, and her sister, Miss Lillie Barrie, who was maid of honor. The groom was supported by his brother, Mr. George Billings. After the ceremony, the happy couple, together with their friends, sat down to a wedding supper. The presents were many and handsome. Mr. and Mrs Billings will take up their residence immediately in Hespeler, where the husband is the assistant foreman in one of the departments of Brodie's large woollen mill, and where their many friends will wish them happiness and success.

Bird—Bell.

This morning at 10 o'clock the residence of Mr. Thomas Edward Bell, "Ashbrook Farm," Smith, was the scene of an interesting wedding ceremony, when his youngest daughter, Sarah, was united in marriage to Mr. Newton R. Bird, Stirling. The ceremony was performed by Rev. R L. Adams, and the bridesmaids were Miss Sanderson, town, and Miss Ruth Wensley, Stirling. Mr. Bird was supported by Mr. J. Madill, Lakefield, and Mr. Ernest Bird, of Stirling. After the ceremony the usual wedding breakfast was partaken of by a large number of guests, and Mr. and Mrs. Bird took the 1.40 Grand Junction express for a wedding trip east.

Sporting Sparks.

The Vatican Park Nine would like to play the tailors a game of baseball in response to the invitation sent out to them by the "hammers of cloth." The Vaticans are willing to play the tailors on the P.A.A.A. grounds on some Saturday afternoon, the losing team to pay for the use of the grounds, or if they refuse this, the Vaticans will play their challengers on the Riverside park at any time for some fun.

The Peterborough Rugby Football Club are hustlers, and they have active, energetic officers who will not let their players to sleep. Last night the boys had an excellent practice, in fact the best of the season, no less than 22 players being out in the field.

The lacrosse and baseball clubs have not disbanded for the season yet. They would each like to have some more matches on, before the season closes, with neighbouring clubs.

The Rugby Football Club have challenged Lindsay to a game.

Mr. Gus Hay, secretary of the Association team, received a challenge from Norwood High School to-day to play here Wednesday next, the 28th, at the Fair. The challenge will be accepted by the home team, but the date changed.

The Peterborough Rugby Club will not play the Edison a match on the P.A.A.A. grounds next Saturday afternoon. The team expects to play the Trinity College Team, Port Hope, on Saturday week, and if this match does not come off they will play the Edison's instead.

The lathers want to play the bartenders at baseball next Wednesday afternoon on the Riverside Park for a cup valued at $10 or anything else of equal value.

The Chemong Indian Village Baseball Club will play the Peterborough's a game during next week.

A prominent player of the Peterborough Baseball Club said to an EXAMINER reporter to-day. "I have noticed several challenges in your paper of late that several teams, such as the Vaticans, Tailors an others have signified their intention of meeting any team in the town except the Edisons. Now the Peterboroughs are, I think, included in this sweeping challenge and I desire to state that we are prepared to meet any of these teams hungrying after a game or we will play a nine selected from the whole of them and give them a battery selected from the Edison's for money, love or fun."

The following members of the Association Football Club will go to Warsaw to-morrow to play that village a game:—Goal, Tighe; backs, Goldsmith and Hay; halves, Pritchard, Galey and W. Dumble; centre, D. McCabe; right wing, Fisher and Pogley; left wing, Lee and Bell.

The Edison and Peterborough Baseball clubs will play what will probably be the last game in their series of matches for the championship of the town on Saturday afternoon next on the P.A.A.A. grounds. A tight struggle is looked for.

The Chemong Regatta is taking place this afternoon. A large number drove out from town to attend, while Mr. R N Scott's bus line was liberally patronized. The threatening weather of the morning cleared off brilliantly by noon and the day is all that could be desired for the great aquatic event.

CHAPTER VIII.

THE sun was on the downward slope when Terry left his little home next day. Neither Shem or Zell could be found. He sought a shade and made himself comfortable. Terry had changed a little. His quiet indifference to those he met had grown into quiet liking, then a little further. He felt a trifle put out last night that Zell had not waited up for him. Zanea would have, but then men always would rather have what they do not get. It was afternoon now, and no Zell yet. Where could she be? He lay partly hidden by low bushes prone on the ground. Raising himself, incidentally he would look toward the house. The last time he continued looking. Pacing up and down went Zell and a tall monk. His cowl was drawn over his face, so Terry could not see what his age was. He was strongly built and held himself well erect, but for the head which leaned forward, it may have been to more readily hear Zell's low-spoken words. She held his hand and would pat it softly. She looked happy, and, Terry thought, a shade more womanly. An interesting thoughtfulness had taken the place of childlike ignorance formerly depicted on her face. Up and down they went; every turn they came nearer to where Terry lay. He could hear their voices and sometimes a word. Now they came quite close and he heard Zell call him Father Ambrose. Then the monk spoke.

"Thou hast been kept in total innocence of all things to gratify the whim of an experimental and eccentric old man. To-day I have told thee of, and explained to thee, what is generally called the most important occurrence in life. That is, love and all that follows love. Now, let me exact a promise, child. If ever love pauses irresolute between Zanea and thee, if it lay in thy power, give it to Zanea. Promise, promise Zell. Zanea is noble. She has understood for years that love comes to all, but she lived, and does live but for Ishmael. You have lived a life of perfect happiness. Zanea has had trials and sorrows that would have crushed a lesser nature. Promise me, wilt thou, my child?"

"I know but too well what thou meanest, Father Ambrose. Oh! why was I not taught those things slowly that I could gain strength. I love Zanea, but I love——."

"Hush thee; say it not; make the promise. Look away beyond yon majestic cloud, forget all this and promise. Thou can'st not suffer as will Zanea."

Zell dropped the hand of the sombre-robed monk, lifted her eyes to the cloud, folded her hands and stood fully five minutes as if waiting for courage, then sweetly, nobly she answered, "I promise."

"Zell, thou art full of latent force and tender womanly sweetness. Thou could'st have done great things had they come to thee. What is a greater trial to woman than renouncing love? I must leave thee. Fare thee well; I go to Zanea.

Zell remained as Father Ambrose had left her, gazing into the shifting vapors of the clouds. Terry rose and went to the lonely, childlike woman. Low and firmly he called:

"Zell."

She did not move her eyes from the cloud and spoke as if mystified.

"Oh, Terry! it is you. Tell me, Terry, what is beyond those mighty walls of rock? I knew not till to-day that aught there was. Scarce can I believe it, yet Father Ambrose says 'tis so. Tell me what is beyond."

"The world."

"Yes, but what is in the world?"

"Life, death, joy, sorrow, love, hatred and strife."

She turned to Terry and looked pathetically puzzled.

"What does all that mean? What is life?"

"Life is the mingling of death, joy, sorrow, love, hatred and strife."

"What is death? Life is what we make it. Is death, too, what we make it?"

Sufferers from dyspepsia have only themselves to blame if they fail to test the wonderful curative qualities of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. In purifying the blood, this medicine strengthens every organ of the body, and even the most abused stomach is soon restored to healthy action.

IMPORTANT.—Capilline contains no noxious substances like so many other Hair Restorers, but to the contrary it is the best Hair Tonic and at the same time the most agreeable Toilet Article. 1d

Educational Work.

The work of educating the public to a thorough knowledge of the virtues of Burdock Blood Bitters as a cure for all diseases of the stomach, liver, bowels and blood has been completely successful. The remedy is now known and used in thousands of homes where it always gives great satisfaction. dw

When the kidneys are clogged, good health is an impossibility; but when working properly the reverse is the case. That dull headache is the kidney's cry for relief. If Dodd's Kidney Pills are used the result will be marvellous. We emphatically state that we have never known a case of kidney disease that a persistent use of Dodd's Kidney Pills will not cure.

Timely Wisdom.

Great and timely wisdom is shown by keeping Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry on hand. It has no equal for cholera, cholera morbus, diarrhœa, dysentery, cramps, colic and all summer complaints and looseness of the bowels. dw

"German Syrup"

A Cough and Croup Medicine.

For children a medicine should be absolutely reliable. A mother must be able to pin her faith to it as to her Bible. It must contain nothing violent, uncertain, or dangerous. It must be standard in material and manufacture. It must be plain and simple to administer; easy and pleasant to take. The child must like it. It must be prompt in action, giving immediate relief, as childrens' troubles come quick, grow fast, and end fatally or otherwise in a very short time. It must not only relieve quick but bring them around quick, as children chafe and fret and spoil their constitutions under long confinement. It must do its work in moderate doses. A large quantity of medicine in a child is not desirable. It must not interfere with the child's spirits, appetite or general health. These things suit old as well as young folks, and make Boschee's German Syrup the favorite family medicine.

MEDICAL CONFERENCE.

A Proposal to Secure Inter-Provincial Registration for Doctors.

OTTAWA, Ont., Sept. 21.—The initial stage of the conference of medical doctors of the Dominion to be held in the Capital was reached to-day, when the members of the Ontario Medical College met in the reading room of the Russell House.

This meeting was called for the purpose of simplifying and arranging matters for the meeting of delegates from the provinces of Canada. The purpose of the conference is the question of reciprocity of medical registration between the provinces of the Dominion. The idea of this conference emanated from the Ontario Medical Council, which empowered a number of its members to institute the conference, and that the registrar should report to and put himself in communication with the medical registrars of other provinces. In simple words the intention is that any qualified medical man of either province may be allowed to practice in any other province throughout Canada. This is also the session of the Canadian Medical Association, a fact that is both appropriate and useful under the circumstances.

G.P.R. CONDUCTORS IN TROUBLE.

The Company May Make a Clean Sweep from Ottawa to Vancouver.

OTTAWA, Sept. 21.—Another wholesale dismissal of C.P.R. passenger conductors occurred on Saturday last, when five well-known officials were informed that their services were no longer required. The dismissals were made on the division between Ottawa and North Bay, and as usual the men were given no reasons whatever for the action taken by the company. Two of the conductors reside in this city and three others are residents of North Bay. A report is in circulation to the effect that the company will make a clean sweep among the passenger conductors between Ottawa and Vancouver. Most of the dismissed employes have been in the service of the company for over ten years.

THE PARNELLITES REVOLT.

The Liberal Party Blamed for Evictions in Ireland.

DUBLIN, Sept. 21.—At the regular meeting of the National League in this city to-day an address was delivered by Mr. Joseph Kenny, Parnellite member of Parliament. Irishmen, he said, were confronted with a strange situation. There had been a renewal of evictions simultaneously with the advent of the Liberal Government. He agreed with Mr. O'Brien that the landlords would do their best to provoke disturbances by evictions, but he contended that the Liberals were responsible for the evictions, as the landlords had taken heart because the Government had refused to hold an autumn session of parliament.

"The Liberals," said Mr. Kenny, "impudently count the independent Irish members as a part of their majority, but the Independents will not assist them one moment longer than the interests of Ireland demand."

Oddfellows' Grand Lodge.

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 21.—The principal business at the session of the Sovereign Grand Lodge of Oddfellows Tuesday was the election of officers for the ensuing year, as follows: Grand sire, D. G. Campbell, London, Ont.; deputy grand sire, J. W. Stebbens, Rochester, N.Y.; grand secretary, Theodore A. Ross, Columbus, Ohio; grand treasurer, Isaac A. Sheppard, Philadelphia.

LONDON, Sept. 21.—The preliminary examination of Andrew Macrae, charged with the murder of his mistress, Annie Pritchard and her illegitimate child, was concluded to-day. He was committed for trial on the charge of murder.

WATCH REPAIRING!

This season, so far, has been a very busy one in our Watch Repairing Department. People are surprised at the excellence of our workmanship, having been under the impression that work, of such a high grade, was not possible outside of the large cities. This department is under the charge of a strictly first-class specialist, who thoroughly understands his business in all its details. Our charges are remarkably low considering the quality of the work.

A LIBERAL POLICY.

The STANDARD has always taken the lead over other companies in the effort to simplify the assurance contract, and to maintain public confidence in life assurance. Its prompt and liberal settlement of claims has given it a world-wide reputation for generous straightforward dealing, and by its example has done much to do away with contesting of policies.

The New Free Policy of the Standard Life Assurance Company is given without extra charge; allows free residence in any part of the world, and is incontestable and unconditional except on the ground of false statements in the application, and that only during the first two years; after that it is absolutely free. This policy is simply a promise to pay a certain sum at the maturity of the contract. Instead of having a number of useless clauses on the back of the policy showing what the insured may not do, and which always gives rise to dissatisfaction and dispute; the STANDARD prints only on the back of the policy a list of special privileges granted to the assured.

HASTY DISHES.

The Latest Recipes for Quickly Made Edible Preparations.

A true hasty dish is one that can be prepared and cooked within half an hour, and the most needed requisite is simplicity of manipulation. Rechauffes can rarely be quickly made. They are usually economical in materials, and add greatly to the variety and palatableness of the daily menu, but they always require much time to perfect their making. Most soups and fresh vegetables require longer time in cooking and more attention in seasoning and preparing than can be compressed into thirty minutes. Broiling and frying are the only rapid ways of preparing uncooked meats and fish, while canned vegetables and soups are great helps in getting hasty meals. Most housekeepers are, however, familiar with the use of canned goods.

Tomato Soup.—Take a can of tomatoes and bring them to a boil, and then strain through a coarse strainer. Add 1 teaspoonful of dry soda, and when the foaming ceases add a quart of milk and a tablespoonful of butter. Season the soup with salt, red pepper, or curry-powder, and thicken slightly with a little cracker crumbs. Boil the soup for a few moments, and it is ready for eating.

Potato Soup.—Fry a medium-sized onion, sliced thin, in half a cup of butter, and then pour on it a quart of milk and let the two come to a boil. Mix 2 cupfuls of cold mashed potatoes, beaten smoothly, into the boiling soup. Boil altogether a few moments, season with salt and pepper, and serve.

Oyster Soup.—Strain the liquor from a quart of oysters and add 1 cup of water, and let the two become scalding hot, using a double boiler. Then add a quart of milk, and when this boils add 2 table-spoonfuls of butter rubbed into 1 table-spoonful of flour. Add lastly the oysters, and let them cook three minutes. Season to taste with a little salt and white pepper, and serve very hot. These three recipes of quick-made soups make a sufficient amount for six or eight persons.

Cooked salad dressing to use instead of mayonnaise dressing is made in two ways.

Salad Dressing.—Add 1 teaspoonful of sugar, half a teaspoonful of salt, mustard, and white pepper, to 2 well-beaten eggs, and beat them all together. Cook the mixture in a double boiler, stirring continually till thick like cream. Stir into the hot dressing a tablespoonful of butter, and lastly add a tablespoonful of vinegar. Cool and use.

Cream Salad Dressing.—To 2 well beaten eggs add 1 teaspoonful of sugar, one-quarter of a spoonful of salt and mustard, and then 3 tablespoonfuls of vinegar, and one of cream. Cook the mixture in a double boiler, stirring it till it thickens like cream. Cool and use.

Sea-Moss Blanc-Mange.—Put half a handful of sea-moss and half a cup of white sugar into a pint of milk. Let the milk scald slowly for fifteen minutes, using a double boiler, and then boil it till it begins to thicken. Add a half teaspoonful of salt and 1 of vanilla when removed from the fire, and strain the whole through a coarse strainer, and serve when cold.

Quick Sponge-Cake.—Beat 2 eggs and 2 cups of sugar together till very light. Add 2 cups of flour in which 2 teaspoonfuls of salt have been mixed. Lastly add three-quarters of a cup of boiling water and a teaspoonful of lemon extract. Bake quickly in 2 small loaves.—Harper's Bazar.

Cure for A Cough Pattison and Headache

Dr. Silas Lane, while in the Rocky Mountains, discovered a root that, when combined with other herbs, makes an easy and certain cure for constipation. It is in the form of dry roots and leaves, and is known as Lane's Family Medicine. It will cure sick-headache in one night. For the blood, liver and kidneys, and for clearing up the complexion it does wonders. Druggists sell it at 50 cents package. dw

AN ALLAN STEAMER HELD

NEW YORK OFFICIALS DETAIN THE STATE OF NEVADA.

A Stoker Died Aboard of Her, But There Does Not Seem to Be Anything Wrong With Her—May Be Allowed to go to Her Dock To-Day. The Ravages of Cholera on the Continent.

QUARANTINE, Sept. 22.—Dr. Jenkins ordered back to quarantine yesterday the Allan Line steamer State of Nevada on account of the recent death of a stoker. After her arrival at her dock Dr. Jenkins said there was an interesting story attached to the recall to quarantine of the State of Nevada, but contented himself for the present by saying: "The State of Nevada came from Glasgow, a perfectly healthy port. Her cabin passengers were discharged. It was my intention to hold her for the 20 days' rule and I informed the steamship agent that I would not allow her to go up unless he obtained the consent of the collector of the port. I subsequently received word from the collector that if the steamer was all right she should be allowed to go up."

In a Crowded Tenement.

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—Patrick Stewart, 50 years old, employed at the Brooklyn Navy Yard and living on the second floor of a crowded tenement at 15 Morris-street, this city, has been sent to hospital as a suspected case of cholera. The house has been quarantined and disinfected.

The Hamburg Company Sued.

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—Papers were filed in the United States Court yesterday by Cortland S. Van Rensselaer of this city, who was a passenger on the steamship Normannia, in a suit for $10,000 against the Hamburg-American Packet Company. He says he was assured by the London agents that no steerage passengers would be carried, and relying on these assurances he was booked a passenger from London to New York.

No New Cases at Camp Low.

CAMP LOW, Sandy Hook, Sept. 22.—The night report issued by Surgeon-Major Sawtelle, who has succeeded Gen. Hamilton as commandant of the Camp, reports no new cases of sickness and improvement in the condition of all in the hospital, including Mr. Gutel Domiz, the only cholera patient.

A Case In New Jersey.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N.J., Sept. 22.—A despatch was received here yesterday by the Local Board of Health from Dr. Edson of New York, stating that Capt. James Carr, who died Sunday, died of Asiatic cholera as shown by the bacteriological examination. The announcement has caused the health board to redouble their precautions in quarantining the Carr residence.

Winnipeg Will Consider It.

WINNIPEG, Sept. 22.—At a meeting of the Winnipeg Board of Trade material was submitted from the Quebec Board addressed to Hon. Mr. Carling, Minister of Agriculture, regarding defects in Canadian quarantine and asking for the co-operation of the Winnipeg Board in demanding complete suspension of immigration for 30 days, owing to the cholera epidemic in Hamburg and the East.

The question was discussed by the members, when it was decided to postpone decision for one week in order that the views of the people could be obtained before taking such decisive step as asking for complete prohibition of immigration. It was thought that if Manitoba made a request for the stoppage of settlers from Europe it might have serious effect on future immigration to this country.

The Dead Lie Unburied in Teheran.

LONDON, Sept. 22.—A Paris correspondent says the French consul at Teheran reports that cholera cases in Persia have always proved fatal in a single day. A whole regiment of soldiers have deserted. The dirt and stench from the unburied dead are frightful. The consul had to bake his own bread. Pilgrimages were resorted to as a means of getting rid of the scourge. The pilgrims, however, died in batches on the road. The French consul at Tauris, where 500 persons died daily, lost his sister and a daughter.

Pilgrimages Forbidden.

PARIS, Sept. 22.—Besides forbidding excursions to this city for the coming Republican fete, the Government has forbidden railway excursions to Lourdes and other shrines from infected cities. Hotelkeepers are angry over the loss of their expected harvest.

Berlin Cases Due to Bad Water.

BERLIN, Sept. 22.—The recent cases of cholera here were almost certainly due to the drinking of river water. Hundreds of Hamburgers are having their supplies of provisions sent to them by relays in Berlin. They do this through fear of being infected by food purchased in Hamburg, which is also rendered impalatable by the odor of brimstone used in disinfection and which permeates the whole city.

Austrian Schools Closed.

VIENNA, Sept. 22.—All the schools in Cracow are closed. The town is divided into 60 sanitary districts, each of which is under a special commission. Public fairs have been prohibited throughout Galicia and precautionary measures have been taken in all the chief towns, such as the early closing of taverns and other public resorts and the formation of sanitary committees. All the theatres in Lemberg have been closed.

Sixty-four Deaths in Hamburg.

HAMBURG, Sept. 22.—According to the official figures there were 149 new cases of cholera and 64 deaths here yesterday.

Still Raging in Russia.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 22.—Forty-eight new cases of cholera and 16 deaths were reported in this city yesterday.

Ordered to Sea.

LISBON, Sept. 22.—It is stated that the steamer Reichstag, which arrived in the Tagus yesterday from Hamburg and which was ordered to leave the river, had 10 cases of cholera on board.

Deaths at Antwerp.

ANTWERP, Sept. 22.—Two new cholera cases and four deaths were reported here yesterday and at Mons three cases and one death.

Thought To Be a Cholera Case.

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—Mrs. Vincenzo Grappolas died last night at her home on the ground floor, rear of No. 104 Bayard-street. It is suspected from cholera.

Prairie Fire in Dakota.

FARGO, N.D., Sept. 22.—A big prairie fire is raging north of this city, and is being fanned by a strong wind. Many farmers have been too busy to prepare fire breaks, and it is feared much damage will be done.

Desperate Negro Tramps.

DES MOINES, Sept. 22.—News has reached here of an attempt of a gang of negro tramps to loot and burn the village of Spencer in the northwestern part of the state. A pitched battle was fought between the negroes and citizens, and revolvers were used recklessly. Five negroes are in jail, and the people of the town are intensely excited. It is reported that a number were seriously injured in the melee.

Another Gift Enterprise Gone Up.

BOSTON, Sept. 22.—A temporary injunction was granted against the American Protective League, claimed to be insolvent, with liabilities aggregating $2,781,900 and but $101,800 assets.

A KNOTTY QUESTION
Which can only be Solved after Mature Deliberation.

Every father and mother, before buying Boots and Shoes for their children, should hold a consultation together and try and arrive at an answer to the following five questions:
1. What kind of boot do we want?
2. Are any to be got that will wear well?
3. Who keeps this kind?
4. Are these people reliable?
5. Can they afford to sell good boots cheap?

Having carefully analyzed these questions to their satisfaction, why not decide to try

A DRIVE'S FATAL ENDING

TWO WOMEN LOSE THEIR LIVES BY A RUNAWAY.

The Horses Bolted as They Were Going Down a Hill—The Conveyance Overturned Against a Fence, Crushing the Occupants—So That One Died Instantly and the Other Lived But a Short Time.

OTTAWA, Sept. 23.—Meagre details of a frightful double fatality at the village of Kazabazua, on the Gatineau, reached the city yesterday. The accident occurred Monday night, and as a result two young women were killed, one of them instantly. The victims were cousins and were going to a dance with two male relatives and a little boy. Before reaching their destination, which was at the foot of a steep hill, the horses suddenly started on a mad gallop. At the bottom of the incline there was a sharp curve, and around this the horses swung against a fence, throwing all the occupants violently out. The express turned over and over on top of the women and men, and when removed it was discovered that one of the ladies had been instantly killed. Her female companion was still unconscious from the effects of the concussion, and she lingered for 20 hours and breathed her last on Tuesday night. One of the men had his arm and leg broken.

One was the daughter of Mr. John Hogan, merchant and leading farmer of the place, and the other was the only daughter of a widow of the same name. The unfortunates were 22 and 25 years of age respectively.

A NEW BRUNSWICK DISASTER.

Fifty-Seven Houses and Stores Swept Away By Fire.

MONCTON, N.B., Sept. 23.—At Butouche, Kent County, 57 houses and stores were burned to the ground last night. The fire is supposed to be the work of an incendiary. It started in the rear of Joseph Myers, jeweler, burning his house, and the following other buildings: Clevis Chase's dwelling and store, Frank Cormier's dwelling and store, Robert Gallans' hotel and store, Y. Borquas' hotel, Isaac Trenholme's hotel and store, E. J. Leblanc's store and dwelling, Thomas Roberts' hotel, C. Borquas' dwelling store, barn and granary, R. Sutton's office, John Killeon's blacksmith shop and dwelling, Laon Leger's dwelling house, B. Foley's store and dwelling, D. D. Landry's hotel, the lock-up, John Irving's house, store, barn and warehouse, Dr. Gallant's house and store, John Obary's store and dwelling, A. D. Cormer's store, dwelling house and storehouse, A. Grattan's house and store, Miss Burke's millinery store, J. W. Carter's dwelling and carriage factory, J. C. Ross' warehouse, George Irving's store.

Families with their effects are camping out in the fields. The main arch of Buctouche bridge and the public wharf were also burned. More than half the town is wiped out, including every store except one and every hotel except one. The new part of the town, built around the railway station, escaped. The loss will reach $100,000. There is some insurance in almost every case. The town is without fire extinguishing apparatus and perfectly helpless in general conflagration.

A TERRIBLE DEATH.

A Blenheim Woman Impaled on a Wagon Tongue.

WOODSTOCK, Sept. 23.—Word was received in town last night that Mrs. Russel of the seventh concession of Blenheim met with a fatal accident while driving home from Woodstock. The particulars to hand, although meagre, furnish some idea of the terrible fatality. It appears the unfortunate woman was going towards home, and as it was late in the afternoon was making haste to get to her own place before dark. When going towards Blandford Station another team of horses overtook her. This team was running away, but the fact was not noticed by Mrs. Russel until too late. The runaway horses were tearing down the road at race-horse speed, and before Mrs. Russel, alone and helpless, could save herself crushed into her rig. The tongue struck the unfortunate woman in the back and carried her off the seat. The report which has reached here is that Mrs. Russel, thus impaled on the wagon tongue, was carried up the road nearly half a mile when her body was tossed the roadside frightfully mangled. No further particulars are given, but it is supposed death ensued in a few minutes.

Mrs. Russel's husband, W. C. Russel, several years ago had charge of the race track here and was a well-known horse trainer. They had no family and resided on a farm about a mile and a half from Blandford Station on the seventh concession of Blenheim.

THE AMHERSTBURG MURDER.

Veney's Case Sent Over to the Next Assizes For Trial.

WINDSOR, Ont., Sept. 23.—Anderson Veney, charged with the murder of his wife at Amherstburg, was brought into court yesterday for trial. A great many colored people were present. The crown prosecutor desired to proceed with the case at once, but Mr. Cowan, who was appointed by the crown to defend Veney, said that he would like a postponement to the next assizes. The grounds on which he asked to have the case deferred were that the time was too short to bring witnesses together, Veney having led the life of a sailor for some time past, and that he desired to summon medical experts to examine Veney as to his sanity. Judge Rose coincided with Mr. Cowan's views, and bound Veney over for trial at the spring assizes.

Wanted in Ireland.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—The State Department has issued a warrant for the return of E. T. Burke, alias T. D. Burgh, under arrest in New York and wanted in Dublin for larceny.

Killed and Mutilated by the Cars.

DORCHESTER, Ont., Sept. 23.—A man was found dead on the Grand Trunk Railway last evening, two miles east of here. He is supposed to have fallen off an excursion special or the regular mixed train, due to pass here at 7.30 p.m. The head, legs and arms were completely severed from the body. The body was picked up and brought to the station. On examination of the clothing a book was found showing that he had some dealings with a party by the name of H. Stewart of Norwich. He was a man about 30 years old, brown eyes and mustache, light straw hat, and wore a dark tweed suit and Balmoral shoes. The body has not yet been identified. An inquest will likely be held.

THE FRENCH REJOICE.

Celebration of the Centenary of Republicanism.

PARIS, Sept. 23.—One hundred years ago was the first day of the year 1 of the republic following the revolution. Yesterday was the centennial of the cannonade at Valmy, the first triumph of the republican arms, on Sept. 22, 1792, over the Prussians under the Duke of Brunswick.

Both events were generally celebrated in this city on a grand scale. The weather was splendid, and the principal streets of the city were crowded with spectators, many of whom came from a great distance. Around the Pantheon a dense crowd gathered. Here was stationed a large body of troops, and no one was admitted to the building without a permit. President Carnot and the members of the ministry arrived at 10 o'clock, and their appearance was the signal for the playing of the "Marseillaise" by the military bands. The party was received with great enthusiasm.

The interior of the Pantheon was beautifully decorated with flowers, while the walls were so heavily draped with tapestries as to be entirely concealed. These tapestries bore panels, shields and trophies.

As the President entered the choir made up for the occasion sang patriotic songs, especially composed for the anniversary.

Deputations from all the civic, military, industrial and commercial bodies of the state were present.

M. Loubet, the Prime Minister, delivered the oration. President Carnot was given a grand ovation as he drove from the Palace of the Elysee to the Pantheon, and tremendous shouts of "Vive la Republique!" went up.

Yesterday two cavalcades paraded. At the head of each procession marched a platoon of cavalrymen, real soldiers, attired in the uniform of the eighteenth century, the musicians playing airs of the epoch. Then came magnificent cars filled with men representing the famous characters of the period. Interspersed were bodies on foot attired like the trades corporations of anti-revolutionary time. In one of the cars Lafayette and Washington stood hand in hand. Women and children and groups of singers were also scattered through the procession. Some 4000 persons were in line. Each car cost about $2000. Some Portuguese gentlemen in Paris sent an address to President Carnot. The monuments of Gambetta Ledru-Rollin, to whom France owes universal suffrage, and those of other famous Republicans, were decorated with wreaths of flowers. This evening the city was brilliantly illuminated, many of the private houses vieing with the public buildings in their displays of electric and gas light effects. The entire city was en fete and the celebration was the most successful of the many that have been held in Paris. The Republicans are happy because of the enthusiasm shown by the people, and they argue that it shows how deeply love for the republic has become embedded in the hearts of the people of France.

FRENCH OPERATIONS IN DAHOMEY.

The King Loses One-Third of His Forces in an Engagement.

PARIS, Sept. 23.—A despatch from Lagos says that it is reported there that Colonel Dodds, commanding the French forces operating against King Behanzin in Dahomey, has been hard pressed by the Dahomeyans since Monday last. A number of the French officers have been killed and mass for the dead has been performed in Porto Novo.

An official despatch received from Col. Dodds yesterday stated that on Sept. 14 the French column was attacked at Dogba by 4000 Dahomeyans. The natives were repulsed with the loss of one-third of their force. If the report from Lagos is true the Dahomeyans must have again assumed the offensive. Lagos is the capital of the British colony of that name and is the largest town on the West African coast.

The victory of the French forces under Col. Dodds in Dahomey on Monday is computed to have resulted in the loss of one-third of the Dahomeyan forces. The King's command was hemmed in between the French forces and the sea.

KOSSUTH'S RESOLUTION.

He Will Not Enter Austria as Long as the Emperor Rules It.

TURIN, Sept. 23.—Replying to an invitation to allow his sons to represent him at the unveiling of a memorial in the church at Tallya, in which he was christened, Louis Kossuth, the Hungarian patriot, has written: "I am resolved never to set my foot in Hungary as long as the country recognizes the Emperor of Austria as its King.

"I am a living protest against Hungary's faithlessness, and my creed must therefore be to refuse myself the pleasure of again seeing my home. I was expelled from the country with my sons, and it would be ridiculous to let them appear in Hungary for mere vanity's sake. It is terrible for me to think that with all the blows of my purposeless and joyless life I should have to bear the burden of living beyond my ninetieth birthday."

AN EX-CAPTAIN'S CRIME.

Sanders' Forgeries Will Total Up a Million.

LONDON, Sept. 23.—Dr. Francis Charles Scott-Sanders, formerly proprietor of the Lyric Club, who was arrested on Aug. 27 on board of a West Indian steamer at Liverpool on the charge of having forged the name of the Earl of Londesborough to bills for £3733, was arraigned in the Marlborough-street Police Court yesterday.

Sam Lewis, the notorious money lender, testified that he had discounted the bills.

The prisoner's total debt amounts to £75,400.

The Earl of Londesborough testified that though he was chairman of the Lyric Club he had nothing to do with the club's finances. The witness had signed two promissory notes for a total of £7500, on which money was raised for the club. He also accepted a bill for £10,000. This was often renewed, but it was now paid. Afterward he signed two notes for £6000. Since August, 1891, he had ceased accepting bills for the accused.

The Earl was shown a number of bills which he declared were forgeries, though, he said, they were good imitations of his signature.

The witness, continuing, said he was unable to state how many bills he had signed in connection with the club. He had made no provision to pay them when they matured, as he trusted to the honesty of the prisoner.

Among the prisoner's property that fell into the hands of the police at the time of Dr. Scott-Sanders' arrest was a traveling bag, which, when opened, was found to contain a receipt for £5 from the West Indies and Pacific Steamship Company for a passage by the steamer Taxan, made out in the name of Mrs. Stanley, now a guest to Mexico. The lady known as Mrs. Stanley was seen by the detectives immediately after the arrest of Dr. Scott-Sanders. The detectives also found in the bag paid bills of exchange to the amount of £197,000. The names upon them were chiefly those of the Earl of Londesborough, Mr. H. Scott, Mr. C. Scott and Dr. Scott-Sanders. There were also among its contents four envelopes. The first contained six of the Earl of Londesborough's signatures, apparently cut from letters, one of Mr. Hugh Scott's and one of the Earl of Londesborough's cut out of the middle of a bill of exchange. Another contained three statements of account headed "Harrison and Davis," two others like the foregoing in the handwriting of the prisoner, one dated Jan. 18, 1890, not in his handwriting; a piece of paper dated April 13, 1892, with the word "Londesborough" on it in pencil, and also the words "£3000 bill three months, bill for interest," and another piece of paper bearing the words "Hugh J. E. Scott, Londesborough, £4000, June 15, 1892, three months."

It is said that the prisoner's forgeries amount to upward of £200,000.

An Insane Painter Uses a Revolver.

PARIS, Sept. 23.—A painter named Jean Lussa became suddenly insane yesterday and fired at his mother-in-law with a revolver, killing her instantly. He afterwards shot his wife and then his brother-in-law, whose name is Tavera. The wife was wounded in the head and the brother-in-law in the breast, but neither is fatally injured. The murderer was arrested.

Why the Students Were Deported.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 23.—A semi-official explanation given of the deportation on Sunday last of over 2000 students says that they came to the city to undergo examination for military service. They lodged in caravanseries, and most of them were in destitute circumstances. The examiners decided that the examinations could not be concluded this year, so the students were sent back to continue their studies in the high schools of their native provinces.

Riot in Brussels.

BRUSSELS, Sept. 23.—That portion of Brussels in which are located a number of co-operative bakeries was yesterday the scene of a labor riot, during which the police, plying their sabres, charged the mob. Two policemen were badly injured. Several arrests of rioters have been made.

An Actor Falls Dead.

LONDON, Sept. 23.—Mr. Maitland, an actor, fell dead in the Prince of Wales Theatre at Carmarthen last evening at the conclusion of the last scene of "The Two Orphans," depicting a deadly struggle. Mr. Maitland was the leading actor of the company with which he was playing.

South Leeds Remains Liberal.

LONDON, Sept. 23.—A parliamentary election was held in the south division of Leeds yesterday to fill the vacancy caused by the elevation of Sir Lyon Playfair (Liberal) to the peerage.

Mr. Walton, the Liberal candidate, received 4414 votes and Mr. Neville, Conservative, 3416.

THE CASE OF FATHER M'GLYNN.

It Will Come Before the Conference of Bishops Next Month.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—The coming meeting in their annual conference of the 13 Catholic archbishops of the United States will begin in this city on Nov. 16.

A new interest has been given to it by the cabled statement that the Pope will have a representative present in the person of Archbishop Satolli, who, as Papal delegate, will be intrusted with plenary powers. The advent of this prelate, who is celebrated for his theological lore and canonical skill, puts an entirely new aspect on the vexed scene of polemical disputes.

The St. Louis (Mo.) Western Watchman, which is one of Archbishop Ireland's organs, and of which the Rev. D. S. Phelan is editor, says in its issue of Sunday:

"There are many disputes between bishops and their clergy that have long awaited a settlement, chief among which is the case of Dr. McGlynn. It is safe to say that that famous case will now come up for trial. Our information from Rome is to the effect that the Propaganda has received satisfactory assurances from Dr. McGlynn and that his side of the question will at last be heard. There are other matters in other sections of the country that will claim the delegates' attention, but they need not be touched here."

THE ANGLICAN SYNOD.

The Montreal Gathering Expresses Good Will to the Presbyterians.

MONTREAL, Sept. 23.—At yesterday's session of the Provincial Synod of the Church of England in Canada a lively debate took place on the question whether the synod would send a message of greeting to the Pan-Presbyterian Council, now in session in Toronto.

Archdeacon Evans of Montreal moved a resolution in favor of such a motion, but many of the members objected to it on the ground that it would be taken as agreeing to the Presbyterian form of worship.

After a long discussion it was decided, on motion of the Rev. Dr. Langtry of Toronto, that the prolocutor should be authorized to communicate to the council, now assembled in Toronto, an assurance of the synod's good will and its continued earnest desire for the restoration of the co-operate reunion of all professing Christians.

Criminally Assaulted His Stepdaughter.

BELLEVILLE, Sept. 23.—George Burns was arrested here yesterday charged with having criminal knowledge of his stepdaughter, Mary Highland, under the age of 14 years, on May 23, 1891. Burns is a woolpicker, and on the day in question, it is alleged, he went into the house and finding no one else about induced his stepdaughter to go into an adjoining room. The mother soon after heard of the assault and ordered her husband to leave the city on pain of arrest, which he accordingly did, going to Toronto. When Burns returned home this week in quest of work he was arrested. The case will be heard next Friday.

Says He Lives in Dufferin-avenue, Toronto.

COMBER, Ont., Sept. 23.—Peter Callander, a young man of about 24 years of age, giving his home as Dufferin-avenue, Toronto, met with a painful accident while jumping off No. 9 C.P.R. express train at Haycroft Station at 9.25 last night. His left hand was badly mangled and he received two scalp wounds. He was brought to Comber and Dr. Anderson amputated his hand above the wrist and dressed his wounds. The unfortunate is a son of a widow woman and is without means. The train was due to stop at Haycroft and he had no cause to jump while the train was in motion.

Daily Examiner.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 23, 1892.

THE Ottawa Free Press very pertinently asks: "What is the use of paying big fees to Mr. Osler, and otherwise wasting public money upon the McGreevy Connolly prosecutions, if members of the federal government have made promises in writing that the cases are never to be brought to trial? The policy of procrastination and duplicity may suit the lawyers employed in the case but it is grossly unfair both to the accused and the public."

HON. C. F. FRASER, Commissioner of Public Works, on Wednesday laid the keystone of the last arch of the main entrance to the new Parliament Buildings in Queen's Park. He was assisted by Mr. Kivas Tully, the Government architect, in the absence of Mr. Waite, the architect for the buildings, there also being present Mr. Wells, the architect's inspector; Mr. Robert Carroll, the contractor, and other officials of the Government.

THE Goderich libel suit has ended in Mr. Mitchell of The Star making an absolute retraction of the libels published in that paper concerning Mr. M. C. Cameron. In consideration of Mr. Mitchell's retraction and apology Judge Street, who stated that he had intended inflicting a term of imprisonment, imposed a merely nominal fine and the costs of the case. Mr. Cameron's leniency in accepting an apology in lieu of a more signal punishment ought, the Globe thinks, to draw from his foes more generous treatment than he has received. Mr. Cameron has been in public life for many years. He has given the country much faithful and useful services. He has friends all over the Dominion, and they will rejoice, not that a newspaper has been put to costs and forced to an apology, but at the withdrawal of the charges laid against Mr. Cameron, and at the failure of his accusers to accomplish his destruction.

Canadian Cheese at the World's Fair.

The experts employed to test the quality of the samples of cheese selected to be sent from Canada, for exhibition at the World's Fair, have decided, that a lot of 29 from eighteen different cheese factories in the district of Bedford, Eastern townships, Quebec, are superior to any shown, and recommend that they be awarded the gold medal. The four judges were, E. Caldwell, one of the best known judges of cheese. John Pedmore is a large operator in cheese for the Edinburgh market and was judge on butter at the Toronto Fair. A. F. MacLaren is a large dealer in cheese and the proprietor of the potted cheese known as "MacLaren's Imperial." He is sole judge of cheese at the Western Fair of Canada. James W. Robertson is the Dominion Dairy Commissioner whose name and reputation are household words all over Canada.

Wheat Demand and Supply.

It is estimated that England this year will require to purchase 155,000,000 bushels of wheat. Canada, it is thought, will have a surplus of 30,000,000 bushels and the United States a surplus of 140,000,000. It seems somewhat astonishing that there should be such a feeling of unfriendliness across the border towards the country which is America's best customer and that the press and politicians should glory in the injury they are able to inflict upon England's industries and consequently upon her power to buy.

The Demand Increases.

Dr. A. P. Cornell, Gravenhurst, Ont., writes: "The demand for Pink Pills continues to increase, and I have yet to hear of a single complaint regarding them." Of all dealers or by mail at 50c. a box or 6 boxes for $2.50. Dr. William's Med. Co., Brockville, Ont., and Schenectady, N. Y., Beware of imitations.

Prince of Wales.

The first Prince of Wales was Edward II, who, having been born at Caernarvon Castle, on 25th April, 1284, was called Caernarvon. Immediately after his birth, his father presented him to the Welsh barons as their future sovereign, and exclaimed "Eich Dyn," literally in English, "This is your man," but signifying, "This is your king."

It is hardly necessary to present Harvard Bronchial Syrup to the people of Canada as the king of cough remedies. Its valuable properties are already well known in every section of our country. All classes of people have used it, and all pronounce it superior to any now on the market.

The effects of Harvard Bronchial Syrup are almost instantaneous. As soon as the first dose is taken, relief is experienced and the cure is rapid. With other remedies the working of a cure is a long and tedious undertaking, and very often results in failure.

We strongly advise every reader of this paper to procure a bottle at once, if there is a case of sore throat, cough, hoarseness or enlargement of the tonsils. In the home an expenditure of 25 cents will do great good.

Inoculation for Cholera.

The British Medical Journal gives an interesting account of successful protective inoculation against cholera by a young English physician who subjected himself to the process. The whole process is one of little difficulty, and involves only slight personal inconvenience, and even fewer feverish symptoms than are frequently experienced after vaccination for small pox.

No person should travel without a box of Ayer's Pills. As a safe and speedy remedy for constipation and all irregularities of the stomach and bowels they have no equal, and being skilfully sugar-coated are pleasant to take, and long retain their virtues.

THE "SUN LIFE"

ASSURANCE CO. OF CANADA.

HEAD OFFICE, - - - - MONTREAL.

The year 1891 has been the Banner Year in the History of the Sun Life.

The Gross Assurances for the year in the Life Department amounted to the enormous total of $5,901,000.00, an amount greatly exceeding that touched by the Company in any previous year, and it is believed no other Canadian Company has ever totaled a like amount in any one year.

THE SURPLUS PROFITS

have increased to even a greater extent than the new business, thus plainly indicating that the unbounded confidence placed in this great Financial Institution by the Canadian public, has not been misplaced.

A Voice From the Canadian Press:

The Black Death!

The Scourge of the East.

Grim Asiatic Cholera is marching with stealthy but steady strides to these Western shores.

The foe is at our doors. Sanitary science with powerful disinfectants, fumigations and rigid quarantine regulations, stands guarding our ports.

But this fall destroyer on pestilential wing seems to float in the very air, and defy all efforts to beat him back. Wherever there lingers impurity and putrefaction he takes up his abode, and the seeds of the pestilence germinate and multiply.

Public sanitary vigilance is imperative. Let the sewers be flushed and every form of impurity be swept away. Let the health of the community be maintained to the highest possible degree. But in addition to all this let every individual be on the alert.

The human body has the most perfect complete system of sewerage, defying the utmost art of man to rival.

A wise Creator has provided means for the eradication of all effete and impure materials from the human body.

Morse's Indian Root Pills is such a perfect combination of the best and most energetic remedies provided by a beneficent Providence for the purpose of cleansing the whole system, "flushing the sewers," rousing up the liver, the kidneys and the whole intestinal tract to their proper functions and at the same time imparting vigor and tone to the whole system, that it is with the utmost confidence that we recommend it to the public as the best preventive of the fearful ravages of that justly dreaded disease, Asiatic Cholera.

Forewarned is Forearmed.

Many of the worst attacks of cholera morbus, cramps, dysentery, colic, etc., come suddenly in the night and speedy and prompt means must be used against them. Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is THE remedy. Keep it on hand for emergencies. It never fails to cure or relieve. dw

Milburn's Aromatic Quinine Wine is distinctly superior to any other as an appetizing tonic and fortifier. dw

Oft in the stilly night,
When Cholera Morbus found me,
"Pain Killer" fixed me right,
Nor wakened those around me.

Most OLD PEOPLE are friends of

and often its very best friends, because for many years they have found it a friend in need. It is the best Family Remedy for Burns, Bruises, Sprains, Rheumatism, Neuralgia and Toothache. To get rid of any such pains before they become aches, use PAIN KILLER.
Buy it right now. Keep it near you.
Use it promptly.

FRAGRANT

To Preserve

The richness, color, and beauty of the hair, the greatest care is necessary, much harm being done by the use of worthless dressings. To be sure of having a first-class article, ask your druggist or perfumer for Ayer's Hair Vigor. It is absolutely superior to any other preparation of the kind. It restores the original color and fullness to hair which has become thin, faded, or gray. It keeps the scalp cool, moist, and free from dandruff. It heals itching humors, prevents baldness, and imparts to a silken texture and lasting fragrance. No toilet can be considered complete without this most popular and elegant of all hair-dressings.

"My hair began turning gray and falling out when I was about 25 years of age. I have lately been using Ayer's Hair Vigor, and it is causing a new growth of hair of the natural color."—R. J. Lowry, Jones Prairie, Texas.

"Over a year ago I had a severe fever, and when I recovered, my hair began to fall out, and what little remained turned gray. I tried various remedies, but without success, till at last I began to Ayer's Hair Vigor, and now my hair is growing rapidly and is restored to its original color."—Mrs. Annie Collins, Dighton, Mass.

USE

"I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for nearly five years, and my hair is moist, glossy, and in an excellent state of preservation. I am forty years old, and have ridden the plains for twenty-five years."—Wm. Henry Ott, alias "Mustang Bill," Newcastle, Wyo.

IS PREPARING FOR FALL BUSINESS

The reading public of the town and county of Peterborough must have noticed from time to time our advertisement in this paper. We do not wish to trouble the public too frequently with astounding advertisements; telling them that at our store, and our store only, is the place to deal. Come to think of it, we never advertise in that style at all. We have always tried to stick to ONE GRAND PRINCIPLE, viz.: TO ADVERTISE EXACTLY WHAT WE INTENDED DOING, AND TO DO EXACTLY WHAT WE ADVERTISED. Having just returned from the wholesale markets, where a purchase of $3,271,56 was effected for CASH, will simply mention here a few of the various classes of goods bought, and leave the purchasing public to judge if we have or have not kept faith with our announcement.

HERE ARE THE PRINCIPAL LINES:

1 Lot of Ladies' Mantles in the latest styles, amounting to $575.00. Of the dozens and dozens of them there are not two alike. No use in quoting prices; not two are the same price. Just come and examine them.

Dress Goods, $875.60. Space does not not permit us saying what we would like to about these goods. Suffice it to say this much: We will give you 12 yards of all-wool Serge, in choice of shades, Trimmings and all for $2.15.

Mantle Cloths, $508.40. The balance of our purchase was made up in many lines of Staple and Fancy Goods. Perhaps you'll smile when we say that we have a Large Table in the Centre of the Floor covered with Lovely Dress and Mantle Buttons, worth 25c, 40 and 50c. per dozen. Come in and help yourself to any of them AT THREE AND ONE-HALF CENTS PER DOZEN.

We have always claimed to keep on hand the most reliable stock Gloves and Hosiery to be had in town. We will just add once more that should any of our Celebrated French Kids burst on first trying on we will replace them with pleasure.

YOURS FAITHFULLY,

J. J. SHEEHY.

Severely Injured.

Yesterday evening Mrs. Finlay, wife of Reeve Finlay, says the Norwood Register met with an accident through an explosion of gunpowder. It appears that she emptied into the stove a cup containing as she supposed coffee. The alleged coffee turned out to be gunpowder and the explosion which followed injured Mrs. Finlay quite severely.

A Set of Harness Stolen.

Some time last night a sneak thief entered Mr. Thos. Bradburn's drive house, on London street, which was not locked, and abstracted therefrom a fine double set of silver mounted harness. There is no clue to the perpetrator of the deed. Mr. Bradburn offers a reward of $25 to the person or persons giving information that will lead to the arrest and conviction of the culprit and the recovery of the stolen property.

Some Fall Fairs.

The following are the dates for some of the annual fairs of the agricultural societies around Peterborough. It would be well to cut the list out and paste it in your hat for future reference.

South Monaghan, at Centreville on October 6th and 7th.

East Peterborough, at Norwood, on October 11th and 12th.

Burleigh and United Townships, at Apsley, on October 5th.

Peterborough Central, at Peterborough, on September 26th, 27th and 28th.

Calcutt's Grand Fall Show, Idyl Wild, Sept. 23rd.

Calcutt's Exhibition, Jubilee Point, Sept. 30th.

Otonabee, at Keene, on October 6th and 7th.

Remember the Promenade Concert.

The members of the 57th battalion band are diligently practising every night for their grand promenade concert to be given by them in the new market hall on Tuesday evening next. Take high class entertainment will be under the vice regal patronage of His Honor, the Lieut. Governor and Lady Kirkpatrick. The musicians will discourse several patriotic and sentimental selections of both Irish and Scotch airs, which will appeal strongly to the human sympathies and native passions. Be sure to attend this event of the season. Admission 25cts.

No Philharmonic Society this Season.

The meeting called last evening to reorganize the Philharmonic Society for the coming season was a decided failure and only one or two members of the society put in an appearance. This is the third ineffectual attempt that has been made to call a meeting to organize the society for the coming season. A prominent member stated today that he was afraid the Philharmonic Society has fallen through with altogether and would not organize at all as several attempts to do so had not materialized. It is regrettable that music lovers in Peterborough have not more enthusiasm and love for the "divine art," than to let such a well known musical institution as this which has cultivated the musical talents of many so successfully and given a number first-class concerts in years past, now become a history.

The Lt.-Governor's Visit.

The reception committee, Mr. T. E. Bradburn, chairman, who have the arrangements in charge for receiving and entertaining Lt.-Governor Kirkpatrick, on his visit to our town on Tuesday next to formally open the Central Exhibition, held their final meeting in the town clerk's office last night to perfect all the arrangements and to attend to several minor matters of detail. In the list of guests who will dine with His Excellency at the market building on Tuesday noon, mention of the Board of Trade was not made yesterday. The guard of honor from the 57th battalion will parade at one o'clock on Tuesday, under the command of Capt. Brennan, together with the band and bugle and drum corps, and escort the Lieut. Governor and party to the grounds. It behooves all of Peterborough's loyal and enterprising citizens to do all in their power in giving the vice-regal and his lady a right royal reception to Peterborough. A liberal amount of bunting should be displayed, while the national emblem should be unfurled from every flag staff in order to extend to His Excellency and party the town of Peterborough's heartiest greetings and most cordial public welcome.

Sporting Sparks.

The baseball game to-morrow afternoon at three o'clock, between the Eilson's and Peterborough's to be one of the most interesting of the series of fine baseball which these two organizations have played this summer. Don't forget to go and witness what will probably be the last game of the season.

The Peterborough Association team drove out to Warsaw this afternoon to play the Warsaw Football Club a game.

The well-known Cuban Giants, an Indian baseball club from New York city, are playing the Princess street nine a game in Kingston to day.

The gun club is having a regular shoot this afternoon. A small knot of the members will leave on Monday for Crow Bay, near Hastings, on a few days hunting expedition. Then look out for the slaughter of the ducks, wholesale, retail and every other way.

The Day of Sports of the Peterborough Collegiate Institute will take place on the P.A.A.A. grounds this afternoon. The entries are numerous, the events interesting, and the competition keen.

The High School football team here says the Norwood Register will play a match with Peterborough on Oct. 1st. The home team will be comprised as follows:—Goal, T. Wigmore; backs, Simpson and Breckenridge; half backs, Andrews, Finlay and Graham; left wing, Rutherford and Hendren; right wing, Callendar and Fraser; centre, Wildman.

The Norwood High School football club have re-organized for the season with these officers:—

PRESIDENT.—J. Davidson, M.A.
FIRST VICE-PRESIDENT.—Mr. Bishop.
SECOND VICE-PRESIDENT.—T. Rutherford.
SECRETARY TREASURER.—D. A. D. Fraser.
CAPTAIN.—R. Simpson.

The secretary will be pleased to arrange matches with any club in Ontario. Last year the club played several matches with the best Association teams of the province and out of seven struggles captured six.

The Rugby Football Club still continues to boom. The boys had a splendid practice last night. They chose sides and played one of the fastest games yet put up this season. To-morrow afternoon at 4 o'clock they will play the Edisons a rousing match. The club has already three matches on now, and all with outside clubs. They will play Upper Canada College senior fifteen here on October 5th. The home team will do battle with Trinity College School at Port Hope on Wednesday, Oct. 6th. The Peterboroughs will also play the Edisons another game a week from Saturday, besides the one mentioned before to be played on the P.A.A.A. grounds to-morrow afternoon.

The Peterboroughs will place the following team in the field to-morrow against the Edisons; P. McCabe, c. Howe, 1b. Lipsett, 2b. Heap, 3b. Burson, s. s. Ray, l. f. Lyle, c. f. Hay, r.f. Anderson. Game will commence at 2 p.m.

A Peculiar Accident.

On Friday last whilst Lewis Robinson was taking his steam thresher across a bridge on Murray's farm, in Huntingdon, one side of the bridge broke down, and the engine went to the bottom, a distance of about 8 feet. Robinson having been standing on that side of the bridge which broke fell backwards into the water, which was about 3 feet deep. In his descent he received a blow upon the head from the fly wheel, which rendered him unconscious for some hours afterwards. It was some few minutes before Robinson could be removed from the water, as the engine held him fast. Showing indications of life when removed, he was taken to Geo. Post's house, and medical aid was sent for. It was found he had received several severe cuts and bruises about the head and body, as well as a deep burn on the back. We are pleased to learn, however, that he is rapidly recovering, and will be able in a week or two to take charge of his thresher.—News Argus.

A New York Cathedral.

Bishop Potter takes no little pride in saying that in the new cathedral to be erected in New York services will be conducted in seven chapels in seven languages at the same time. This will be quite spectacular and worthy of the Empire City, but nowadays it will not impress the imagination as it once did. The Protestant Episcopal Church in America will, however, score a point in getting ahead of other denominations in this matter.

A Peterborough Litterateur.

Mr. T. A. Haultain, of the Public Library, Toronto, has an article in the current issue of Blackwood's Magazine, entitled "Titles and a Digression—or Two." The matter is as ingenious as the caption is quaint. It constitutes an examination of the titles of books, classifying them and commenting in the most delightful manner on their hidden meaning, and whether they are odd, trite, happy, euphonious or otherwise. Mr. Haultain's well known scholarship and book lore are very pleasingly brought to light in this unique paper.

Long and Terrible Illness from Blood Poisoning

Completely Cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Mrs. Mary E. O'Fallon, a very intelligent lady of Piqua, Ohio, was poisoned while assisting physicians at an autopsy 5 years ago, and soon terrible ulcers broke out on her head, arms, tongue and throat. Her hair all came out. She weighed but 78 lbs., and saw no prospect of help. At last she began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla and at once improved; could soon get out of bed and walk. She says: "I became perfectly cured by and am now a well woman. I weigh 128 lbs., eat well and do the work for a large family. My case seems a wonderful recovery and physicians look at me in astonishment, as almost like one raised from the dead."

Dummer.

The Late Mrs. Robt. McConnell.

Yesterday morning there passed away to her rest, after a long illness, Christina Nicoll, wife of Mr. Robt. McConnell of Dummer, in the 42nd year of he age. Deceased was a daughter of Mr. Alex. Nicoll, of Bruce county, Ont., formerly of Dummer, and was married in 1882 to Mr. Robt. McConnell. The family was a large one, for though three children have died, Mrs. McConnel leaves behind her seven of a family. In religion deceased was a devoted Methodist, having for seventeen years been a consistent member of the church at Norwood. She was widely known and highly respected and no doubt her funeral, which takes place to-morrow afternoon at 2 o'clock, will be largely attended. The bereaved husband and family will have the sympathy of a very large circle of friends and acquaintances.—Norwood Register.

A Belmont Bridal.

On Wednesday, of last week, St. Paul's church was the scene of one of those happy events which occasionally occur, when Mr. P. O'Carroll conducted to the altar Miss Jewel, youngest daughter of Mr. R. H. McLaughlin, of Belmont. The bride was accompanied to the altar by Miss Minnie Harding, of Toronto, while Johnnie Daley, of Havelock, served the groom in like capacity. The Rev. Father Conway officiated, pronouncing the solemn words which united the contracting parties. During the offertory of nuptial mass an "Ave Maria" was beautifully rendered by Miss Dunn. After the ceremony the happy couple returned to the bride's home where a sumptuous breakfast awaited them and where her many friends had assembled to wish them future happiness. The wedding presents received were remarkable for their richness and beauty and were strongly indicative of the estimation in which the parties are held.—Norwood Register.

Riding to Save a Life.

A Georgian newspaper gave an account of the heroism of John Potter, a ten year old boy, who rode a horse twelve miles to Macon for the purpose of calling a physician to attend his mother, who was believed to be dying with colic. The doctor could not be found, but a kind druggist gave the boy a bottle of medicine and told him to hurry home. The brave lad rode home, delivered the message, and then fainted from nervous exhaustion. The medicine cured the sick woman, and the boy is well. It is only necessary to say that the precious medicine was PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER, which never fails to cure disorders of the stomach. 25c. old popular price, for New Big Bottle.

The Chemong Regatta.

It Took Place Yesterday—Nicholls Defeated Taylor in the Watched Canoe Race—The Double Canoe Race—A Fine Day for Aquatic Events—Notes on the Sport—A Large Crowd Present.

The Chemong Park Regatta took place yesterday afternoon on Chemong Lake and was witnessed by a large and enthusiastic number of spectators. There could not have been less than five or six hundred people present to witness the aquatic events. A great many boat loads went out from Peterborough, while numerous other sports drove in their own conveyances. The great event of the afternoon was the match of canoe race, distance one mile, between Gardiner Nicholls, of Bobcaygeon, and John Taylor, of Chemong Indian Village. The struggle was for $50 a side and the championship of the county. As announced in yesterday's EXAMINER, Nicholls, after a hard struggle, succeeded in capturing the stakes and the honour, by a distance of half a canoe length or perhaps less. These two contestants who are well known canoeists have been matched in previous struggles some four times and on good authority it has been stated that Nicholls always won by half a canoe length or less at the finishing line. The race of yesterday occurred precisely at 2.15 o'clock. Messrs Frank Adams and W. McIlmoyle were the judges yesterday and Mr. Geo. Cochrane filled satisfactorily the position of referee and starter.

The course was a mile in length with a turn around two buoys, making the route a kind of three cornered one. A rope was strung from the shore near Mr. Henry Deane's cottage to a buoy out several feet in the lake, which gaily supported the Union Jack. This was the starting point and

THE COURSE STRETCHED PAST THE

Chemong Boating Club's house around the two turning buoys (probably 100 yards apart) towards the Eastmore shore and finish opposite the Park. Both Taylor and Nicholls were in prime condition for the battle and trained to a nicety. Both canoeists were satisfied with their own barques and also with each other's canoes. These single canoes according to regulations could not be more than 16 feet in length and 28 inch beam. The water was calm and placid, and its peaceful bosom was only ruffled now and then by a gentle zephyr. The weather was very sultry, however, and when the canoeists finished they were perspiring freely. Both are left handed paddlers, and at the cry of "Go" fell from Referee Cochrane's lips both parties caught the water at once and were off in fine style together, each paddling a clean, powerful and marvellously well executed stroke. For the first quarter they kept well together, and neither appeared to gain any decided advantage. At the end of the first quarter the Indian gradually forged ahead of his opponent, and slowly the daylight between them became more visible, until at the rounding of the first buoy he was a clear length ahead. Taylor turned the first buoy neatly and gained a material advantage over Nicholls who had to swerve his course somewhat and, as it were, back water, but at the second turning point he did much better and retrieved the lead which the Indian had gained on him at the first buoy. Taylor made a poor and unsteady turn and the Bobcaygeonite hugging the second turning buoy closely came inside his opponents course and closed up the gap. On the home stretch both paddled vigorously along side by side until within twenty feet or more of the winning line, when Nicholl's by magnificent work at the paddle shot his canoe ahead and crossed the starting point a victor by some seven or eight feet. Taylor made no effort to spurt at the close and took the result with good grace. The excitement during the event was up to a high pitch and loud cheers rent the air at the finish. No official time was taken. Some state that it was 10 minutes, others 11 minutes, and still more 12. Considerable money changed hands over the event. The amount has been variously estimated at $200 and $300.

THE DOUBLE CANOE RACE.

This event was next on the programme and in double hunting canoes over the same course, distance one mile, for the following rewards:—A silver and gold plaque of racing yacht "Volunteer" to the first and a brass silvery jam holder to the second. Mr. W. B. Kelly was the starter and the judges were Messrs. Alex, Elliott and W. McIlmoyle. There were four entries in this event as follows:—1st John and Geo. Taylor, 2nd Fred Nicholls and W. Taylor, 3rd Coon and W. Nicholls, 4th Ritchie and D. Whetung. The interest in the event was not nearly so keen as in the first. The race was taken by the Taylor brothers by about four or five canoe lengths lead, Nicholls and Taylor who pulled ab well on the home stretch came next, Ritchie and Whetung sailed in a considerable distance behind and the other double dropped out of the race. The Taylors are young boys in their teens and remarkably good paddlers for their age.

A single canoe race took place afterwards and concluded the day's events. There were three entries, Messrs. Coon, Wm. and Stephen Nicholls. The race was quite a procession and evoked very little interest. At the turning buoys S. Nicholls, who took the lead at the outset, was five or six canoe lengths ahead of his opponents and at the finish was a leader by a distance of fully fifty yards. Coon came second and Wm. Nicholls paddled in a long distance behind him.

The canoe interest is by no means decaying, and a well known local sport has offered to put up $100 that he can bring forward an unknown canoeist who can beat any one of the canoeists over the same course, distance one mile, who took part in the canoeing events yesterday. The air is full of talk of canoes and canoeing, and it is said a match has been arranged to take place on Tuesday afternoon next for $25 a side. One benefit of yesterday's events has been for a time at least the reviving of the waning interests of canoeing in Peterborough, the home of the canoe and the canoeing industry.

People who give Hood's Sarsaparilla a fair trial realize its great merit and are glad to say a good word for it. Have you tried it?

"Yes."

"What is death?"

"Death is the sundering of the body and soul. Only a change of abode. By a careful inlaying of our lives, death will not be an atom less to be desired than life. After death comes life again."

"What then is joy?"

"Joy is the ether eliminated from right."

"You mean joy always surrounds what is right?"

"Yes."

"And love?"

"The concentration of all the passions good and evil on one object. Then an entire destruction of all the evil, yet leaving evil's force."

"Then comes hatred?"

"Hatred is love with all the evil left in."

"And what is strife?"

"Strife is the diabolical work of the great Ego."

"It is all, all as we make it. Terry, I am tired, will you take me on the water, or will I go inside?"

"No, do not go in; we will go in the boat."

Shem came to them. He said, "Wait, Terry has not broken fast. I will serve him at once."

"You are always thoughtful of him. Is he not, Terry?"

"Yes, he has won me completely by his thoughtful, well-timed attention to my material wants. Will you eat with us then? Just this once."

"Do Shem. I will get you a seat, and you will sit by me. Dear old Shem."

"Your winning eyes always compel me to do as asked. I will break bread with you this once."

"Shem, do you know what Father Ambrose told me to-day?"

"That Father Time had touched thee on the brow and left a period mark, showing that a sentence of thy life was quite complete."

"I do not know your meaning, Shem."

"Well, then, in simpler phrase. That thou hast a wrinkle in your brow."

"No. He said as many such as you, and Terry, Ishmael and Zenea, lived beyond those rocks, as ants in yonder ant hill That they wrought and fought and hoard just as ants do. How queer! Why did he not tell me long before, Shem, and why did we not go among them?"

"Father Ambrose would have told thee had he wished thee to know."

"Did Zanea know?"

"Yes."

"Why did she stay here, then?"

"To render help to Ishmael."

"Would I have done the same?"

"Thou can'st ask Father Ambrose what thou wishest to know. Thou hast asked me to eat with thee, and then thou givest me not the time to eat. For shame, Zell."

"I will say good night. Terry, I will not see you until the morning. I am tired."

She went to the house, leaving Shem and Terry alone.

"I feel like questioning the wisdom of Father Ambrose in telling Zell about the world. Is it well?"

"Why not? There are none better suited or more capable."

"Have you seen him?"

"Yes, and heard him speak. His words were chosen wisely, and he formed pure thoughts into equally pure sentences. He is remarkably terse and pithy. He, I am sure, has told what is the better for Zell to know. Just how much and what."

"Perhaps."

"I know it."

"I feel, Terry Denver, as if great changes were close. One has been—Father Ambrose has wakened Zell's thirst for knowledge. That thirst is most dangerous in one of her parentage She has been taken beyond Shem. She was all I had. She was to me what woman's first born is to them, 'my babe.' Now she is someone's pupil, someone's lover, and will be someone's wife."

Tears stood in Shem's eyes. He made no effort to conceal them. His grief was so great he was not conscious of them. Tears of such men are not symbols of weakness. They are an involuntary veiling of the eyes, that through them the soul will not be seen.

Sufferers from dyspepsia have only themselves to blame if they fail to test the wonderful curative qualities of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. In purifying the blood, this medicine strengthens every organ of the body, and even the most abused stomach is soon restored to healthy action.

Educational Work.

The work of educating the public to a thorough knowledge of the virtues of Burdock Blood Bitters as a cure for all diseases of the stomach, liver, bowels and blood has been completely successful. The remedy is now known and used in thousands of homes where it always gives great satisfaction. dw

When the kidneys are clogged, good health is an impossibility; but when working properly the reverse is the case. That dull headache is the kidney's cry for relief. If Dodd's Kidney Pills are used the result will be marvellous. We emphatically state that we have never known a case of kidney disease that a persistent use of Dodd's Kidney Pills will not cure.

Timely Wisdom.

Great and timely wisdom is shown by keeping Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry on hand. It has no equal for cholera, cholera morbus, diarrhœa, dysentery, cramps, colic and all summer complaints and looseness of the bowels. dw

"August Flower"

Mrs. Sarah M. Black of Seneca, Mo., during the past two years has been affected with Neuralgia of the Head, Stomach and Womb, and writes: "My food did not seem to strengthen me at all and my appetite was very variable. My face was yellow, my head dull, and I had such pains in my left side. In the morning when I got up I would have a flow of mucus in the mouth, and a bad, bitter taste. Sometimes my breath became short, and I had such queer, tumbling, palpitating sensations around the heart. I ached all day under the shoulder blades, in the left side, and down the back of my limbs. It seemed to be worse in the wet, cold weather of Winter and Spring; and whenever the spells came on, my feet and hands would turn cold, and I could get no sleep at all. I tried everywhere, and got no relief before using August Flower Then the change came. It has done me a wonderful deal of good during the time I have taken it and is working a complete cure." ©

To Cure Quarter-Crack.

Quarter-crack in a horse's hoof can be cured. Have the blacksmith cut a groove in the hoof along the line where the hoof and hair join at the coronet, and from either end of that groove cut another, these two meeting one another at a point on a line of the crack 1½ in. or thereabout from the lower edge of the first groove. So cut the grooves should enclose an equilateral triangle with the upper part of the quarter-crack extending through its middle. The grooves, especially the top one, should be cut almost through the hoof, the idea being to entirely separate the cracked part of the hoof from the coronet so that as the new hoof grows down the crack shall not extend upward and into the new-formed hoof. Where the hoof rests on the shoe the horn should be cut away so as to prevent it bearing on the shoe for about 1 in. on either side of the crack. The hoof prepared in this way the crack should be drawn together and held by means of nails driven across it and clinched, as shown in cut.

Veterinarians sometimes use clamps in place of nails for holding the crack; but unless the veterinarian can see the horse frequently the nails are preferable as the clamps are liable to become loosened and so need tightening, a work for which a special tool is needed. The horse should be shod with a bar shoe unless the rear especial indications to the contrary, in which case the shoe should meet requirements. The horse may be driven during treatment. The time required for growing a new hoof from coronet to shoe varies from nine to twelve months; the ordinary rate of growth of the hoof being about a quarter of an inch per month. The growth may be hastened somewhat by rubbing the region of the coronet with a mild stimulating liniment like the following: Camphorated soap liniment 7 ozs., water of ammonia 1 oz. Spanish fly blisters are used for the same purpose.

The Mission of the Church.

In reply to the questions of a lady visitor the other day the pope said that the "mission of the Church" was to bring all men to the truth. "By persecution or persuasion?" asked the lady. "By persuasion," the Pope answered quickly. "The Church must combat error, but all violence toward persons was contrary to the Divine Will." "But the war of religion?" inquired his visitor. "Those words do not go together." "Then there was the war of races," added the lady. "What races?" inquired his Holiness. They were all descendants of Adam, who was created by God. Although they might differ in appearance and color, according to latitudes, their souls were the same.

Keep the Works in good order.

NORMAN, Ont., January 15, 1890.

W. H. COMSTOCK, Brockville, Ont.

DEAR SIR,—Your "Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills" are the best regulator for the system that humanity can use. Life is as the time-piece: frail and delicate are many of its works. A tiny particle of foreign substance adheres to the smallest wheel in the works, and what is the result?—at first only a slight difference is perceptible in its time-keeping, but wait you; as the obstruction grows, the irregularity becomes greater, until at last, what could have been rectified with little trouble, in the beginning, will now require much care in thoroughly cleansing the entire works. So it is in human life—a slight derangement is neglected, it grows and increases, imperceptibly at first, then rapidly, until what could, in the beginning, have been cured with little trouble, becomes almost fatal. To prevent this, I advise all to purify the system frequently, by the use of Morse's Pills, and so preserve vigor and vitality.

Yours faithfully,
H. F. ATWELL.

Its prompt and liberal settlement of claims has given it a world-wide reputation for generous straightforward dealing, and by its example has done much to do away with contesting of policies.

The New Free Policy of the Standard Life Assurance Company is given without extra charge; allows free residence in any part of the world, and is incontestable and unconditional except on the ground of false statements in the application, and that only during the first two years; after that it is absolutely free. This policy is simply a promise to pay a certain sum at the maturity of the contract, instead of having a number of useless clauses on the back of the policy showing what the insured may not do, and which always gives rise to dissatisfaction and dispute; the STANDARD prints only on the back of the policy a list of special privileges granted to the assured.

DREADFUL RAILWAY DISASTER.

Thirteen Persons Killed and Many Injured.

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 22.—What will undoubtedly prove to be the most disastrous accident that ever occurred in the history of the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne & Chicago Railroad took place yesterday morning at 3 o'clock in what is known as Brown's cut, a mile and a half west of the village of Shreve, Wayne County, Ohio.

Train No. 8, the fast east bound passenger and express train, collided at that point with the first section of freight No. 75, west bound. The passenger train was about one hour late and was running at the rate of 60 miles an hour. It is stated that the engineer and fireman on the freight, while standing on the side track at Shreve, fell asleep and were awakened by hearing a train rushing by. Thinking that it was No. 8, the engineer pulled out on the main track and had just got under way when the trains met. The collision occurred on a sharp curve, in the cut where neither crew was able to see the other train approaching.

The engines came together with such force that the mail car and smoking car of the express were thrown on top of the passenger engine and a freight car filled with printing presses was thrown over the freight engine. Passengers and trainmen who escaped say the accident had hardly taken place before the flames burst forth, and they believe that but two or three persons were killed outright. The others having been pinned down in the cars and slowly roasted to death. Thirteen burned and blackened trunks have been taken from the wreck.

The postal clerks imprisoned in the mail cars had no chance to escape, and they were doubtless all burned to death. All the fatalities occurred in the two locomotives, the postal and smoking car and the day coach. The sleepers did not leave the track and the passengers beyond a shaking escaped injury. As soon as the people of Shreve heard of the wreck they hastened to the scene with all the physicians available. The injured were tenderly cared for and every effort possible was made to rescue those who were perishing in the burning cars. the heat was so intense however, that little could be done.

Evidently Labouchere Intends to Give Trouble.

LONDON, Sept. 22.—Mr. Labouchere continues his political warfare on the Liberals. His paper attacks the proposal that Irish members shall sit in the English Parliament, which it is now generally admitted is one of the features of Gladstone's Home Rule Bill. It says: "It is absurd to legislate in this sense with regard to Ireland, and allow Irishmen to decide British affairs by holding the balance of power between the two parties. It would be a monstrous crime to allow the Irish to be masters of their own local affairs and to remain masters of ours."

Emperor William Visits Hamburg.

LONDON, Sept. 22.—The Berlin correspondent of the News says: It is rumored Emperor William visited Hamburg to see his mother about Princess Margaret's marriage and also to arrange for the fitting up of the palace occupied by the Empress Frederick till her own new castle is completed as a summer resort for his family.

A Pardon for Deacon.

PARIS, Sept. 22.—It is reported that among the pardons signed by President Carnot yesterday in commemoration of the 100th anniversary of the proclamation of the first republic is one giving liberty to Edward Parker Deacon, the American who was sentenced on May 20, at Nice, to one year's imprisonment for shooting and killing the Frenchman, Abeille, whom he caught in Mrs. Deacon's apartments.

THE PAN-PRESBYTERIANS

THE SECOND DAY'S PROCEEDINGS OF THE ALLIANCE.

Men Who Represent Twenty Million People—They Are Not Pigmies But Rather Sons of Anak—Nearly Every One is a D.D.—The Topics Discussed and Never a Jarring Word.

TORONTO, Sept. 23.—The first business day of the great Presbyterian Convention was highly successful. The interest excited by the papers was shown by the crowded audiences; in fact, the Pavilion would have been none too large for the evening session. Scholarship and moderation of tone were the chief characteristics of the papers. The discussions partook more of the character of endorsation than criticism.

It was in accordance with the fitness of things that President Blaikie's close of half a century's ministerial work should be signalized by a graceful tribute. Successful has been his career, not only as an Edinburgh minister, but as an author. His best-known work, "Better Days for Working People," has stimulated young men in all quarters of the world, and many are the friends in Toronto who have both heard the venerable president preach and been edified by his writings.

An Old Yet Ever Fresh Topic.

Nowadays it might be supposed that nothing fresh could be said on the Protestant Reformation. Nothing strikingly original was said on this, the chief topic of discussion, yesterday; but it was astonishing how many-sided were the views expressed. Its spiritual character was ably dealt with by Rev. Prof. Lindsay, an undoubted authority on the subject and the author of a history of the Reformation.

Prof. Bavinck's paper was the one which excited most interest. It was on the national influence of the Reformation. The professor is a Dutchman, and made an unnecessary apology for any shortcomings on the ground that it was the first time he had been in an English-speaking country and the first time he had spoken in public in English. The paper was an admirable essays on Calvinism, which the professor highly eulogized. He did not, however, fail to indicate some of its defects. It was surprising how many of the delegates applauded the foreigner's sentiments.

This applause came from the more elderly of the delegates—more elderly in comparison with the majority of the members of the council, for amongst them are few who are not advanced in years. En passant the Pan-Presbyterians are a finer body of men, as regards dress, physique and probosces, than their Anglican, Methodist or Baptist brethren.

Do We Live Up to Our Principles?

Prof. Leitch was the reader of the next paper on the intellectual results of the Reformation. Of this well-known doctor a few facts are of interest. He is the son of a County Tyrone farmer, a Doctor of Literature in Queen's University, Belfast, and Professor of History in McGee College, Derry. Rev. William Patterson, pastor of Cooke's Church, is a pupil of Dr. Leitch.

The professor's paper was rich in statistics to show the superiority of the education in Protestant over that in Roman Catholic countries. The figures given of the illiteracy in Ireland were a revelation to many. Of course the Presbyterians cheered the announcement that at the general election in 1886 only 1 in 74 were illiterates in Scotland, 1 in 64 in England, but 1 in 5 in Ireland. Candidly the Professor admitted that the Reformers did not live up to their principles. "But," asked he, "after three hundred years do we live up to our Reformation principles?"

Consistency Rather Than Popularity.

Prof. Baird of New York city, in his paper on the civil and religious benefits of the Reformation, traversed much of the ground which the other papers had covered.

Rev. Dr. Van Horne's disquisition on Presbyterianism was admirably fitted for a special number of The Canada Presbyterian or The Presbyterian Review. The Doctor took high ground on the Calvinistic style and maintained that it would be better for the Presbyterians to be least amongst the tribes of Israel than to ascribe unto God one iota less of His attributes. The mission of Presbyterians, he maintained, was to maintain the right of private judgment, freedom of conscience, the New Testament doctrines of the Fall and the Atonement.

Their Rich Heritage.

Rev. Dr. Monro Gibson of London, England, treated of Presbyterian strength and weakness. He waxed humorous about the trickling down of apostolic grace through 19 centuries and the Fathers of the church. Still there is a heritage rich and precious which Presbyterians cherish. Presbyterians had allowed other churches to monopolize some of the best things which belonged to the whole church, such as the Te Deum. "Let us," he said, "seek the guidance of the Spirit, not the spirit of the age. The Reformation and Puritan Fathers had no channels of grace not open to present-day Presbyterians."

Needs Innovation and Renovation.

On the "forward movement" the Doctor spoke vigorously. Many a good movement had been opposed because it was not done in the times of the Apostles. "O, that dreadful word, innovation. How is one barred the way to many great blessings! If the spirit of Christ be in it the more innovation the better. Innovation, yea, and renovation too; for the times of reformation are not over."

All this was loudly applauded, and also the evil of the rich flocking to the best preachers and fine churches and thinking anything good enough for the poor. On the weaknesses of Presbyterianism the Doctor was explicit. There should be a greater voice of the people: there should be more co-operation, and the church should really be the most catholic of any. At present the minister must do everything, even to the saying of "amen," in spite of the Scriptural injunction, "Let all the people say 'amen.'"

Flies In the Pot of Ointment.

Rev. Dr. Van Slyke, New York, dealt with Unsolved Problems, the first of which was that of caste, which he vigorously denounced. Invidious distinctions ought not to exist in the church, nor should there be one for the rich and another for the poor. "The rich and the poor meet together; the Lord is the maker of them all." Money and antecedents held too much sway. The women were the greatest offenders in this respect. The church as a rule cared more for capital than for labor, hence the divorce of so many thousands of laborers from the church. The drink question is another unsolved problem, as to which the Doctor believes in more Christian teaching than in prohibitory legislation.

On similar lines and dealing with unemployed resources was the paper of Rev. Dr. Eschbach.

One of the pleasant incidents of the day was the receipt of a congratulatory telegram from the Prolocutor of the Provincial Synod at Montreal.

THE RECENT RAILWAY DISASTER.

The Fire Entirely Consumed the Bodies of the Victims.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 23.—All trace of the baggage, express and mail matter and even some of the bodies of those killed cannot be found. There is not a remnant of bone to be found of one of the postal clerks, the express messenger or of the two ladies going from Bucyrus to Espyville.

The financial loss by the wreck cannot be estimated. It is reported that in the mail burned there were about $80,000. This is only what was in registered packages. The express matter was all burned, except 36 silver bricks, worth $75,000. Fifty or 60 pieces of baggage were destroyed. Their value is unknown.

A MENACE TO GLADSTONE

RADICAL DISCONTENT EXTENDS TO THE LIBERALS.

It Is Believed That the Greatest Danger Menacing the Gladstone Government Is the Formation of a Strong Radical Cave—Mr. Morley Inclined Towards Reorganization At Dublin Castle and the Release of the Dynamiters.

LONDON, Sept. 24.—The placidity on the surface of political affairs is altogether deceptive as to the real state of the Liberal sections of ministerial position. The greatest danger menacing the existence of the Gladstone government is the formation of a strong Radical cave. Mr. Labouchere's diatribes do not represent fully the Radical discontent or the growth of Radical intentions. One prominent Scotch commoner says: "We are not only discontented at the sacrifice of Radical politics to Ireland, but are disgusted. We shall vote for the second reading of the Home Rule bill, according thus far allegiance to our chief, but we will not suffer our own affairs to be delayed through prolonged discussion of the bill in committee. If the Unionists or the Irish choose to protract the proceedings in committee and the bill is defeated on its crucial clause, Home Rule will be dropped among the commoners adhering to this determination."

It was learned that there concurred in this determination 42 members. The Scotch members of the House of Commons have rarely intervened in bulk against a Liberal Government, and when they do so their action will be final.

Mr. Morley in Ireland.

The Right Hon. John Morley, Chief Secretary for Ireland, is keeping in closest touch with the leaders of the Irish party. He finds the permanent officials of Dublin Castle burdensome, and he distrusts them as they distrust him. If he followed the advice of Messrs. Dillon, O'Brien and others he would dismiss the whole lot. They are notoriously Unionist in their sympathies, and are apt to hamper or prevent every measure he takes in behalf of the Nationalists. Mr. Morley is not adverse to clearing them out, but he is compelled to act through others, thus making official procedure slower and less direct.

The Associated Press has authority to state that though Mr. Morley cannot advise the wholesale release of prisoners convicted under the Coercion Act he is considering every case in itself and is hopeful of overtaking every conviction within a month. He has also decided to release every one of these prisoners unless he is an offender under the common law.

THE KARAKORAM EXPEDITION.

Discovery of a Lake of Snow and a Great Mountain.

LONDON, Sept. 24.—An expedition consisting of Lieut. Charles Granville Bruce of the Indian Staff Corps, son of Lord Aberdare Keatein, an expert Alpine climber, with W. Conway and Arthur McCormack, the artist, has made some interesting discoveries in the unknown regions of Karakoram. The members of the expedition have all had training in the Alps. Lieut. Bruce brought with him a hardy Ghoorka from India.

The expedition reached the Boltoro Glacier in August, and it is believed that it is returning by the way of the Mustakh pass and Yarkand. Before reaching Boltoro the expedition traveled more than 100 miles on solid ice. The explorers made numerous deeply interesting discoveries, including a lake of snow 300 miles square, and a mountain heretofore unknown, 28,000 feet high, and believed to be probably the second highest mountain in the world.

Despair and Death for Both.

PRAGUE, Sept. 24.—One of the officers attached to the garrison at Jung Buntzlau disappeared Sept. 11, and on the same day his fiancee, a young woman of the place, also disappeared. The supposition was that they had eloped. Yesterday, however, both were found dead in a powder magazine that was seldom visited. From letters found near the bodies it was learned that the parents of the young woman were bitterly opposed to the officer's suit. Despairing of ever being able to gain their consent, the couple decided to end their lives. They had gone to the powder magazine, where, with his fiancee's consent, the officer shot and killed her. He then shot himself through the head.

Deacon to Prosecute His Wife.

NICE, Sept. 24.—Edward Parker, Deacon states in an interview since his release that he intends to prosecute his wife on a charge of misconduct with M. Abeille and then to institute a suit for divorce. Should the wife plead that the French courts have no jurisdiction in the divorce proceedings he will remove the case to America and then prosecute it there. He intends returning to the United States and devote himself to his children and to politics.

Secured for the World's Fair.

DUBLIN, Sept. 24.—A report has been current here that Chicago was going to swallow up the historic mansion of Sir Walter Raleigh and to take the celebrated yew tree under which the discoverer and importer of potatoes and tobacco is reported to have smoked the first pipe in Ireland, and now it seems that the rumor is well founded. The ancient residence, which was the property of the late Sir John Pope Hennessy, is to be sold and removed to the World's Fair, the yew trees accompanying it.

The German Yacht Will Not Compete.

BERLIN, Sept. 24.—Mr. Poultney Bigelow has been visiting Emperor William at Potsdam. He told the representative of the Associated Press that the report that the Emperor's yacht Meteor was to be entered in a race for the America's cup was a mistake.

The report was probably due to a remark dropped by the sailing master of the yacht, who said that the Meteor had been greatly improved by the alterations made in her since she competed for the cup, and that the Emperor believed she could win the cup now.

The Duke of Sutherland Dead.

LONDON, Sept. 23.—The Duke of Sutherland died last night of congestion of the lungs at Dunrobin Castle, his residence in Scotland.

Smallpox in New York.

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—Three children in one family were yesterday found by the health inspectors suffering from smallpox. The family lives in a tenement house, which is crowded with people. The children were removed to North Brother Island and the house was fumigated.

NOTES FROM WINNIPEG.

Messrs. Jaffray and Cox to Build a Block in Winnipeg.

WINNIPEG, Man., Sept. 24.—Fred Schultze of this city, serving ten years at Stony Mountain Penitentiary for burglary, escaped this morning and got so good a start that he is no doubt now across the border.

W. A. Proctor, a prominent millionaire of Cincinnati, yesterday invested $30,000 in Calgary real estate. He thinks this Northwest town the best field for investment he has yet found.

Winnipeg capitalists have formed a strong joint stock company with the object of securing the settlement of vacant lands around Winnipeg. The difficulty heretofore has been that holders of this vacant land purchased at boom prices and were not inclined to sell them for settlement at a reduced figure.

Louis Dupuich, a teacher of French here, has mysteriously disappeared, and his friends think he has been lost on the prairie and perished. He started to drive to a farm house 40 miles distant two months ago, and not knowing the way probably lost the trail. His family up to yesterday thought he was still here.

W. G. Bragg of Pullman, Washington, left for Edmonton yesterday to select a large tract of land in that district for settlement purposes. Bragg represents several land companies of Pullman and neighboring towns, whose object is to place farmers on lands which they have acquired by purchase. There has been a large emigration from that portion of Washington to this country this year, and all who have settled here are so well pleased with their prospects that in all probability there will be much greater influx of settlers in the near future from the same quarter.

James Metcalf, M.P. for Kingston, and wife arrived here to-day and will spend some time in Winnipeg.

Robert Jaffray and George A. Cox of Toronto, two Ontario millionaires who are interested in Winnipeg property, arrived yesterday. They propose erecting a handsome block here.

Major-General Herbert arrived here to-day from the Pacific coast and goes south to-morrow.

BUSINESS JUST BOOMING.

The Cholera Scare Has Had No Effect on Trade in New York.

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—Dun, Wiman & Co.'s weekly review of trade to-day will say the alarm about cholera has vanished, and trade in every direction shows all the improvement that was expected. The volume of business continues larger than a year ago, although unprecedented crops then made it much greater than in any previous year. The unavoidable conclusion is that in the distribution of manufactured products the increase this year has been extraordinary. Collections are exceptionally good on the whole, and although money is inactive and in increasing demand at nearly all points, the supply is ample for all legitimate demands.

Business failures during the past seven days number for the United States 188 and for Canada 23, or a total of 211, as compared with the totals of 182 last week and 179 the week previous to the last. For the corresponding week of last year the figures were 244, representing 210 failures in the United States and 34 in Canada.

MURDER AT THE SOO.

An American Soldier Robbed and Thrown Into the River.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., Sept. 24.—Mike Sullivan, a private in company C, located at Fort Mackinac, obtained a furlough about a week ago and came here to spend his holidays. The last seen of him was Monday night, when he went into the Chippewa House and was known to have in his possession a large roll of bills. His body was picked up in the river this morning by the tug Dowling, when it was ascertained he had been dealt a heavy blow across the bridge of the nose and shot through the eye. There being no money found on him it is clear he was murdered for his money and thrown into the river.

The Lad Must Be Returned.

OTTAWA, Sept. 24.—The Minister of Justice has ordered the return of a lad named Gale to his parents in Madrid, N.Y. Gale committed an assault upon a girl in Cornwall some months ago and escaped to his home across the border, from where he was enticed away by a detective and brought back to Canada, where he was tried, convicted and sentenced to a term in the Reformatory. Against the abduction of Gale the authorities at Washington remonstrated, and the Governor-General has issued an order for his release and safe return to his parents in New York State.

Break Down at the Carnegie Mills.

HOMESTEAD, Sept. 24.—H. C. Frick would not discuss yesterday the tour of inspection he made of the Homestead mills yesterday. It is known, however, that he found the 23-inch mill not running owing to its bad condition, the big 119-inch mill entirely idle owing to costly breakages of both shears and rolls and the new beam mill, as well as one of the open hearth mills, doing very little. It was currently stated last night that Julian Kennedy of the Apollo iron works will very soon succeed Superintendent Potter, whose conduct during the labor troubles, it is rumored, has not pleased the Carnegie firm.

Fox's Assailant Fined.

GODERICH, Ont., Sept. 20.—Constable Thomas Gundry, who assaulted Fox, one of the witnesses in the Cameron v. Maclean libel case, was arraigned yesterday before Mayor Butler on a charge of aggravated assault. He offered to plead guilty to common assault. The information was amended accordingly and the Mayor, after reading him a severe lecture, fined him $5 and costs or 30 days' imprisonment in the county jail.

A Toronto Minister Called.

HAMILTON, Sept. 24.—At a meeting of the quarterly board of Wesley Church last night it was unanimously decided to invite Rev. John Philp, M.A., of the Broadway Tabernacle, Toronto, as Rev. Dr. Sutherland's successor. Rev. Dr. Sutherland has received an invitation to Toronto.

Rev. Mr. Philp is known to the Wesley Church congregation, being pastor there nine years ago.

Northwestern Threshers Strike.

ST. PAUL, Sept. 24.—A Pioneer Press special from Aberdeen, S.D., says threshing hands in that vicinity are on strike for higher wages. They have been paid $2.25 a day. The strike is extending rapidly, and may involve the whole of Brown and adjoining counties.

NEW YORK FREE FROM CHOLERA.

No New Cases Reported Yesterday—The Berlin Outbreak.

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—The Board of Health Bulletin, issued at 4 yesterday afternoon, reports no new cases of cholera.

The bacteriologists report that the suspected case of H. Waschelk of 11 Second-street is not Asiatic cholera.

Suspected Cases in Berlin.

BERLIN, Sept. 24.—One case of Asiatic cholera was reported yesterday; six suspected cases were also reported. The North German Gazette calls upon the citizens of Berlin to redouble their vigilance.

A Woman's Courage.

LONDON, Sept. 24.—Mr. Zerlind, a London merchant, writing from Persia regarding the cholera epidemic, says: "The conduct of Miss Bradford, the American lady who came to Tauris for the American missions, stands forth in such striking relief as to be worthy of note. In the face of the general panic, when everybody was deserting the cholera-stricken town, she worked with calm, unremitting attention under great difficulties, nursing cholera patients and encouraging others under the awful circumstances of the battle with the epidemic. I do not think it an exaggeration to state that hundreds of persons owe their lives to the courage and devotion of this heroic woman."

More Prevalent in New Houses.

HAMBURG, Sept. 24.—Many experienced people in Hamburg believe that the water is not the only or even the principal cause of the epidemic. In many parts of the city where the same water is consumed not a single case of cholera has occurred and in several streets only one house has been infected. It is also noticed that the disease has appeared oftener in new houses than in old. The disease is now raging worst in Hammerbrook, a newly-built suburb of Hamburg. This suburb is built on muddy ground which was recovered by dredging. The building regulations of Hamburg are very deficient and the working classes are very neglectful of precautions.

Disappearing From Cracow.

CRACOW, Sept. 24.—Four cholera patients in the Lazarus hospital are rapidly recovering. The garrison here has a clean bill of health. The schools are open. The water supplied to the pupils is first boiled and then a small quantity of muriatic acid is mixed with it.

Not Cholera Cases.

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—The bacteriologists of the Health Department reported yesterday the result of their examination in the cases of the Chinaman who died at 14 Mott-street, and Mary Murphy, who is in the reception hospital. They found that the Chinaman did not die of Asiatic cholera and that the woman is not suffering from that disease.

American Tourists Homeward Bound.

LONDON, Sept. 24.—Practically all the berth room on every steamer scheduled to sail for America up to the middle of October is taken. The number of Americans in London is increasing. All are anxious to get thus far on their homeward journey in order to prevent any detention on the continent because of the cholera. Among those who arrived in London this week are Mr. Jackson, secretary of the American legation at Berlin, and his wife, who will return to Germany to-morrow.

The Hon. Mr. White, the United States minister to Russia, is still in London. He will go to Paris to-morrow, and thence he will proceed by leisurely stages to St. Petersburg, reaching his post at the end of October.

THE MURDER OF DR. CRONIN.

Martin Bourk, the Convict, Said to be Ready to Confess.

CHICAGO, Sept. 24.—New and interesting developments are expected in the Cronin case. The rumors of a confession which were so prevalent when O'Sullivan was on his deathbed have been revived by the news that Martin Bourk is very sick in the Joliet penitentiary. It is intimated that Bourk may expose the whole plot and that his attorneys are endeavoring to induce him to remain silent. On the other hand, the friends of the murdered man are urging the dying convict to clear the mystery that surrounds Cronin's death and enable the ringleaders in that dark plot to be brought to justice. Patrick McGarry and James Boland, who have ever since the discovery of the crime spent time and money to bring to light the real murderers, called upon Bourk in the prison infirmary yesterday. Their visit was not unprofitable, and although neither will give the details of the conversation, it is plain that they consider the end of their labor is not far off. Bourk has weakened, but whether he will tell all he knows is another question.

"We are nearer our goal than we have ever been since the death of Dr. Cronin," said Patrick McGarry to a reporter this morning.

He added: "My conversation with Bourk yesterday was confidential, and I cannot at present give the details. In a little while everything will be ready and we will have something to tell the public. New facts in the case were discovered, and we expect soon to lay the whole plot bare. Bourk has given us valuable information. We are after real criminals, not their poor dupes, who are dying in the penitentiary. I cannot now state the nature of our talk, but its effects may soon be seen. This matter is not going to be dropped until the whole history of it is discovered.

Russia and the Sealers.

VICTORIA, B.C., Sept. 24.—When Capt. Copp and the sealers' crews, which had been made prisoners by the Russians, left Petropanloosky there were three Russian cruisers there, the Admiral's ship, the Zabiaka and one other. The two former were to sail the following day for Vladivostock and the Russians seemed to have given up the idea of seizing any more schooners.

All the schooners seized had been repainted and rechristened so as to be offered for sale.

Neither the Cox nor the Enterprise had been seized at that time, so that the report about this was evidently incorrect.

Aged 117.

TYRONE, Pa., Sept. 23.—Mrs. George Yellette has received word of the death at Patton township, Centre county, of her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Stanton, at the age of 117 years. Mrs. Stanton was a direct descendant of American-Indian stock, and the feats of strength and endurance performed by her in her old age are famous. She was the oldest woman in Pennsylvania, having been born at Big Chickies, Lancaster county, in 1775.

Addresses to Constituents.

Mr. J. R Stratton, the Member for West Peterborough, has adopted a custom of regularly addressing his constituents on the legislative work of the past session. It is an excellent plan and one that should be adopted by all members, as it gives the people a comprehensive knowledge of the laws, that may not otherwise be obtained These meetings should also give the people an opportunity of expressing their views regarding contemplated laws, or laws they may propose as being desirable. In this way the member would keep in touch with popular thought, and place himself in a better position for intelligently representing that thought. Mr. Stratton proposes holding a meeting at Ventress' School House, North Harvey, on Tuesday evening, Oct. 4th.

Ennismore.

(From Our Own Correspondent).

Mr. W. B. Kelly is busily engaged in repairing the Mud Lake bridge. He is replanking the floating structure in several places.

Mr. Nathaniel Carew was out driving on Sunday, the 18th inst., behind his blood horse, "Hambletonian," and while driving at a brisk trot, his horse shied, throwing its driver out. Mr. Carew managed to hold on to the reins and although considerabley bruised, succeeded in bringing the animal to a standstill before further damage was done.

Chorea, or St. Vitus's Dance.

This distressing disease is usually found in children between the ages of five and fifteen years, and is characterized by strange movements and twitchings of the limbs and muscles.

The sufferer is generally troubled with constipation, oppression of the stomach, headache, palpitation of the heart and extreme irritability.

Unless parents attend to this distressing and serious trouble at an early stage, the results in after life are often fatal. Chorea is a nerve disease and requires a nerve food such as Paine's Celery Compound in order that the great nerve system may be strengthened and fortified.

The proprietors of Paine's Celery Compound have in their possession numerous testimonials from various sections of Canada proving the magnificent work of the great remedy in the cure of Chorea, or St. Vitus' Dance.

Parents gratefully acknowledge that Paine's Celery Compound worked cures for their children after all the physicians had failed.

Tale should prove encouraging to every parent whose child is afflicted with the terrible disease. Parents may rest assured that Celery Compound cures in every case. Parents who are pursuing other modes of cure for their children are losing time and money, and placing the lives of the little ones in jeopardy.

"Kindness Makes Friends."

The conference now proposed by Newfoundland is to settle trade affairs, not apparently to take up the question of confederation. That Newfoundland should now be anxious for a settlement is probably due to the friendly feeling entertained for Canadians by the people of the island, and it is to be hope that this feeling will soon find its best expression in the union of Newfoundland and the Dominion.

A Queer State of Affairs.

Omemee council met on Tuesday evening for the purpose of opening tenders for lighting the street lamps and repairing the lock-up. Dupell & McMaster were awarded the contract for the lock-up at $210, work to be finished by November 1st, in plenty of time for the winter crop of tramps. Nobody seems to want the job of lighting the street lamps, as no tenders were received.

The Demand Increases.

Dr. A. P. Cornell, Gravenhurst, Ont., writes: "The demand for Pink Pills continues to increase, and I have yet to hear of a single complaint regarding them." Of all dealers or by mail at 50c. a box or 6 boxes for $2.50. Dr. William's Med. Co., Brockville, Ont., and Schenectady, N. Y., Beware of imitations.

What Is It?

Some mothers ask the question, "What is Lactated Food?"

We answer, "Lactated Food is a pure, healthy and life-giving preparation for infants, children and invalids.

"Lactated Food is cooked food; it is also predigested; it contains no unchanged starch; it is not sweetened by cane sugar, and therefore cannot produce irritation of the stomach or bowels.

"Lactated Food contains more nutritive properties than any other food ever given to the world. It produces growth, health and happiness, and prevents diarrhœa and dysentery.

"Lactated Food is baby's best friend; and in the past has saved thousands of babies' lives."

A Paying Affair.

The directors of the Toronto Industrial exhibition are elated over the success of their efforts inriching their coffers to the extent of more than $4000 over the receipts of last year. They will now study what new attractions to present next year in order to draw the people to Toronto. The total receipts of the exhibition amounted to $71,709. The merchants of the big city reap a great harvest while the show is in progress.

A FIELD DAY OF SPORTS.

The Collegiate Institute Hold their First Annual Sports.

There were some Twenty Events in all and each Hotly Contested—The Merchants Donated Prizes Liberally for the Events—Many Entries and Close Finishes—The Day of Sports an Established Institution.

The students of the Peterborough Collegiate Institute enjoyed a half holiday yesterday, and for what? It was an auspicious occasion with them, for it was the inauguration of the Collegiate Institute's annual "Day of Sports," and needless to say it was an unqualified success in every particular—in points of attendance, hotly contested events, numerous entries, and valuable prizes. The entries yesterday began sharply at two o'clock, and about three hundred friends of the institute and parents of the pupils were on hand to witness the events in the programme presented, and all proved worth seeing.

Mr. W. J. Drope was timekeeper, and the judges were: Dr. Geo. Burnham, Principal C. Fessenden, B. A., M. O'Brien and J. A. Pitz, B.A. Those who filled the position of starters were: F. Heap, M. A., J. Jeffries, B. A., and Geo. Boucher.

Mr. Harry Orde, a clever young student of the institute was successful in carrying off most of the honours in all the events he contested, and besides he has the crowning distinction of holding the position of champion all-round athlete of the Peterborough Collegiate Institute which is no small glory in itself considering the large number of entries in all the events of yesterday. The championship was decided in this wise, three points to the winner in each event, two to the second and one to the third. Mr. Orde made nineteen points in all any Mr. H. Burnham came a worthy second with sixteen. The Canvassing Committee and the teachers and pupils of the institute generally desire to tender their sincere thanks to the merchants for the liberal manner in which, although asked frequently during the past summer to contribute prizes to many other events, they gave many valuable and handsome presents on this occasion. The kindness of business men and others who contributed prizes will always be thankfully remembered by the boys and they will be reckoned as among the warmest friends of Peterborough Collegiate Institute and the hearty supporters of sport and athletic exercises.

The committee who had charge of all the arrangements and to whose unselfish interest and self denying efforts the sports of yesterday owe their great success, were Messrs. W. J. Drope, (secretary,) F. Heap, Chas. Halliday, E Grubbe, L. King, G. Rogers, H. Burnham and L. McWilliams. Owing to this happy augury "the day of sports" will henceforth be recognized as an annual affair in the history of the Collegiate Institute.

Following is a complete list of the sports and winners, which all should read:—

1st. 100 yards race, open to boys under 15—1st Comb and brush presented by Ormond & Walsh; 2nd, silk tie by J. Armstrong & Co. twelve entries—1st, B. Simpson, 2nd M. Kennedy; 3rd A Scott. Time 12 4/5 seconds.

7 h. Running high jump, open—1st, napkin ring by MacFarlane Wilson; 2nd, goods valued at $1 00, W H. Wrighton, four entries—1st, H Orde, 4ft. 4½ in.; 2nd, T. Burnham, 4 ft. 3½ in.; 3 d, H. Stewart, 4 ft. 1½ in.

8th. Kicking the football, open—1st, travelling dressing case by Taylor & McDonald; 2nd, pair of rubbers, by J. Stevens; five entries—1st, T. Burnham, 124 ft. 10 in.; 2nd, H. Burnham, 120 ft. 2 in; 3 d, S. G. Cowan.

9 h. Hop, step and jump, boys under 15—1st, pair cuff buttons by Hall, Innes & Co., 2nd pocket by W. J. Grose. Six entries, 1st P. McFadden, 31 feet 5 inch, 2nd B. Simpson, 31 feet 4 inches, 3rd A. Anderson, 29 feet 8 inches. The event was a keen struggle between McFadden and Simpson, they having to jump five times before the judges were able to decide their respective places.

10th. 220 yards race, boys 15 and over. —1st stationery cabinet, by H. Thompson & Co., 2nd pocket book, by H. Thompson & Co. Six entries. 1st H. Orde, 2nd H. Burnham, 3rd R. Kearns, time 25 3-5 seconds. This was a "rattling good" run and was anybody's race until the tape was crossed.

11th. Putting 16 lb shot—1st silk handkerchief, by A. Mercer & Co., 2nd knife, by Fortye & Phelan. 1st H. Orde, 26 feet. 2nd H. Burnham, 25 feet 3 inch, 3rd T. Burnham, 22 feet 7 inches.

12th. Running Long Jump, boys under 15 —1st baseball, by Benj. Shortly. 2nd pair of lacrosse shoes by M. E. Kidd, Five entries —1st B. Simpson, 13 ft. 3 in.; 2nd P. McFadden, 12 ft. 9 in.; 3rd B. Bellegham, 12 ft. 3 in. B. Bellegham jumped well considering his youth and small stature.

13th. Running Long Jump, boys 15 and over—1st pair of kids by H. LeBrun & Co., 2nd jackknife by McKee & Davidson, six entries—1st W. Craig, 15 ft. 11 in.; 2nd C. Craig, 15 ft. 8½in.; 3rd H. Stewart, 15 ft. 1½in. This was a tussle between the Craig brothers for first place, but in the end the elder won by a good jump.

14th. Quarter Mile Race—1st scarf pin by Clark & Gibson, 2nd pair lacrosse shoes by Foot & McWhinnie, eight entries — 1st R. Kearns. 2nd H. Burnham, 3rd R. Davidson. Time, 65 seconds. Kearns deserves mention in this race. He was away in the rear, but spurted and went by his competitors in the last few rounds like the wind, winning by a foot.

15th event. Running hop, step and jump, boys 15 and over—1st, brush and mirror by W. R. Greatrex; 2nd, table ball by Adam Hall, five entries—1st, H. Burnham, 35 ft. 7 inches; 2nd C. Craig, 35 ft. 6 inches; 3rd H. Stewart 34 ft. 2¾ inches.

16 h. Ex-pupil's race, 100 yards distance —1st, bat by Gough Bros.; 2nd, silk handkerchief by T. Kelly, two entries only. The race was close and exciting between George Belcher and David Rogers. The former won by a foot. Time could not be taken, as the contestants ran too fast.

17th. Boot race, open—1st, brush and comb by T. W. Robinson; 2nd, cut glass inkstand, Dr. Burnham, fifteen entries—1st, M. Green; 2nd, J. Reazel; 3rd, S. McDonald.

This was the funniest race of the lot. It was worth a good deal to see the entrants run to the heap of boots and disentangle their respective pairs from the strange conglomerative mass in which they lay owing to the interweaving of the laces, and then return to the starting point.

18th. Half mile race—1st medal by W. A. Sanderson, 2nd screen, by R. Fair. Eight entries. This was the best race of the day and was taken by Harry Orde in 2 27. H. Burnham 2nd and R. Kearns 3rd. J. Picard led until the last round by a long distance but Orde who was the last man until the final round spurted and won after a hard brush.

19th. Tug of War—No prize, between teams selected from the II and III forms. Won after a hard pull by the III Form.

This concluded the days events, stamped indelibly upon the minds of all present for their brilliant success in every way.

GENTLEMEN,—Cooper's Lightning Corn Cure was recommended to me and I tried it. Its effect was magical. Corn was painlessly and completely removed after a few applications. Cheerfully endorse its use. It proved the most perfect remedy I ever used.

Preferential Trade.

Preferential trade properly consists in giving the preference to Burdock Blood Bitters when seeking for a cure for constipation, dyspepsia, headache, biliousness, jaundice, scrofula, poisonous humors, bad blood, rheumatism or kidney complaints. It is the true cure and has cured cases which had resisted all other treatment. dw

They make one feel as though life was worth living. Take one of Carter's Little Liver Pills after eating. It will relieve dyspepsia, aid digestion, give tone and vigor to the system. dw

Milburn's Aromatic Quinine Wine is distinctly superior to any other as an appetizing tonic and fortifier. dw

THE FACT

That AYER'S Sarsaparilla CURES OTHERS of Scrofulous Diseases, Eruptions, Boils, Eczema, Liver and Kidney Diseases, Dyspepsia, Rheumatism, and Catarrh should be convincing that the same course of treatment WILL CURE YOU. All that has been said of the wonderful cures effected by the use of

during the past fifty years, truthfully applies to-day. It is, in every sense, The Superior Medicine. Its curative properties, strength, effect, and flavor are always the same; and for whatever blood diseases AYER'S Sarsaparilla is taken, they yield to this treatment. When you ask for

don't be induced to purchase any of the worthless substitutes, which are mostly mixtures of the cheapest ingredients, contain no sarsaparilla, have no uniform standard of appearance, flavor, or effect, are blood-purifiers in name only, and are offered to you because there is more profit in selling them. IS PREPARING FOR FALL BUSINESS

The reading public of the town and county of Peterborough must have noticed from time to time our advertisement in this paper. We do not wish to trouble the public too frequently with astounding advertisements; telling them that at our store, and our store only, is the place to deal. Come to think of it, we never advertise in that style at all. We have always tried to stick to ONE GRAND PRINCIPLE, viz.: TO ADVERTISE EXACTLY WHAT WE INTENDED DOING, AND TO DO EXACTLY WHAT WE ADVERTISED. Having just returned from the wholesale markets, where a purchase of $3,271,56 was effected for CASH, will simply mention here a few of the various classes of goods bought, and leave the purchasing public to judge if we have or have not kept faith with our announcement.

HERE ARE THE PRINCIPAL LINES:

1 Lot of Ladies' Mantles in the latest styles, amounting to $575.co. Of the dozens and dozens of them there are not two alike. No use in quoting prices; not two are the same price. Just come and examine them.

Dress Goods, $875.60. Space does not not permit us saying what we would like to about these goods. Suffice it to say this much: We will give you 12 yards of all-wool Serge, in choice of shades, Trimmings and all for $2.15.

Mantle Cloths, $508.40. The balance of our purchase was made up in many lines of Staple and Fancy Goods. Perhaps you'll smile when we say that we have a Large Table in the Centre of the Floor covered with Lovely Dress and Mantle Buttons, worth 25c, 40 and 50c. per dozen. Come in and help yourself to any of them AT THREE AND ONE-HALF CENTS PER DOZEN.

We have always claimed to keep on hand the most reliable stock Gloves and Hosiery to be had in town. We will just add once more that should any of our Celebrated French Kids burst on first trying on we will replace them with pleasure.

YOURS FAITHFULLY,
J. J. SHEEHY.

A Serious Accident.

On Thursday of last week Maggie, the youngest daughter of Mr. Thomas Webber, the Lakefield News says, met with a serious accident. It appears the little girl was walking across the floor and slipped on a small pool of water and fell, breaking her leg near the thigh. The little sufferer is getting on very well.

Harness Thieves About.

Many complaints have been made to the police of late of several sets of harness being stolen from residents both in Peterborough and Ashburnham. It appears as if some ones in the community are making a particular practice of stealing harness. Any information regarding the loss of harness or in reference to dealers in second-hand harness will be thankfully received by the Chief of Police.

Wedding Last Night.

Last evening a very pleasant time was spent by a large number at 108 Stewart street, the occasion being the marriage of Mrs. Ellen Jackson, widow, to Mr. Alexander Miller, widower. The interesting ceremony was performed by the Rev. A. MacWilliams, B.A., of St. Andrew's church. Mr. Ezra Goode and Miss Agnes Wills acted the part of groomsman and bridesmaid. After the ceremony about twenty couple sat down to a very elaborate supper. The happy couple go for a short tour and returning will occupy the present home of the bride.

An Ashburnham Boy is Wedded.

A happy event transpired at the St. Andrew's church manse, Toronto, at 2 30 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon last, when Mr. Harry Neil, manager of Mr. H. Calcutt's large brewery, was united in the holy bonds of wedlock to Mrs. M. Quirk, daughter of Mr. John Scott, of Galt. Rev. D. J. Macdonell, pastor of St. Andrew's church performed the solemn wedding ceremony, none but the contracting parties being present. The presents were rich and valuable, many being sent by friends of the happy couple from Montreal, Galt, Belleville, Buffalo, Toronto and Peterborough, all testifying to the esteem in which the newly wedded pair was held. Mr. H. Calcutt, the groom's employer, also presented him with a fine souvenir of the happy occasion. Mr. and Mrs. Neil have taken up their residence on Lake street, Ashburnham, where their many friends will wish them a long life of connubial bliss.

A Cavalry Escort for the Governor.

Col. H. C. Rogers, commander of "C" Troop of the Third Cavalry Prince of Wales' Dragoons, and officers have kindly consented to provide a cavalry escort from the troop on Tuesday next to receive His Excellency the Lieut.-Governor; a kindness which is heartily appreciated by the reception committee and the citizens in general.

Lindsay Opera House.

Mr. Richard Sheehy, the contractor for the stone and brick work of the Lindsay opera house, has completed his contract on the building, which is three stories in height and required 300,000 brick. Mr. Sheehy performed the work under his contract in the most satisfactory manner—a decided credit to Peterborough work.

Calcutt's Agricultural Show.

Mr. H. Calcutt's annual agricultural show took place yesterday at Idyl Wild and was a great success. The number of entries were large, while the attendance and day were all that could be desired. Another of Mr. Calcutt's popular agricultural fairs occurs at Jubilee Point on Sept. 30th. A full report of the Idyl Wild Exhibition of yesterday will appear in the EXAMINER on Monday.

The Band Concert.

Sergeant-Major Rundle's class of school girls has kindly consented to give, under his direction, exhibitions of club swinging, wand exercise and hoop drill at the band concert in the Market hall on Tuesday evening next. The girls will be brightly and uniformly attired, and their contributions, together with the splendid music furnished by the band, will make the concert well worth attending.

Serenading a New Benedict.

Mr. Harry Neil and wife returned from Galt a few days ago, and last night the Fire Brigade Band, of which he is still a popular member, serenaded him at his residence, Lake street, Ashburnham, and played several popular selections. Mr. and Mrs. Neil entertained the band in a very handsome manner. There are now seventeen benedicts in the band, of whom two have been added within the past fortnight. And still there are more to come.

An Explanation.

An apparent injustice was done to Mrs. Ensign, corset manufacturer, in the report of a wages case that came before the police court as a matter of routine, which had previously been settled out of court. A girl who had left Mrs. Ensign's employ several days longer than she had permission to do was not taken back, and as a consequence made a claim of $18 for back wages. Mrs. Ensign claimed that she only owed the girl $9, which she offered to pay. This was refused, and rather than go into court, Mrs. Ensign paid $12 in full settlement of the claim and took a receipt in full. This, she thought, ended her connection with the matter, and she was greatly surprised when, as a matter of form, she was required to be present at the police court. She never refused to pay the girl what was due, even paying a part of an exorbitant claim over what was actually due.

Harry Lindley.

Peterborough play-goers will rejoice in the fact that the old time but evergreen favorite returns amongst us for three nights, commencing Monday, Sept. 26. At Belleville he obtained an ovation and the business was remarkable. During the past three years he has been sojourning in the Southern States, and boasts that in Richmond, Va., he drew the most cultured audiences, whilst in one evening six hundred negros bore testimony to his skill as a delineator of the southern colored man. The company last season played every city in Virginia, Tennessee, North and South Carolina, Maryland, Delaware, and last, not least, played "The Castaway's" to the banner week at Forepaugh's Theatre, Philadelphia. Their opening card is the most realistic nautical drama ever put upon any stage, entitled "The Castaways," from Mr. Lindley's own pen. Every one should see it. The prices are 25c, 35c and 50c. 1d

Worst Case of Scrofula the Doctors Ever Saw

Completely Cured by HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA.

"When I was 4 or 5 years old I had a scrofulous sore on the middle finger of my left hand, which got so bad that the doctors cut the finger off, and later took off more than half my hand. Then the sore broke out on my arm, came out on my neck and face on both sides, nearly destroying the sight of one eye, also on my right arm. Doctors said it was the

they ever saw. It was simply awful! Five years ago I began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. Gradually I found that the sores were beginning to heal. I kept on till I had taken ten bottles, ten dollars! Just think of what a return I got for that investment! A thousand per cent? Yes, many thousand. For the past 4 years I have had no sores. I

Warsaw Defeat Peterborough at Football.

The Peterborough Football Team drove out to Warsaw yesterday afternoon to play the club of the latter place a lively game. The match began at three o'clock with the following teams in the field :—

PETERBOROUGH.		WARSAW
Thorn	goal	Doughty
Goldsmith	backs	Morgan
G Hay		Edwards
Millar	halves	Forsyth
Clarke		Cornes
Pritchard		Reid
D McCabe	centre	Hamlin
J Bagley	right wing	H Kidd
Fisher		O Kidd
Lee		James

Mr. James, referee.

The grounds on which the game was played were very rough—a veritable pasture field, full of mounds, lumps and hollows. After five minutes play the Warsaws scored by a clever side kick made by Forsyth, who was playing on the left wing. The first half was played out evenly, neither side securing further advantage, although the play was sharp and desperately fought. In the second half neither side scored, although many shots were made by both sides on their opponents' goals, and the contest ended by a score of 1 goal to 0 in Warsaw's favor. The backs of Warsaw put up a good defence game, but their forwards were somewhat weak. The Peterboroegh all played well, and had the grounds been at all favourable would have won. The home team practice every evening on the P.A.A.A. grounds between 6 and 7 o'clock. They will play Norwood high school here next Tuesday afternoon.

ANTI-HOME RULE RALLY.

Large and Enthusiastic Meeting in the Opera House.

Addresses by Mr. C. W. Sawers the Chairman and Rev. Joseph Coburn of Belfast, Ireland—He Deals Exhaustively With the Subject—"An Open Bible and Free Gospel will make Ireland Happy and Prosperous

A large audience, filling every accessible part of the building, assembled in Bradburn's opera house last evening, the meeting being called under the auspices of the Anti-Home Rulers of Peterborough, the announcements promising speeches by the Rev. James Coburn, of Belfast, Ireland; C. W. Sawers, secretary County Orange Lodge, Peterborough; D'Alton McCarthy, Q.C., M.P.; N. Clarke Wallace, M.P., and others. Mr. John Carnegie, ex M.P., occupied the chair, and on the platform were Rev. Joseph Coburn, C. W. Sawers, Joseph Sproule, Robert Weir, J. A. Davidson and Mr. Rye.

The chairman said the meeting had been called to discuss the Anti-Home Rule aspect of the Irish question. Canadians had a right to discuss questions affecting any portion of the Empire, which was emphasized by the present state of that question. Mr. Blake had been introduced into the Imperial Parliament to land Home Rule in Canada, which the speaker believed was 'Rome Rule.' (Applause.) Quebec was the most Rome Rule portion of the world. He introduced Mr. C. W. Sawers who after a few introductory remarks, referred to the discussion of the Anti-Home Rule question in Peterborough, and to the persecution he suffered when he decorated his premises with the motto "No Home Rule," on the occasion of the defeat of Mr. Gladstone's Home Rule Bill. Mr. Sawers in reference to Sir. John Thompson's action on the Jesuit Estates Act and other questions, called attention to the fact that the and Sir John could not be blamed when the Orangemen justified themselves. Hon. McKenzie Bowell's treason to Orangeism was vigorously denounced and the question was asked if Sir. John Thompson could be blamed? On this question Mr. Stevenson's and Mr. Lang's vote was condemned. Sir John Thompson was just as safe a leader as any of the Protestant members of the Government who truckled for the Roman Catholic vote. And in Toronto Mr. Mowat ruled in the interests of the Roman Catholics, who in this county hold the great majority of the offices. Mr. Sawers closed his speech by declaring that the success of Home Rule for Ireland meant the destruction of the British Empire.

At the close of Mr. Sawers' address the chairman informed any who might wish to speak in favor of Home Rule that they would have an opportunity than to do so. Nobody responded.

REV. JOSEPH COBURN in his opening remarks corrected a rumour making by a Presbyterian of him—he was an old-fashioned Wesleyan. He contended at length for the right of Anti Home Rulers in Canada to discuss the Irish question which was synonymous with Rome Rule. He would not as the bill calling the meeting announced, reply to Hon Edward Blake, for the reason that he

SAID NOTHING THAT NEEDED AN ANSWER,

but there were some statements to be obsllenged. He had said that if Ulster men would submit they would be happy under the rule of a parliament on College Green, but the speaker told an anecdote. A Sunday school party had been threatened with molestation by Roman Catholics under the idea that it was an Orange procession. The worst enemies of Ireland were those who had kept Ireland divided, who introduced dividing lines in the schools and proscribed the reading of the open Bible. The speaker denied that the Irish of either north or south were more wicked than any other nation. There was no analogy between the home rule of the United States and the Home Rule that might be applied to Ireland. The States started with with Home Rule, but Irish Home Rule was diametrically opposed to the British constitution. (Applause.) The civil war in the United States was a protest against Southern Home Rule. The claim that the vast majority of the Irish people were in favour of Home Rule, did not justify the granting of it, nor prove that majorities were always right, as shown by the vote of the majority in the Canadian Parliament on the Jesuit Estates Bill. The people of Ireland have not made a national demand for Home Rule—which was born in the brains of Michael Davitt while he was an inmate of an English jail, as a Fenian prisoner. (Applause.) Popular

INTEREST IN THE HOME RULE QUESTION WAS AROUSED

by appeals to the worst passions.—the paid agitator working on the passions brought about of the result. The Irish people, left to themselves, would never have originated the present aspect of the Home Rule agitation. Gladstone was no friend of Home Rule, till boycotting, terrorism, intimidation and Parnell's psalmx of obstructionists converted him. Boycotting was no new thing in these Home Rule days'—it had long been in operation in Ireland under another name. The speaker claimed that coercive legislation was not necessary to the government of Ireland, without Home Rule, as Mr. Morley had asserted. Coercion was an necessity in Ireland for law abiding citizens. The rigours of coercion had no relation in enormity to the terrors of boycotting and intimidation. The Irish members did not represent the Irish people, but Charles Stewart Parnell in his time, and Mr. Redmond and Archbishop Walsh now. Edward Blake, Dr. Burns and Dr. Dewart were used to give respectability to the Home Rule movement, but on the other hand the anti-Home Rule party needed no such adventitious aids to respectability—the Protestants of Ireland were law abiding and progressive. They lived under the same laws as the other element, and if the other element was patriotic then the Irish Protestants were disloyal and unpatriotic. The speaker went on to show that out of 900 dissenting ministers in Ireland only 8 could be found in favor of Home Rule. The great Ulster convention, representing every electoral district of Ulster, had declared

AGAINST HOME RULE TO A MAN, and the delegates represented every Protestant denomination, and there were some honest Roman Catholics amongst them. The speaker made numerous quotations from Parnell's speeches in America to show that the aim of himself and others like him was the separation of Ireland from the Empire and giving her a separate national existence, and that their programme was very different from the sucking-dove sentiments uttered in reference to Home Rule in the Pavilion in Toronto. (Cheers and laughter.)

The speaker closed by pointing out what Irish Protestants had done in the whole history of the country to preserve the integrity of the British Empire, and the same spirit filled the breasts of Ulster men to-day, and by showing that, in case Ireland was given self-government the Roman Catholic majority by the aid of the liberal labourer, in an Irish parliament, with Archbishop Walsh at their back would out vote and oppress the minority. If Irish priests withdrew the ban from the Bible and permitted the free preaching of the gospel, Ireland would in a very few years be revolutionized and become happy and prosperous and there would be from Cape Clear to the Causeway no cry for Home Rule. Hearty cheers greeted the close of the speaker's long, earnest and eloquent address.

A vote of thanks moved by Mr. Weir, seconded by Mr. Davidson was tendered to Rev. Mr. Coburn for his able address. The meeting which, during the moving of the vote of thanks, had dwindled down to a comparatively few closed by singing the National Anthem.

NOTES.

The proscenium arch of the stage was draped with the Union Jack, under which hung the motto "God Save the Queen."

Rev. Mr. Coburn is blind and was led on the stage by a little girl. He is a strong and fluent speaker apparently full of his subject, yet not above employing ad captandum expedients. His speech occupied about two hours in delivery.

He was given a good hearing though there were occasional hisses, evidently proceeding from some boys, which would not have been noticed had not the speaker paid particular attention to them.

Notwithstanding the auspices under which the meeting was called, there was a large attendance of genuine Home Rulers—the ladies.

A KNOTTY QUESTION

Which can only be Solved after Mature Deliberation.

Every father and mother, before buying Boots and Shoes for their children, should hold a consultation together and try and arrive at an answer to the following five questions:

1. What kind of boot do we want?
2. Are any to be got that will wear well?
3. Who keeps this kind?
4. Are there people reliable?
5. Can they afford to sell good boots cheap?

Having carefully analyzed these questions to their satisfaction, why not decide to try

"Shem, grieve not so. Zell will never forget you. How could she?"

"No, I will not. I will remove the table and say good night. It is early. You sit and enjoy the quiet."

Three days elapsed before Terry saw any but Shem. Shem was not at all talkative, and offered no explanation of closed doors and windows. Terry was one who had inner resources, and found himself quite a companion.

The evening of the third day he saw the barricade removed from Ishmael's cave, and the usual light shone brightly. He immediately loosened the canoe, jumped in, and paddled toward the cave. When half way there Zanea came from the door in the rock, and when his boat neared the shore she was waiting him.

"It is four days, Zanea, since I saw you. Have you been ill?"

"Ill? no. I have never been ill in my life. We have been busy with Zell. We are teaching her the alphabet. Ishmael has been working at other things, too, that he would not be interrupted at. Terry Denver, you have no mercy. You are a severe judge. He has worried night and day over your last talk. He killed his wife, 'tis true; but, as he told you, he did it in a most merciful manner. You shudder at the mercy as well as the deed, yet how many men you mingled with ere your advent here murdered their wives. Murdered them just as coldly and a thousandfold more cruelly. They took their wives from loving homes, for a time spoiled them, then left them, quite indifferent to the loneliness they were forced to endure. Left them to find what comfort they could in counting the hours till they would return. Left them to eat out their very souls while hoping for the return of the tender companionship they had been promised. Lack of food of any kind means starvation or death. My power to see what is beyond this gave me a vision of a girl who wed, not a murderer of Ishmael's type, but the other. She knelt night after night and prayed to her God till the grey dawn broke to bring back her husband—safe. Had she not been cruelly murdered before that cry broke from her starved, quivering soul? Yes, manifold were the times. Terry Denver, shudder not at Ishmael's kindness. His wife suffered not a fraction what the wives of many of the men of the world do, yet you meet those men with outstretched hand."

"Who was his wife?"

"She was my mother."

"And you can defend the murderer of your own mother, Zanea?"

"I defend the method of the murder against the method other men adopt."

"I cannot think in unison with you."

"No! I did not think you would. If you remember, you have always opposed me."

"Why?"

"I do not know."

"You always hold such queer views. I cannot conceive of any one condoning the crime of murder, even in a father."

"I contend that it were better far than had he left her to live out a number of deaths, as she surely would have, as wife of a man wedded to research and study like Ishmael was. If she had been studious it would have been so different; but man will surely break the reed that cannot give him strong support. Ishmael chose a merciful method."

She showed Terry a miniature of her mother. She was as lovely as Zanea, but lacking in the strength of character Zanea had inherited from her father.

"She was beautiful."

"Yes. Come to the cave and see Ishmael. Show him a little of that charity you laud in others."

They found Ishmael standing in the entrance of the cave with his eyes fixed on the pass through which the men would come. He began in a tense voice:

"Zanea, child, does my sight fail me? Are they coming yet?"

"Not yet, Ishmael; they have not had time to perform their feat. Patience a little longer, they will come; Zanea says they will come. Here is Terry Denver come to see thee."

"Ha! and to say again I will not garner the return I hoped for. What if he were right? No, no, I did not sin. I will reap an abundant harvest. I tilled well and deep."

The Saddest Part.

When little Bess was but a child
She came to me one day
And laid her head upon my cheek
In her sweet baby way.

"Papa," she said, "I want a doll."
What could her father do?
With heart quite full of parent love
I straightway bought her two.

The years sped on. The crown of youth
Lay on her maiden brow.
Again she came to me and said,
"I want a pony now."

The pony came. How glad was I
To see her happy face,
And on my wrinkled heart their lay
No blighting sorrow's trace.

Alas! how easy 'tis to give
Our treasures of the heart
To those we love, but oh, how hard
It is from them to part.

For yesterday she came again,
Just as a child of three,
And, blushing, said, "He's there down stairs,
Papa, and he wants me."

LOVE STORIES IN BRIEF.

The Shortest Proposal of Marriage on Record—Peculiarities.

Here are some paragraphs concerning the tender passion. They were found floating about on the sea of anonymity.

A gentleman was deeply in love. He met the object of his affections one evening at a crowded ball, and, as he could not find an opportunity of talking to her he contrived to slip into her hand a piece of paper with the two words, "Will you?" written upon it.

The reply was equally brief:
"Won't I!"

A student once remarking in company that he could make an impromptu rhyme upon any word that might be given to him, was requested to try his powers on "di-do-dum," whereupon he gave the following: "When Dido's lover to Dido would not come, Dido sat moping, and was Dido dumb."

A good Rochester (N.Y.) pastor, a widower, proposed to a young lady a short time since, but was rejected. His feelings had the second severe test when a widow neighbor sent him the following text to preach from: "You ask and receive not, because you ask a miss."

He—Is this the first time you've ever been in love, darling? She (thoughtlessly)—Yes, but it's so nice that I hope it won't be the last!

Accounting for His Rapid Transit.

A young lady was sitting in the arm-chair one night, when in rushed her lover.

"Oh, Joe, what is the matter?" she asked, somewhat alarmed.

"I have just won a medal from the Humane Society, my dear, for saving a fellow-workman's life. He was working with me on the top of the house, when he slipped and fell; you needn't believe it, but I ran down the ladder that quick I actually caught him before he got to the ground."

"You don't say so!" she exclaimed. "He must have stopped on the road for a drink."

Out of the Pan.

Sea Captain—Yes, I want a boy but I think you look a runaway. Now ain't ye? Didn't ye run away from home?

Boy—Ye-ye-y-e-s, but I couldn't help it. They was going to send me to a dentist to have six teeth filled.

"They was, was they? Well, I'd a'run off too. I don't believe in fillin' teeth."

"No, sir; I don't either."

"Of course not. You come on board with me, and if anything's wrong with your teeth the carpenter can take 'em out with a monkey wrench."

Boy went home.

Extent of His Knowledge.

Mamma—Helen, how did you happen to allow Mr. Gordon to kiss you when you were out fishing yesterday?

Helen—Why, mamma, I just asked him if he had ever been a sailor, and he said only enough of a one to know how to manage a fishing smack.

Deaths at Quarantine.

QUARANTINE, Sept. 23.—At 3 p.m. Dr. Byron sent the following report from Swinburne Island: "Scandia, Bohemia and New Hampshire O.K. One child died last night and another yesterday at Swinburne Hospital, and Maria Jawowitz, 2½ years, admitted Sept. 11 from Scandia, died Sept. 21 at midnight of broncho-pneumonia with complications of measles.

"Fesser Sclar, 2 years, admitted 21st inst. from the Bohemia, died on Sept. 22 with symptoms of cholera. The other patients are out of danger. No new cases."

THE OUTBREAK IN BERLIN

TWENTY THREE CASES OF CHOLERA REPORTED YESTERDAY.

The Outbreak Is Among Bargemen On the Canals Which Are Believed to Carry the Contagion—A Correspondent Describes the German Capital As Very Dirty and Likely to Breed the Plague.

BERLIN, Sept. 23.—People living and employed on barges are becoming infected with cholera more and more every day, a fact that causes much anxiety. From Tuesday noon to Wednesday noon 23 cases of cholera were reported on barges. Thirteen of the patients were certified to be suffering with Asiatic cholera and were taken to the Moabit Hospital. In one instance a whole family, consisting of father, mother and two children, was removed from a barge. A 5-year-old child died on the road to the hospital and the mother died last night.

As the canal system ramifies the most thickly populated districts of Berlin, it will be seen that the situation here has become serious. All barge traffic has been stopped and most of the boats are anchored to the river banks and watched by sanitary officials.

Cholera's Forcing-Houses.

LONDON, Sept. 23.—The Post's Berlin correspondent says the precautions taken by the authorities are so universally obtrusive to the sight and smell that they are calculated to throw a new arrival into a state of hypochondriac alarm. The medical examination of trains is repeated four times between Cologne and Berlin. The inspection is of a superficial character, but doubtless is adequate. It is noticeable how perfunctory the customs officials become. They handle baggage as if they do not desire to disturb the repose of the bacilli. The whole city is redolent of the or of a dissecting room. Failure to comply with the sanitary regulations is punished by a fine, if the offender is a poor person, and by imprisonment if the guilty one is rich.

The cholera will prove a boon to Hamburg and other large cities if it leads to the better housing of the poor. Although they cannot be compared with Hamburg the older parts of Berlin are deplorably overcrowded. One case in point is a single building which is occupied by 250 tenants, mostly families. Thirty-six smaller dwellings open off one passage. The windows in these wretched structures are often stuffed with rags and paper instead of being supplied with glass. The average size of the rooms is 16 by 16 feet. Some families in which there are five children have only one bed. The condition of these dwellings baffles description. They are full of dirt and vermin and are veritable hot beds of disease.

In the country districts the state of affairs is often worse. Cases are on record of four families consisting of 22 persons, occupying a single small room divided off into sections for the use of the different families by chalk lines. All married servants on an estate are also housed in one room.

What Prof. Koch Said.

HAMBURG, Sept. 23.—The Correspondent of this city denies that Prof. Koch predicted that cholera would again appear here in the spring. The paper says the Professor told the sanitary commission that the danger would last through the winter and become worse in the spring if necessary sanitation was neglected.

Cholera Spreading in Belgium.

BRUSSELS, Sept. 23.—Cholera is spreading both in this city and in the suburbs.

The Ships Free of Contagion.

QUARANTINE, Sept. 23.—Things at quarantine are now getting into their normal state, and Dr. Jenkins says that although he still cannot relax vigilance he thinks that the cholera attack on the port of New York is over. There are no new cases on the islands and the disease is well under control. There are only two cholera ships now at lower quarantine, the Scandia and the Bohemia. On the first there are no passengers on board. The cabin passengers on the New Hamburg, with those on the Bohemia, are on Hoffman Island. The steerage passengers of the Bohemia will be moved to Hoffman Island as soon as those of the Scandia are transferred to their ship. No more cabin passengers will be sent to Fire Island unless a new arrival brings further cholera.

Dr. Jenkins has been in receipt of hundreds of letters of congratulations.

The steamer Bendia, which arrived today from Hamburg via St. John's, N.F., without passengers will be disinfected and permitted to go up. The Scandia's passengers on Hoffman Island will be transferred to the steamer as soon as she has been disinfected. The Wyoming's passengers will be taken to the city to-morrow on the Cepheus.

Cure for A Cough Pattern and Headache

Dr. Silas Lane, while in the Rocky Mountains, discovered a root that, when combined with other herbs, makes an easy and certain cure for constipation. It is in the form of dry roots and leaves, and is known as Lane's Family Medicine. It will cure sick-headache in one night. The Romance of Missions—Heroes of The Church Militant—Surveyed the World From China to Peru—Graphic Narratives—Thrilling Episodes—Now and One Hundred Years Ago.

TORONTO, Sept. 24.—The Romance of Missions might fitly have been the title to yesterday's interesting proceedings of the Pan-Presbyterian Council. Not that there was any romancing in the statements made. I do not refer to the statistics, satisfactory though they were, for we all know that figures may be made to prove anything. But the outspoken statements of heroes of the mission field, men who could, in apostolic style, say, "We speak that we know, and testify whereof we have seen," are not to be gainsaid.

The morning session does not call for any special remarks, other than that Rev. Dr. Swanson of London, Eng., formerly a missionary in China, told of errors made, wrongful tactics and experience dearly bought. Both he and other speakers showed they rely more on nativeagency than the imported article.

All the Way from Syria.

Rev. Dr. Dennis of Beirut, a gentleman who would havedone credit to Her Majesty's Imperial Army as well as to that of the Church Militant, with his tall figure, erect mien, to say nothing of his massive watch-chain, took up his parable and delivered his soul respecting "Native Agents and their Training." His paper was an able plea for more systematic training and the more general employment of natives in the mission field. The doctor apparently cared little whether what he said was palatable or unpalatable. Said he boldly, "We have numbers of men who are utterly unfit for a place in the Lord's vineyard. They could be dispensed with to advantage; their absence would be preferable to their presence." Of course it is charitable to believe he was referring to native agents, and not to such missionaries as Canada sent forth in such profusion during the past few years.

From a Presbyterian one was glad to hear the most kindly references to the London Missionary Society, supported chiefly by the Congregationalists. Valuable were his cautions against "Europeanizing" the native converts.

This was a topic on which the doctor exaberated, so much so that Chairman Rentoul, a New South Wales professor, rising, anxiously looked over the reader's shoulder to ken the length of MSS. This occasioned a polite laugh.

From Bonnie Dundee.

Rev. C. M. Grant, brother of Principal Grant, and manifestly possessed of logical and elocutionary abilities of no mean order, earnestly urged the duty of teaching native churches to be self-supporting. He threw out the novel idea of two sets of missionaries—the better class for the civilized heathens, mere evangelists for the barbarous. Highly educated men are not required, nor little of controversy. The speaker would rely on the old, old story and his views met with hearty endorsation.

He Is An Iconoclast.

"I am for smashing some Presbyterian ideas of missionary training; a long course of theological training is not necessary to soul-winning. More freedom must be given to native churches. Some of them are, as Dean Stanley puts it, 'not only faithful unto death, but faithful unto absurdity.'"

"Let us have no monkeyizing of the native Christians. They must be good natives when they become good Christians. They must be free all in all or not at all."

A Jolly, Pious Welshman.

Rev. Griffith Ellis of North Wales was the most popular speaker of the day. He is a tall, fat son of St. David, and had the good sense to speak and not to read. Dry humor and native wit pervaded the speech. He was evidently original, even to the wearing of a black tie. His speech consisted of a sketch of the wonderful progress of the Welsh Calvinistic Methodist Church in Brittany and in the East Indies. A more interesting story I never heard at any missionary meeting, the explanation of which the Welshman gave. "Unfortunately," said he, "a large portion of the world is not educated enough to understand Welsh."

Then in genial style he sketched the recent jubilee of the society in Wales, and how the hard-headed colliers of the Rhondda valley thought it fit each to give his sovereign for the cause. The result of the jubilee was a contribution of $188,503. "Go and do likewise" was the moral of the worthy speech.

Rev. Dr. Hoge of Virginia, a short, thin young man with gold spectacles, ably dealt with the cultivation of the missionary spirit at home. The great point he made was that the love that pities a man in the Dark Continent or within the walled cities of China will not forget the stranger within our gates or the fallen brother or sister.

Rev. Dr. McKichan, Vice-Chancellor of Bombay University, at night gave an admirable address on the above topic. The year 1892, he said, was an annus mirabilis. Christian missions are now 100 years old. In England and America the simultaneous movement began. Eloquent was the tribute he paid the Baptist missionary, William Carey. A missionary society with a subscription of £13 was the father of the present extended work. Nearly 30 years passed before the Presbyterians followed in the wake of their Baptist brethren.

With true eloquence the Doctor sketched the subsequent career and wonderful success of missionary work. Only a few lands are closed to the Gospel, and there are signs that they will be open soon. Presbyterianism, he maintained, is represented by one-fourth of the whole mission field. In an eloquent peroration the Doctor said that the spirit of missions is the very breath of the church's life. The grandest apologetic of the church was her mission victories.

Rev. Robert Laws, M.D., D.D., of Livingstonia, Central Africa, gave an admirable address on the progress of the Gospel in the Dark Continent. The Doctor is a tall, well-built, robust, bearded Scotchman, just the type of the ideal pioneer missionary. His address, an extempore one, was as interesting as one of Stanley's lectures.

A Real Hero.

The most interesting incident in the evening was an enthusiastic ovation given the veteran missionary, Rev. Dr. Paton. He is the hero of 100 spiritual fights, one whose record of missionary enterprise and marvelous success is world-wide. A septuagenarian, his natural force is unabated, and as he stood before that brilliant audience he looked like one of the old prophets, as with silver hair, glistening eye, and frame quivering with emotion, like a veteran he fought his battles o'er again. Who has not read Dr. Paton's thrilling narrative of missionary work in the New Hebrides?

This closed one of the most successful days in the program of the Toronto meeting of the Pan-Presbyterian Council.

Driving Will Come High Then.

CHICAGO, Sept. 24.—The liverymen of Chicago have formed a trust and put the prices of carriages during the World's Fair parade dedication at $22 a day. The directors have been compelled to accept the price, and the outlay for Oct. 21 will be $10,000.

Three Emigrants Killed.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Sept. 22.—A special from Sibley, Ia., says a disastrous wreck occurred on the Burlington Road, between that place and Ocheyedan, at 11 o'clock last night. Freight train No. 6, eastbound, was going at a high rate of speed when the track slipped from under it and precipitated the engine and 16 cars down a ten-foot embankment. Three emigrants were killed.

ON FIRE WITH ECZEMA

Terrible Sufferings of Little Baby. Seven Doctors and Two Hospitals Fail. Cured by Cuticura.

My baby boy, 5 months old, broke out with eczema. The itching and burning was intense, the eczema spread to his limbs, breast, face, and head, until he was nearly covered; his torturing agonies were pitable to behold; he had no peace and but little rest night or day. He was under treatment at different times at two hospitals and by seven doctors in this city without the least benefit; every prescription of the doctors was faithfully tried, but he grew worse all the time. For months I expended about $3 per week for medicine, and was entirely discouraged. I purchased CUTICURA, CUTICURA SOAP and CUTICURA RESOLVENT and followed the directions to the letter. Relief was immediate, his sufferings were eased, and rest and sleep permitted. He steadily improved and in nine weeks was entirely cured, and has now as clear a skin and is as fair a boy as any mother could wish to see. I recommend every mother to use it for every Baby Humor.

—THE—
Grand Union Clothing Hall

Is in splendid shape now to attend to the thousands of visitors who will come to the Peterborough Exhibition. This is a store of an entirely different nature from that of the average clothing store. It matters a great deal where you buy. There is style and design and attractiveness about the clothing sold at the Grand Union Clothing Hall, and that is considerable to a man who has been accustomed to wear ordered clothing. We aim to please you as well with our Ready-Made as the suit you would leave your order for. Then there is the time gained, besides there is the difference in price. It is two to one if you would be able to tell the difference. We admit the disadvantages heretofore in this particular, but we have overcome them. Try us and see for yourself. Remember we also keep in stock a fine selection of Tweeds, worsteds, and Gents' Furnishings.

HER MARVELOUS ESCAPE.

MRS. GRIMISON OF TORONTO HAS A THRILLING EXPERIENCE.

Mrs. Grimison of Major-street Falls From the Suspension Bridge Over the Niagara River, But Managing to Grasp a Girder 180 Feet Above the Torrent Clings to It Until Rescued.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Sept. 26.—Mrs. Grimison of 57 Major-street, Toronto, who accompanied the Pan-Presbyterian excursion here Saturday, underwent a thrilling experience that she will remember until death, which she miraculously escaped to-day.

The lady, accompanied by her two daughters and the Rev. Mr. Ramsay, were walking across the foot and carriage Suspension bridge at the Falls on their return from the American side about 3 o'clock this afternoon. When the party was about two-thirds of the way across the bridge Mrs. Grimison, in stepping up from the carriage way on to the raised foot walk that runs along the side of the bridge, stumbled. From the force of the fall she shot through the opening on the side of the bridge, but luckily striking one of the guys which are placed on the bridge about 30 feet apart. She was thrown back on the iron girder underneath the bridge, which is about a foot wide and 10 feet below the flooring of the bridge. On striking this she grasped it with a death grip.

Her sudden disappearance completely paralyzed her two daughters, but Mr. Ramsay quickly climbed over the side railing and slid down the upright to the girder just in time to support Mrs. Grimison from falling to an awful death below and hung on to the almost lifeless body, keeping Mrs. Grimison and himself on the girder, and called for help, which was soon on hand in the person of Chief of Police Young, who had been attracted by the man's cries. He procured a rope and with Harry Williams of the Cliff House and Harry Huntly lowered the rope over to where the two were. Huntley going down adjusted the rope around the lady's body and extricated her clothing from the girders and then they raised her to the driveway of the bridge.

She was taken to the Cliff House, where she was soon restored to consciousness. She lost a hand bag with her purse and watch, but all the articles were found at the water's edge by the police, the watch being smashed into several pieces. Mrs. Grimison's miraculous escape from death should prompt the bridge company to place proper protection on the sides of the bridge, and it is remarkable that some such accident has not taken place before now.

Mrs. Grimison had sufficiently recovered from the nervous prostration to return to her home in the special train this evening.

ELOPED TO BARRIE.

Their Love For a Child Causes Them to Be Arrested.

BARRIE, Ont., Sept. 26.—Two gay young elopers from the State of Michigan were arrested here Friday afternoon on a charge of kidnaping the 6-year-old neice of the young lady in the escapade. Frank Wilcox and Ada Skinner both live in Sand Beach, Mich. She is the daughter of a rich salt merchant. He is the only son of a prominent vesselman. She is 19, he is 23. They have been lovers clandestinely for five years, but the religious differences of their parents prevented their marriage. The young couple finally agreed to elope, but Ada declared she could not stand to be separated from her namesake, the young daughter of an elder sister. Accordingly they agreed to take the child with them. Late Tuesday night they left the city with the little girl in their possession. Yesterday they were traced to Port Huron, where it was found they had been married, and this afternoon the detective on their trail caught up with them here and arrested them on a charge of kidnapping. He is now awaiting instructions from Sand Beach.

A PITCH-IN AT PORT CREDIT.

A Driver Disobeyed the Semaphore and Derailed His Engine.

PORT CREDIT, Sept. 26.—A collision occurred here on Saturday. The driver of a freight train from the west did not notice the semaphore ordering him not to pass the switch, and let his train pitch into another eastbound freight on the siding. He jumped before the collision and was the only man injured. The engine jumped the track to the right, throwing the van of the train in front off the track to the left and into the express which left Toronto at 11.15 and was standing alongside. The express car was slightly damaged and was removed from the train before it proceeded.

Run Down by an Engine.

TORONTO, Sept. 26.—W. Brown, a section man, and John Kernan, foreman of the G. T. R. gravel pits, lie maimed, bruised and cut at the General Hospital.

At an early hour Saturday morning the two men were walking homeward along the tracks at Little York, when they were overtaken and knocked down by engine 428 in charge of Engineer Ivy. One of Brown's legs was cut off, and Kernan was badly cut about the head and body. The two men were taken to the hospital, and at a late hour last night their condition was reported to be favorable to recovery.

The engine which knocked down the men was on its way to take out a train, and was switched on to the southern track instead of the northern on account of the crowded condition of the yard. Pending an investigation Engineer Ivy has been suspended.

Brown has a wife and eight children and Kernan lives in Port Hope.

Two Women Struck by Lightning.

TEESWATER, Ont., Sept. 26.—During a terrific electric storm which visited Teeswater yesterday, two women, Mrs. Lingenfelder and Mrs. Wigle, were struck by lightning while sitting at the windows of their homes. The houses are situated near together in Clinton-street, south of the C.P.R. station. This point is traversed by the wires of the G. N. W. Telegraph Company and Bell Telephone Company. All the wires in the vicinity are wrecked, but no other damage was done to property. Mrs. Wigle has recovered sufficiently to sit up, but is still in a precarious condition. Mrs. Lingenfelder is still unconscious and it is feared that the chance of her recovery is slight.

Lord Rosebery and Uganda.

LONDON, Sept. 26.—The Post Saturday protests against what it says is the apparent intention of Lord Rosebery, Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, to abandon Uganda. The Times, commenting on the matter, says the failure of the East Africa Company will be a disgrace to England, and that to avert it the Government is responsible.

DEATH OF SIR J. W. RITCHIE.

The Chief Justice of the Supreme Court Passes Away.

OTTAWA, Sept. 26.—Sir William Johnston Ritchie, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Canada, died yesterday morning at 9 o'clock after a few weeks' illness. His condition lately has been very serious and Sir James Grant, M.D., was in constant attendance.

Sir William Johnston Ritchie was a son of the late Hon. Justice Ritchie of Nova Scotia. He was born at Annapolis October 28, 1813. He received his education at Pictou. He studied law with his brother, the present Chief Judge in Equity for Nova Scotia, and was called to the New Brunswick bar in 1838. His promotion proved rapid. He was appointed a Q.C. in 1854 and was a member of the Executive Council of New Brunswick from Oct., 1854, until appointed a puisne judge of the Supreme Court of New Brunswick in 1855, in which position he remained until he succeeded the late Hon. Robert Parker as Chief Justice of New Brunswick in 1865. Ten years later he was called to the Supreme Court, and in 1879 he succeeded Sir William Buell Richards, retired, as Chief Justice. His salary was $8000. He sat for the City and County of St. John in the New Brunswick Legislature from 1846 to 1851, when he retired, and from 1854 until his elevation to the bench. He received the honor of Knighthood in 1881, and on various occasions during the absence of the Governor-General has acted as Deputy Governor. He was married twice.

The funeral will take place on Tuesday afternoon to Beechwood Cemetery.

DEATH OF PATRICK GILMORE.

The Famous Musician Succumbs to Heart Disease at the Lindell House St. Louis on Saturday.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 26.—Patrick Sarsfield Gilmore, the great bandmaster, died at the Lindell House here at 6.45 p.m. yesterday. He was taken sick at 2.30 a.m. with an acute bilious attack and grew steadily worse until the moment of his death. Dr. H. H. Mudd with two other physicians were summoned and everything was done to save the great impresserio, but all efforts proved unavailing. Mrs. Gilmore and daughter Minnie were by his side when death came. His band has been one of the chief attractions at the St. Louis Exposition for years and he was playing his annual engagement here at the time of his death. The directors of the exposition are in session to determine what action shall be taken for the remainder of the season.

The Knights of Patrick met this evening and passed resolutions of sorrow, commendatory of the great Irishman. The remains will be taken to New York for interment to-morrow afternoon. In no city in America was he more popular than in St. Louis.

Patrick Sarsfield Gilmore was born near Dublin, Ireland, 1829. He became connected with military bands at the age of 15. He went to Canada as a member of an English band. His first work as a leader was at Salem, Mass., where he lived for a time, afterward removing to Boston, where he organized "Gilmore's Band," with which he made an extensive tour of the country.

In 1861 he accompanied the Twenty-fourth Massachusetts regiment to the field, and in 1863 he was placed in charge of all the bands in the department of Louisiana by General Banks. He originated monster concerts in this country and was the projector of the great peace jubilee held in Boston in 1869 and 1872.

In 1878 he visited Europe with his band. He has composed a great number of marches and songs.

RAN AWAY TO CHINA.

A New York Business Man Flees With a Frisco Actress.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 26.—Minnie Deering, an actress of this city, and Walter B. Price, a young business man from New York, have eloped, going away to China on the Pacific Mail steamer which left this port Thursday.

Walter B. Price is the agent for the Yale and Towne Manufacturing Company of New York and he has been in this city for a few weeks past in the interest of the firm that employs him. Price is only 28 years of age, but notwithstanding his youth he had risen to a very high and confidential position with the New York company and he had a salary of $400 a month.

During his stay in the city he lived in grand style at the Palace Hotel, and was known among the boys as a thoroughbred. He is rather tall, well-built, and has a very handsome, smooth-shaven face.

Miss Deering is well-known to the public here. About six years ago she brought suit against Samuel Murphy, son of Daniel T. Murphy, of Murphy, Grant & Co., to recover $100,000 for breach of promise.

Price's infatuation was a case of love at first sight. The courtship was very brief. Why there should be any secret about the marriage no one seems to be able to tell, and the whole affair is more or less shrouded in mystery.

ENGLAND AROUSED.

A Gunboat Goes to Alaska to Attend to the Hungry Bear.

OTTAWA, Sept. 26.—The British Government has just advised the authorities here that a British cruiser has been ordered to proceed from the Pacific station at once to Vladivostock, Russia, to investigate the seizure of British Columbian sealers off Copper Island by Russian cruisers and to render any assistance necessary for the relief of the crews of the seized sealers still in the custody of the Russians.

MEETING OF THE CABINET.

Saturday's Sitting Was Devoted to Routine Business.

OTTAWA, Sept. 26.—Council sat from 11 to 3.45 Saturday when Sir John Abbott left for St. Anne's. Sir John said that neither ministerial changes or appointments had been considered, and that the time of council had been wholly taken up with routine matters. He will return to Ottawa next week to attend another council meeting.

Thrown Off an Electric Car and Killed.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—Mrs. Jessie V. Darling of Danbury, Conn., met with a tragic death Saturday by being thrown off an electric car while returning to the city from the suburbs. Unable to obtain a seat in the car Mrs. Darling was standing on the front platform with Mr. Charles H. Reed, also of Danbury, when a sudden turn in the road caused her to be thrown forward. Mr. Reed grasped her by the arm, but could not keep her above ground and she was pushed about 40 feet by the car before it was stopped. When picked up she was dead. She was a member of the Woman's Relief Corps.

CHOLERA SCARE OVER.

NO CASES IN GREAT BRITAIN OR THE UNITED STATES.

The Disease Still Rages in Hamburg—600 Funerals on Tuesday and Wednesday—A Temporary Railway Will Be Built From the Town to the Cemetery, as Horses Have Given Out.

LONDON, Sept. 26.—This country is still free from the cholera, which is flickering out on the Continent. It holds its grip on Hamburg, whence comes the grimly significant item of news that it is intended to construct a temporary railway from the town to the churchyard. On Tuesday and Wednesday there were 600 funerals. The horse supply proves inadequate to the demand. From various parts of the country are reported touches of nature that make Germany akin with Fire Island. At the hotel at Velten a commercial traveler's boxes were found to bear Hamburg's railway label. The traveler was requested to leave town immediately. In vain he declared that he came from Berlin, and that the label was an old one, and though several merchants of Velten stated that he was employed by a Berlin firm he was forced to leave. He walked to the next railway station, as the people would not even allow him to wait for the next train. A town in East Prussia rose in terror at the rumor that a Hamburg citizen and his family were about to visit it. The burgomaster promptly wrote to the intending visitor, "I have ordered policemen and a physician to await you at the station and to convey you to the hospital, where you will be obliged to undergo a quarantine of 8 or 10 days. Will you inform me whether you are coming or not? The latter eventuality, in face of the present danger of cholera, would, of course, greatly please our population."

Bad Outlook in Berlin.

BERLIN, Sept. 26.—The cholera situation here looked more serious Saturday than it has been at any time previously. Twelve suspicious cases have been taken to the Moabit Hospital, and one of the patients died in a few hours after he was admitted. The bargeman who was taken to the hospital Thursday, and was thought to be recovering, died suddenly last night.

Professor Koch says that Stettin is in great danger, owing to the fact that the Oder River is infected. The authorities have issued a stringent order that all vessels arriving at Swinemunde from infected ports must disinfect their bilgewater with quicklime. Then, after waiting 10 hours, they must proceed to sea and discharge the water. Afterwards, if all on board are healthy, the vessels will be admitted to pratique.

Twenty-eight Deaths at Hamburg.

HAMBURG, Sept. 26.—The fresh cases of cholera reported in the city yesterday numbered 62 and the deaths due to the plague 28.

Five Deaths in St. Petersburg.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 25.—Thirty-two fresh cases of cholera and five deaths from the disease occurred in this city yesterday.

Seventeen Deaths in Paris.

PARIS, Sept. 2.—In this city and suburbs yesterday there were 45 fresh cases of cholera and 17 persons died from the disease.

New York Reported to be Free.

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—The announcement that the city was believed to be absolutely free from cholera was made by President Wilson of the Health Board Saturday. He had received from Drs. Biggs and Dunham a report that the biological examinations in the latest suspected cases failed to show the presence of the cholera germ, and Chief Inspector Roberts, of the Bureau of Contagious Diseases, declared that no other suspected cases had been found in the city. Later the following was posted in the Health Board's office:

SEPT. 24, 2 p.m.

No cases of cholera in this city since Sept. 19, on which date Louis Weinhagen, since dead, was removed to the hospital. No suspected cases now under examination by the bacteriologists of this department. The health of the city is unusually good. The death rate for the week ending at noon today was 21.07; for the corresponding week last year 25.0. The total deaths for the week were 744; for the corresponding week last year 811, average for corresponding weeks for last 10 years 708. The deaths from diarrhoeal disease (68) were less than in any corresponding week since 1879, although the population of the city has nearly doubled since that year. By order of the Board of Health.

EMMONS CLARK,
Secretary,
CHARLES G. WILSON,
President.

The report of the bacteriologists was that in the cases of Henry Engel, Patrick Stewart and Mary Murphy, the examinations "failed to reveal the presence of the spirillum of Asiatic cholera." Engel was the boarder who was removed from Mrs. Gunther's house, No. 14 First-street, after Louis Weinhagen was found ill with cholera there. He is in the Reception Hospital. The quarantine at Mrs. Gunther's house was maintained yesterday, and the daily inspection of the 250 boarders will be continued for a week longer. The boarders have been treated to lemonade, in which were individual doses of sulphuric acid, intended as a prophylactic against the cholera. They were not aware that the lemonade had been dosed, and it was said that Dr. Cyrus Edson had suggested the trick of guarding them against disease.

No New Case at Quarantine.

QUARANTINE, Sept. 26.—The cholera outlook grows more satisfactory every day. There has been no new case nor even a suspect since Tuesday last.

Unsuccessful Efforts at Rescue.

MARSHFIELD, Ore., Sept. 26.—All efforts to rescue Capt. O'Brien and his watchman, who went aboard the wrecked whaleback steamer Charles W. Weimore a week ago, have so far proved fruitless. The captain and his watchman went on board the wrecked vessel in calm weather to prevent anyone boarding her and claiming salvage, and a violent storm and heavy sea caught them there.

A Church Burned.

PORT ARTHUR, Ont., Sept. 26.—St. Andrew's Roman Catholic Church was badly burned last night. The walls are left standing, but the building may be considered a total loss, covered by insurance. This is the second church that this congregation has had burned, the first some 19 years ago. The insurance on St. Andrew's Church is $3500 on the building and $900 on the contents.

The Edisons Again on Top.

In Their Ball Game Played With Peterborough in the Series on Saturday Afternoon—Notes of the Game and Players.

The Edison and Peterborough's played baseball again on Saturday afternoon at the P.A.A.A. grounds. The attendance of spectators was scanty; the game was only five innings long but some of the best ball of the season was played, especially in the first three innings. The Edisons as usual conquered, this time by a score of 7 to 2. Following is the way the tale was told.

Peterborough went to bat first. Barnon hit by pitched ball, took his base. McCabe flew to left field, Billings and Tighe struck out. For Edison, Parks got first on short's error, Barlow did likewise on left fielder's error of his fly. Landers hit to first, out. LePage got first on third's errors, but reach third was thrown out by catcher and in the meantime Parks and Barlow scored, making the two first runs for Edison. Pomfret fanned the breeze.

Second Inning—Ray hit safely, making first hit of the day but was caught purloining third, Moore struck out, Anderson hit by pitched ball took his base, Howe could not strike. For Edison's, Minorgan fouled to catcher, out, Sweetlove, Lomas and Dolan were struck out in succession by McCabe's unsolvable curves.

Third Inning—Goldsmith whacked for a two bagger, Barnon, McCabe and Billings hit safely, and Goldsmith and Barnon scored, McCabe was caught kidnapping second, Tighe hit to third and was thrown out at first, Ray hit to short and terminated his existence at first. For Edison's, Parks made a fine two bagger, Barlow's club failed to strike the leather, Landers hit safely but was thrown out running to second, Parks in the interim having come home, LePage got first on Heap's error but was caught attempting to raid third bag.

Fourth Inning.—Moore and Howe struck out and Anderson hit to first and expired. For Edisons, Pomfret retired with three strikes, Sweetlove flew to Barnon and Dolan struck out.

Fifth Innings.—McCabe and Goldsmith could not locate pitcher Lomas' delivery, and Barnon flew out to centre field. For Edisons, Parks hit safely, Barlow got first on catcher's passed ball; Landers hit to third, out at first. LePage got first on first baseman's error. Pomfret flew out to Moore right field, who made an excellent catch. Minorgan struck out, but on first's error got around, meanwhile Parks, Barlow and LePage scoring. Sweetlove hit to Tighe and was thrown out at first. This ended the game. Following is the score:

SUMMARY.—2 base hits, Goldsmith and Parks. Struck out, McCabe 8, Lomas 5.

BATS, BALLS AND BASES.

McCabe pitched in magnificent form throughout the five innings, only three hits being made off his perplexing delivery.

Landers, as usual, received Lomas well for Edisons and did some fine base throwing, which was much admired.

LePage maintained his usual good record on second bag. Parks made three runs.

Barlow, who played first bag for the electricians, is a new man, and some years ago played baseball.

Minorgan, who played centre field, and Dolan, who played right, are junior men.

Tighe played well on second base, and did not make an error.

Moore's catch of a difficult fly in the fifth was loudly applauded.

The Edisons would like to hear from the Cobourgs, and hope that if they intend playing the return match here this season they will hurry up and do so.

The Lindsays want "the earth and the fulness thereof" to play the return match with the Edisons. They meekly ask for half the gate receipts and $10 besides, and will hardly be accommodated on these exorbitant terms.

Owing to the Edison and town having to play a Rugby football match, the game was only five innings.

Marvellous Results Will Follow.

There is not the slightest reason, dear mother, why your baby should continue to be weak, frail and puny. The agent and means for making your baby strong and healthy is near you, and the fault is yours if you do not use it.

Lactated Food is the acknowledged agent and medium for strengthening and building up your baby. The foods with which you have been feeding baby are unsuited for its present condition; and you must not expect any progress while they are continued. Indeed, we are justified in asserting that your child is likely to die, unless you speedily give it Lactated Food.

If you follow the example of other mothers you will soon have your baby fat and healthy; strong and rugged.

Feed it on Lactated Food for one month, and you will see marvellous results.

A Terrible Storm.

The Gore's Landing correspondent to the Cobourg World says:—The sky is laden with clouds rifted here and there with narrow clefts of blue and wind presages rain, while we talk about the equinox and wonder if the storm will be worse than on Tuesday of last week. On the afternoon of that day the rain descended and the wind blew with desperate fury and the storm still raged when darkness had covered the earth with the darkest kind of a mantle. Through the storm and the dark the good ship Beaver with a load of excursionists worked her way down the river from Peterborough till she reached Jubilee Point. There the the captain decided that to come out of the mouth of the river that night would be madness. The channel is narrow and exceedingly difficult of passage in broad daylight and with the best of weather; so the boat anchored off Jubilee Point till day break, and then resumed her course, landing her passengers here safe and sound, but rather weary and ready for breakfast.

A most estimable lady almost destroyed until Dr. Butler's Golden Pills came to the rescue. After their use for a short time she was able to resume her duties, after suffering untold misery from nervous prostration and the ills that attend that most distressing disease. These, if not checked in time, lead to insanity and death. Golden Pills are guaranteed to cure all nervous and blood diseases.

This season, so far, has been a very busy one in our Watch Repairing Department. People are surprised at the excellence of our workmanship, having been under the impression that work, of such a high grade, was not possible outside of the large cities. A LIBERAL POLICY.

The STANDARD has always taken the lead over other companies in the effort to simplify the assurance contract, and to maintain public confidence in life assurance. Its prompt and liberal settlement of claims has given it a world-wide reputation for economy, straightforward dealing, and by its example has done much to do away with contesting of policies.

The New Free Policy of the Standard Life Assurance Company is given without extra charge; allows free residence in any part of the world, and is incontestable and unconditional except on the ground of false statements in the application, and that only during the first two years; after that it is absolutely free. This policy is simply a promise to pay a certain sum at the maturity of the contract, instead of having a number of useless clauses on the back of the policy showing what the insured may not do, and which always give rise to dissatisfaction and disputes. The STANDARD prints only on the back of the policy a list of special privileges granted to the assured.

The Grand Master of the Oddfellows.

Acceptably Conducts the Services in the George Street Methodist Church Yesterday—Two Thoughtful Discourses to Large Congregations.

Rev. Thos. W. Jolliffe, B.A., pastor of the Bowmanville Methodist church and the present Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Oddfellows for Ontario, occupied the pulpit of the George street Methodist church yesterday and preached two able and impressive sermons. The reverend gentleman is a man of commanding personal appearance and a fluent and earnest delivery. In the evening he selected as his text Epistle to the Hebrews; 11th chapter and 24th and 25th verses.

By faith Moses when he was come to years refused to be called the son of Pharoh's daughter;

Choosing rather to suffer affliction with the people of God, than to enjoy the pleasures of sin for a season.

The speaker said that few men in the history of the world ever rose to true greatness, and Moses, who was a noble minded and godly man in every sense of the word, deserved to be ranked among the greatest on earth. Many seemingly illustrious men are great only in the sense when looked at from certain quarters, or from stated standpoints, but when viewed from other sources they fall. Moses was a thorough, complete and all-round man. He did not excel in some one particular line of genius, but in all. He was an eminent legislator and formed laws the principles of which are incorporated in all Christian statutes. This leader of the children of Israel was a great conqueror in the cause of God, and an eminent type of the Saviour himself. He was heroic, and his great moral heroism stood before us an exemplification of one of the greatest lives in the world. His life was divided into three periods of forty years each: first, in the court of Pharoah; second, training as a shepherd in the land of Gideon, fitting him for his important work; third, leading out God's people from Israel to the Promised land. The speaker then dwelt at length upon the study of Moses' character, its beauty, devotion, example and power as influenced and directed by implicit trust in the Lord, and the guiding hand of faith. He told how Moses renounced a life of seeming pleasure, honour distinction, power, favouritism and wealth by refusing to become the son of Pharoh's daughter, to her who had been a mother to him. Moses at this time was fifty years of age but he chose rather the other road with no attractions, with no such grand immediate prospects, but he had faith in his master, a loyal spirit and an unselfish devotion to any cause which he espoused, and he chose the latter—to suffer affliction with the people of God. The reason mankind were led to sin to-day was because it did one of two things, either ministers to their pleasure or profit. The preacher urged all to accept the joy and pleasure that came from within the salvation of Christ and not seek after the vain and empty things on earth that afford a certain kind of pleasure for a short time only, soon to vanish away like all secular pursuits and objects. The eternal way to glory was open and free to all, and by the goodness of His merits and the infinite atonement in Christ's mercy, all born generations were able to tread that way which in the end, though not without many tribulations and difficulties, led to that peace which passeth all understanding.

Characteristics of Hood's Sarsaparilla: The largest sale, the most merit, the greatest cures. Try it and realize its benefits.

A Pleasant Herb Drink.

The best cure we know of for constipation and headache is the pleasant herb drink called Lane's Family Medicine. It is said to be Oregon grape root, combined with simple herbs, and is made for use by pouring boiling water onto the dried roots and herbs. It is remarkably effective in all blood disorders, and is now the sovereign remedy for ladies in clearing up the complexion. Druggists sell the packages at 50c and $1 dw

As a healing, soothing application for cuts wounds, bruises and sores, there is nothing better than Victoria Carbolic Salve. dw

To be free from sick headache, biliousness, constipation, etc., use Carter's Little Liver Pills. Strictly vegetable. They gently stimulate the liver and free the stomach from bile.

We do not know of any preparation that has caught the public favor in so short a time as Dodd's Kidney Pills, but when we consider that three-fourths of the Canadian people are afflicted with kidney troubles in some form or other, and that Dodd's Pills are a quick and permanent cure for all these troubles, the large and increasing demand can scarcely be wondered at. Sold by all dealers or by mail on receipt of price, 50 cents per box. Dr. L. A. Smith & Co., Toronto.

A Vast Number to Choose From.

One Worthy of Great Confidence.

The good people of Canada have at the present time a vast number of cough remedies to choose from when circumstances render it necessary to use some preparation. Many of these cough remedies are absolutely worthless; many of them are hurtful, especially when given to young children.

Fortunately for our people science has given them a never-failing and efficacious preparation called Harvard Bronchial Syrup, pure and free from all narcotics.

This remarkable cough remedy has attained a degree of popularity never accorded to any other preparation.

Harvard Bronchial Syrup has honestly earned its present position in the family. It has banished violent cough and colds in a short space of time. It has banished hoarseness, enlargement of the tonsils and sore throat in from one to two hours, after other means had failed.

From what we know of this King of Cough Remedies we have no hesitation in saying that no home is safe without it.

Staying Where We Are Happy.

Much of this world's disquietude comes from the fact that it will not take the advice of my English friend of many years ago. Queen Mary was fondled and caressed in France. Courts bowed down and worshipped her beauty. But she went to Scotland, and Elizabeth cut the poor thing's head off. Why did she not stay where she was happy? Walter Scott had a good home in Castle street, Edinburgh; no debts to pay, all the world bringing offerings to his genius. But he went up to Abbotsford; must have a roof like Melrose Abbey, and the grounds extensive as a king's park. He sank his fortune and roused up a pack of angry creditors, each one with his teeth at his throat. How much better for his peace if he had continued in the plain home. Why did he not stay where he was happy? Maximilian had the confidence of Austria, and the richest of all earth's treasures—the love of a good woman's heart. He gathered up all that he had and went to Mexico. A nation of assassins plotted for his life. He fell riddled with a crush of musketry, and his wife, Charlotta, goes back a maniac. They had enough before they went. They wanted more. One dead! The other crazy! Oh, that they had been wise enough to stay where they were happy.—Dr. Talmage in Ladies' Home Journal.

But What Was In It?

Real Estate Agent—Yes, sir. This land will raise any crop, no matter what it is. Fertile land, do you ask? I can prove it.

Prospector—How?

Real Estate Agent—See that barrel?

Prospector—Yes.

Real Estate Agent—Last night that was a keg.

As a general rule, it is best not to correct costiveness by the use of saline or drastic medicine. When a purgative is needed, the most prompt, effective, and beneficial is Ayer's Pills. Their tendency is to restore, and not weaken, the normal action of the bowels.

Preferential Trade.

Preferential trade properly consists in giving the preference to Burdock Blood Bitters when seeking for a cure for constipation, dyspepsia, headache, biliousness, jaundice, scrofula, poisonous humors, bad blood, rheumatism or kidney complaints. It is the true cure and has cured cases which had resisted all other treatment. dw

IS PREPARING FOR FALL BUSINESS

The reading public of the town and county of Peterborough must have noticed from time to time our advertisement in this paper. We do not wish to trouble the public too frequently with astounding advertisements; telling them that at our store, and our store only, is the place to deal. Come to think of it, we never advertise in that style at all. We have always tried to stick to ONE GRAND PRINCIPLE, viz.: TO ADVERTISE EXACTLY WHAT WE INTENDED DOING, AND TO DO EXACTLY WHAT WE ADVERTISED. Having just returned from the wholesale markets, where a purchase of $3,271,56 was effected for CASH, will simply mention here a few of the various classes of goods bought, and leave the purchasing public to judge if we have or have not kept faith with our announcement.

HERE ARE THE PRINCIPAL LINES:

1 Lot of Ladies' Mantles in the latest styles, amounting to $575.00. Of the dozens and dozens of them there are not two alike. No use in quoting prices; not two are the same price. Just come and examine them.

Dress Goods, $875.60. Space does not not permit us saying what we would like to about these goods. Suffice it to say this much: We will give you 12 yards of all-wool Serge, in choice of shades, Trimmings and all for $2.15.

Mantle Cloths, $508.40. The balance of our purchase was made up in many lines of Staple and Fancy Goods. Perhaps you'll smile when we say that we have a Large Table in the Centre of the Floor covered with Lovely Dress and Mantle Buttons, worth 25c, 40 and 50c. per dozen. Come in and help yourself to any of them AT THREE AND ONE-HALF CENTS PER DOZEN.

We have always claimed to keep on hand the most reliable stock Gloves and Hosiery to be had in town. We will just add once more that should any of our Celebrated French Kids burst on first trying on we will replace them with pleasure.

YOURS FAITHFULLY,

J. J. SHEEHY.

The Band Concert.

All the arrangements for the band concert are completed, and there is every certainty of its being a splendid musical success. The band boys have well rehearsed the splendid programme they will present. Mr. Bandmaster Miller has taken especial pains in preparing the music, and his ability in this capacity is a guarantee that the public who attend the concert will receive more than the wonted enjoyment derived from the performance of the band. In the market hall to-morrow night.

Wedding at the Cathedral.

At an early hour this morning a pleasant event took place at St. Peter's cathedral, when Miss Florence Williams, daughter of Mr. Angus Williams, was united in marriage to Mr. William P. Patrick, of Syracuse, N. Y. Rev. Father Donaulaniers performed the solemn wedding ceremony in the presence of a number of the friends and relatives of the contracting parties. The bride was supported by Miss Annie Hayes, while Mr. Fred Dolan assisted the groom. After the ceremony the happy couple repaired to the residence of the bride's father on Crescent street, where, together with the guests, they partook of an enticing wedding breakfast. The presents were many and pretty. Mr. and Mrs. Patrick left for their future home in Syracuse at noon, followed by the best wishes of scores of friends.

Lewis Morrison—"Mephisto."

Lewis Morrison will open on Saturday evening, Oct. 1st, at Bradburn's Opera House, with his novel, highly effective and superb production of Faust. Long and costly experiments for producing a flash of lightning in miniature have at last proved successful. The mimic electric discharges from murky clouds add considerably to the wild sublimity of the tumultuous scene on the summit of the Brocken. Aside from the elaborate staging of Faust, the drama is rendered in the highest degree interesting by Mr. Morrison's graphic representation of "Mephisto." A musical novelty has been perfected for heightening the effect of the church scene. A chime of rich-toned bells ring out full and clear while the worshipers assemble. As the lingering echoes of the bells die softly away, the voices of singers announce the opening of the services within the sacred edifice. Appropriate orchestral music forms a fitting accompaniment to several of the scenes. The musical selections given with the action of the piece comprise gems from Gounod's score of Faust and excerpts from the composition of Rossini, Meyerbeer and other great composers.

Another Burst of Speed.

Another of those popular local horse races was held at the driving park on Saturday forenoon, when a scratch race was gotten up between Mr. J. E. McIntyre's gelding, Clan Alpine and Mr. W. Croft's mare, Hazel Mack. Wm Sherin drove Mr. McIntyre's animal and Ed. Brown guided Hazel Mack. Two heats were trotted, both taken by Clan Alpine by about a length each time. Each animal broke some during the circuit. Mr. Martin Connors was judge again as usual.

Choir Excursion.

Through the kindness of Rev. J. C. Davidson, the choir boys of St. John's enjoyed an outing to Chemong Park on Saturday afternoon. The party left town in a large 'bus at 2.30, under the charge of Mr. C. B. Kenrick, liberally provided with cake, candy, fruit and other good things. A Grand Piano Recital and Concert.

The grandest piano recital and concert that will take place this season will be given in Bradburn's opera house on Tuesday, Oct. 25th. Mr. Frederick Boscovitz, the world-renowned Hungarian pianist, the citizens will be pleased to learn, will revisit Peterborough on that date and assist Mr. W. J. Morrow in giving one of the greatest musical treats ever given to the public. A striking feature of the high class entertainment will be the rendering of a duet on first and second pianos by Mrs. Morrow and Mr. Boscovitz respectively. Mr. Thos. Dann, the famous baritone, has kindly offered to assist in the proceedings, and will render some of his finest selections. Other noted foreign talent will participate in the piano recital and concert on the 25th of October.

To-Morrow's Arrangements.

The Lieut.-Governor and party will arrive at 11.50 o'clock, and will be met at the C.P.R. station by the cavalry troop, His Worship the Mayor and Geo. A. Elliott, president of the Central Fair. They will then proceed to the market hall, where luncheon will be taken of. Mrs. Kirkpatrick will be the guest of Mrs. Deanistoun, George street north. After luncheon, the procession of the town and county councillors, board of trade members, agricultural society's officers, headed by the Fire Brigade Band, will proceed to the exhibition grounds. The cavalry escort will accompany the Lieut.-Governor to Mrs. Deanistoun's residence for Mrs. Kirkpatrick and party at 1.30 o'clock and then proceed down George street to the fair grounds, where the different societies and the 57th guard of honour will welcome them and a public reception on behalf of the various societies extended. Lt.-Gov. Kirkpatrick will then perform the opening ceremonies and addresses will be delivered by several prominent gentlemen.

For the Good of Others

Rev. Mr. Williams Heartily Endorses Hood's Sarsaparilla.

We are pleased to present this from Rev. A. A. Williams, of the Sillabee street Christian Church, Lynn, Mass.:

"I see no reason why a clergyman, more than a layman, who knows whereof he speaks, should hesitate to approve an

and worth, from which he or his family have been signally benefited, and whose commendation may serve to extend those benefits to others by increasing their confidence. My wife has for many years been a sufferer from severe

Nervous Headache

for which she found little help. She has tried many things that promised well but performed little. Last fall a friend gave her a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla. It seems surprising what simply one bottle could and did do for her. The attacks of headache decreased in number and were less violent in their intensity, while her general health has been improved. Her appetite has also been better. From our experience with

Hood's Sarsaparilla

I have no hesitation in endorsing its merits.'

The First Day of the Fair.

Prospects of a Magnificent Exhibition—The Entries Ahead of Every Other Year—Exhibits Pouring in—Directors Working Hard.

The first day of the Central Exhibition is devoted largely to the placing of exhibits and the making of entries in certain classes. The entries up to this morning were far in excess of any other year. To-day stock arriving on foot, by rail and by boat, is rapidly filling up the stalls and the inside exhibits are being rapidly put in place in the main building. The directors are on the alert and are doing everything in their power to accommodate exhibitors and everything promises grandly for a most successful exhibition.

The horse interests promise brilliantly; there are six or seven outside fast steppers in town already, and both the exhibition and the speeding track are in splendid condition.

His Honor Lieut.-Governor Kirkpatrick and suite will arrive at the C.P.R. station to-morrow at 11.45, and escorted by a guard of honor will proceed to the market hall for luncheon, and in the afternoon will proceed to the grounds, when the opening ceremonies will take place at two o'clock.

Police Court.

At the police court this morning Wm. Ralph appeared. He was summoned Saturday week to appear before the magistrate for playing truancy from school but failed to fyle an appearance and a warrant being issued for his arrest, the prisoner was locked up yesterday. The magistrate read the youthful offender a severe lecture and allowed him to go. A brother-in-law promised to take care of him and make him go to school regularly.

A Great Game of Rugby.

The Edisons and Peterboroughs Play Another Exciting and Hotly Contested Game of Football—21 Points to 0 in Favour of the Town.

The return match between the Peterboroughs and Edison Rugby teams was played last Saturday, and occasioned a good deal of excitement to those who witnessed it. The Edisons had a stronger team than previously, but the Peterboroughs better practice and combination won the day by a score of 22 to 0. The following are the names of the players and their positions:

M Pousette	back	Shepherd
B Boucher	halves	C Smith
Rogers		Parks
Parker		Grey
Alexander	quarter	Skinner
G Boucher	right wing	Dolan
Begley		Barlow
Burns		Tayler
Heap		Lomas
Edwards		LePage
Brennan	scrimmage	Gere
E Loucks		Tilley
W M Loucks		Nelson
A E A Smith		Bolton

Referee, C W Forbes.

The game was called at four o'clock, but owing to a baseball match the game did not start till 4.45. Peterborough won the toss and played with the sun. Edison kicked off but Boucher's punt returned well into Edisons' lines where some hard play was seen. Edison scrimmage played a better game than that last Saturday, and managed to hold their own. The ball was passed to Boucher, who kicked over Edison lines, and Heap following up secured a try for Peterborough, but he kicked for goal unsuccessfully. Edison then kicked from quarter-way, and Parker getting the ball ran back into Edison lines. A kick and follow up by Heap secured another try. No goal resulted from the kick, and Edison got the ball and kicked again from quarter-way, but the splendid returns by the Peterborough backs prevented any advantage for the Edisons. The game was then a series of scrimmages. Another try was secured by Brennan and Heap, in which Heap met with a nasty accident. He had his arm cut by the plates on Edison men's shoes, and had to leave the field. Heap had been playing a splendid game, and Peterborough felt his loss. The first half ended by Peterborough scoring a touch-down, which made the score 14 to nil.

SECOND HALF.

Peterborough kicked off and followed up, but Parks, who was playing the game of the day for Edison, returned the ball, Parker got it and ran within Edison 25, but was well tackled. Play was carried on without any brilliant play on either side, though there was some very hard work for both. Boucher's points were well returned and except for a touch-down in self defence by the Edisons, Peterborough did not manage to gain much till a kick from the field secured a goal for Peterborough. The good plays during this half for Peterborough were made by Pousette, who got the ball and made a splendid run almost over the Edison line. Geo. Boucher on the right wing was working hard and made the Edisons look up. B. Boucher's punting and tackling was magnificent. A. St. A. Smith, an old time player for Peterborough, was on the field and played a splendid game, the brothers Loucks in the scrimmage did a lot of hard work. Peterborough has a scrimmage that should not be beat and if they get the proper backing they should make an elegant team. Parker at half got in some good runs and tackling; Begley on the wing had some good runs. Boore was always on the ball for Edison. Parks at half back was splendid and only wanted backing to make it very hard for Peterborough. Shepard at full back played a plucky game. Smith brothers did some good work but they only played from half time. Grey at half backs was a hard one for Peterborough. Taylor on the wing put up a good game, his tackling and running were especially good. Gere and Tilley in the Edison scrimmage were splendid. The game ended, Peterborough 22, Edison 0.

THERE is not, and there cannot be, any smoking tobacco superior to the "Myrtle Navy" brand. A wrapper of brighter appearance and higher price it is possible to get, but all wrappers are very poor smoking tobacco and but a single leaf is wrapped round a plug. The stock used in the body of the "Myrtle Navy" plug is the very best which money can purchase. The powers of the Virginia soil can produce nothing better, and no other soil in the world can produce as fine tobacco as that of Virginia.

During the five years just closed, the Assets and Income have increased more than two-and-one-half times; and that this wonderful growth is not one of size only is shown by the fact that while the Life Assurances in force have only doubled, the surplus has trebled, showing that the profit-making power has more than kept pace with the increase of business.

"There, there, he has come to talk with thee. Zell comes soon and then all will be happy."

Terry noticed now, down on the road, the white-clad Zell with Shem, and he watched them make the ascent. Near the summit Shem turned and left Zell to finish the journey alone.

"You meet Zell, will you, Terry Denver? This will be the first time she has met Ishmael."

"So it will be."

Terry met Zell and the two walked to Ishmael.

CHAPTER IX.

ELL, this is Ishmael."

She paused a moment, then knelt by the aged man.

"And this is Ishmael? Thou art like a drift of snow, yet thou art warm. Thou art a warm snow drift overhanging the mountain."

She drew her little hands down the silken beard in reverent admiration, then bent her head to his knee like a weary child.

"Ishmael, do you know this is rest."

"Well, rest thee my little one. Zanea, come too, and kneel to me as does Zell."

"Zanea knelt and bowed her head to rest on the other knee. Ishmael lay one hand on either head. For a short space of time the earnest old face lit with the joy of fatherhood. Yes, Zell, this is rest, peaceful rest. This is for the young and the old—middle life is for work; mine is finished. I will soon know—soon see the mystical beyond."

"Have you inlaid your life, Ishmael, with purest gems or crumbling sandstone?"

"Zell, let him rest."

"Let me rest, Zanea? No, no, I must work yet a little; let me go. Wait me here, I will return when all is complete."

They were very much depressed after the old man left. Zell clung to Zanea and Zanea soothed the timorous Zell with gentle touches, till the depression vanished. Then the two paced slowly along the platform several times. The moon burst in full radiance over Taru and hill, and Zell and Zanea stood to look at the circle of reflected sun. How perfect the beauty of those two, and as perfect their minds. It was what ought to be, when Terry could not decide which was most to be desired. He sat with his elbow resting on the table and his long fingers shading his eyes, studying the two. This was a favorite position and occupation of Terry's. All were quiet for some time, then Zanea threw her arm around Zell.

"Thou are winsome, my Zell. Thou hast won his love."

Low, so low she spoke it might have been a re-echoed sigh. She caught a strand of Zell's hair and twined it around her hand and arm, a trick she often indulged in. To-night she stroked and lay each hair in place, then coiled and smoothed it, until it shone in the moonlight, and reminded Terry of a copper snake. Playfully Zanea tossed a fold around Zell's neck. Again the echoed murmur.

"Thou art winsome, my Zell. Thou hast won his love."

She drew Zell to her and kissed her tenderly so very tenderly, then lightly she tossed another fold around Zell's neck. Zell smiled at the notion, and Terry shuddered. It was like the sure twining of a snake, but it was only her own glorious hair. Softly Zanea spoke again.

"I love thee, Zell. I love thee, little sister. Sister—what a sweet word."

Then into the grand face of Zanea a wierd, unholy light flashed. The eyes glistened as did the eyes of the venomous rattler she had crushed to death, then grasping the coil of hair she drew with all her strength. The folds slipped tight around the white throat of Zell, so tight as to prevent any cry for help. She threw up her hands in the struggle for life with such force that both staggered backward toward the precipice. Their feet caught in their clinging silken gowns, and again they staggered further, right to the verge, there they swayed. Terry watched the scene as if fascinated until the two paused on that

Which can only be Solved after Mature Deliberation.

Every father and mother, before buying Boots and Shoes for their children, should hold a consultation together and try and arrive at an answer to the following five questions:

1. What kind of boots do we want?

3. Who keeps this kind?

5. Can they afford to sell good boots cheap?

Having carefully analysed these questions to their satisfaction, why not decide to try

FALL RIVER TRAGEDY.

DID LIZZIE BORDEN STRIP HERSELF TO DO THE DEED?

A New Theory Regarding the Fall River Murders—The Details of the Tragedy Gone Over Again—The Police Assert That the Young Woman Did Visit a Providence Lawyer.

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—The Herald publishes the following theory regarding the Borden murders, a crime which is creating great interest in legal and other circles here:

The speculation among those who have looked at the credible side of the Borden mystery is not whether Lizzie Borden is guilty, but how she committed the crime and how she did it so cleverly as to escape thus far absolute detection.

Up to this time there has been no attempt to show how the murder was done, but merely to demonstrate that no one other than Lizzie Borden was in a position to do it, and yet the strongest points that have thus far been made against the girl are not strong at all when dissected, and the plausible explanation has been overlooked altogether.

The importance attached to the attempted purchase of prussic acid is entirely misplaced, and if of any value whatsoever has that value in clearing rather than in condemning Lizzie. The District Attorney claims that Lizzie's first idea was to destroy her father and stepmother by poison; but when she discovered on Wednesday afternoon the impossibility of procuring the poison, she then changed her plans and resolved to use an ax.

This is incredible and impossible. Whoever did that murder arranged for it further ahead than from Wednesday afternoon to Thursday morning. If Lizzie did it, she had long before settled on the means with which to do it, the disposition to be made of her blood-stained clothing and the weapon used, so as to baffle the closest search of shrewd officers. This required much more time than from Wednesday afternoon till Thursday morning at 9.30 o'clock to provide for.

Precedents.

The sentimental argument against a woman indulging in such butchery will not hold—we are dealing with an extraordinary woman. And even with the commonplace woman there are precedents to prove the instability of this sentiment. Mrs. Druse was hanged in New York State a few years ago for murdering her husband in precisely this same manner, Governor Hill declining to commute her sentence.

How then did Lizzie Borden kill her father and stepmother, and what led to it?

That Mr. Borden deserved some such summary removal may be no excuse for the deed, but it furnishes a reason. His grinding parsimony and brutal selfishness had ruined the life of his two daughters, had deprived them of all opportunities for pleasure and had interfered forever with their chances for marriage. Lizzie Borden in all probability wished to enjoy life. She had seen Europe once; she realized what living is and what there was beyond the confines of Fall River. But her father was immovable; he could find no reason why she should have anything, see anything, do anything, other than what suited his narrow views. This unnecessary restraint finally so affected her, her mind became so fevered over its mental imprisonment, that she became irresponsible and sought relief by breaking down the iron selfishness that held her just as an everyday prisoner would break down the stone walls that hold him.

That was the reason.

And having the reason Lizzie planned accordingly.

The Method.

When Mrs. Borden went to the room that had been occupied by their guest the night before in order to make the bed and otherwise put it in order, Lizzie followed and proceeded to her own apartment, where she already had the ax selected for the deed. Reaching here she removed her clothing, even to her shoes and stockings, for it will be remembered Dr. Wood examined these latter with the same care he did her dress, seeking blood stains. Thus prepared she stepped noiselessly into the guest's room and struck Mrs. Borden on the head with the ax, felling her to the floor.

All the suppressed resentment against her stepmother's sympathetic selfishness with her father that had helped to make Lizzie's life miserable then broke forth, and she buried the weapon again and again in the unresisting body that lay before her.

During this time she stood with her foot on either side of the body, as the physicians' evidence at the inquest showed was necessary in order that the blows be delivered as they were, and before the blood had coursed along the carpet sufficiently to stain her feet and thus leave footprints as she left the room she had concluded her work and withdrew.

Threw Out the Water.

She then returned to her room, washed the spattering blood stains from her flesh, dressed again and went down stairs. According to the testimony of the neighbors and others familiar with the household arrangements there it was customary for the Bordens to throw their waste water on the grass, and the porous earth would quickly absorb the reddened basinful Lizzie had removed from her limbs and body.

It is a significant fact that whoever committed this deed, conceding that a doubt may exist in some minds as to the integrity of my conclusions, left no footprints behind when he or she stepped from the room whose floor was saturated with the life blood of Mrs. Borden.

When Mr. Borden entered and took his place upon the lounge it was no more difficult matter for Lizzie to disrobe a second time in the dining room or kitchen adjoining the parlor where her father lay, and repeat upon her father the deed that had already taken place above.

The weapon was then either dropped in a hole already prepared for its reception in the yard, the earth thrown back and a sod neatly placed above it, or else a loosened board was lifted in the floor, and there the ax rests to-day.

Accepting this solution of the mystery, Bridget Sullivan's puzzling evidence that Lizzie wore the same dress immediately after the murders that she did immediately before becomes less puzzling, and the strained explanation by the prosecution that Lizzie indulged in the folly of a duplicate dress of the same pattern becomes useless.

The Police Say It is True.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Sept. 2 .—Despite positive denials of the Providence lawyer episode in the Lizzie Borden case and the severe criticisms made by local and out of town papers, the police say to-night that the statements already published are substantially correct. It is said that Lycurgus Sayles was the lawyer consulted.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla does what no other blood medicine in creation can do. It searches out all the impurities in the system and expels them harmlessly through the proper channels. This is why Ayer's Sarsaparilla is so pre-eminently effective as a remedy for rheumatism.

A SUBSTANTIAL HOUSE FOR SWINE.

As many farmers have requested a description of my hog-house, I will answer the request. The house is built for eight brood sows in the spring, or fifty pigs in the fall, and furnishes plenty of room for this number. The size is twenty feet wide by twenty-four feet long. The pens are each six feet square, making the alley through the center eight feet wide, giving plenty of room to drive a load of corn under cover of the roof, to unload in the fall. Four of these pens are on each side, and one swill trough, eight feet long, answers for two pens. Over each trough is placed a swinging door, three by eight feet, so that any litter which may be rooted into them can be easily cleaned out, and the pigs can also be shut back until the swill is poured into the troughs, a great advantage as any feeder knows.

There are little doors from each pen into the alley, also into the yards on the sides of the house. These yards should have a board floor, unless the ground is very sandy and well drained. A small pen near a hog-house becomes a mortar bed, after every rain, and the object of the small yards outside is to give early pigs sunshine and more chance for exercise than a six by six pen affords. Over each pen under the upper roof is a small window to admit air and light. This slides on the scantling which supports the lower roof.

The outside posts are only four feet high, and the center posts eight feet. The roof is boarded and shingled. The house is inclosed with No. 4 boards, then paper and drop-siding are put on to keep out frost in winter. Large doors at each end can be opened when occasion requires, but for every day use a small door, thirty by seventy-eight inches, is placed at either end. A well and pump should be placed where most convenient so that no delay will occur when feeding time comes. There is but little trouble to provide places for grain and meal, but a bountiful supply of water is quite as important and often neglected. The cost of the house with lumber at twenty dollars per thousand, and shingles at three and one-half dollars is about one hundred dollars. Several loads of sand or gravel may be profitably dumped into the pigyards each year.—A. H. Sheldon, Iowa.

Bankruptcy Report.

LONDON, Sept. 24.—The report of the Inspector-General of Bankruptcy was made public yesterday. He states that there has been a gradual decline in the amount of insolvency since the operation of the present Bankruptcy law, which acts as a check.

The increase in bankruptcy since his last report was due to the collapse of Baring Brothers & Co. and the effects of the McKinley Tariff bill.

Attempted Assassination by a Police Officer.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 24.—Advices received here from Tashkend are to the effect that the chief in the Asiatic quarter of the town was attacked and stabbed by a police official while sitting in a cafe. The official made a desperate attempt to take the life of the chief, and when he thought he had succeeded he committed suicide on the spot. The affair caused intense excitement.

Another Suspicious Case in New York.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—A man named Henry Frick of No. 57 Thirteenth-street was hurried to the reception hospital by the health authorities, who believe he has the cholera. He was suddenly seized with vomiting and diarrhœa at 6 o'clock. His apartments are above an immigrant employment agency, which has recently been visited by arrivals from Hamburg.

How Mr. W. D. Weeks of Geneva, N. Y. was cured of the severest form of dyspepsia? He says everything he seemed like pouring melted lead into his stomach. Hood's Sarsaparilla effected a perfect cure. Full particulars will be sent if you write C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

The highest praise has been won by Hood's Pills for their easy, yet efficient action.

Many of the worst attacks of cholera morbus, cramps, dysentery, colic, etc., come end deadly in the night and speedy and prompt means must be used against them. Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is THE remedy. Keep it on hand for emergencies. It never fails to cure or relieve. dw

Interested People

Advertising a patent medicine in the peculiar way in which the proprietor of Kemp's Balsam for Coughs and Colds does, it is indeed wonderful. He authorizes all druggists to give those who call for it, a sample bottle free, that they may try it before purchasing. The large bottles are 50c and a dollar. We certainly would advise a trial. It may save you from consumption. dw

Mrs. Chas. Smith, of Jimco, Ohio, writes: I have used every remedy for sick headache I could hear of for the past fifteen years, but Carter's Little Liver Pills did me more good than all the rest.

GEN. ROBERTS MISSION.

A Russian Journal Regards It As a Warlike Move By England.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 26.—The Novost publishes an article in regard to the mission headed by General Sir Frederick Roberts, who was dispatched last month by the Indian Government to meet the Ameer of Afghanistan. The paper says that the mission is calculated to lead to the absorption of Afghanistan by Great Britain, which country will then cut Russia off from the route to the Indian Ocean, and that it is creating a much greater move for an Anglo-Russian war than did the Pamirs matters.

Nelson's Flagship.

LONDON, Sept. 26.—It having been announced some time ago that the old line-of-battle ship, the Foudroyant, which the English captured from the French and which subsequently became the flagship of Admiral Nelson, was to be sold to be broken up, many indignant protests have been written against the historic warship being condemned to such a fate. So strong was the patriotic feeling against the vessel being broken up, and so many were the suggestions made that the people buy the Foudroyant, that Lord Mayor Evans gave his consent Saturday to open a Mansion House fund for the purchase of the ship. The vessel has been laid up in ordinary for many years.

Sir Cecil Smith Nearly Drowned.

LONDON, Sept. 26.—A despatch to The Times from Singapore says that while Sir Cecil Smith, Governor of the Straits Settlements, was returning from Perak he met with an accident that nearly cost him his life. He had gone to confer upon the Sultan of Perak the decoration of Knight Commander of St. Michael and St. George, and while he was returning his launch struck a snag in the Kinta River. A large hole was made in the bottom of the launch, which quickly foundered. The Governor, who could not swim, sank twice before he was rescued. Two natives were drowned.

Four Days in a Hurricane.

LONDON, Sept. 26.—The British tank steamer, Vindobala, which arrived at Fiume on Sept. 17, from Philadelphia, reports that she encountered a hurricane which lasted from Aug. 19 to Aug. 22. Her decks were constantly submerged during the storm, and the vessel was much damaged. Her bunker-hatch burst and the steamer was flooded with water, and continued to settle deeper and deeper until her engines were stopped. When the storm subsided temporary repairs were effected.

Silver Must Find Its Own Level.

LONDON, Sept. 26.—The Times Calcutta correspondent says: Much soreness is displayed by the press and the public over a rumor that the Imperial Government declines to interfere in the currency question, holding the opinion that silver should be left to find its own level. The Indian Government will balance the budget by fiscal revision.

Austria and Hungary About to Mint Gold Coin.

BERLIN, Sept. 26.—A committee of the German Union of Bankers has approved the participation of Germany in the International Monetary Conference. The Banks eagerly watch the movement of silver and gold and are now specially interested in the Austro-Hungarian conversion towards a gold currency.

The gold received by the Austro-Hungarian Bank within the last six weeks amounted to 35,000,000 florins, including 3,500,000 florins of American eagles. The minting of the new gold coins is about to commence. The Austrian finance minister will issue a loan of 100,000,000 florins for minting purposes. The Hungarian finance minister announces that that government is so fully provided with gold for the mint that it will not ask a loan. It has 15,000,000 florins in gold on hand with the prospect of receiving 30,000,000 more from the surplus on the financial year.

Won't Match Nancy Hanks

LEXINGTON, Ky., Sept. 26.—Budd Doble telegraphs Mike Bannerman declining the latter's proposition to match his four-year-old champion stallion Moquette, 2.10, against Nancy Hanks, the race to take place here next March, all the money going to the winner. Doble said he would not match Nancy against any horse living.

A Glengarry Man Drowned.

LONDON, Sept. 26.—The shareholders in the London Joint Stock Bank voted power to the directors to acquire the business of any other bank. It is understood that it is intended to amalgamate with the Imperial Bank.

John Dillon Injured.

DUBLIN, Sept. 26.—Mr. John Dillon met with a painful accident here Saturday. Mr. Dillon was riding in a car when in some way he was thrown violently to the ground. Medical assistance was summoned and it was found that he had received a severe cut on the face and that the bone of his left forearm was broken. No serious results are anticipated from his injuries.

Drowned in the Lake.

HAMILTON, Sept. 26.—About noon Saturday Walter Slingerland, eldest son of John Slingerland, Stony Creek, was drowned. He had gone down to the lake shore with his brother to water the cattle and both went in bathing. Walter could only swim a short distance, and while practising he got tired and tried to touch the bottom, but found himself out of his depth. He sank and after coming to the surface once or twice went down for the last time. His brother summoned assistance, but the body could not be found. He was a promising young man and his parents are naturally the objects of much sympathy in their severe affliction.

The body was recovered by Arthur Davis about 25 feet from the shore.

Burned to Death.

HENSALL, Ont., Sept. 26.—A fire broke out last night in the Hensall House, occupied and owned by R. A. McIntyre. All of the occupants escaped with the exception of D. McIntyre, laborer, who was burned to death. The fire spread to the dwelling house owned and occupied by R. Welsh. All the adjoining buildings and stables of both dwellings were destroyed.

R. A. McIntyre's loss is $5000, insured in the Royal for $3000; R. Welsh's loss $1000, insured in the Wellington Mutual for $600.

A Voice From the Canadian Press:

The Black Death!

The Scourge of the East.

Grim Asiatic Cholera is marching with stealthy but steady stride to these Western shores.

The foe is at our doors. Sanitary science with powerful disinfectants, fumigations and rigid quarantine regulations, stands guarding our ports.

But this fell destroyer on pestilential wing seems to float in the very air, and defy all efforts to beat him back. Wherever there lingers impurity and putrefaction he takes up his abode, and the seeds of the pestilence germinate and multiply.

Public sanitary vigilance is imperative. Let the sewers be flushed and every form of impurity be swept away. Let the health of the community be maintained to the highest possible degree. But in addition to all this let every individual be on the alert

The human body has the most perfect complete system of sewerage, defying the utmost art of man to rival.

A wise Creator has provided means for the eradication of all effete and impure materials from the human body.

Morse's Indian Root Pills is such a perfect combination of the best and most energetic remedies provided by a beneficent Providence for the purpose of cleansing the whole system, "flushing the sewers," rousing up the liver, the kidneys and the whole intestinal tract to their proper functions and at the same time imparting vigor and tone to the whole system, that is is with the utmost confidence that we recommend it to the public as the best preventive of the fearful ravages of that justly dreaded disease, Asiatic Cholera.

We aim to please you as well with our Ready-Made as the suit you would leave your order for. Then there is the time gained, besides there is the difference in price. THE PRESBYTERAIN ALLIANCE HARD AT WORK.

A Hard and Fast Line Did Not Suit the Audience—Professor Rentoul Snubbed—Australians Take Umbrage and Threaten to Withdraw—Discussion on the Heathen Chinee and Other Topics.

TORONTO, Sept. 27.—The topics discussed by the Pan-Presbyterians yesterday were as full of interest as they were numerous. Omnivorous the modern D.D. is, not only capable of explaining divine mysteries but of passing judgment on all things mundane. Still they have not yet reached Solomon's standard, who spake of things great and small, and came to the conclusion that to fear God and keep His commandments was the summum bonum.

A Big Bill of Fare.

Here is a summary of the subjects discussed yesterday: Where to meet four years hence, in the sweet bye-and-bye or in fragrant Glasgow; the infallibility of the Old Testament; the American churches and the negro races; the Indian aborigines; the problem of European immigration; the heathen Chinee and his naughty ways; the Japanese and conversion; the Syriac and his surroundings; the opium trade and its connection with Christianity; the duty, in the eyes of good Presbyterians, of the Governments of the United States and Great Britain, and the varied relations of church life and work in the British Colonies. On all these points the Alliance imitated the House of Lords in good King George's glorious days—did nothing in particular and did it very well.

In accordance with apostolic exhortation the council gave honor to whom honor was due in publicly thanking Mr. Ramsay for his heroism at Niagara Falls on Saturday. O, who would not be a hero to have such public reward!

Glasgow the Guid.

But to descend from things heroic to those prosaic, seven good men and true, all the way fra Glasgo' toun, vied with each other in sounding that great city's praises. "We are so good and great, do come and see us in four years' time," was the burden of their song. And the voices of them that spake prevailed, and all the people said "Amen," save the redoubta le David James Macdonnell, who delights to be in a minority, or rather on the weaker side, and he gallantly proposed Geneva, spite of the knowledge that the Genevans had never asked for the honor.

Trifles Light as Air.

It was noticeable yesterday that a little of the dignified bearing of the reverend brethren was relaxed, doubtless owing to the Canadian tonic their spirits had received. A dozen instances might be cited, but one will suffice. Our own patriarchal Dr. Reid had at the initial meeting carried a resolution that all speeches be from the platform. Now the septuagenarian doctor had forgotten this, and rising to speak he was assailed by such potent cries of "platform" that the old man had to hobble up to say half a dozen words. Such little incidents were a relief from the weightier matters of the law and judgment and the eternal verities, which was a favorite phrase with many speakers.

Am I Not a Man and a Brudder?

The next hour was occupied with the colored brethren of the United States. It is not every day people have a colored real doctor of divinity in their midst, and one who is the president of a university. Hence the welcome more than cordial which Dr. D. J. Saunders received.

What is the Doctor like? He is nearly jet black, with well-oiled crisp hair and mustache; he wears immaculate broadcloth becoming his dignity and irreproachable shirt front and cravat. He has an educated style and almost English accent. The Doctor had miscalculated the length of his type-written effusion or had timed it by a slow-going watch, for the chairman rang him down just as he had got to the best part of his paper. This was as disappointing to the divines as the sudden breaking-off in a love story is to their servant girls at home. So to make amends special permission was given to the Doctor to read the remainder of his essay in the afternoon.

There and Here.

It was not an easy paper to summarize. Its salient features were: How well cared for the negroes were in their days of slavery! Yes, and he gave figures to prove it. Of course he was eulogistic as to the work of his own university, which had given 60 colored ministers to the Presbyterian Church, and nearly half this number to other denominations. A thoughtful consideration of the paper did not impress one with the fact that negroes any more require missionaries than do the heathen at our doors.

After the dark divine came a paid white secretary for colored work, Rev. A. L. Phillips, of that well-known spot, Tuscaloosa, in Alabama. He was a jolly-looking, well-preserved man, though silvered locks. He had the fear of the chairman's bell before his mind and rattled on at race-horse speed—300 words a minute—till the best points were murdered. And all the excuse he could make was that "I go fast because I want to get in," knowing the while that every word would be officially published.

It was satisfactory to know that the proportion of professors of religion is as large amongst the blacks as the whites. But this was nothing to the mass of figures he gave showing the progress the negroes have made materially and spiritually. The negro is conservative in opinion, and would always vote against the Higher Criticism. Racy was his description of the old negro preacher with his old beaver hat, long dress and cotton umbrella, who kept alive the faith in the rural districts. The secretary's final prescription was the three courses of Presbyterian practice: (1) secular training, (2) religious instruction, (3) the rod. [Loud laughter.]

Rev. Hugh McKay of Round Lake, Northwest Territory, a tall, gaunt man with harsh voice, spoke more pathetically of the Canadian Indians than was expected. The story has been told many a time and oft: the native paganism, the privations, self-torture and far-reaching "cries in the dark" for Christian illumination. All of which touched the delegates' hearts, and the reciter verily had his reward.

Rev. Dr. Ellinwood of New York, though a little man, was an able substitute for Rev. Dr. Williamson of South Dakota, who also had a paper on "The Indian Aborigines." The speaker justified the work of missionaries because of the prevalence of theorists who would have the common schools the "be all and end all" of education for the Indians. Interesting was the story of the reason of the sullen distrust of the natives as to the American Government. How treaties had been abrogated or disregarded he explained, and caused laughter when he said he believed that it was the knowledge of this fact that led Jonathan Edwards to write his treatise on the total depravity of man. [Loud laughter.]

Emigrants From Europe.

Rev. Dr. Steffens of Michigan, a tall, stout man, bearded like the pard, labored to show that it was the Americanizing of the various nationalities of emigrants that spoiled them. He, too, had plenty of figures, all telling of missionary success.

Dr. Ruetenik of Cleveland, Ohio, in foreign accent, gave a rather dry address on similar lines to the previous speaker. As to the volume of immigration he quoted that one-fourth of all the voters in the United States are of foreign birth. Not one-fourth of the inhabitants of Chicago are Americans.

This was a startling statement, but more so was the following: More than four-fifths of the immigrants into the States are Roman Catholics.

The Heathen Chinee.

This interesting gentleman was the chief topic for the remainder of yesterday afternoon's session. Rev. Dr. Baker of Philadelphia waxed eloquent about John Chinaman and his wrongs. How this led to a wrong impression of Christianity was ably showed. In burning words the doctor denounced the policy of the American Government in its treatment of the Chinese as "a cowardly one and a disgrace to a professedly Christian nation."

Of the success of missions to the Chinese Dr. Baker, Dr. Hall, Dr. Bushnell, Dr. Good and Dr. King spoke.

Introduced Politics.

Rev. Dr. Cochrane voiced the feelings of many of the delegates when he suggested an official representation to the governments of the United States and Canada as to the grievances of the celestials. Other divines chimed in and politics superabounded over Christianity. This opened the door to the introduction of the opium question. But on this there were diverse voices as to expediency, and ultimately the matter was left in the hands of the Business Committee.

A Lively Session at Night.

"Church Life and Work in the British Colonies," in the hands of Rev. Dr. Robertson of Winnipeg, developed into a eulogium of Canada, especially of the Scotch settlers reared on oatmeal and the Shorter Catechism.

Rev. Professor Rentoul, one of the Australasian delegates, made the most eloquent speech of the day. His speech was extempore and punctuated with profuse applause. He was humorous as well as earnest. "We want no Stiggins ministers," cried he. "God save the people from the men that write books and from the books that men write"—in allusion to the prevalent ignorance of Australasian matters.

Carried on by the exuberance of his verbosity the time allotted had expired ere the Professor was half through. He asked for an extension of time, but the chairman was inexorable. Then came a scene. Dr. McGaw of Australia, Principal Grant, Rev. D. J. Macdonnell each appealed on behalf of the Professor, Dr. McGaw going so far as to threaten the withdrawal of the Antipodean delegates. Ultimately five minutes was granted the learned divine, who with independence and backbone, declined the puny and tardy gift.

This little episode, the only instance of friction so far, spoiled the effect of the meeting.

Charged With Perjury.

GODERICH, Ont., Sept. 27.—Robert J. K. Gore was arrested here yesterday charged with perjury. Gore is the man who furnished certain statements attacking the reputation of Mr. M. C. Cameron, ex-M. P., which led to the libel suit against The Goderich Star, some time ago. Gore left suddenly for Detroit and remained there until recently, when he returned to town. During the trial of the libel suit he kept under cover, as a warrant had been issued for his arrest, but this morning he made his appearance in the street. He was at once arrested by Constable Knox and taken to jail where he awaits the preliminary trial, which will take place Wednesday afternoon.

Cotton on Fire in Her Hold.

HALIFAX, N.S., Sept. 27.—The steamer Martello, with cotton, cattle and general cargo, from New York for Hull, England, put in here yesterday with her cargo on fire.

The fire was discovered Saturday 180 miles east of Halifax. The fire is in the cotton in the hold between decks. The ship's fire apparatus was used with good effect, but the docks are very hot to-day. To-morrow morning the hatches will be removed. Powerful pumping tugs lie alongside the Martello to flood her if flames burst forth.

A Woolen Mill Burned.

SEKLIRK, Ont., Sept. 27.—At 1.30 yesterday it was discovered that one end of Mr. H. Hepworth's woolen mill was in a blaze. The alarm was at once given, but nothing could be saved. The building with all the machinery and a small stock was totally consumed. The cause of the fire cannot be ascertained. Loss about $3000; no insurance.

A Horrible Death.

BURNSIDE, Conn, Sept. 27.—In leaving Walker's paper mill by a window Saturday night Michael Lawler slipped from the window sill and fell into a vat of solution of soda ash. The window closed after him and no one heard his cries. Yesterday his body was found in the vat. The vat is of boiler iron, 10 feet deep and contained four feet of the liquid. It was impossible for Lawler to get out unassisted, and he slowly perished from the poison of the solution, which ate away his skin and portions of his flesh.

The Telegraphers' Strike.

CEDAR RAPIDS, Ia., Sept. 27.—The striking telegraph operators on the Cedar Rapids and Northern Railroad felt more confident yesterday of winning than at any time since the inauguration of the strike. The strikers say encouraging reports are coming in from all parts of the system, and that the new men who were induced to take the place of the strikers continue to come out.

Griffin Whips Lynch.

CONEY ISLAND, Sept. 27.—Seven thousand persons assembled at the Athletic Club last night to witness the contests of Sam Kelly and Bob Cunningham and Jimmy Lynch of New York and Johnny Griffin of Braintrice, Mass. Cunningham won the first fight and Griffin the second in the fourth round, when he knocked Lynch out.

Disgrace Drove Him to Suicide.

JERSEY CITY, N.Y., Sept. 27.—Richard H. Trested, charged with criminal assault upon a 10-year-old girl, blew his brains out with a pistol yesterday. He left a letter protesting his innocence.

Church Chimes.

Rev. A. H. Scott of Perth, preached two fine discourses in St. Paul's church yesterday.

The sermon in St. John's church on Sunday evening next will be preached to young men.

A large and handsome portrait of the late Geo. Barlee has been hung in St. John's vestry by the choir.

Rev. Jos. H. Locke, pastor of the George street Methodist church, conducted anniversary sermons in the Bowmanville Methodist church yesterday

Rev. Jas. Thom. B.A., pastor of Mark street church, and Rev. Geo. Edwards, pastor of the Charlotte street church, exchanged pulpits last evening.

Rev. Mr. Scott, of Perth, addressed the Y.M.C.A. last evening. In the afternoon Mr. James Sutherland gave one of his straight talks. The attendance at both of these services was large.

Rev. Mr. Edwards, pastor of Charlotte street church, yesterday morning read a letter from Rev. E. Roberts, president of the Bay of Quinte Conference, to the members of the various churches.

Owing to the heavy downpour of rain, which came down so suddenly shortly before seven o'clock last evening, the attendance at the various churches was very meagre, not half the usual number of worshippers in each being present.

A large congregation assembled in St. Andrew's church Sunday morning; Rev. A. McWilliams occupied the pulpit. The Rev. gentleman took for his text, Psalm 31 19, Oh how great is Thy goodness which Thou hast laid up for them that fear Thee." He showed how God had laid up in stores for His people at the time of creation. He showed that coal and all minerals, fruits, plants and all vegetable life were all stored up, only to be given to us at such times as we needed them. He also showed that God's spiritual blessings were also stored up at the beginning and only when we needed them did He pour out his many blessings on His people. In the morning the choir, under the leadership of Mr. Tilley, sang, "Go not far from me Oh God," in very fine style, and in the evening, though the weather was bad, the choir was well represented. They sang, "Abide with me," before the sermon, and during the collection, "He abides forever", was sung as a duet by Mrs. Jones and Miss Harris with firm voice and good effect.

As a general rule, it is best not to correct costiveness by the use of saline or drastic medicine. When a purgative is needed, the most prompt, effective, and beneficial is Ayer's Pills. Their tendency is to restore, and not weaken, the normal action of the bowels.

A Montreal Girl's Answer to His Friend.

"Yes, my dear fellow; you will truly find that Paine's Celery Compound is what you require if you would banish that dyspepsia, and the headache which trouble you so often.

"I have used it for the same troubles, and must say that its results were great and effective. I used it fourteen months ago, when I had a very bad attack of dyspepsia. I was also troubled with insomnia at the same time; the three bottles that I used made me a new man, and I have not had a touch of the troubles since."

This is the experience of thousands who have used Paine's Celery Compound for dyspepsia, indigestion and insomnia; and the remarks of a Montreal gentleman given above, are ably supported by scores of testimonials sent in every month to the proprietors of Paine's Celery Compound.

A Historic Cane and a Popular Fellow.

Mr. Geo. H. Locke, son of Rev. Jos. H. Locke, pastor of the George street Methodist church, leaves on Thursday for Toronto, to enter upon his senior year in Arts at the new Victoria University in Queen's Park. Mr. Locke is pursuing an honor course in classics and besides this, has the enviable distinction of carrying "the class cane" for the year '93. This class trophy is a handsome ebony stick with a rich, heavy and highly ornamented solid gold head, and its estimated value is $125. Among the students curios within Victoria's museum are two of these class canes which have been preserved as interesting mementoes after fifteen years faithful service each. The practice of carrying the cane is regulated in this wise. At the end of each academic year a general vote is taken among the juniors as to who is the most popular fellow in the class, and the third year man having the largest number of ballots cast in his favor has the proud honor of carrying "the class stick" for the next year, his graduating or senior year. The temporary possessor has to get his name and the year engraved on a gold shield upon the valuable cane. The golden staff which belongs to Mr. Locke this year, is thirteen years of age. It was carried in 1890 by Mr. Carson of Port Hope, who died during his University course. Mr. W. J. Drope, B.A., of the Collegiate Institute only lacked one vote from being accorded the privilege of "sporting the stick" in the year 1889.

A most estimable lady almost destroyed until Dr. Butler's Golden Pills came to the rescue. After their use for a short time she was able to resume her duties, after suffering untold misery from nervous prostration and the ills that attend that most distressing disease. These, if not checked in time, lead to insanity and death. Golden Pills are guaranteed to cure all nervous and blood diseases.

Thirty Days to Live!

Sam Murray's Death Sentence Commuted —What Everyone in Gravenhurst is Talking of.

GRAVENHURST, Sept. 21.—Too many friends of Sam Murray will be delighted to learn that he is himself again, and that after undergoing intense suffering, such as few have experienced. Sam, as everyone knows, is a railroader, or rather was up to the time, two years ago, when he met with an accident while engaged in coupling cars. One hand was crushed and he lost several fingers This was on September 17th, 1890. For five months and a half the poor fellow was laid off work, but his old friends did not desert him, and many were the kind enquiries sent from all along the line as to how he was getting along. At last Sam thought he was able to work and was put to break on a passenger train and ran on the Meaford Mail for about a month. He was next changed to the Muskoka mixed and after a short time was transferred to a way freight between Gravenhurst and North Bay, but he failed steadily, like a man in consumption lost flesh every day, From nearly 200 pounds he went down to 140.

On June 19th last year he finished one of his usual runs and that same evening when taking a walk with a lady he fell on the sidewalk, where he lay as if dead. The young lady gave the alarm and Sam was carried to a doctor's office. The doctor said he had an attack of ACUTE LOCAL FATIGUE and that if he was ever able to work again it would only be by taking the utmost care of himself. But he recovered to a certain extent and then had another attack while taking a row on the lake. Then the spells came upon him with greater frequency, and while they lasted he lost all consciousness. One doctor gave him thirty days to live, while another told him he believed he would have sixty days in which to settle his earthly affairs. This was anything but pleasant news, and yet Sam's cheery smile never forsook him. He belongs to the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, and of course received his sick benefit from the G. T. R. At last four doctors gave sworn certificates that he would never be able to resume his duties as a trainman. The Grand Trunk railway paid him off, and the Insurance Branch to which he belonged gave him half the amount of his life insurance on account of total disability.

The Grand Trunk doctors made several examinations and the company gave him several passes to Toronto to consult with specialists. At last he received a certificate stating that his blood was diseased and that he should never attempt to do any work. Like Job, he was covered with boils.

Sam's position is a peculiar one. In the first place, the doctors who ought to know say that he is unable to work and never will be. Their certificates to that effect are now being considered by the supreme authorities of the Brotherhood, and unless Sam declines to accept his insurance they will have to pay him. But on the other hand he is looking for work, and says he is as well as ever he was. His explanation of his sudden recovery is the talk of the town as well as of his comrades of the road. For months he could not sleep on back or sides and had to take what little rest he got by lying on his stomach.

One day some one threw a little book called KIDNEY TALK into his door, and his wife after reading it persuaded her husband to try a box of Dodd's Kidney Pills. He agreed simply to please her, but without any expectation of getting relief. Strange to say, the pills did relieve him and he took several boxes of them, the result being that to-day he is as well as ever he was. Sam says he cannot understand it and don't care, however, seeing that he knows the pills have cured him and he is able once again to work for his little family.—Gravenhurst Banner.

Idyl Wild Exhibition.

Mr. H. Calcutt's agricultural exhibition was held at Idyl Wild on Friday and passed off pleasantly. Interested People

Advertising a patent medicine in the peculiar way in which the proprietor of Kemp's Balsam for Coughs and Colds does, it is indeed wonderful. He authorizes all druggists to give those who call for it, a sample bottle free, that they may try it before purchasing. The large bottles are 50c and a dollar. We certainly would advise a trial. It may save you from consumption. dw

A woman who is weak, nervous and sleepless, and who has cold hands and feet, cannot feel and act like a well person. Carter's Iron Pills equalize the circulation, remove nervousness and give strength and rest.

As a healing, soothing application for cuts wounds, bruises and sores, there is nothing better than Victoria Carbolic Salve. dw

There are more cases of sickness and death from diseased kidneys than from all other diseases combined. It is your own fault if you allow your kidneys to remain in an unhealthy condition when the cure is at hand. Dodd's Kidney Pills are guaranteed to cure the worst cases. It costs but little to give them a trial. They are for sale by all druggists and dealers or by mail on receipt of 50 cents or 6 boxes for $2 50.

Milburn's Aromatic Quinine Wine is distinctly superior to any other as an appetising tonic and fortifier. dw

Mrs. Chas. Smith, of Jimes, Ohio, writes: I have used every remedy for sick headache I could hear of for the past fifteen years, but Carter's Little Liver Pills did me more good than all the rest.

THE FACT

That AYER'S Sarsaparilla CURES OTHERS of Scrofulous Diseases, Eruptions, Boils, Eczema, Liver and Kidney Diseases, Dyspepsia, Rheumatism, and Catarrh should be convincing that the same course of treatment WILL CURE YOU. All that has been said of the wonderful cures effected by the use of

during the past fifty years, truthfully applies to-day. It is, in every sense, The Superior Medicine. Its curative properties, strength, effect, and flavor are always the same; and for whatever blood diseases AYER'S Sarsaparilla is taken, they yield to this treatment. When you ask for

IS PREPARING FOR FALL BUSINESS.

The reading public of the town and county of Peterborough must have noticed from time to time our advertisement in this paper. We do not wish to trouble the public too frequently with astounding advertisements, telling them that at our store, and our store only, is the place to deal. Come to think of it, we never advertise in that style at all. We have always tried to stick to ONE GRAND PRINCIPLE, viz.: TO ADVERTISE EXACTLY WHAT WE INTENDED DOING, AND TO DO EXACTLY WHAT WE ADVERTISED. Having just returned from the wholesale markets, where a purchase of $3,271,56 was effected for CASH, will simply mention here a few of the various classes of goods bought, and leave the purchasing public to judge if we have or have not kept faith with our announcement.

HERE ARE THE PRINCIPAL LINES:

1 Lot of Ladies' Mantles in the latest styles, amounting to $575.00. Of the dozens and dozens of them there are not two alike. No use in quoting prices; not two are the same price. Just come and examine them.

Dress Goods, $875.60. Space does not not permit us saying what we would like to about these goods. Suffice it to say this much: We will give you 12 yards of all-wool Serge, in choice of shades, Trimmings and all for $2.15.

Mantle Cloths, $508.40. The balance of our purchase was made up in many lines of Staple and Fancy Goods. Perhaps you'll smile when we say that we have a Large Table in the Centre of the Floor covered with Lovely Dress and Mantle Buttons, worth 25c, 40 and 50c. per dozen. Come in and help yourself to any of them AT THREE AND ONE-HALF CENTS PER DOZEN.

We have always claimed to keep on hand the most reliable stock Gloves and Hosiery to be had in town. We will just add once more that should any of our Celebrated French Kids burst on first trying on we will replace them with pleasure.

THE CENTRAL EXHIBITION.

His Honour Lieut.-Governor Kirkpatrick Arrives in Town.

He Formally Opens the Fair—Thousands of Visitors Throng the Streets—The Exhibition a Great Success—Presentation of Addresses at the Grounds to the Vice Regal Visitor—He is Royally Entertained—Other Notes and Jottings on the Central.

The second day of the Central was blessed with beautifully bright, clear weather, and at an early hour the exhibitors were all upon the ground and all the exhibits were placed. Owing to the attractions of the arrival of the Lieut.-Governor Kirkpatrick, there were few visitors in the morning, though, perhaps, larger than other years at the same time. But about 12 30 the visitors began to arrive in large numbers and by the time the Lieut.-Governor and his entourage arrived, the grounds were thronged with visitors, whose number was largely increased immediately after the vice-regal party arrived.

At an early hour everything was astir and people rushing here and there making elaborate preparations for the welcoming of the hundreds of guests to Peterborough who are in town to-day to see the sights of the exhibition.

The incoming trains on all the railroads brought large numbers of people to town while hundreds drove in from the country on all the roads leading to Peterborough. By noon, thousands of people were in town and thronged the streets in one great jolting mass of humanity. The children of the Ashburnham and town schools were allowed their liberty for the day and helped to augment the numbers. The streets were gaily decorated by many of the merchants who made a liberal display of flags and bunting. Near the Peter Hamilton's M'f'g. Co's. works was strung a white banner across the street on which was inscribed that magic word "Welcome." At 11 45 a large number gathered at the C.P.R. station awaiting the arrival of the east bound express which would bear to Peterborough His Honor Hon. George A. Kirkpatrick and party, who came to formally open the exhibition. A committee consisting of His Worship, Mayor Kendry, Mr. Geo. E. Elliott, president of the Central Fair, Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., and Mr. James Stevenson, M.P., and others, met the vice-regal party on arrival of the train, which was 15 minutes late. The distinguished visitor and party, which consisted of His Honour the Lt.-Governor and Mrs. Kirkpatrick, his aide de camp, Colonel Law, and the Hon. John Dryden, Minister of Agricultural for Ontario arrived in the private car "Thessalon." He was met at the station by a cavalry escort, consisting of 20 members of "C" troop of the Prince of Wales Dragoons, all mounted on prancing chargers and under the command of Lt.-Col. H. C. Rogers, Lts. E. B. Loucks and Wm. Bradburn and Sergt. Major Goldie. The vice-regal party, passing through the ladies' waiting room, were escorted to carriages which were in waiting for them. A procession was then formed headed by the cavalry escort and followed by the handsome carriages in line, the first of which contained Mrs. Kirkpatrick, Mrs. J. F. Dennistoun and Miss Mamie Dennistoun; next in order came the conveyance in which was seated His Honor, the Lieut.-Governor, his aide de campe Col. Law and His Worship Mayor Kendry. Other carriages contained the Hon. John Dryden, Jas. Stevenson, M.P., J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., Thos. Blazzard, M.P.P., President Geo. E. Elliott, and representatives of the town and county councils, board of trade and agricultural society. In front of the new market building the procession halted and the notables and guests repaired to the new market hall to partake of luncheon served up in an elaborate and magnificent manner by Mr. D. Lackie, proprietor of the Grand Central Hotel. The long row of tables were artistically decorated and presented a charming appearance. Flags flowers, evergreens and bunting were displayed in tasteful arrangement and an endless profusion. About sixty guests sat down to luncheon. Mayor Kendry filled the position of chairman, and on his right were seated His Honor Lieut.-Governor Kirkpatrick, James Stevenson, M. P., J. R. Stratton, M. P. P. and on the left, Hon. John Dryden, Minister of Agriculture, John Burnham, M.P., Thos. Blazzard, M.P.P., His Honor Judge Ketchum, Geo. E. Elliott, President of Central Fair; Col. H. C. Rogers, H. C. Garbutt and others occupied seats around the head of the table. Warden Jas. Forster filled the position of vice-chair.

After sufficient justice had been done the spread, the toast of "Her Majesty the Queen" was proposed by His Worship, Mayor Kendry, and heartily drank. The chairman then proposed the health of their guest, "The Lieut. Governor of Ontario," which was loyally honoured amid cheers and "For he's a jolly good fellow." Hon. Mr. Kirkpatrick in a happy address made a grateful and appreciative reply, thanking the societies for their warm reception and the pleasure it afforded him to visit Peterborough for the first time in his official capacity. He spoke briefly of the prosperity of the country and the success of the farming community in general. At the close he was enthusiastically applauded. At 1.30 o'clock the members of parliament, civic and county councillors, agricultural society officers, and members of the board of trade who dined with the gubernatorial guest formed a procession and headed by the band were driven in carriages to the exhibition park. The Lieut.-Governor accompanied by aide-de-camp Col. Law, and escorted by the cavalry was driven up George street to the residence of Mrs. J. F. Dennistoun, where Lady Kirkpatrick and party had been previously escorted by the cavalry guard. The procession consisting of Lieut.-Gov. and Mrs. Kirkpatrick and party and the cavalry escort moved down George street to Dublin, up Dublin to Water, down Water to Hunter, down Hunter to George and thence to the Exhibition Park. The line of march was packed with hundreds upon hundreds of people. At the exhibition grounds His Excellency ascended a canopied platform amid the vociferous cheering from a great multitude of admirers. He was loyally received by the guard of honor from the 57th Battalion, under command of Capt. Brennan, Lieut. Mills and Capt. Loch, (lieutenants.) His Honor was then presented with the following loyal addresses on behalf of the Agricultural Society, County Council, Board of Trade, and Town Council. His Honor thankfully acknowledged the honor done him and returned thanks to the numerous organizations for their too flattering addresses. He spoke of the very great pleasure it gave him to have the distinguished privilege and signal the honour of formally opening such a large and representative exhibition as the Peterborough Central. He then in a neat speech formally declared the exhibition open to the public. Addresses were also delivered by Hon. John Dryden, Minister of Agriculture, Jas. Stevenson, M.P., John Burnham, M.P., Mayor Kendry, Warden Forster, J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., Thos. Blazzard, M.P.P., President G. E. Elliott and others. Following are the copies of the addresses presented to Lieut. Governor Kirkpatrick:

CENTRAL EXHIBITION ADDRESS.

Hon. George Airey Kirkpatrick, LL D., Q. C., Lieutenant Governor of the Province of Ontario.

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR HONOUR:—

We the President and Directors of the Peterborough Central Exhibition, desire on behalf of the society, to extend to you and Mrs. Kirpatrick a most cordial greeting and welcome to our Annual Exhibition. At the same time we would also cordially congratulate Your Honour upon being appointed to the honourable and responsible position of Lieut.-Governor—a fitting recognition of your ability to uphold, the dignity of the office and to discharge the duties of representative of Her Most Gracious Majesty—an enviable office in respect of any of the possessions of the Queen, but, in our opinion, especially so in regard to this great Province, the keystone of the Confederation arch. This province is the most important, particularly in the resources and whose interests we, this society represent, namely the agricultural resources; and we feel honoured that you should take the trouble to appear amongst us to inaugurate our exhibition. We take it as an evidence of the practical interest you have in the foremost industry of this Province, of which we may say, with pardonable pride, Peterborough county forms no unworthy or insignificant portion.

We feel that the interests of agriculture, which have been fostered and guarded by your Honour's predecessors, with the assistance of able advisers, who are also your own advisers, will receive the same liberal treatment and wise encouragement at your Honour's hands. Our certainty in this regard is strengthened by the fact of your having enjoyed for nearly a score of years the continued confidence in a representative capacity, of the electors of a farming constituency.

You will permit us to notice the presence here of one of Your Honour's advisers—to us the most important—in the person of Hon. John Dryden, Minister of Agriculture for the Province of Ontario, whom we also warmly welcome, both as a distinguished member of the farming profession, and as a Minister who has given ample evidence of his fitness for the position, and his willingness and power to promote the interests it represents.

Permit us once again to extend a hearty welcome to Your Honour, and to express the wish for a long life of usefulness and happiness, in which we would ask permission to include Mrs. Kirkpatrick also.

Signed on behalf of the officers and members of the West Riding Central Exhibition.

GEORGE E ELLIOTT,
President,
WILLIAM COLLINS,
Secretary.

THE TOWN'S ADDRESS.

To the Hon. George Airey Kirkpatrick, LL.D., Q C., Lieut.-Governor of the Province of Ontario:

On behalf of the corporation of the Town of Peterborough, we desire on this, the occasion of your first visit in your official capacity, to extend to you a most hearty welcome, and to express our sense of the high honour you have conferred upon us by giving us an opportunity of presenting our respects to one, who by reason of his distinguished ability, is so eminently qualified to occupy the high and honoured position to which you have been appointed.

Your long and honoured public career as a member of the House of Commons for twenty years has identified you with the growth and progress of the Dominion, a progress in which we are glad to inform you the town of Peterborough has had its share as evidenced by the growth of the town and the location here of some of the largest manufacturing industries in the province. Our railway facilities are unexcelled and from a business standpoint our town occupies a prominent position. It will afford us pleasure to be permitted to show you our town and present to your view our great manufacturing facilities which we are assured are not surpassed in this large and prosperous province.

We shall be glad to have the opportunity of bringing them to your notice and if time permits to your inspection. Although our town has not had any phenomenal growth yet we believe it has laid a foundation for future importance and from enjoying the many surrounding advantages it has, we are magazine of its continued progress and material prosperity.

We congratulate you on the high and honoured position you hold in this fair province of ours and beg to extend to you and Mrs. Kirkpatrick our warmest respects and trust that you may thoroughly enjoy your sojourn among us and find much in our growing town that will prove of interest to you. Sincerely wishing you and her long life and happiness.

Signed on behalf of the corporation.

JOHN B. CORE, Town Clerk. JAS KENDRY, Mayor.

THE COUNTY'S ADDRESS.

To the Hon Geo. Airey Kirkpatrick LL D., Q C., Lieutenant Governor of the Province of Ontario:

The County Council of the County of Peterborough desire to extend you and Mrs. Kirkpatrick a most hearty welcome on your first official visit to this county. They wish to take advantage of this occasion to express their appreciation of the institutions and laws under which they dwell, to express their love for this part the Dominion of which they are proud to form a part and to give utterance to their devotion to their Queen, emotion that is founded upon feeling, upon the most loyal regard. As Canadians we are happy to say that the people of this country have been able in many instances to congratulate themselves upon the eminent men who have been called to the highest position in their gift, and we assure you that the people of this province feel that they have done themselves an exceptional honor in the appointment of yourself to your exalted office. In conclusion this council on behalf of the people of the county beg to express their pleasure in meeting Mrs. Kirkpatrick and yourself on this occasion.

In Cotswolds, the exhibitors were Robert Vance and A. Humphries.

The Oxford Down exhibitors were F. Birdsall & Son and John Stothart.
In Shropshires the exhibitors were Robert Vance, Brown Bros. and W. J. Miller.

SWINE.

In this class there was about the same exhibit as that of last year. The principal exhibitors were R. L. Holdsworth, Robert Vance, Jas. Redmond, D. Forsythe, Robert Scollie, Brown Bros., H. E. Sharp, Fred Weldon, Wm. McNairn, A. Saunders, Robert Bowles, Jas. Baptie, John Brockenridge, H. C. Winch and George Berry.

POULTRY.

In this department the exhibit was superior of that of the previous year. The exhibitors were, J. Bumwell, Jas. Wood, R. Bowles, R. L. Holdsworth, R. Walton, Jacob Doupe, G. W. Fitzgerald, A. R. Kidd, Thos. Weir, D. Forsythe, Thos. Sabine, John Bell, H. Claxton, F. Waldon, Percy Hamilton, Lewis Dawser, Wm. Collins, Robert Norton, Jas. Baptie, A. Sanders, J. R. Goodfellow and C. S. Garbutt.

THE INSIDE EXHIBIT.

Within the exhibition there was generally about the same quality of exhibit as last year, better in some cases and very defective in others.

An attraction that is year by year becoming more familiar is the exhibit of the products of Manitoba and the Northwest. This consists of wheat, oats, barley and other grains threshed and in the straw. Specimens of anthracite coal from the Galt mines and of bituminous coal, and building bricks of clay from the Edmonton mines.

Gough Bros., the wonderful cheap men, occupy their old familiar section the scenes of the baby shows of this and preceding years, with a splendid display of clothing, as much as many ordinary country shops contain altogether. It consists of 400 suits, 200 pairs of pants, one hundred overcoats, besides a large amount of gentlemen's furnishings of large variety. The display was very tastefully arranged by Mr. J. D Tully.

Mr. T. M. D Crowly shows dry air spruce lined refrigerators. These are so constructed that while they are cool inside they are so perfectly dry, that matches kept in them for hours ignite readily. These refrigerators are made in different sizes, finished in oak, ash and pine as desired. The interior is hermetically air tight the doors being rubber jointed. Box 198 Peterborough.

Grafton & Co. make their first exhibition display of ready made clothing which in this case consists of 100 men's and 75 boys' suits and 75 mens' overcoats, besides the suits displayed on about a dozen lay figures. Their fine exhibit was arranged and in charge of Mr. Walter Weslay. About 15 fine banners ettes give a festive air to this section, which is a credit to the firm.

J. Hendricks shows samples of the White Sewing Machine.

The show of grains is not large, but the quality is unusually good.

There was a fine display better than former ones of roots and vegetables

There was a fine show of canned fruits, vegetables, pickles, etc., but the display of the dairy department was very much off for a dairying county, only a very small exhibit being made.

In the fruit department there was a splendid display of apples, though this is considered an off year for fruit, there being absolutely no plums in this district. A good display of grapes and crab apples was made. Mr. E. A. Fernside of Hamilton, had made about forty entries for fruit but they failed for some reason to come.

A very fine display of flowering plants and cut flowers, bouquets, etc., was presented.

The fine arts department was better than in former years—a larger display and better quality.

Mr. Harold Claxton exhibited twenty photographs—views of Peterborough and Stony Lake scenery—very creditable, both as to selection of subject and artistic treatment.

Mr. A. Blanchard, of the Peterborough Business College, exhibits some very fine specimens of plain and ornamental penmanship, most admirably done.

In pencil drawing there was some work worthy of praise. In oils there was a commendable selection, some exceedingly creditable amateur work and some not quite up to the mark. Crayons were very creditably represented—some unusually good specimens being shown. There were also some sepia drawings, and some china plaques well finished.

The ladies' department was not up in quantity perhaps to the exhibits of other years, but there was some beautiful work shown. Domestic manufactures, flannels carpets, blankets, etc. were fair.

Police Court.

At the police court this morning the case of Mrs. Mary Shuter who laid two informations against Samuel Dawson a youth in his teens, one charging him with throwing stones and breaking her windows on August 18th, and the other for using grossly insulting language to her on Sunday, last was heard. The magistrate, after witnesses had been examined, dismissed the case as the evidence of the prosecution was not strong enough to convict the boy of the offences charged.

Harry Lindley at the Opera House.

The Celebrated Comedian and His Excellent Troupe Produces "The Castaways" to a Large House.

The Harry Lindley Company opened a three nights' engagement at the opera house last evening. A large house greeted the production of "The Castaways," a fine nautical drama written by Mr. Lindley himself. The central figure was, of course, the genial Harry himself, and, as of old, he never fails to please, delight and amuse. In "Tony" he was the embodiment of a broad wit, a sly humour, and a vague, yet plainly defined, pathos. As a "landlubber," he could not sail, and as a lover he could not woo. Miss Adelaide Fiske's reputation had preceded her and last night her superb acting and winsome manner did not disappoint her many friends. As "Maggie Grierson" she is possessed of a snap and go, a determined will, a decisive spirit, and a resolute endeavour. Mr. G. Livingstone in the role of "Reuben Lloyd," is a polished villain, whose infamous acts, like those of his unscrupulous consort, Reuben Allen (Mr. E. Lewis) whose indulgences in chicanery are in the end revealed, and their duplex cowardly tactics brought to a painful light. Miss Ida Palmer is the prima donna of the troupe. Her career as "Rose Williams," is implicit yet fickle. Little Ethel Lindly, a wee dot of a creature, sang in a rich child like voice. "Hannah, Won't you come out To-night?" and in response to a hearty encore volunteered "Tara ra boom de a," which rendering in her sweet childish simplicity took the audience by storm. The remainder of the cast rendered a firm and well trained support. To-night the company will produce "Reddy, the Mail Girl," in which Miss Fiske personates the title of this melodrama.

"No, not to us, though the material is much more expensive, yet Mr. Sproule believes in having the best obtainable. He says nothing is too good for his patrons, and these certainly bear out his statements; and his studio, is so convenient—no stairs to climb yourself, nor have you any fear about the children."

awful brink of death. With a bound he gained them and all the power of concentrated love broke forth in his cry for—Zell. He leaned forward and encircled her with his arms, with his two hands he caught the rope of gleaming hair, then braced himself to sustain the weight, the fall of Zanea would make, and prevent Zell from being strangled. Only a moment of this horrible waiting, a heavy jerk, then Terry lurched backward, bearing his Zell to safety. He unwound her hair from around her neck and watched her lay still and white in his arms. A distant, muffled splash told that Zanea, too, lay still and white, but in death.

"Zanea, hast thou left me, my light? Where art thou gone, my child? To seek thy mother thou hast left thy father. Nobly, without a cry of fear thou didst receive grim death. To be with thee, my illustrious one again, I would forfeit the havesting of my life's great work. Thou wert the greater Ishmael. Ishmael was but the scive that winnowed thy great thoughts. Zanea, Zanea, where hast thou gone? What is beyond? They will not come. They will not come. They—they come not."

More feeble grew the voice and body. Down on the rock he sank. His spirit had sought Zanea's away in the mystical hereafter. Terry bore Zell into the cave and placed her on one of the couches, then hastened to Ishmael. He lifted the time-worn man and placed him, too, on one of the beds he had prepared for his victims. He then ran swiftly down the hill, untied his boat, pushed it from the shore, and paddled down the Tarn to seek Shem's assistance. Shem sat by the water's edge waiting Terry's return.

"Shem, hurry into the boat. Ishmael and Zanea are dead, and Zell needs you sorely. Make haste, Shem!"

Shem struggled to his feet.

"Ishmael dead, and Zanea? Impossible, Terry Denver! Impossible!"

"Oh, haste, Shem. If Zell should gain consciousness alone there with the dead!"

"Yes. Yes."

Back they sped. They strained every muscle to increase the speed. Terry waited not to tie the boat, but up the hill they ran without a break. Zell lay as Terry had left her. Shem bent over her, numb with fear least she too was gone. Her eyes opened, and she whispered:

"Father Ambrose, I have studied hard. Zanea says I know my first lesson. I will soon read."

Then a more distinct recollection of events surged through her dazed brain, a tremor ran from nerve to nerve, and she raised her hand to her throat.

"Where is Zanea, Terry? Shem, we were so near the edge."

"You are safe now Zell, all safe."

"Where is Zanea? Tell me."

"She is in the water. She fell from the platform."

"Oh, Terry."

"We will have to go and seek her body. Shem, what will we do with Zell?"

"I will go with you. When you find her I am the one who ought to be there."

"Very well. Shem, has Ishmael no attendant?"

"German Syrup"

G. Gloger, Druggist, Watertown, Wis. This is the opinion of a man who keeps a drug store, sells all medicines, comes in direct contact with the patients and their families, and knows better than anyone else how remedies sell, and what true merit they have. He hears of all the failures and successes, and can therefore judge: "I know of no medicine for Coughs, Sore Throat, or Hoarseness that had done such effective work in my family as Boschee's German Syrup. Last winter a lady called at my store, who was suffering from a very severe cold. She could hardly talk, and I told her about German Syrup and that a few doses would give relief; but she had no confidence in patent medicines. I told her to take a bottle, and if the results were not satisfactory I would make no charge for it. A few days after she called and paid for it, saying that she would never be without it in future as a few doses had given her relief." ⊕

A KNOTTY QUESTION

Which can only be Solved after Mature Deliberation.

Every father and mother, before buying Boots and Shoes for their children, should hold a consultation together and try and arrive at an answer to the following five questions:

1. What kind of boots do we want?
2. Are any to be got that will wear well?
3. Who keeps this kind?
4. Are these people reliable?
5. Can they afford to sell good boots cheap?

Having carefully analyzed these questions to their satisfaction, why not decide to try

HARD TASK FOR MORLEY

THE IRISH LANDLORDS ARRAYED AGAINST THE SECRETARY.

He Suspended the Coercion Act, Saying That He Could Govern Ireland Without it, and the Land Owners Proceed to Make It Difficult for Him—Mr. Morley Will Have to Move Carefully

LONDON, Sept. 26.—The Irish landlords have now entered upon their plan of campaign, which they confidently trust will prove more successful than did that captained by Mr. William O'Brien and Mr. John Dillon. As long as the Conservatives were in office evictions were kept down to a minimum with the consequent cessation of outrage and disorder. Mr. Arthur Balfour's strong personality prevailed to keep the landlords quiet, while he and his colleagues were responsible for the quietude of the country. As Mr. William O'Brien shows in a letter to the papers, he early in the year moved an adjournment of the House of Commons to call attention to the wholesale evictions pending on Clare Island. Within a fortnight an emissary of the Irish Secretary visited Clare Island, saw the land agent, the threatened evictions did not take place, and Mr. Balfour's claim that his policy had resulted in bringing peace and prosperity to Ireland was not weakened. It is different now with Mr. John Morley in the Secretary's lodge. He has suspended the operation of the Coercion Act, declaring that he can rule Ireland without it. Very well, say the landlords, we shall see, and straightway breaks forth an epidemic of eviction over the country. The real character of this outbreak and its true meaning appears from the fact that in every case the indebtedness proceeded upon consists of ancient arrears. If these evictions were necessary or are reasonable, they should naturally have taken place last year or the year before. That they should simultaneously and in increasing number be proceeded with in these early weeks of the new Government is a fact that tells its own story. What makes it all the more pitiful is that, just now, owing to hopeless harvest weather and the low price of stock the coming winter will be the worst Ireland has passed through since 1886. How Mr. John Morley will meet these threatening and critical circumstances is a question anxiously asked. Will he consent to the engagement of police and military in order to hold back the half-starved people while the bailiffs storm cottage or loot farmyard? The law here, as in the case of Shylock's pound of flesh, so decrees it, and it is difficult to see by what means Mr. Morley can avoid being dragged in to take a hand at the game primarily designed for the destruction of him, self and the Government of which he is a member. The leaders of the Irish Nationalist party are fully alive to the dangers of the situation. They perceive that the only chance of avoiding or minimizing it is that they shall cordially work with the Chief Secretary in endeavoring to keep the peace, and to tide over the winter. Mr. O'Brien has raised a note of alarm in the letter alluded to, in which he desires the people of Great Britain to note that if, notwithstanding the utmost efforts of the Nationalist leaders, Ireland should, to any extent, be disturbed during the winter, it is the allies of the late Government who have, of malice aforethought, deliberately organized the trouble. Mr. Tim Healy, speaking at a public meeting, has declared his full belief in the honesty of John Morley's purpose, and has besought for him the assistance of the Irish people in his endeavor to carry out his plans. That such a reference to an Irish Secretary, made by a Nationalist member, should be loudly cheered at a public meeting in Dublin, is a notable sign of the new times.

Hannah's Bad Break.

I have just heard such a funny story of a conscientious lady of this city who had hired a new girl and was posting her in her domestic duties.

"Now, Hannah, when I do not wish to see any one that calls, I expect you to say 'not home'," said the model mistress.

"But wouldn't that be a lie, madam?" asked Hannah.

"Not at all. It means 'not at home to you,' which is quite different from saying that I am out. Do you understand?"

"Yes'm," said Hannah, "I think I see what you are driving at."

She soon had an opportunity to put her new learning into practice. A lady called whom Hannah's mistress did not wish to see and the girl met her with the very bearing and front of truth, as she said:

"Not at home to you, ma'am."

I think the face of the mistress must have been a study when she overheard truthful Hannah's prevarication.

The Best in the World.

The oil of the Norwegian Cod Liver is nature's grand restorative, and is only found in its entirety and purity in Miller's Emulsion. It is the most palatable and wholesome preparation of Cod Liver Oil in the world, and is now being taken by invalids, particularly those afflicted with consumption, with the most astonishing success. It is the greatest blood and flesh maker in existence, and is a life saver to consumptives. In big bottles 50c. and $1. at Peterborough Drug Stores.

We do not know of any preparation that has caught the public favor in so short a time as Dodd's Kidney Pills, but when we consider that three-fourths of the Canadian people are afflicted with kidney troubles in some form or other, and that Dodd's Pills are a quick and permanent cure for all these troubles, the large and increasing demand can scarcely be wondered at. Sold by all dealers or by mail on receipt of price, 50 cents per box. Dr. L. A. Smith & Co., Toronto.

THE WORKINGMEN'S CONGRESS.

French Socialists Cheer For German Workingmen.

MARSEILLES, Sept. 26.—At the meeting of the Workingmen's Congress yesterday Herr Liebknecht, representing the Socialists of Germany, delivered an address in which he said: "For Socialists the question of nationalism does not exist. We know but two nations—the nation in possession and a nation of proletarians formed of workingmen of all countries. Between Frenchmen and Germans there is a broad river of blood, for the flowing of which we are innocent and our enemies are responsible. But it does not form a frontier of hatred between Socialists. We protested against the fratricidal war of 1870. The Socialists constitute a great army, of which the workingmen of France, Germany and elsewhere form the different army corps. We have beaten Bismarck after a struggle of 25 years, and we are ready to shed our last drop of blood for Socialism."

Herr Liebknecht concluded his strong address by shouting, "Long live the international revolutionary democracy!"

The utterances of Herr Liebknecht were greeted with enthusiastic applause.

M. Ferrool, a member of the Chamber of Deputies, who is one of the prominent delegates to the congress, warmly thanked Herr Liebknecht for his address and called for cheers for the workingmen of Germany.

Tea-Chest Lead.

One of the industries in connection with the tea trade is the collection of the lead with which tea-chests are lined. China has been noted for many centuries for purity of its lead, and this tea-chest lead, as it is called, is regarded as the finest in existence. There are many uses for it; it is found very valuable in making the best kind of solder. No machinery is employed in the production of this sheet lead; every sheet is made by hand in the most primitive fashion. A large brick is provided, the size of the sheet of lead to be made, and is covered with two or three sheets of paper. On these the molten lead is poured, and another brick is placed on the top, which flattens the lead out the required size and thickness. The sheets are then soldered together to the size of the interior of the tea chest; the tea is packed in, and the top sheet fastened in place. The workmen are very expert, and they turn out on immense number of sheets in the course of a day, and, where labor is so cheap, at a price much less than if the articles were produced by machinery.

HIS BRAINS DASHED OUT.

A FARMER THROWN FROM HIS WAGON AND KILLED.

He Becomes Entangled in the Lines and is Dragged Along the Highway, the Horses at Every Jump Mangling His Head and Face—Horrible End of a Young Scarboro Farmer.

TORONTO, Sept. 27.—James Weir, a well-known young farmer, residing near Brown's Corners, Scarboro, was instantly killed last night in a runaway accident, which occurred at Fred Smith's Hotel at the foot of the Norway hill.

Weir and his hired man came to the city yesterday morning with a couple of loads of grain. After disposing of them Weir sent his hired man on home, waiting himself for a friend, John Lowery, who was also up with a load of grain.

At about 5 o'clock the two young farmers started for home, and upon arriving at Smith's Hotel decided to stop and feed their horses. Upon going inside the hotel they met a number of their friends and became involved in a discussion as to the relative merits of their horses, Weir extolling the merits of a 2-year-old colt which he was driving and which he claimed was the best in the county.

Time slipped rapidly away, and it was after 7 o'clock before the friends decided on proceeding on their way.

Weir ran out to get the teams, leaving Lowery still talking in the hotel.

At present no one can be found who was an eye-witness of what happened within the next 30 seconds, but it appears that after backing out his own team Weir also brought out Lowery's, but while so doing his own team, being colts, became startled by the jar caused by one wagon hitting against the other and started off. Weir left Lowery's team and as his own team dashed past he seized the reins, which were trailing on the ground, but the horses were beyond control, being further frightened by the falling of some boards which were torn off the side of the shed by the wheel of the wagon, which caught them in passing. The deceased evidently became entangled in the lines, as he was thrown directly under the horses' feet before they had run 30 yards.

When the unfortunate man was picked up by Fred Smith a few minutes later he was dead, the cork of one horse's shoe having sunk into his forehead and another having inflicted a ghastly wound just above his right ear, from which his brains were oozing. Blood also trickled from his nose, mouth and ears. He was drawn to the side of the road, where he remained until Dr. Shaw, who was hastily summoned, arrived.

The body was then carried into the hotel and at present presents a fearful sight, the features being entirely unrecognizable on account of the mixture of coagulated blood and brains which have gathered on his face.

The deceased was a prosperous young farmer, 35 years of age, living about a mile and a quarter from Malvern. He was well known and very popular throughout the district. A wife and three small children survive him.

The team ran on and were not stopped until they reached the Halfway House.

Lowery's horses, which also ran away, were caught about 200 yards down the road and driven on home by their owner.

ANNEXATION WONT GO.

Erastus Wiman Thinks That E. A. Macdonald is Talking Through His Hat.

NIAGARA FALLS, Sept. 27.—Erastus Wiman was seen at the Clifton House on the Canadian side yesterday. He was asked his opinion of E. A. Macdonald of Toronto and his interview in Boston on annexation of Canada. "Mr. Macdonald thinks that annexation will be 'the' issue in the next election," said the correspondent. "Not in 100 years," answered Mr. Wiman. "The man does not know what he is talking about. Why, the people of Canada are as far off from annexation as, as—well I can't find a comparison just now. Macdonald wants prominence. He ran as an annexationist and made a splurge, but he was little noticed in the papers. I was in favor of annexation, but the more I study this matter the more I grow to believe that Canada is not ready for annexation. You can't force a people to do something which is directly opposed to the views and wishes of the majority.

SECURING THE SEALERS.

The Seizure of Two British Vessels by United States Ships.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—Capt. Cooper, commanding the revenue steamer Corwin, reports to the Treasury Department under date of Sand Point, Alaska, Sept. 10, that he has arrived at that place on his way to Sitka with the British sealer Henrietta in tow, seized at Ounalaska for violation of customs laws at Touky Bay, in transferring and receiving cargo without permission from the proper customs officers.

Capt. Tozier, commanding the steamer Walcott, at Tacoma, Washington, reports to the Department that he has seized the British sloop Sigrid for entering port and failing to report to the customs officers.

SENATOR M'CULLOM'S MISHAP.

It Was Lighted and It Lifted Him Through the Front Door.

BUFFALO, N.Y., Sept. 27.—Senator Lochlin McCullom of Port Colborne, Ont., was blown through the front door of his house and into the street by a natural gas explosion yesterday in his summer house in St. Romness. While the members of the family were absent the gas in the dining room stove began to leak. Senator McCullom was the first to arrive at home and found the dining-room full of gas. He struck a match to light the fire and an awful explosion followed, which blew out the windows, shattered the ceiling and walls and threw Mr. McCullom into the street.

When the first shock came he covered his face with his arms, but was badly scorched about the head and neck. His hands were so badly burned that the skin peeled off. For some time his condition was precarious, but he is now out of danger.

Storm on Lake Ontario.

OSWEGO, N.Y., Sept. 27.—A fearful storm of wind and rain raged here all night and yesterday. The wind recorded 50 miles an hour, but blew much harder on the lake. The schooner Gazelle was capsized this morning near Fair Haven. The crew clung to the wreck and drifted ashore, with the exception of a sailor named Wilson, who was drowned. Fears are entertained for other vessels known to be out.

Wrecked at Big Sandy Creek.

WATERTOWN, N.Y., Sept. 27.—The three-masted schooner John Burt, laden with 23,000 bushels of corn, bound for Oswego, was wrecked at 11 o'clock yesterday near the mouth of Big Sandy Creek, on Lake Ontario. One of the crew and the female cook, whose names have not been learned, were drowned. The vessel, it is believed, will be a total loss.

Struck by Lightning.

ROCKWOOD, Ont., Sept. 27.—During a severe thunderstorm last evening the residence of Mrs. Thomas Maud, near this place, was struck by lightning. The lightning entered the chimney and passed through a window near which Mrs. Maud was sitting, killing her instantly and prostrating her son Joseph, who was also sitting in line with the course of the bolt.

Grand Union Clothing Hall

Is in splendid shape now to attend to the thousands of visitors who will come to the Peterborough Exhibition. This is a store of an entirely different nature from that of the average clothing store. It matters a great deal where you buy. There is style and design and attractiveness about the clothing sold at the Grand Union Clothing Hall, and that is considerable to a man who has been accustomed to wear ordered clothing. We aim to please you as well with our Ready-Made as the suit you would leave your order for. Then there is the time gained, besides there is the difference in price. It is two to one if you would be able to tell the difference. We admit the disadvantages heretofore in this particular, but we have overcome them. Try us and see for yourself. Remember we also keep in stock a fine selection of Tweeds, worsteds, and Gents' Furnishings.

A VERY LIVELY SESSION

ANIMATED DOINGS AT THE PRESBYTERIAN ALLIANCE.

Animated Discussions and Unseemly Wrangling Over Things Inconsequential—Speakers Cheered For Breach of Rules—Chairman Hissed—Some Pleasant Passages—Ebor's Sketch.

TORONTO, Sept. 27.—The action of the United States Congress in vetoing the opening of the Columbian Exposition on "the Sabbath" was discussed by the Presbyterian alliance yesterday. There was argument whether Sunday or Lord's Day was the fittest term, two or three rival propositions, some courteous, others brusque, and over this the learned D.D.'s quarreled. Half a dozen were speaking at once, insinuations and recriminations were made, hisses were heard, and the pious ones ignored the godly Dr. Watts' advice and did let their angry passions rise.

At the end of the hour's wraugle a resolution to the President of the United States was passed.

A Glance Over Europe.

The papers and addresses on this topic were, as might have been predicted, mostly coeur de rose. Austria and Russia were stated to be the only black spots—countries where the Presbyterian had been told in unmistakable terms, "Friend, thee isn't wanted here!"

I was glad to hear some generous words of praise for the Salvation Army, though this was qualified by the statement that the Blood and Fire warriors are not a church, because they have no sacraments.

As showing the cosmopolitan character of the Alliance one of the delegates spoke in German, a representative of the Swiss Evangelical Union in faulty English.

A Voice from Piedmont.

Rev. Filippo Grilli expatiated on Presbyterianism in that Waldensian Valley referred to by Milton in his pathetic and vindictive ode:

Avenge, O Lord, Thy slaughtered saints,
Whose bones lie scattered on the Alpine mountains cold!

And from the following figures it would seem that the prayer has been spiritually if not literally answered. In the Piedmontese Valleys there are 17 parishes with 22 ministers, 121 elders, 32 deacons, 200 teachers, 12,888 church members, 895 catechumens and 3675 Sunday scholars.

Frivolous France.

Mr. William Wood of Dresden, Germany, sounded the alarm as to frivolous European life. How this prejudicially affects the spiritual life of students and visitors was the object of his address. He was ungallant enough to say: "American and Canadian young ladies go abroad and trail the gospel banner in the dust."

Dr. Hall enforced with his Hibernian and Boanerges energy the duty of supporting these English-speaking churches.

On Revivals.

A paper on this subject by that noted Scotch evangelist, Rev. William Ross, was thoughtful, temperate, and yet marvelous. I have personal knowledge of the good the speaker has done in the Cowcaddens, Glasgow; of the great work in the Wynds of Edinburgh, and of the work in the London slums, and I heartily agreed with the object of the paper to show that they all were the outcome of prayer.

Outside Societies.

This was the chief subject for discussion at night. The church was densely crowded and cheered the speakers to go on whenever the chairman, owing to the hard and fast line regarding the time limit, rang them down. The speakers stood upon their rights to read the papers to the end which they had been asked to write.

Rev. Dr. Burrell of New York City gave an eloquent address in favor of (1) Y.M.C.A., (2) Societies of Christian Endeavor, and (3) King's Daughters. In his enthusiasm he termed these modern miracles. He made an earnest appeal for their support. He closed with verses, of which this is the first:

There's a number of us crept into this world
To eat and sleep and know no reason why
We're born, but only to consume the time,
Devour the cattle, flesh and fish, and leave behind an empty dish.

Of course loud laughter greeted this and the following verses, and loud were the cheers and calls for the brilliant speaker to go on, but this the chairman peremptorily refused and was impiously hissed.

Slated Those Itinerant Evangelists.

Rev. R. McCheyne Edgar of Dublin maintained that the church should do her own work apart from the many societies and auxiliaries. Trenchantly he dealt with what he termed "the free lance evangilist" and severely criticised Mr. Moody's methods and teachings, which had been of more service to separatists than regular churches.

At this juncture there was quite a scene. The chairman touched the bell, and defiantly Dr. Edgar said: "I claim my rights; my time is not yet up; I will finish the paper." At this the people cheered, but the chairman temporarily was firm. At last he gave way under the flimsy pretext that he had miscalculated the time by three minutes. At this the people laughed and the doctor was victor.

The Church's Neglect of Duty.

Rev. Dr. McKibben of Cincinnati ably exposed the apathy of the church, which had given occasion for outside agencies. "The glory of the society is often the shame of the church. Instead of saying 'Behold what the church has wrought!' it is more pertinent to say, 'Behold what the church has not wrought!'"

"The church must supersede the necessity for outside agency by doing it better." Then came the concluding sentence, delivered in a stentorian voice: "If Presbyterians permit any society to train their children Presbyterianism will die, while Lutherans, Baptists and Methodists will live, because they think enough of their faith to teach it to their children." [Loud cheering.]

Condemned Undenominationalism.

Rev. P. McAdam Muir of Edinburgh gave a stout tirade against undenominationalism, especially as shown in young men's associations. Eldad and Medad must not sit in Moses' seat. The only right position for any society is subordinate to the church. The church must regulate these societies and control them.

At the close of this address there was a call for Dr. Birrell to come again to the platform and the call could not be resisted. The Doctor said he could not continue his speech, for "It is sticking now like cold mutton gravy to the roof of my mouth." [Loud laughter.]

Then vigorously he said, "If you antagonize the S.C.E., which have been so severely animadverted on, you will spill the quickest and warmest blood of the church upon the ground." [Loud applause.]

Would Have Their Pound of Flesh.

Then there were calls for "McKibben, McKibben," and the eloquent pale-faced man from Ohio again mounted the platform. No action could have been more censurable of the chairman's ruling than that these two speakers should be called on to finish speeches supposed to have already been finished.

In vigorous language the Doctor protested against C.E. societies making stringent terms which had never been endorsed by the church. "The church was asleep and these societies awoke her; now she wants to be more awake and do her own work."

Dr. Hall was called for, and never being loath to publicity and popularity, he came forward, and certainly threw oil on the troubled water. On the principle that all's well that ends well the benediction shed its balm, and the chairman, mopping the perspiration from his brow, left his thorny throne.

THE CLERGY MUST BE VIRTUOUS.

Le Canada Criticises the Sermon of Father Langevin.

OTTAWA, Sept. 28.—Le Canada of this city, commenting with unusual freedom on Father Langevin's scathing attack on the French-Canadian press for remarks on the domestic scandal in which Father Guyhot was one of the central figures, says all the French-Canadian Catholic papers in the country have discussed the scandal, and it was their right and their duty to do so. Le Canada requires that the greatest respect be shown the clergy, but is opposed to idolatry of the priest, as a man who is fallible like the rest of humanity. The priest is entitled to respect as long as he is respectable. The respectable priest in Canada has always been accorded the regard due to his high office.

Le Canada is unable to accept Father Langevin's dictum that the conduct of the priests is none of the business of the laity. The laity form part of the church in their own sphere just as the clergy do in theirs, and they have the right to demand that the clergy be pure and virtuous. Loud talking will not frighten the laity into abandoning that contention. It also thinks Father Langevin's allusion to the moral reputation of the journalists who have commented on the case being inscribed on the registers of the police an unfortunate one, and protests against it as an insult launched against good Catholics, to whom the clergy often have recourse when they need the help of the press and from whom they have received many good services.

If the press were to treat the clergy as cavalierly as Father Langevin had treated the press, and had not for so long a time cast the veil of charity over certain misdeeds, the list of names figuring on the police registers would make him afraid.

THE IRISH CRICKETERS.

The Philadelphians Make No Stand Against the Visitors.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Sept. 28.—In the international cricket match at Manheim All Philadelphia finished their second innings for 164 runs yesterday.

The Gentlemen of Ireland in their two innings scored 414 runs, while the local team's total is but 287.

The elevens will again meet on Friday, Saturday and Monday on the same grounds. The score:

	1st innings.	2nd innings.	Total.
Ireland	175	239	414
Philadelphia	123	164	287

About 25,000 persons attended on the three days, the largest number on record ever at a cricket match in America.

The character of the wicket can be judged from the fact that it took G. S. Patterson about an hour and a half in the first innings to make 16 runs, and he is not a slow scorer by any means, as a rule.

The visitors did not appear to have any really good fast bowlers and the slow wicket was a perfect boon to them. The work of Vint behind the sticks was remarkably fine and compares favorably with anything that has been seen in Philadelphia for years. Bud Hamilton's one-hand catch of Brewster Saturday at cover point was simply immense. It caught the crowd to a man, even the ball players becoming enthusiastic. In the first innings the five last Irish wickets put on 118 runs from the bat, the first six only contributing 41. The shower of rain at luncheon time of the first day was a great piece of luck for the visitors.

The last time the Gentlemen of Ireland visited Philadelphia was in 1888, and in the first innings of the first match they secured a lead of 41 runs, but finally lost by 7 runs.

Orme at Newmarket.

LONDON, Sept. 28. — The Fourteenth Great Foal Stakes was run Tuesday at Newmarket and won by the Duke of Westminster's Orme. The stakes closed Aug. 6, 1889, with 56 subscribers, 12 of whom declared forfeit and are of 15 sovs. each, 10 sovs. forfeit, with 700 sovs. added for foals of 1889, about one mile and two furlongs, straight course:

Duke of Westminster's b c Orme 1
H.R.H. the Prince of Wales' b c Versailles 2
Mr. J. H. Houldsworth's b c Bushey Park 3

The race was won last year by Lord Zetland's Patrick Blue, Orion 2 and Grammont 3.

A Farmer Injured.

HAMILTON, Sept. 28.—Last evening when Robert Temple, a farmer who lives over the mountain, was driving home his horses got frightened at the derrick used in the building of the new hotel on the Mountain and ran away. Temple did his best to check them, but could not do so. He was thrown out and was badly injured. He received three cuts on the head and a couple of ribs were broken. Dr. Cockburn was summoned and went out to attend the injured man. At his suggestion Temple was removed in the patrol wagon to St. Joseph's Hospital. Temple is in a critical condition.

Advance in the Price of Lumber.

ALBANY, Sept. 28.—By reason of increased values at manufacturing points, together with higher lake and canal freights, the wholesale lumber dealers here have advanced the prices of good lumber $2 and box lumber $1 per 1000 feet. This advance is not so great as that which already has been made at other wholesale markets.

"De Gang" Had to Seek Commoner Quarters.

ALBANY, Sept. 28.—"Gentleman Jim" Corbett was refused quarters at one of the principal hotels Saturday and yesterday in this city. It was not because of Mr. Corbett personally, but because of the distasteful crowd such a man attracts.

ANOTHER LONDON CRIME

TRAGIC SUICIDE OF AN ENGLISH DOCTOR.

He Became Infatuated With an Actress and She Became His Mistress—Taken Suddenly Ill, She Died, and the Doctor Cut His Throat—Particulars of the Tragedy Outlined Yesterday.

LONDON, Sept. 28.—Considerable of a sensation has been caused here by the mysterious death of an ex-actress known as Ruby Russell, a beautiful girl who has appeared at the Lyric and Drury Lane Theatres. Her real name was Marianne Sharpe. For some time past she has not been seen on the stage, and it was an open secret that she was living with Woodburn Heron, an army surgeon.

Dr. Heron was recently ordered to Gambia, and, when he went to that station he took the girl with him. They returned to London on Sept. 3. On Tuesday last Miss Sharpe was suddenly taken sick when she was alone with Dr. Heron. A physician was summoned to attend her, but he could do nothing for her. A short time after she was taken sick she became unconscious and remained so until she died. There was absolutely nothing to show the cause of death.

Dr. Heron's Testimony.

An inquest was held on Saturday, at which Dr. Heron testified that he and Miss Sharpe had had a tiff Tuesday afternoon and that she had threatened to kill herself. He thought she might have taken poison. He also stated that he was a widower, adding that his wife had died in Jamaica in 1891. He admitted that an inquest had been held upon the body of his wife.

He Commits Suicide.

On Saturday Dr. Heron took a room in a hotel in Craven-street, Strand. Yesterday he did not appear and as the door of the room was locked a policeman was summoned to break it open. Inside the room Dr. Heron was found lying in a pool of blood with a terrible gash in his throat. Evidence was also present that he had taken a quantity of poison sufficient to kill himself without the wound in his throat.

Blood marks in the room show that Dr. Heron first cut his throat while standing in front of a mirror. Finding that the gash was not deep enough to cause death he stretched himself on the floor. He previously arranged a vessel to catch the blood and placed a pillow so as to elevate his head enough to let the blood flow into the vessel.

When these arrangements were completed and he had lain down he again cut his throat, this time severing the windpipe and jugular vein. He had scribbled with a pencil across a newspaper, evidently while dying, protesting his love for Miss Sharpe, and expressing the hope that he would soon meet her again.

It was reported that he left a paper in which he confessed that he murdered Miss Sharpe.

It has transpired that after Dr. Heron arose yesterday morning he despatched several messages, after which he returned to his room. He was not seen again alive.

A Devoted Couple.

Miss Sharpe, who was 20 years of age, was the daughter of a publican. Her parents had not seen her in a year. She and Dr. Heron took rooms in Lillie-road, West Kensington, on Sept. 9. The landlady of whom they engaged their apartments says that they were a most devoted couple.

Before the Coroner on Saturday, Dr. Heron, who was young, tall and handsome, said that he had first met Miss Sharpe in February, 1891. He lived with her until August and then went to Africa, where Miss Sharpe joined him in December. Both returned to England on Sept. 3. On the day of Miss Sharpe's death she had drunk nothing so far as he knew except some stout, which she took at dinner. Soon after she retired he entered her room and found her unconscious on the bed. He summoned help.

Dr. Heron said that while he had no suspicion at the time he afterwards thought it possible that she had taken poison. He added that they had both often threatened to commit suicide on account of jealousy.

The landlady of the house in which the couple lived testified that when she entered the room she saw Dr. Heron taking a glass of what appeared to be lemonade into the bedroom.

Murder Suspected.

The coroner was evidently suspicious that murder had been committed and he adjourned the inquest for three weeks in order that an analysis might be made of the contents of Miss Sharpe's stomach.

It is conjectured that Dr. Heron, knowing that a post mortem examination would reveal the presence of poison, and being guilty of administering it, at once made preparations to kill himself. On the other hand it may be perfectly true that in a fit of angry jealousy the girl poisoned herself, and Dr. Heron, being afraid that he would be accused of killing her, determined to commit suicide. Unless the messages he sent Sunday morning throw some light on the case it is apt to remain a mystery whether it is one of murder and suicide or double self-destruction.

Dr. Heron, after taking a large dose of morphia, described his sensations as the drug began to have an effect, writing with a pencil on the margin of an evening paper that lay by his side. After declaring that his sensations were pleasant, he says:

"Dear Dolly, impress on all our friends how strictly I avoided all spirituous liquors. Goodby, Ruby. I shall soon met you, if people do meet there."

Later he writes: "Death seems very slow. Why, it is actually 2.15 o'clock in the morning."

Later—"I fancy it is actually 2.30. I feel comfortable. Goodby."

Still later—"It is 2.38 o'clock. It seems very slow. However, there is some more left, for I bought thirty grains. I have now taken fully eighteen grains. I feel perfectly healthy and well, and most beautifully warm and comfortable, as people always do after taking morphia."

The writing after this cannot be deciphered. There are occasional bold strokes, but nothing is distinct. It is supposed that, becoming tired of the monotonous wait for death, he used the razor.

A Pigeon's Fast Flight.

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—A five months' old homing pigeon, liberated in this city, covered the distance to Cambridge, Washington county, (165 miles) in the phenomenal time of seven hours.

Cut His Wife's Throat.

ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 28.—William Scanlan of Oneteo cut his wife's throat yesterday in a fit of jealousy. Another man in the house was the cause of the tragedy. Mrs. Scanlan cannot recover. Scanlan was arrested.

The Races at the Fair.

They Pass Off Successfully Yesterday, and are Hotly Contested—Witnessed by a Large Crowd.

The races both horse and bicycle although not begun until four o'clock yesterday afternoon passed off successfully and without a hitch on the driving park in the afternoon. Hundreds and hundreds of interested spectators lined either fence around the track and took a deep interest in the fine attractions provided for them by the energetic directors. The track was in a fair condition although a little rough for good time.

The bicycle races occasioned not a little excitement and the prizes were well worth competing for as follows: Handsome silver cups emblematic of the Canadian Wheelsman Association, valued at $20, $10 and $5 respectively. The judges were Messrs. E. B. Rogers and A. H. Stratton. The entries were Messrs. G. A. Strickland, Lakefield; Chas. Gillespie, W. F. Harris and John Carveth of Peterborough. The race was in half mile heats, best two in three. In the first heat Harris took the lead at the start but was closely pressed by Carveth It was a magnificent effort for first place nearly all the way round, but on the home stretch Harris still kept the lead and crossed the tape a winner with Carveth a good second. Strickland came third and Gillespie fourth.

The second heat was merely a repetition of the former one until near the close, when Harris and Carveth, who had travelled in fine team style around the course, dissolved partnership in the fourth quarter, and the latter by A. I riding, shot ahead crossing the line a couple of machine lengths previous to Harris. Strickland was a fair third.

In the third heat Gillespie did not materialize, leaving the race between Harris, Strickland and Carveth. Harris and Carveth were off at once in a death like battle for first place, but 150 feet from the starting point the bolt which held one of the pedals to Harris' machine dropped off pedal and all. Carveth at once rode ahead, while Harris guided his steel steed for a distance wheeling with only one pedal, and Strickland when less than half way around shot ahead. Carveth finished a grand first, and Strickland second. Harris did not make the circuit. The judges on the result of the three heats, according to the C.W.A. rules, awarded Carveth 1st prize, Strickland 2nd and Harris 3rd. No time was taken in any of the heats.

THE 2.40 CLASS, OR CITIZENS' RACE.

In this class there were four entries as follows: Indian Billy, E. Thompson; Ormus G.B., Jas. Beatty, Cobourg; Billy C., R. Croft, Cobourg; Clan Alpine, J. E. McIntyre. Wm. Sherin drove Clan Alpine, Chadburn, Billy C., J. Beasley, Ormus, and Bert Thompson, Indian Billy. The judges were Messrs. H. C. Winch, Peterborough, M. McGregor, Norwood and M. B. Williams, Cobourg. The horses took the poll in the order entered, and after several "come ups" they finally got off together for the first heat. Billy C. led off by a fine burst of speed, but the clever Clan Alpine, handled by Wm. Sherin, pressed Billy warmly all the way round the track, and in the fourth quarter passed him, both animals in this circuit doing considerable breaking. The second lap was interesting but Billy C. could not resume his former position, although doing his utmost. Clan Alpine finished first, Billy C. second, Ormus third, and Indian Billy fourth.

Second heat—Horses polled as follows:—Clan Alpine, inside, Billy C, Ormus, Indian Billy. The rivals got off well together, Billy C taking the lead with Clan Alpine second. In the first quarter Chadburn who drove Billy C badly fouled "Dan" in the first quarter, but was not successful in cutting the bay gelding out who shot ahead. Ormus in the second and third quarter was hotly chasing Billy C. around the ring for second place, McIntyre's horse leading in A1 style. In the second heat, the Cobourg horse could not overtake Billy C, although the latter was hard pressed at time. Clan Alpine crossed the line a fine winner, Billy C. second, about a length ahead of Ormus but the judges set Billy C back to last place for the foul made in the first quarter awarding second position to Ormus and third to Indian Billy.

In the third heat Indian Billy was unable to proceed being lame in the nigh fore leg, and Bert Thompson, driver, took him to the stable leaving the field to the three winners. The animals got off in good style, Clan Alpine at once took the lead and maintained it throughout the whole heat with ease. The race for second purse was between Billy C and Ormus, but in the second lap Billy C passed Ormus and glided by the judges stand about two lengths ahead.

Indian Billy, E. Thompson	4	3	4
Ormus G. B., James Beatty, Cobourg	3	2	3
Billy C., R. Croft, Cobourg	2	4	2
Clan Alpine, J. E McIntyre	1	1	1

Purse $100—1st $60, 2nd $30, 3rd $10. No time taken.

THE STALLION RACE.

The following horses were entered in the stallion race:—Jyco, owned by a syndicate of Ormus; Chestnut Hill, Jr., owned by J. T. Allison, Campbellford; Royal Sprague, Percy & Young, Bowmanville; George Brown, owned by R. Croft, Cobourg, was entered but did not start. In the first heat the stallions got off well together, Royal Sprague taking the lead in the first quarter with Chestnut Hill closely pursuing. The struggle around the course was a keen one, as they flew, both drivers straining every nerve and applying the lash lively, and passed the wire in the 1st time round with Chestnut 1st, Royal Sprague a length behind and Jyco same distance in the rear. Royal Sprague in the last heat by clever handling, managed to pass the Campbellford horse and shot under the wire a victor by about a length over Chestnut Hill, Jyco was a fair third. In this heat Royal Sprague pulled a shoe and it was some time before it could be re-set. Consequently only another heat was trotted; the last heat will be trotted this afternoon. No time was taken in any of the heats. In the second heat very little interest was aroused, the race being somewhat of a fizzle. Royal Sprague led his competitors at once and for nearly the whole round the race was a procession, with Royal Sprague 1st, Chestnut Hill 2nd, and Jyco 3rd. But in the second lap the chestnut stallion got a move on and was showing a fine burst of speed closely pressing his rivals for first money. On the home stretch the excitement was keen, but Royal Sprague crossed the home plate a neck ahead of Chestnut Hill. Zyco was "not in it."

STALLION RACE.

Royal Sprague, Percy & Young, Bowmanville	1	1
Chestnut Hill, J. T. Allison, Campbellford	2	2
Jyco, Syndicate, Ormus	3	3

No time taken. Purse $100—1st $60, 2nd $25, 3rd $15. Third heat postponed until Wednesday afternoon.

As a general rule, it is best not to correct costiveness by the use of saline or drastic medicine. When a purgative is needed, the most prompt, effective, and beneficial is Ayer's Pills. Their tendency is to restore, and not weaken, the normal action of the bowels.

Timely Wisdom.

Great and timely wisdom is shown by keeping Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry on hand. It has no equal for cholera, cholera morbus, diarrhœa, dysentery, cramps, colic and all summer complaints and looseness of the bowels. dw

"I will call one."

He passed behind the drape at the back of the cave. Soon he came back alone.

"He has left the three in that heavy mesmeric stupor or sleep. They will not, they cannot waken. He will have to lie thus until Zanea is found."

"Why, Shem, what is the matter with old Ishmael?"

"He is dead."

"And that is death, Terry. Not an atom less to be desired than life. That was what you said death was. How quiet he is, Terry? Will he never move again?"

"No."

"Go on down, Zell, and you, Terry Denver, I will meet you at the foot of the hill."

When they came to the door in the rock Shem stood waiting them. A coil of rope in one hand and a grappling hook in the other.

"Zell, you must wait on the shore, the canoe will hold but two."

They paddled to where they thought Zanea's body would have gone down and cast the iron. Back and forth they went in the dim light for an hour, then the hook caught on some yielding object. They drew in the rope and the spiritless body of Zanea, in its wet, clinging silk, rose and fell on the slightly disturbed water. Shem caught and held it, while Terry took them ashore. They lifted Zanea from the water and lay her on the rock. Her hair clung to her, darkened by the water, making a strong contrast to the still white face. Zell looked down at Zanea. She did not weep. She had not learned there was aught to weep for.

"Terry, Zanea is dead, too."

"Yes, Zell."

"She is in the abode with Ishmael is she not? She looks the same as he does, that same deep peace."

Shem had brought from the door in the rock a stretcher. On this they placed the body and bore it to the cave. Shem, aged past his years, then took Zell's hand, saying hoarsely:

"Zell, thou art not afraid of these, the dead, art thou, for to thee, my little one, falls the duty of making her ready for burial? 'Tis a sadly dismal work for thee, but thou art the only one fitted for this, the last demand of Zanea."

"Afraid of Zanea? No, neither of old Ishmael. What am I to do, Shem?"

"Dress her afresh in the clothes that I will fetch thee. Dry those dripping masses of hair. Arrange her as thou would'st thyself to meet with one loved. That is all."

From somewhere he brought fresh clothes and all needful things, then withdrew, leaving the girl alone with the dead Ishmael and Zanea. Shem and Terry seated themselves on the platform amid the midnight moonlight.

CHAPTER X.

TERRY DENVER, the time has come for you to hear old Ishmael's history."

"Ninety-nine years ago was born of an eastern mother a son to a British father. From the Buddhistic mother this son drew a love of the dreamy religion of Buddha and a thirst for occult lore. From the British father he inherited tenacity and physical structure, but nothing else. At twenty he was learned past the ordinary. To the study of all things esoteric and occult he devoted himself, living but to study. Mother and father died. The mother left him wealth untold. He became famous in the east as a scholar of unbounded scope. When seventy-nine years of age he met, while exploring for science sake, a lovely Italian girl of twenty. What freak of fate made the lovely child of Italy forget her youth, and wed the aged recluse, is hidden knowledge that even Ishmael could not fathom. At the same time why one so wise as he could take a child like that out of a land of laughing eyes and ardent wooers is just as strange. However it was, wed they were. He resumed his studies, carrying his bride into a mountain cave to spend a most lugubrious honeymoon. This was under the Arctic sky. Time passed, then

IS PREPARING FOR FALL BUSINESS.

The reading public of the town and county of Peterborough must have noticed from time to time our advertisement in this paper. We do not wish to trouble the public too frequently with astounding advertisements; telling them that at our store, and our store only, is the place to deal. Come to think of it, we never advertise in that style at all. We have always tried to stick to ONE GRAND PRINCIPLE, viz.: TO ADVERTISE EXACTLY WHAT WE INTENDED DOING, AND TO DO EXACTLY WHAT WE ADVERTISED. Having just returned from the wholesale markets, where a purchase of $3,271,56 was effected for CASH, will simply mention here a few of the various classes of goods bought, and leave the purchasing public to judge if we have or have not kept faith with our announcement.

HERE ARE THE PRINCIPAL LINES:

1 Lot of Ladies' Mantles in the latest styles, amounting to $575.00. Of the dozens and dozens of them there are not two alike. No use in quoting prices; not two are the same price. Just come and examine them.

Dress Goods, $875.60. Space does not not permit us saying what we would like to about these goods. Suffice it to say this much: We will give you 12 yards of all-wool Serge, in choice of shades, Trimmings and all for $2.15.

Mantle Cloths, $508.40. The balance of our purchase was made up in many lines of Staple and Fancy Goods. Perhaps you'll smile when we say that we have a Large Table in the Centre of the Floor covered with Lovely Dress and Mantle Buttons, worth 25c, 40 and 50c. per dozen. Come in and help yourself to any of them AT THREE AND ONE-HALF CENTS PER DOZEN.

We have always claimed to keep on hand the most reliable stock Gloves and Hosiery to be had in town. We will just add once more that should any of our Celebrated French Kids burst on first trying on we will replace them with pleasure.

THE CENTRAL EXHIBITION

Formally Opened by Lieut.-Governor Kirkpatrick.

His Honour's Reply to the Addresses—The Minister of Agriculture Speaks—Sir Henry Tyler Makes a Few Remarks—The Races Cause Much Excitement—A Monster Attendance Yesterday—7 000 People Present,

The EXAMINER's report yesterday of the Central Exhibition took the Lieut.-Governor to the exhibition grounds. The party was received with the royal salute by the guard of honour, and occupied the canopied platform which had been erected southwest of the main building. There were on the platform besides Hon. and Mrs. Kirkpatrick, Mrs. J. F. Dennistoun, Miss Dennistoun, Miss Kirkpatrick, of Peterborough, His Honour's sister, Commander Law, Sir Henry Tyler, president of the Grand Trunk Railway, Messrs. J. Stevenson, M.P., John Burnham, M.P., J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., T. Blezard, M.P.P., the officials of the Board of Trade, the Warden and Mayor, members and officials of the county and town councils, directors Central Exhibition and others. Mr. Meyer Kendry occupied the chair and introduced the gentlemen who read the several address yesterday:—

Mr. Geo. E. Elliott, president, for the Central Exhibition.

Mr. J. R. Cobb, town clerk, for the town.

Mr. Forster, Warden of the County, and Mr. Robert Fair president, for the Board of Trade.

At the conclusion of the last address Mr. J. Hampden Burnham, secretary of the Board of Trade, presented Mrs. Kirkpatrick with a magnificent bouquet of crimson roses.

HIS HONOUR'S ADDRESS.

His Honour in replying to the several addresses collectively, spoke of the great pleasure and satisfaction it gave him to be present and assist in opening the Central Exhibition. It gave him great pleasure to acknowledge, as representative of Her Majesty, the ardent and hearty expressions of loyalty and her crown and person contained in the several addresses, and he would cause them to be conveyed to the proper quarters. He would by an impartial discharge of his office strive to merit the flattering references made to himself. He was pleased to renew the associations of former years and previous visits to Peterborough. The first time he visited the town he came by wheels, the second by boat, the third he passed over that wonderful engineering structure, the Rice Lake bridge, (laughter). He then contrasted the means of communication then with the splendid railway services the town now enjoyed, and by comparison with previous visits he could see most gratifying evidences of growth and prosperity. When His Honor first visited Peterborough the lumberman was king, but his former limits have given place to thriving farms and happy homes, and now farming was the most important industry, (applause). It gave him pleasure to do all he could to promote the prosperity of farmers and encourage agricultural exhibits which permitted farmers to see who is doing the best farming and to learn how it was done. He said that judged by results the Canadian methods of farming were equal to those of any other country. His Honor referred in strong terms to the great work the Ontario Government was doing to assist and encourage farming, instancing the Agricultural College, Farmers Institute, travelling dairy, etc., and the assistance was needed as well as appreciated. Canadian produce had to compete with the best in the world, but he was glad to say Canadian farmers could hold their own, (applause) and in some respects their products could not be surpassed. His Honour gave a word of warning as to the danger resulting from too great destruction of forest which had injurious climatic effects upon the farming interest. He was glad to say that the government of Ontario was taking energetic steps to prevent forest destruction. He expressed his pleasure at having Hon. Mr. Dryden, his Minister of Agriculture, present. He assured the farmers that the Ontario government, which had established a distinct department in the farming interest, will do everything in their power to make that department practically effective. (Applause.) He briefly indicated the great progress Dominion's dairying and agricultural interests have made under wise government action—that country about the population of Ontario shipped seventeen million dollars worth of butter to England, and under a similar policy Ontario had developed wonderfully last year, shipping one hundred million pounds of cheese to England, worth nine million dollars which with cattle shipment had been proportionately large, and we might well feel proud of such a result of the results of 20 years progress. (Applause.) The government of Ontario took special interest in promoting the interests of farmers. His Honour concluded a most happy address which was listened to with great attention and heartily applauded, by thanks for the hearty welcome that had been extended to himself and Mrs. Kirkpatrick, and wishing the people happiness and prosperity.

THE MINISTER OF AGRICULTURAL.

Hon. John Dryden, Minister of Agriculture for Ontario, was heartily received. He had, he said, not long occupied his position, but he had done his best for the farmer's interest. He congratulated the directors upon their fine exhibition and the pleasant weather. At these exhibitions we sank political and religious differences, showing that to achieve the best results there must be unity of action. He pointed out that the true character of exhibitions of this kind was educative, they were held not for exhibitions alone—they were only a means to an end—but the visitors could derive even greater benefit, the masses could by them be educated. We did not so much want stock specialists but to stimulate the masses to produce more and of a better quality. We were making progress in both respects, but particular attention should be paid to quality in order to compete with the best in the world. He, as minister, was seeking to educate the people by means of the Agricultural College, farmers institutes and the travelling dairy. Referring to the Canadian exhibit at the World's Fair the Minister said the people would be surprised at the showing Ontario would make there. The Ontario Exhibit was in charge of a good and energetic man (Mr. N. Awrey, M.P.P.,) and it would worthily represent the province and he requested all to give him whatever help was in their power.

The band then played "God Save the Queen."

Sir HENRY TYLER president of the Grand Trunk Railway, made a few brief but pointed and humorous remarks. He was delighted with the prosperity of Peterborough, because that meant the prosperity of the Grand Trunk. He rejoiced in the success of the farmers, but he would vary the advice of Mr. Dryden and urge them to study quantity rather than quality—it was quantity the Grand Trunk wanted—(laughter.) Then there were eggs (laughter); there were 14 million dozen shipped yearly, and now the Grand Trunk was ready to carry them to New York, where they were demanded in spite of the McKinley tariff—because of their good quality and good reputation. The same care in other things would make Canada a great producing country.

His Honour then formally declared the Central Exhibition open.

A reception followed, at which a large number were presented to Lieut.-Governor and Mrs. Kirkpatrick. The vice regal party then visited the exhibition, and returned to town.

Reddy, the Mail Girl.

The Harry Lindley Co. put "Reddy the Mail Girl" on the boards at the Opera House last night. The house was packed from the proscenium to the gallery by delighted hundreds. Miss Adelaide Flint played the title role of the play to perfection and excelled in the double personification viz that of "Mabel Holt" the envied daughter of a millionaire, who becomes infatuated and wedded to the penniless bank clerk, "David Holt" (Mr. Geo. Gordon) and as innocent "Reddy the Mail Girl", the charming untutored child of nature. Harry Lindley as "The Senator" surpassed as a "comedian" and was a typical member, as he ingenuously styled it, "of the legislature." Mr. D. O. Secord as the shrinking vagabond "Robert Harvey" and Mr. E Lewis as the dunky and honest servant "Nap" are also worthy of mention. Miss Ida Palmer and Harry's little daughter "Ethel" were vocalists of no low standard. To-night the company will produce that well known play "Bride of the West."

"It is with pleasure that I tell of the great benefit I derived from Hood's Sarsaparilla. For 6 years I have been badly afflicted with

The Promenade Concert

Patronized by His Hon. The Lieut.-Governor and Mrs. Kirkpatrick—A Fine Musical Rendition—The Vice-Regal Party Held a Reception—Magnificent Decorations.

The grand promenade concert given in the new market hall last evening by the 57th Battalion Band, under the distinguished patronage of His Honor, the Lieut.-Governor and Mrs. Kirkpatrick, was attended by hundreds of the most fashionable people of Peterborough. The hall was brilliantly illuminated by many incandescent lights gleaming from costly globes and highly ornamental chandeliers, furnished by Mr. Johnson Greer. The band occupied an artistically decorated platform at the southern end of the hall and played the following selections splendidly, enchanting their delighted hearers:—

March.....“Royal Lewes”.....Elliott
Valse.....“Donau Wellen”.....Ivanovici
Grand Selection.“Mariana”.....Wallace
Selection .....“Irish Airs”.....Herz
Selection (Scotch Airs). “Bobbie Burns”.....Elliott

Composed expressly for the celebrated London Military Band, introducing bagpipe imitation
Quadrille.....“Jolly Company”.....Kaps
Valse.....“Ferryman John”.....Hewitt
Galop.....Koenig

“Between the renditions of ‘Mariana” and “Bobbie Burns” a class of thirty school children, prettily dressed, went through the club swinging and hoop exercises under the direction of their instructor, Sergt.-Major Randle. A few minutes before nine o'clock His Honor Lieut.-Governor Kirkpatrick, Mrs Kirkpatrick and party entered the hall and proceeded to the grand dias opposite the entrance where they took seats The dias was most richly furnished, the carpets and curtains being furnished by Mr. Robert Fair, of the Golden Lion, and the furniture, which was a magnificent specimen of the upholsterer's art, was provided by Messrs. Craig and Mooney. During the evening His Honor and Mrs. Kirkpatrick held a reception. Mrs. Kirkpatrick, who is a lady of distinguished presence and marvellous beauty, wore a magnificent dress of black lace over pink silk and trimmed with pink feathers, with full court train and ornaments, pearls and diamonds. Very few of those present availed themselves of an introduction to the vice regal party, partly because the audience was seated.

The Lieut.-Governor expressed the hope that he might in this manner reciprocate the kindness and attention which the citizens had bestowed upon Mrs. Kirkpatrick and himself. The people of Peterborough certainly showed a lack of public spirit in this respect in not being desirous of a presentation to Hon. and Mrs. Kirkpatrick, who graciously received all who were introduced to them. The concert closed at 10 o'clock.

A Voice From the Canadian Press:

The Black Death!

The Scourge of the East.

Grim Asiatic Cholera is marching with stealthy but steady strides to these Western shores.

The foe is at our doors. Sanitary science with powerful disinfectants, fumigations and rigid quarantine regulations, stands guarding our ports.

But this fell destroyer or pestilential wing seems to float in the very air, and defy all efforts to beat him back. Wherever there lingers impurity and putrefaction he takes up his abode, and the seeds of the pestilence germinate and multiply.

Public sanitary vigilance is imperative. Let the sewers be flushed and every form of impurity be swept away. Let the health of the community be maintained to the highest possible degree. But in addition to all this let every individual be on the alert.

The human body has the most perfect complete system of sewerage, defying the utmost art of man to rival.

A wise Creator has provided means for the eradication of all effete and impure materials from the human body.

Morse's Indian Root Pills is such a perfect combination of the best and most energetic remedies provided by a beneficent Providence for the purpose of cleansing the whole system, "flushing the sewers," rousing up the liver, the kidneys and the whole intestinal tract to their proper functions and at the same time imparting vigor and tone to the whole system, that it is with the utmost confidence that we recommend it to the public as the best preventive of the fearful ravages of that justly dreaded disease, Asiatic Cholera.

Lindsay won the toss and took the wind and sun which was a great advantage. Peterborough kicked off and followed up but the ball was well returned. The game was a series of kicks by the opposing backs till Boucher kicked over the line and forced Lindsay to touch down. Lindsay kicked from the quarter, rushed up but Packenham getting the ball ran down the field into Lindsay's territory. Another touch down resulted soon after Lindsay kicked from the 25 yards and a scrimmage became the order of the day till Montgomery getting the ball, carried down the field and over Lindsays line, securing a try. Alexander failed in the kick for goal. The kick from ¼ was well followed up by Lindsay, but Peterboroughs superior passing and kicking, prevented anything serious resulting and they soon forced the ball back into Lindsay territory, where the Peterboroughs again scored. After the kick off the Lindsays made a series of kicks and gained the only point and got a rouge. Time was soon after called, with Peterborough 11, Lindsay 1.

The second half Peterborough had the sun and wind in their backs and went in for heavy scoring. It commenced by Packenham running in for Peterborough and getting a try. Alexander took the kick and converted it into a goal. After the kick off Peterborough started in to make things hot and went on piling up the scores, rouges and tries being the order of the day. The following men put up a splendid game for Peterborough:—Packenham, Montgomery, Bagley, G. Boucher, Heap, Smith, which, together with B. Boucher's punting and Loucks' forward play, were well worth witnessing in themselves. For Lindsay, Pepler, Rose, Martin and Barr put up a strong game.

Some of this Season's Building Operations.

Councillor McIlwaine is one of the town's foremost and biggest contractors and he has certainly done his share in the building line this season in erecting a number of fine substantial residences in various parts of Peterborough. Building operations have, generally speaking, been very good this year and it is expected that the assessment roll of the town will show a solid increase in real estate value in next years books. Mr. McIlwain has erected a handsome, commodious double story brick house on Shuebrooke street for himself. It is now completed and as a tasty unique structure adds much to the beauty of the street. Adjoining to his own property the representative from No. 4 Ward has built a two story brick veneered house for Mr. Ralph Carman, the work of which is completed. On Wescott street he erected two more substantial dwelling houses 1½ stories high, one for Police Constable J. Stewart, and the other for Mr. Eli. Reid. The contracts for these residences has been fulfilled. At present Mr. McIlwaine is erecting the following residences, ranging in cost from $1,200 to $2,000. Two story brick house for Mr. Solomon Northey, near Bernardo Home, another two story brick dwelling for Mr. J. Ames on Edinburgh street, and a brick house on Barnardo Avenue for Mr. Lawrence Smith. The latter house is nearly completed and ready for the plasterer's trowel.

A LONDON MIRACLE.

An Important Statement by a Well-Known Citizen.

Mr. E. J. Powell, of 33 Alma Street, Relates His Remarkable Experience to an Advertiser Representative—Tortured by Malignant Rheumatism From Boyhood, He at Last Escapes From Agony—A Story Full of Hope for Other Sufferers.

London Advertiser—

At 33 Alma street, South London, lives Mr. E. J. Powell, a gentleman who has resided in London and vicinity for about six years, and who enjoys the esteem of a large circle of friends here and elsewhere throughout the Province. Those who know him are doubtless aware that he has been a sufferer since his youth from rheumatism in its worst form. His acquaintances in the city, who remember the long siege of the illness he stood a year ago last winter, and who had come to look upon him as almost a confirmed invalid, have been surprised of late to see the remarkable change for the better that has taken place. The haggard face and almost crippled form of a year ago have given way to an appearance of robustness, vigor and agility that certainly seem the result of miraculous agency.

Hearing of this a reporter called on Mr. Powell in order to ascertain by what magic means this transformation had been wrought. The scribe first asked if the reports concerning this wonderful restoration to health were true. "I am thankful to say they are," said Mr. Powell. "My case is pretty well known around here."

"To what do you owe your recovery?" was asked.

"I owe it to the use of a certain remedy," he replied; "but I would prefer saying nothing at present. I have suffered nearly all my life with a malady I had begun to regard as incurable, and the fact that I am permanently relieved appeared incredible. In common parlance, it seems to good to last. I want to be sure that I am permanently cured before anything is made public, so that when I do given a testimonial it will have some weight. You may call again later on and I will let you know."

About two months later the reporter knocked at Mr. Powell's door, and was admitted by that gentleman himself. The latter said he was now absolutely convinced of the permanency of his cure, but being a man who did not care for publicity, he had hesitated long before he could make up his mind to allow his name to be used. Coming from one of his conscientiousness and probity of character, his words cannot fail to have the weight they deserve.

"The primary cause of my rheumatism," said Mr. Powell, "I attribute to a severe thrashing administered to me by a school teacher when I was 13 or 14 years of age. I received injuries then which subsequently brought me years of suffering. The first time I really felt any rheumatic trouble was one day when carrying an armful of wood up a flight of stairs in Victoria College, Cobourg, which institution I was attending as a student. This was in 1872. A twinge of pain caught me, but passed away in an instant. I did not know what it was. Again, when playing football, I experienced a like sensation and that marked the commencement. After that I was attacked at various periods, though it was not until 1876 that I began to grow alarmed. I was living then in Toronto, keeping books for my brother, who was in the wholesale tea business, and as I resided on North Pembroke street and had to walk to Wellington street every day, I found that my rheumatism was getting pretty bad. I did not consult a doctor, but took different patent medicines advertised to cure complaints of my nature. I was not benefitted, however. The rheumatism got down to, only to return in the fall and spring. In 1878 I engaged in mercantile business in Essex county. From that out I was at indoor work, but the pain returned at intervals. I suffered from toothache in the left leg; it was very acute at times. In taking a cold one day it became so severe that I was hardly able to move around. This was the first acute symptom—that is where the effects remained for any length of time. I suffered the most intense pain for days. That was about the year 1880.

"For a number of years afterwards I continued to grow worse and worse. In 1884 I went into the real estate business in Toronto, and having a good deal of walking to do, I experienced the pain constantly that summer. It was all day and at all times, frequently so bad that I would have to stand on the street, so as the muscles of my left leg and hip swung until the spasm was over. At most, I could walk only a block or four blocks and would then rest by sitting. I consulted medical men and was advised to try electricity. I took the treatment steadily for several weeks, getting sometimes two or three charges a day, on the hands and feet from an electric battery. But it did me not the slightest good. At last my health became so bad that I decided to quit the real estate business and enter upon rural life, thinking that the change of air and occupation might have a beneficial effect. So I exchanged some property for the old Dr. West 167 acre farm near the city. I worked it one year, but found it was too laborious for my complaint, which was fast rendering my life a burden. I reluctantly left the farm and came into London three years ago last May. I did some building here, but my malady prevented me from actively engaging in business.

"A year ago last winter the first snow fell on December 1; I went out to shovel the snow, and before I got through I was seized with a pain and had to go into the house. For fourteen weeks I never left it. The only way in which I could be moved was by being wrapped around in an easy chair. What I suffered during that period no one but myself can ever realize. I was attended by the best physician in the city of London. Possibly his treatment was not without temporary effect; at any rate I gradually recovered until I was able to be on my feet once more. I decided to try country life again, and went back to my farm last year, but I still found I had it as bad as ever. I was living in dread of having to go through another ordeal, when I read in the papers about this Marshall miracle in Hamilton. I had then as much faith in Pink Pills as I had in other patent medicines—and that wasn't very great. I did not bother with them nor did I think of the matter again until last September. I saw Mr. Marshall at the Western Fair and he advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I told him I did not think the remedy claimed to cure rheumatism, and that although I had certainly ocular proof that his own was bona fide, my complaint was different to his. Mr Marshall said he could not say whether it would cure rheumatism or not, but the pills were good for the blood anyway, and at least it would do me no harm to try half a dozen boxes. I neglected his advice; it would be useless to try a medicine, I thought. Many of my friends, who had probably read of the remarkable cures accomplished by Pink Pills, kept urging me to give them a trial.

"At last I yielded and bought six boxes as a sort of forlorn hope, I took four boxes and received no benefit that I could recognize, but while taking the fifth I noticed that for a period of three or four days I felt no pain. This was a novelty to me, as for three or four years I had not known what it was to have a moment's freedom from suffering, whether in bed or out of it. I supposed it was a temporary relaxation due to natural causes, However, it gave me some hope to finish the sixth box. Then I knew I was getting better—much better. The pain which had been constant became intermittent and less severe. My friends and family told me I was beginning to look like another man. My face, which had begun to bear a drawn expression, common with people who are suffering, commenced to show a better color. My system was being toned up. Inspired with increased hope I purchased six more boxes from Mr. Mitchell, the druggist, and continued to take them, and with each box I realized more and more that it was a cure. I used up thirteen boxes in all, and when the thirteen were finished I had not a symptom of pain for three months."

"At that time Mr. Mitchell spoke to me about it in the store. I told him what a blessing had been wrought for me through the use of Pink Pills. He asked me if I would object to giving a testimonial to the firm——Dr. Williams' Medicine Company of Brockville. I said I was not a man who cared for notoriety of any character, and did not relish the idea of having my name published broadcast over the land. That is one of the reasons why I have been so long in making this public. But I am so profoundly grateful for my rescue from a life of pain to one of health and strength that I feel I would be neglecting a duty I owe to suffering humanity if I allowed these scruples to interfere any longer with an avowal of what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have done for me. I discontinued taking Pink Pills the 1st of April last. I started again in June and have used six boxes, not because I have had any recurrence of my old complaint, but because I want to thoroughly drive it out of my system. I think the pill as good as a tonic."

"Now," concluded Mr. Powell, "you have my experience. I know what I was—I know what I am. I know that from boyhood I have been a victim of malignant rheumatism, which has been a torture the last few years. I know that I have tried every remedy and been treated by the best medical skill, but in vain. I know that Pink Pills have succeeded where everything else has failed and that they have brought me back health and happiness. Therefore I ought to be thankful, and I am thankful." And Mr. Powell's intense earnestness of manner could admit of no doubt as to his gratitude and sincerity. The reporter shook hands and took his leave. "You may ask Rev. Mr. McIntyre, of the Askin street Methodist church, or Rev. G. A. Andrews, B. A., pastor of the Lambeth circuit, whether I was a sick man or not," were his parting words.

REV. MR MCINTYRE'S TESTIMONY.

The reporter dropped in on Rev. C. McIntyre at the parsonage, 82 Askin street. "I know Mr. Powell well," said the reverend gentleman when questioned. "He was an esteemed parishioner of mine when he lived on Askin street. He afterwards moved into the country, but he has since returned and is attending the Askin street church again."

"Do you remember Mr. Powell's illness a year ago last winter?"

"Yes; I frequently called on him. He had a very bad attack of rheumatism which laid him up for a long time. He had to be wheeled around the house in a chair."

"You notice that he has recovered?"

"Yes; he appears to be a well man now. I heard he had been cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

"You know Mr. Powell to be a thoroughly honorable gentleman and that if he says these Pills cured him, he believes that to be the truth?"

"I do. Mr. Powell is, in my opinion, a most conscientious person, and any statement he would make would be perfectly reliable."

WHAT MR. MITCHELL SAYS

"Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the best selling and most popular medicines in the store," said Mr. B. A. Mitchell, the well know druggist, upon whom the reporter next called.

"Do you know of Mr. Powell's case?" asked the reporter.

"Yes, and I consider it a most remarkable one. I remember that Mr. Powell was a great sufferer from rheumatism. He was continually buying medicine of some sort, but seemed to get not better. Then he commenced to try Pink Pills. I saw he was beginning to look like a different man, so I asked him one day about it. He told me that he owed his cure to the use of Dr. Williams Pink Pills. As I have already said, the demand for Pink Pills is something astonishing, and they invariably give the best satisfaction. I know this to be so from the voluntary statements of customers, and if necessary the proprietors could get scores of testimonials from people here who have been benefited by the use Pink Pills. I have sold thousands of boxes, and have no hesitation in recommending them as a perfect blood builder and nerve restorer, curing such diseases as rheumatism, neuralgia, partial paralysis, locomotor ataxia, St. Vitus' dance, nervous headache, nervous prostration and the tired feeling therefrom, the after effects of la grippe, disease depending on humors in the blood, such as scrofula, chronic erysipelas, etc. Pink Pills give a healthy glow to pale and sallow complexions, and are a specific for the troubles peculiar to the female system, and in case of men they effect a radical cure in all cases arising from mental worry, over-work or excesses of any nature."

Mr. Hodgins, the head clerk, corroborated what Mr. Mitchell had said. The sale of Pink Pills was extraordinary and the general verdict was that it was a wonderful medicine. These Pills are manufactured by the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont., and Schenectady, N. Y., and are sold only in boxes bearing our trade mark and wrapper, at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2 50. Bear in mind that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are never sold in bulk, or by the dozen or hundred, and any dealer who offers substitutes in this form is trying to defraud you, and should be avoided. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills may be had of all druggists or direct by mail from Dr. Williams Medicine Company from either address. The price at which these pills are sold make a course of treatment comparatively inexpensive, as compared with other remedies or medical treatment.

Interested People

Advertising a patent medicine in the peculiar way in which the proprietor of Kemp's Balsam for Coughs and Colds does, it is indeed wonderful. He authorizes all druggists to give those who call for it, a sample bottle free, that they may try it before purchasing. The large bottles are 50c and a dollar. We certainly would advise a trial. It may save you from consumption. dw

"German Syrup"

G. Gloger, Druggist, Watertown, Wis. This is the opinion of a man who keeps a drug store, sells all medicines, comes in direct contact with the patients and their families, and knows better than anyone else how remedies sell, and what true merit they have. He hears of all the failures and successes, and can therefore judge: "I know of no medicine for Coughs, Sore Throat, or Hoarseness that had done such effective work in my family as Boschee's German Syrup. Last winter a lady called at my store, who was suffering from a very severe cold. She could hardly talk, and I told her about German Syrup and that a few doses would give relief; but she had no confidence in patent medicines. I told her to take a bottle, and if the results were not satisfactory I would make no charge for it. A few days after she called and paid for it, saying that she would never be without it in future as a few doses had given her relief." ⑦

A KNOTTY QUESTION

Which can only be Solved after Mature Deliberation.

Every father and mother, before buying Boots and Shoes for their children, should hold a consultation together and try and arrive at an answer to the following five questions:

1. What kind of boots do we want?
2. Are any to be got that will wear well?
3. Who keeps this kind?
4. Are these people reliable?
5. Can they afford to sell good boots cheap?

Having carefully analyzed these questions to their satisfaction, why not decide to try

THEY ARE'NT INCAPABLE

THE ENGLISH PRINCES EARN THEIR PAY IN THE ARMY.

There was a Great Commotion Among the Quidnuncs When the Duke of Connaught was Mentioned to Command in India, but in the Word of a Statesman. "There's Nothing To It."

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—"A Member of Parliament" telegraphs as follows to The New York Herald:

A few days ago an agitation, which promised to afford rare sport for the million and give the orators of Hyde Park a new and inexhaustible theme for their denunciations of the wickedness in high places, was started by a news agency.

A rumor went forth that the Duke of Connaught, third son of the Queen, was to succeed Lord Frederick Roberts, Commander-in-Chief in India. In the course of a few hours that section of the press which is always ferreting out something disagreeable to say about any member of the Royal Family was in a whirl of excitement.

Awfully Awful.

There was another job at the expense of the taxpayers, and worse even than that, would very likely result in the loss of India. The Duke of Connaught did not even know how to "set a squadron in the field" and now was to be hoisted over the heads of the most experienced soldiers England has to show.

It was a capital hare to start, but it did not run very far, for an official contradiction appeared almost instantly, and the agitators, with their alarming cries and blue fire, had to beat a retreat.

It was a pity, for we might have had processions in Hyde Park and lots of speeches to-day if the thing could have been left going for a few days longer.

What the Public Thinks.

Of course the Duke of Connaught is not a soldier in the sense that Lord Roberts is one, but the bitterness of the attacks upon him is not to be explained by that fact. The general impression upon the public mind is that the Queen's sons and relatives are only put in the army and navy as a means of providing them with handsome incomes and that they never take the least trouble to learn their duties.

Now, there is where a great mistake is made. So far from being negligent or ignorant, all these persons have worked hard to fit themselves for their positions, and they are quite on a level point in technical proficiency with their brother officers. There is no better sailor, for instance, in the royal navy than the Duke of Edinburgh. Every branch of the service is familiar to him.

The Duke of Connaught was a cadet at Woolwich when only sixteen, and from that day to this he has been performing military duties. He served in Egypt in 1882 and since then has been much in India. No one would dream of suggesting that he is to be put on a level with Lord Roberts, who went through the Indian mutiny, fought in the Abyssinian campaign and carried out the celebrated march to Candahar.

Nor is it supposed that a man of 42 can have had as much experience as a man of 60.

At His Fingers' Ends

At one time I fully shared the popular impression which I have referred to, but it happened that I was called upon to serve on a select parliamentary committee which was enquiring into the condition of the army and kindred questions for two days.

We had the Duke of Cambridge before us as a witness. He was first looked upon with great suspicion by the Radical members of the committee, who expected to see him bowled over at the first few questions. It soon became evident that there was no detail connected with the army, from the cost of the private soldier's boots to the actual strength of the entire British forces, which he had not at his fingers' ends. He knew his business thoroughly and answered the questions without hesitation. He was found to be absolutely right in all his facts, and proved beyond doubt that he took the deepest interest in the welfare of the rank and file, and wanted to see them treated more liberally in many respects, but had no power in the matter.

Must Pay For a Good Army.

"If you want a good army," he said, "you must pay for it. And the House of Commons is always crying out for economy. You can't get a first-rate article at a low price."

Some one asked him why it was necessary to have such showy uniforms on most of our soldiers.

"Because," he said, "a showy uniform attracts Mary Ann, the nursemaid, who makes Tommy Atkins join the army. Put them into an ordinary street dress and women would not look at them. You would find recruiting a harder job than ever."

Made a Great Impression.

It is not all for honor and glory that the British soldier serves his Queen and country. The Duke made a great impression upon the entire committee. We had Lord Wolseley, General Brackenbury and other distinguished soldiers before us, but none of them was more at home in dealing with military technicalities than the Duke.

"He is not at all what I expected," remarked a Radical colleague to me with a smile. "Upon my word I believe he honestly earns his money."

I will venture to say, as one who is in favor of cutting down salaries and a most rigid economy, that the same remark applies to the sons of the Queen and the Prince of Wales who are in the army or the navy. They have been too well trained to run any risk of appearing ignorant by the side of the other officers in the service.

I am no courtier, but I am in favor of treating everybody according to his merits, whether he be the son of a monarch or the butcher round the corner.

They Work Hard.

These royal personages, of course, start with great advantages, but they work hard, go through very strict apprenticeship and their duties are well performed. There is no army or naval officer competent to give an opinion on the subject who will not readily assent to this.

The days of "figureheads" and empty pretensions are past. George IV. wanted to be Commander-in-Chief and, although that wish was not gratified, he succeeded in persuading himself that not only was he at the battle of Waterloo, but that he commanded a division there.

At last he had the audacity to appeal to the Duke of Wellington to confirm his story.

"Is it not true, Duke?" he said at dinner one day. "Did I not command a division at Waterloo?"

"I have heard Your Majesty say so," judiciously replied the Iron Duke, and the matter was pressed no further.

Insubordination in the Life Guards.

LONDON, Sept. 27.—The members of the First Life Guards regiment stationed at Windsor have been disaffected for some time owing to the many drills and inspections they have been compelled to undergo by Capt. Rawson. Yesterday a non-commissioned officer of C squadron found all the 80 saddles belonging to the squadron cut and entirely ruined. The men were ordered into their barracks and confined. They became uproarious, disturbing the whole neighborhood.

The Report Discredited.

LONDON, Sept. 27.—Little credence is attached to the report cabled from Ottawa that the Imperial Government, at the request of the Dominion Government, has ordered a man-of-war to proceed to Vladivostock to investigate the recent seizure of sealing vessels by Russian cruisers. Such a method of action is quite contrary to the usual course of British diplomacy.

The Chronicle, commenting on the subject, says that one sends a warship to a savage island, not to a neighboring power.

The Times Opposes Protection.

LONDON, Sept. 27.—The Times yesterday gives a further blow to the hope of the United Empire traders. In its leading editorial it says that to restore protection would be far more difficult than was its destruction 50 years ago. It flatly denies that a duty on foreign wheat would not lead to an increase in the price of the British loaf, and contends that a duty of 6s per quarter would mean a tax of £5,000,000 sterling on the community, 40 per cent. of which would never reach the exchequer, but would simply enrich a small class.

Excitement Over a Mysterious Death.

LONDON, Sept. 27.—Considerable excitement has been caused here by the mysterious death of Ruby Russell, an actress of some note, whose real name was Marrianne Sharpe. At the time of her death she was living with Dr. Herron, an army surgeon. An inquest was held, but the cause of her death could not be ascertained, although she was supposed to have been poisoned. Saturday, after taking sufficient poison to kill himself, Dr. Herron cut his throat. He was a widower, his wife having died in Jamaica in 1891. An inquest was held upon her body at the time.

Drowning Near Gananoque.

KINGSTON, Sept. 27.—James Harvey, foreman of the Grindstone Island quarry, was drowned during a heavy storm while crossing from Gananoque. He had been drinking, and went out after protests by friends.

No Cholera at New York.

QUARANTINE, Sept. 27.—Dr. Jenkins has officially announced that the port of New York is free from cholera. The health officer says there are no cholera cases down the bay, all the sick having recovered.

NEW CASES AT NEW YORK

CHOLERA NOT ERADICATED FROM THE SHIPS.

Several Cases Developed Yesterday Among the Steerage Passengers Who are Still Detained on Board the Vessel Although She Was the Foulest Cholera Ship in the Port.

QUARANTINE, Sept. 28.—Yesterday at 9 a.m., after a trip down the bay, Dr. Jenkins said there were two new cases of cholera, and an hour later he showed a telegram from Dr. Byron, dated Sept. 26, stating that there were two new cases on the Bohemia and that he had removed them to Swinburne Island. One was a boy named Michsarich, aged 8, and he died at 1.20 p.m. on the 26th, two hours and a quarter after being admitted. The other was Marianna Lukowake, aged 7. Dr. Jenkins said he thought the telegram was misdated, and should have been 1.20 a.m. on the 27th, as he had only just got it. On the other hand, Dr. Kinyoun stated this afternoon that he saw these cases yesterday when he was down the bay. Apparently here is something that needs explanation.

In addition to the two cases above cited, at 12 o'clock Dr. Jenkins gave out another bulletin from Dr. Byron to the effect that Wilhelm Latz, aged 4 years; Johanna Milkzario, aged 6 years, and Carl Gosman, aged 24 years, all of the Bohemia, were down with cholera, and had been removed to Swinburne Island. Whether the three latter cases had anything to do with the giving out of the news of the two former remains an open question.

Dr. Jenkins says he should not be surprised if fresh cases broke out on board the Bohemia, although she was fumigated as far as was possible with the passengers on board, previous to the present cases.

With Her Dead Infant in Her Arms.

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—Mrs. Mary Loebl created a stir at the coroner's office Tuesday afternoon by bringing in her arms to the office her dead infant, supposed to have died of Asiatic cholera. An autopsy showed that death was not due to cholera, but to dysentery.

Another supposed case of cholera was reported that of Charles Zeisek, 21 months old, whose parents live at No. 408 E. 53rd-street. The child has been sick for two days and displayed the usual symptoms. It was taken to the Reception Hospital.

A Case in Michigan.

ROYALTON, Mich., Sept. 28. — James Weed, an old man who lived in reeking filth, has been stricken with Asiatic cholera. The schools here have been closed for several days.

Returns from Hamburg.

LONDON, Sept. 28.—The Standard's Hamburg correspondent gives the following as the cholera returns for Tuesday: New cases 146, deaths 57, burials 173, patients in hospitals 1981.

Cholera in Belgium and Holland.

LONDON, Sept. 28.—Isolated cholera cases and deaths have occurred at Ghent, in Belgium, and at Meerssen, Utrecht, Delft, Groningen, The Hague and other towns in Holland.

THEY PLAYED THE "LOST CHORD."

The Late Patrick Gilmore to be Given a Military Funeral.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 28.—"Poor Gilmore," said Manager Bancroft of the Cincinnati Ball Club, a great friend, "was quite jovial with his friends on Friday night. He said he had just received the official information that he had been appointed musical director for the World's Fair; that it had been the height of his ambition to secure this recognition." "Why" said Gilmore, "it's the highest honor ever bestowed upon a musician in the world's history. I wish to round out my fame with the grandest musical season ever known, and the World's Fair will give me the opportunity. Then I shall be willing to retire and take life easier."

Mr. Gilmore's body was sent to New York last evening by the Big Four route. The directors of the exposition and the band escorted the hearse to the depot. As the train started for New York the dead leader's band of 100 pieces played as it pulled out of the depot "The Lost Chord." It is said that while not wealthy he leaves his family in comfortable circumstances, and that his estate will foot up about $40,000.

A Military Funeral

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—The body of the late Patrick S. Gilmore arrived here yesterday from St. Louis. The remains were taken to the family residence. Mrs. Gilmore has given her consent to a military funeral, which will take place to-morrow.

PLUNDERERS PUNISHED.

Buctouche, N.B., the Victim of a Gang of Incendiary Toughs.

MONCTON, N.B., Sept 28.—Reports from Buctouche, Kent Co., state that a wholesale robbery was practised by a mob of onlookers on the sufferers by the recent fire. Several bold attempts had been made to fire the village during the past few weeks and the final conflagration was undoubtedly the work of incendiaries, deliberately planned for the sake of plunder. When the state of panic had been reached the vandals entered stores and changed their old clothes and boots for new ones, and liquor was stolen and consumed. This made the scenes more disgraceful. Constables arrested two toughs for riotous conduct, and while conveying them to jail they were fired upon from ambush by other toughs. More serious crimes are hinted at. The work of rebuilding will begin at once.

SCANDAL IN THE VILLAGE.

There is a Woman in It and a Big Brother Who is Wrathy.

CHATSWORTH, Ont., Sept. 28.—A scandal affecting Dr. Oldham and a married woman named Hopkins has been the subject of gossip in the village and country for some weeks past and culminated yesterday afternoon in Hamp Fox, a brother of the woman, assaulting and severely beating Oldham in the street opposite the latter's house. The Doctor attempted to draw a revolver, but before he could use it received a blow from Fox which felled him, after which Fox again struck and kicked him, leaving him insensible. Constable Galbraith then attempted to take the revolver from Fox, the latter having picked the weapon up when he got off Oldham, and the constable received a severe blow from Fox, who is now in jail awaiting trial for resisting an officer. Dr. Oldham is recovering.

Mrs. Harrison Still Very Ill.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—Mrs. Harrison had a comfortable day; after resting fairly well during the night. She took more than the usual amount of nourishment and slept some portions of the day. Mrs. Harrison is holding her own, though there is little, if any, change in her condition.

Attempted Suicide At Buffalo.

BUFFALO, Sept. 28.—David Kent, a Canadian, attempted suicide at a hotel here last night by shooting himself through the abdomen. He is still alive at the hospital, but will die. Family trouble was the cause of his act.

BABY FOUR WEEKS OLD
Distressing Skin Disease from Birth. Cured in 5 Weeks. Made Healthy and Beautiful by Cuticura Remedies.

My baby boy had been suffering from birth with some sort of an eruption. The doctors called it eczema. His little neck was one raw and exposed mass of red, inflamed flesh. His arms and across and under his thighs, wherever the fat flesh made a fold, were just the same. For four weeks after his birth he suffered with this eruption, and until I got CUTICURA REMEDIES, there was little sleep for any one. In five weeks he was completely cured. He was nine weeks old February 1st, and you ought to see his skin now, smooth, even, and a beautiful pink and white color. He is as healthy as he can be. The CUTICURA RESOLVENT has given him tone, vigor and strength. I enclose his portrait. Thanks to the famous CUTICURA REMEDIES. They cannot be spoken of too highly, they have done all that has been claimed for them.
WM. A. GARDNER, 184 E. 123d St., New York.

From the age of two months my baby suffered with the eczema on her face and body. Doctored without avail. Used CUTICURA REMEDIES. Found them in every respect satisfactory. The child has now a beautiful skin and is cured. We cheerfully recommend the same to all mothers.

There is style and design and attractiveness about the clothing sold at the Grand Union Clothing Hall, and that is considerable to a man who has been accustomed to wear ordered clothing. We aim to please you as well with our Ready-Made as the suit you would leave your order for. Then there is the time gained, besides there is the difference in price. It is two to one if you would be able to tell the difference. We admit the disadvantages heretofore in this particular, but we have overcome them. ECHOES OF THE ALLIANCE

A HERESY CHARGE CALLS FOR WARM COMMENT.

Startling Statement—Indignant Denial—Sturdy Scotchmen on Their Mettle—Description of an Eventful Day With the Presbyterians—Too Many Village Churches.

TORONTO, Sept. 29.—The morning session was decorously dull. The ranks of the devout were swelled by an importation from South Africa, who had been detained 18 days in quarantine. He declared himself free from infection but not affection.

Slaying the Slain.

This favorite operation was performed by the alliance commissioning Drs. Rentoul and Paton to wait upon the United States Government and urge its co-operation in restraining the exportation of firearms and liquors to the New Hebrides.

There is a very pretty quarrel anent this matter. Dr. Van Meter publicly challenged the venerable missionary's statement that there was any American opposition whatever. In the morning he vowed he would prove his statement, and in the afternoon triumphantly flourished a telegram from Secretary of State Foster that an agreement to this effect had been entered into by England, France, Germany and the United States as far back as 1884.

Non-Committal as to Doctrine.

Principal Caven holds decided views on doctrine, so do his brethren, but as on an epoch-making occasion, "neither did their testimony agree." Hence the wisdom of the alliance yesterday agreeing to differ as to doctrine. "To formulate any definition of doctrine might imperil the position of the council," said Dr. Caven; and nobody said a word in favor of the old Westminster Confession or the emasculated one.

Then Principal MacVicar told gray-headed men who had spent half a century in the ministry, what he conceived to be the Bible character of a minister. He impugned human priesthood, ignoring the passage, "made us priests unto God," and the historic taunt that "priest is but presbyter writ large."

Want No Low Comedy.

Timely were the animadversions of Dr. Oliver of Glasgow on the ministerial functions. The Doctor deplored the tomfoolery and low comedy too often imported into the pulpit for the sake of a cheap popularity and the filling of the collection plate.

Dr. Ross Taylor, another Glasgow man, held forth on "The Minister as an Organiser." His matter was good, his style of the best, and probably the handsomest man in the Alliance was the most applauded. Trenchantly he condemned the church for practically doing nothing to stem the rush of iniquity past the church doors. He pleaded for practical methods to give effect to fervent pulpit appeals, whose result was generally evanescent. "It will never do," said he, "to stick with stubborn obstinence to the old ruts."

Modern Higher Criticism.

Professor Moore of Virginia read a scholarly paper on "The Drifts of Theological Thought." Some severe strictures on present-day apologetics were loudly cheered, but mainly by the younger portion of the audience. Here is a specimen: "Some of the defences of the Christian system put forward in the pulpit to-day are anachronisms and are absurd!"

Present Day Philanthropies.

Principal Hutton of Paisley read a thoughtful paper on "The Social, Mental and Philanthropic Activities of the Day," in the course of which he censured Presbyterian apathy to the submerged tenth, socialism, the fallen sisterhood and popular questions. There was moral cowardice in the pulpit in reference to evils in all classes, especially in those well-to-do. The conclusion was: "What the church wants is applied Christianity."

Too Many Village Churches.

President Black of Missouri, as the result of a world-wide correspondence, averred that there is no demand for an increased number of Presbyterian ministers within the church, but there is for an increased number of efficient ministers. [Cheers.]

This was a startling statement, but it was as nothing to what followed: "There are many villages where Presbyterian churches are not wanted. They had better die and leave the field to the Methodists and Baptists, who are doing the work better." [Laughter.] The doctor stuck to his text and showed the waste of power in having three or four churches in one small village, and the breeding of sectarianism. He was candid enough to say that the other denominations were doing better work. He was very outspoken about the average minister. He ought to be every one's servant, to be industrious, sympathetic, and above all to have brains. [Laughter.]

The evil of the illiterate itinerant evangelist he could not find words to express.

Professor Rentoul's Avowal.

In the course of the discussion the chief speaker was the Australian professor. The Darwinian system, he said, had not been broken by theologians, but by the most advanced scientists.

"There is a Christian Higher Criticism," added he with vigor, "which will and ought to hold its ground." The professor was elaborating this when the chairman rang him down.

Principal Grant's Declaration.

The learned Principal of Queen's University boldly declared, whatever others might be, he was not afraid of Higher Criticism. "This is a legitimate branch of learning against which it is as wise to butt as against a railway train."

"The Church of Christ is not afraid of any learning or criticism. (Cheers.) I object to it going forth that we are afraid of Higher Criticism."

"Why play to the gallery and condemn men because they are trying to spell out the truth of God? Jesus Christ is our foundation. With Luther I hold it does not matter who wrote the Pentateuch. I am not tied to Rabbinism."

An Unexpected Tribute to Gladstone.

Rev. Dr. McKibben of Ohio was allowed to make some comments in the afternoon on Higher Criticism. He said with vigor that Protestantism is battling for its life to-day in a battle which has never been surpassed save by the Reformation itself. The large attainments of the linguist does not ipso facto make a sound historic critic.

Continuing, the doctor added, "I say without fear of contradiction that William Ewart Gladstone is a better judge of the forces which in the past have made history than any man whose knowledge is simply confined to history in books. [Cheers.] When the foremost statesman of the English race places his foot on the impregnable rock of Holy Scripture, smaller men can stand there with imperturbability. [Renewed cheers.]

The Citadel is Being Attacked.

"All collisions between the church and modern science, while they prove the inaccuracy of the church have proved the accuracy of the record. [Loud applause.] The question to-day is not one of interpretation. The citadel which is being attacked is the person of Jesus Christ. The issue is sharp to-day. Did the Son of God not know enough that He misled his disciples about the Old Testament Scriptures? My Master's word against the world!" [Cheers.]

An Impressive Moment.

This last sentence was said in loud deliberative tones, the speaker quivering with emotion and tears filling his eyes. The people hung on his lips. A revelation was looked for—and it came:

"The church has had two great battles: first, for the Kingship of Jesus Christ; then for His priestly office. Scotland, the mother of us all, fought the battle and she won it—[cheers]—and placed the crown upon the true King, rejecting all hierarchies."

Scotland Charged With Disloyalty to Christ.

This was the climax: "Is it true that Scotland now falters with regard to the prophetical office of Jesus Christ?" [Cries from the Scotch delegates, "No, no."]

Here the chairman interposed and Dr. McKibben left the platform.

Up sprang Professor Lindsay and Principal Grant. The former advanced to the platform, but the chairman said the time had expired. Whereupon Principal Grant and Rev. D. J. Macdonnell moved that this eminent representative of Scotch theology be heard in reply. Loud shouts of "Agreed" came from all parts of the house.

Professor Lindsay's Stern Repudiation.

In calm, measured tones, with a voice full of pathos, the eminent divine said: "I do not believe, as a Scotch minister and as a Scotch professor, that Scotland is at all standing, or about to stand, in the position Dr. McKibben seems to think we are.

"I feel wounded to the heart at his speaking about Scotland in the somewhat reckless manner he did. Our Scotch members believe heart and soul—ministers, members, students and even slandered professors—in the divinity of Our Lord Jesus Christ, in his kingly, priestly, aye, and in His prophetic office. [Cheers.]

"I really must protest against the insinuations which have been made, the reckless assertions, that Scotland is in any part of it departing from her ancient faith." [Renewed cheering, during which the Professor resumed his seat.]

At this juncture both American and Scotch divines sprang to their feet, but the chairman ruled anything further out of order and called on Dr. John Hall of New York to offer prayer.

This he did in most pathetic terms, praying for forgiveness for bitter feelings and hasty words, and for the charity of the Master which hopeth and believeth the best. The benediction terminated a scene that will be memorable.

NANCY HANKS IN 2.04.

The Phenomenal Mare Again Lowers the Record.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Sept. 29.—Six thousand people witnessed the record-breaking events of yesterday's races. Nancy Hanks was driven to beat her regulation-track record, 2.07. At 4 o'clock, after some preliminary slow jogs, she appeared with Budd Doble up accompanied by Frank Starr behind the runner, Abe Lincoln. The track received but little more attention than for the other races beyond one extra scrape and dragging.

The day was fair, not hot, and a light breeze stirred. Frank Walker gave the word and the mare started at full speed. The first quarter was made in .31, the runner galloping furiously behind her. Her gait was steady as a piston. The half was reached in 1.02½, the third quarter pole in 1.32½ and the mile was trotted in 2.04 without a break or show of uneasiness or over-driving. The best quarter was the third, which was made in 29¾.

Monbars in 2.11¾.

Scarcely was this sensation over when George Starr, taking advantage of the smooth track, sent Monbars to beat his record of 2.14½, made at Columbus last Saturday. The colt was in great form and lowered the record for 3-year-old stallions previously held by Axtell, trotting the mile in 2.11¾. His fractional time was .33¾, 1.07¼, 1.39¾ and the last quarter in 32 seconds.

220 Yards Run in 21 3-5 Seconds.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Sept. 29.—The best record ever made in the United States for the 220 yards dash was that of Jewett of the Detroit Athletic Club on Yale field yesterday. He made the distance in 21 3-5 seconds. The track was in good shape.

JAILED FOR A YEAR.

The Result of a Horse-Stealing and Kidnapping Case.

WOODSTOCK, Sept. 29.—Thomas Churchill and his wife were arraigned at the assizes yesterday charged with stealing a horse from Joseph Adair and kid-napping two of Adair's children. The couple are about the toughest specimens seen in a Canadian court of justice. Churchill claims Flint, Mich., as his home. He came over here a few weeks ago on a visit to friends and stopped for a week with Joseph Adair of South Norwich. One day during his absence in the cornfield Churchill and his wife stole his horse and buggy and drove off. To avoid the possibility of anyone remaining behind to tell tales about his doings Churchill kidnapped Adair's two children. The constables started in pursuit and after several days' search overtook the runaways at a place bearing the ghastly name of Rattlesnake Hollow. Elizabeth Churchill, who is a victim of paralysis, was acquitted, while her husband was given a year in the Central Prison. Constable Fish of Otterville, therefore, is entitled to the $100 reward offered by the county for the capture of the horse thief. A. S. Ball defended the prisoners, F. R. Ball prosecuting.

A Warrant For Mayor McShane.

MONTREAL, Sept. 29.—Yesterday the Mayor of Montreal, the well-known James McShane, was served with a warrant signed by Judge Tait, threatening to consign His Worship to the common jail for contempt of court in not appearing when summoned as a witness in what is locally known as the Plourde horse case. The City Council by a majority agreed to pay damages to the amount of $650 for injury done to Mr. Plourde's horse in a runaway, due to the neglect of the city. The mayor objected to the payment of such a sum and Plourde sued the city. Mayor McShane has been allowed till Oct. 3 to put in an appearance.

PLUCKY ACT OF MRS. BALL.

THE WOODSTOCK BURGLARY IN COURT.

A Woman Who Went to the Assistance of Her Husband While He Was Struggling With a Burglar, Who Beat the Latter Insensible, Bound Him Fast and Handed Him Over to the Police.

WOODSTOCK, Sept. 29.—Before Mr. Justice Street at the Assizes was tried a case which shows the stuff our Canadian ladies are made of, and no longer is the Western girl, who can use a Winchester "with as much facility as her brother," and who possesses the iron nerve described in the literature of Western romance, the heroine of the hour. In Woodstock lives a lady who can use a revolver or a club with the greatest facility when necessary and who possesses a great amount of the right kind of nerve.

The Desperado Appears.

Alfred S. Ball, barrister and solicitor of Woodstock, was, between 1 and 2 o'clock on the morning of the 27th of August last, sitting in his dining room reading, when a small dog, his only companion in the room, the members of the family having some time before retired to rest, commenced to growl, at the same time going over toward the door of the room which led into the hall. At first Mr. Ball paid little attention to the animal, but shortly he arose and opened the door, saying to him, "I will leave the door open so that you can get in again." He was just about to return to his seat when a man appeared in the doorway and presenting a revolver at his head demanded his money. Mr. Ball, seeing no alternative, said he would give him what he had, and returning to the table in the room laid down the book, which he had been holding in his left hand, his right hand being in his pants pocket. The burglar followed him into the room, still holding the revolver pointed at Mr. Ball, who, having laid down his book, made a rapid spring and with his left hand caught the right wrist of the burglar and thrust it above their heads. Then each grasped the other and a desperate encounter followed. Mr. Ball called to his wife to telephone for the police, and she hurried down stairs armed with a revolver and asked her husband if she would shoot. By this time the men were at the bottom of the stairs in the front hall, and Mrs. Ball, who was on the third step from the bottom, at the words "Yes, shoot," from her husband leveled the revolver at the burglar's head and pulled the trigger. No report followed, and it was afterwards discovered that the revolver, a seven chamber one, was charged with six blank cartridges and that one chamber was empty. The empty chamber was the one which she had tried to fire.

Beaten Insensible With a Cane.

Mr. Ball's attention was diverted from his opponent for a moment by his wife's appearance and the burglar, taking advantage of this, managed to point his hand downward and fired a shot, the ball making a deep gash on the back part of Mr. Ball's head. Three other shots were fired in rapid succession, one passing through the collar of Mr. Ball's coat and shirt, another passing through the fleshy part of his left arm below the elbow and the third lodging in the dining-room door, in which direction he had succeeded in turning the burglar's hand. At this moment Mrs. Ball grasped the revolver and jerked it out of the villain's hand. She then handed her husband a stout cane. He was unable to use it, but getting it away from the burglar, who had grasped it, he threw it to one side. The burglar being now disarmed pretended to have drawn a knife, and was making plunges at Mr. Ball, saying he would stab him, when Mrs. Ball, becoming desperate, seized the stick and belabored the villain on the head till he fell stunned at her feet. It was lucky she did so, for Mr. Ball was almost exhausted from loss of blood, and the man would most likely have escaped.

Mrs. Ball Ties Him Up.

A rope was procured by Mrs. Ball's little daughter, who had come down stairs, and the brave lady proceeded to bind her prisoner hand and foot. By this time help began to arrive, and Mr. Marshall, a butcher, who lived near at hand, stood guard over the captive till the chief of police arrived and took him into custody.

Several witnesses were called for the prosecution, Mr. and Mrs. Ball being among the number. Mr. Ball is a large, athletic looking man and Mrs. Ball is a fair-sized, pleasant looking woman, while the prisoner, John Kelly, is a man of about five feet nine inches, with a small gray evil eye and a hard look, as if he cared for nothing, and was bound to be avenged, no matter on whom, for some supposed wrong.

No witnesses were called for the prisoner, his counsel, Mr. Fletcher, Q.C., preferring to depend on having the only address to the jury. He tried to show the jury that the revolver in the prisoner's hand, a self-cocker, had gone off by accident during the struggle and that no intent to kill was present.

In his charge to the jury the judge spoke in commendable terms of the bravery of Mrs. Ball, and said that the people of Woodstock should be proud to have living among them such a lady.

The jury retired and in about 20 minutes returned with a verdict of guilty of "shooting with intent to kill," and Kelly was at once sentenced to serve a term of 15 years in the Provincial Penitentiary.

He Would Kill to Live.

During the trial it was sworn that the prisoner, while lying bound on the floor, said in answer to an enquiry "that he would not go round to the back door begging for crusts; that he could not work as his right arm was broken; that he was going to steal, and if necessary, kill to get a living." On his person were found some burglar tools, and although little is known of his past it is supposed he was a professional burglar. He had gained an entrance to the house through an upstair window by means of a ladder, which he had carried some distance. When he appeared before Mr. Ball he had on neither hat, coat nor shoes. As he was being led from the court room heavily handcuffed, turning to Mr. Ball he said in a threatening tone: "If the good Lord spares me, Mr. Ball, I will give you another call," to which that gentleman replied "All right."

The Stony Lake Copper Mine.

An American Syndicate Undertakes Its Development.

Last Friday Mr. Roth, representing an American syndicate, arrived in town and visited the rich copper mine of Mr. J. B. McWilliams, in Dummer, on the shores of Stony Lake. The result of his visit was to the effect that on his return to town on Monday he was so well pleased with it that satisfactory proposals for the sale of the mine were made and accepted optionally. Mr. Roth returned to the mine on Tuesday morning with two mining experts to enter upon the development of the mine, the necessary labour being obtained in the neighbourhood. It is understood that Mr. McWilliam's option includes an interest in the mine. Fuller particulars will be available in a few days.

A Physician Speaks About It.

"Your Lactated Food saved the lives of a number of children that I attended in July and August. I found them in such a condition when called to see them, that I considered medicines were useless. In every case I made enquiries about their dieting, and discovered that they were not being properly fed. I always ordered Lactated Food, and the result in every case was most satisfactory and pleasing. The children recovered quickly and are now amongst the healthiest in the city."

The above remarks came from one of Montreal's best physicians, and should carry conviction to the heart of every mother whose child may be languishing, weak and puny.

If baby is not steadily gaining in health and strength, we advise mothers to give Lactated Food an immediate trial. Its cost is trifling, but the results are grand and encouraging.

So Palpable, You Know.

Proprietor—Idiot! can't you see they're a honeymooning couple?

Evolution of a Letter.

The small letter "i" was formerly written without the dot over it. The dot was introduced in the fourteenth century to distinguish "i" from "e" in hasty and indistinct writing. The letter "i" was also originally used where the "j" is now employed; the distinction between the two having been introduced by the Dutch writers in comparatively modern times. The "j" was originally dotted because the "i", from which it is derived, was written with a dot over it.

Interested People

Advertising a patent medicine in the peculiar way in which the proprietor of Kemp's Balsam for Coughs and Colds does, it is indeed wonderful. He authorizes all druggists to give bottles who call for it, a sample bottle free, that they may try it before purchasing. The large bottles are 50c and a dollar. We certainly would advise a trial. It may save you from consumption. dw

As a general rule, it is best not to correct costiveness by the use of saline or drastic medicine. When a purgative is needed, the most prompt, effective, and beneficial is Ayer's Pills. Their tendency is to restore, and not weaken, the normal action of the bowels.

There are more cases of sickness and death from diseased kidneys than from all other diseases combined. It is your own fault if you allow your kidneys to remain in an unhealthy condition when the cure is at hand. Dodd's Kidney Pills are guaranteed to cure the worst cases. It costs but little to give them a trial. They are for sale by all druggists and dealers or by mail on receipt of 50 cents or 6 boxes for $2 50

BURDHAM'S PILLS sell well because they cure.

A VERY POOR EXCUSE.

He Was Not Exactly Sure How He Came to Shoot His Wife.

CANTERBURY, N.B., Sept. 27.—Mrs. W. Carr, who was accidentally shot and killed by her husband on Thursday, lived about four miles from Canterbury station. The accident occurred about 3 o'clock in the morning. The parties had been watching for dogs around the cellar. Upon hearing dogs in the yard the old man went to the door with the gun, which went off very easily, shooting his wife, who was then in the yard in her bare feet and with only a night dress on. He could not account for her presence in the yard. He saw her when the gun went off. She was then about two and one-half rods from the house and with her back turned towards the gun. She jumped back about six feet and fell, and died in two hours. The gun was loaded with duck shot. The verdict of the jury was death from a shot from a gun in the hands of William Carr, but whether accidental or intentional could not say. The woman was 55 years old.

Some Extra Good Fishing.

Messrs. John Craig and John Haggart returned yesterday from a week's fishing at Rice Lake. In six days they made the fine catch of 303 pounds of bass and maskinonge. This is a pretty good week's work, a daily average of 50 lbs. The biggest take was an 18 lb maskinonge.

Royal Sprague is a handsome six year old brown stallion, weighing 1200 lbs. He was sired by King Sprague. The stallion was only put on the track last week for the first time, but is showing good speed He took third money in the stallion trot here.

Excelsior.

Scarcely has the public had their attention attracted to one particular class of dry goods by Mr. J. J. Sheehy, when they are again invited by that gentleman to call and inspect some other line equally as attractive. The public generally were well pleased to note that Mr. Sheehy fully verified the fact that "what's said is done" at his establishment. This week (along with the celebrated bargain in buttons at 3½ per dozen) will be offered a manufacturers' lot of sample towels. Some of them are worth only 3c., others are worth 95c. When it is known that the lot consisted of seventy dozen, and that they were all cleared at a price, you can imagine that cleanliness will be encouraged in Peterborough for the coming few days. Now, ladies, this is a case of "first in, first served," for bargains in towels; so act accordingly. His advertisement in another column should be read.

St. Luke's Harvest Festival.

The annual Harvest Festival of St. Luke's church was held Tuesday night. There was a large congregation present. The sacred edifice was tastefully decorated, around the windows, up the sides and about the pulpit, with all kinds of fruits flowers and vegetables. The arrangement and choice displayed in beautifying the church with these was highly commendable. The choir during the service sang appropriate hymns. Rev. Rural Dean Lauder, M.A., of Picton, read the lessons, Rev. Prof. Symmonds read the opening prayers and Rev. Mr. Kenrick the remainder of the evening service. The sermon was preached by Rev. R. J. Moore, M.A., rector of St. Margaret's church, Toronto, from the words in the Lord's Prayer, "Give us this day our daily bread." The speaker's discourse was practical and impressive. He showed how God out of all his goodness and mercy to his people had provided for all their abundant needs.

Brought Here for Interment.

Mr. Timothy McAuliffe, of Port Jarvis, N.Y., arrived in town yesterday bringing with him the body of his father Cornelius McAuliffe for burial. The remains were interred in the Roman Catholic Cemetery yesterday afternoon. The late Mr. McAuliffe was an old and respectable citizen of Ashburnham but years ago removed to New York State. Deceased gentlemen died of old age, he being in his 82nd year. He leaves a family of several grown up children to lament his departure.

The Company's Last Night.

The Harry Lindley Company produced "Bride of the West" at the Opera House last night. There was a large house and the play was well put on. The railroad scene was natural, while Mr. Lindley's interpretation of negro civilization and local hits caught all. To-night the company will make their last appearance producing "Across the Continent," introducing railroad and telegraph scenes.

An Assault Case Tried.

County Magistrate Edmison adjudicated on a case this morning in which Geo. Dunford, of Otonabee township charged Philip Elmhirst with assault on Friday last. The defendant pleaded guilty and said he had struck Dunford because the latter told some friends that he could whip him and he (the defendant) thought he would afford Dunford cause to prove his statements if he wanted to. Elmhirst was fined $2 and costs or $9.90 in all.

To-Day's Matched Canoe Race.

A large number of sportsmen went out to Chemong Park this afternoon to witness the matched canoe race between an unknown and any canoeist who took part in the recent regatta. A lot of money has been put up on the result, with odds even. The unknown has turned out to be Mr. Hilliard Carnegie, of Coboconk, who is a noted canoeist, and has taken part in the A.C.A. matches. It was supposed that his opponent would be Gardiner Nicholls, but at 4 o'clock this afternoon no race had been arranged, although there is a strong probability of Mr. Geo. Taylor, brother of Mr. John Taylor, accepting the challenge. The course will be a straight one mile and a half out in the lake. Money was flying freely on the race this afternoon.

A Sudden Death of an Old Resident.

Wm. Crossin, who about thirty years ago resided in Peterborough, but who has lived for years between the third an fourth lines of Dummer about two miles from Warsaw, was found dead in his house on Monday night. The deceased, who was a farm laborer, and his daughter, Miss Adah Crossin, who has been in the Nicholls hospital for the past two weeks suffering from a sore hand, have been in the habit of working out in the summer and living together at home in the winter. Wm. Crossin has been working for Mr. John Ferrier, of the 4th line of Dummer, and always returned to his home on Saturday night to remain over Sunday. Not returning on Monday morning to his labor as usual, some anxiety was felt and on going to his house he was found dead in bed by Mr. Gilbert Douglas. Deceased was about sixty five years of age and well known. There are not the slightest suspicions of foul play. His funeral took place this morning to the Warsaw cemetery.

A New Hot Water House Heater.

Mr. J. C. Smith, George street, has completed a new style of hot water heater. It is called the "Brooks' furnace," and is the invention of Mr. T. Brooks, of the Lock Works Company, and is claimed to be superior to any furnace of the kind made. The improvements consist in the fire box, which is built on the reverberatory principle. The flames being under control can be passed around every side of the boiler before passing up the chimney flue and there is no heat lost. The boiler is of cast iron in one solid casting without joints except where it connects with the pipes, and there is consequently an entire absence of leakage. Another advantage is that this furnace takes very little space, either on the ground or vertically. A furnace equal to heating 3 000 feet of pipe occupies a floor space of only 2 ft. 7in. and an upright space of 4 feet 6 inches. This boiler was thoroughly tested last winter in one or two houses, and gave the most satisfactory heating service with a minimum of fuel—two thirds less than any other furnace doing the same amount of heating. Mr. Brooks shipped one of these furnaces to Meriden, Connecticut on Thursday. Preparations for its manufacture to meet the brisk demand its excellent qualities will be sure to create, are being made.

Those Joyous Bells

Proclaim the Nuptials of Mr. G. A. Schofield, of Peterborough, and Miss Louise Davis, of Kingston.

An interesting social event took place at Kingston yesterday afternoon, when one of Peterborough's most popular and enterprising business men was wedded to one of Kingston's fairest daughters. The principals in the happy wedding celebration were Mr. Geo. A. Schofield and Miss Louise Davis, third daughter of Mr. Richard Davis, photographer. The Rev. John Mackie, M.A., pastor of St. Andrew's church, Kingston, officiated, the auspicious ceremony taking place at the residence of the bride's father, 232 King street, Kingston, in the presence of about forty of the immediate relatives and friends of the contracting parties. The bride who looked charming wore a handsome white satin costume and the usual bridal veil and orange blossoms. In her hand she carried an exquisite bouquet of lovely white roses. She was attended by her sister Miss Grace, and Misses Clement, Folger and Price. The pretty bridesmaids were all dressed in brocaded china silk and carried bouquets of pink roses. The popular groom was supported by his brother, Mr. W. H. Schofield, B.A., of Harvard University. After their happy union the bridal party and guests partook of a recherche repast amid hearty felicitations. The presents were all elegant and costly souvenirs of the gladsome event. Mr and Mrs. Schofield left in the afternoon for a three weeks' wedding tour to Toronto, Niagara Falls, New York and Boston, followed by the kindest regards and best wishes of a multitude of friends. On their return to Peterborough they will take up their residence on Aylmer street where a furnished residence awaits their occupancy. The groom is one of Peterborough's many estimable and promising young men and also holds a commission as lieutenant in "B" company of the 57th Battalion. Colorless, Emaciated, Helpless

A Complete Cure by HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA.

This is from Mr. D. M. Jordan, a retired farmer, and one of the most respected citizens of Otsego Co., N. Y.

"Fourteen years ago I had an attack of the gravel, and have since been troubled with my

Liver and Kidneys

gradually growing worse. Three years ago I got down so low that I could scarcely walk. I looked more like a corpse than a living being. I had no appetite and for five weeks I ate nothing but gruel. I was badly emaciated and had no more color than a marble statue. Hood's Sarsaparilla was recommended and I thought I would try it. Before I had finished the first bottle I noticed that I felt better, suffered less, the inflammation of the bladder had subsided, the color began to return to my face, and I began to feel hungry. After I had taken three bottles I could eat anything without hurting me. Why, I got so hungry that I had to eat 5 times a day. I have now fully recovered, thanks to

I feel well and am well. All who know me marvel to see me so well." D. M. JORDAN.

THE CENTRAL EXHIBITION

The Closing Day of the Show.

A Diminished Attendance of Visitors - The Judges Among the Horses — A Fine Exhibit in Some Classes — The Speeding Events—The Drawing Contest.

Wednesday was the closing day of the Central Exhibition. It was favoured with splendid weather. The morning passed very quietly, but in the afternoon there was a general brightening up as visitors began to arrive, but the attendance was far short of the previous day, only about 1500 persons passing the gates.

A great many persons took advantage of the diminished crowd to visit the fine display of live stock at their leisure. The horned stock contained some fine specimens, and the Jerseys which are unfortunately too popularly regarded as toy stock, on account of their deminutive size came in for a large share of admiration. A year old Jersey cow owned by Messrs. F. Birdsall & Son, exemplified the value of the Jersey as a butter producer. This cow, which is hardly as to size, more than a pocket edition of the cow of ordinary dimensions, produces weekly even at the early age of one year about three quarters of a pound of butter. Others admired the larger breeds of stock, of which there were some grand specimens present. There was a very fine show of horses, particularly in the driving class. The judges had a puzzle in judging the single horses over 15½ hands high. There were over a dozen of them, and the show in this class was as fine a one as one can see at any riding exhibition.

THE SPEEDING EVENTS.

These were confined to the conclusion of the stallion trot, the other events lapsing from failure to fill, there being only two entries for the free to-all.

The first event of the day was the continuation of the stallion trot, of which two heats were run off Tuesday for a purse of $100, first, second and third. The first day Zycho had two thirds, Chestnut Hill a second and a first, and Royal Sprague a first and a second.

In the first heat of to-day's race the horses got off well together, Chestnut Hill leading for the first three-quarters, when Zycho neatly overhauled the leader an got under the wire, an easy winner of the heat, Chestnut Hill second, Royal Sprague third. Time, 2 36.

In the fourth heat after considerable scoring, the trio got off in good shape and kept pretty well together till the first quarter, when both Zycho and Royal Sprague left their feet, and Chestnut Hill, who was trotting squarely, forged ahead and kept his place like a stayer, and passed the winner, who seven or eight lengths ahead, second and Royal Sprague, who won his good behaviour, third. Time, 2.2½.

The fifth heat was without particular incident, Chestnut Hill taking first place and keeping it to the close, an easy winner. Zycho, who broke badly, especially in the second half, second, and Royal Sprague a fair third. Time—2.36½

Following is the summary of the whole race complete:

Royal Sprague, Percy and Young, Newmarket	2 3 3 3
Chestnut Hill, J T Allison, Campbellford	1 1 1 1
Zycho, Syndicate, Orono	3 2 2 2

Chestnut Hill taking first money, Zycho second and Royal Sprague third.

THE DRAWING CONTEST.

This concluded the speeding events and the public attention was directed to the drawing contest which took place in front of the grand stand on the green inside the track. There were four entries and a load of about 3½ tons of stone placed on a pair of lumbering bobs, resting on the grass. Mr. E. Brown acted as time keeper, and he allowed the teams five minutes in which to try their pulling powers. It was generally conceded that the load to be moved was entirely too large and that the moving of it was an injurious strain upon the splendid four footed giants that engaged in the contest. The following are the entries and distances covered.

S. Dyell, Smith, 15 feet 3½ inches.
E Lynch, Otonabee, 5 feet 1½ inches.
John Hunter, Otonabee, 5 feet 1 inch.
David Speare, Otonabee, 5 feet 6½ inches.

Mr. Dyell takes the first prize, a set of single harness, presented by W. J. Davis, and Mr. Speare the second prize, $5.00.

The drawing contest concluded the events and the Central Exhibition of 1892 was over.

MISCELLANEOUS EXHIBITS.

There was about the usual display of agricultural and other implements upon the grounds. Of course the Peter Hamilton Manufacturing Company made a grand display and one seat was the centre of attraction to farmers. Mr. T. E. Fitzgerald, who had charge of their exhibit, did everything in his power to promote the interest of the exhibit and the pleasure of the visitors. The exhibit included a power ensilage cutter, provided with an elevator for filling silos, two power straw cutters, two hand straw cutters and two turnip pulpers. The Hamilton light steel swing binder, which has won so high a place in the farmers' esteem, was on exhibition, as well as a Hamilton Crown Mower, the Ideal Seeder, Tiger sulky rake, a cultivator, a spring tooth harrow and the diamond tooth harrow. The latter has a spread of from five to fifteen feet according as it may be desired to use one or three horses. A new addper is added to their list of implements. Six steel beam and steel mouldboard ploughs were also shown, together with a double turnip sower, which sows, rolls and covers the seed in a double row at one operation. The "Star" gang plough possesses many points of superiority over the ordinary group plough, being unusually steady at work, and therefore easier for both man and team.

Mr. Tobias Fitzgerald had one of Turner's large marquees filled with a fine display of all kinds of vehicles. The storm of Monday evening blew down the tent, and the falling of the two centre poles somewhat damaged some of the highly polished exhibits. His display included a "Kensington" carriage, half a dozen top buggies, a "Cambridge" done in black, a phaeton, a "Mikado" done in birds' eye maple, a "Lexington" ladies' carriage, with a birds eye maple body and carmine movement, and O B & S. road cart, a "Minola," a coil spring road cart and several cutters, including the Peterborough sleigh, the design of Mr. Sam Fitzgerald, and a gentleman's driving sleigh, a piano box sleigh, and a dog cart sleigh, highly finished, painted an intense dark blue with lighter blue trimming, producing a very pleasing effect. The painting was the work of Mr. David Chestnut.

Messrs. Fitzgerald & Stanger have also a fine all round exhibit of carriage work. They show three Manola road carts, four Buffalo road wagons, two buggies with road wagon gear, one handsome dog cart sleigh, a beautiful looking and convenient vehicle, and a run-about buggy painted wood colour.

Mr. C. C McDonald was on hand with a Cantham fanning mill.

Turner & Sons made a grand display of tents of all kinds, garden tents, lumbermen's tents, hunting and camping tents. One tent, of unique design with the pipe of the little iron stove forming the centre pole is the coolest and most comfortable tent imaginable. The firm also shows a fine collection of waterproof clothing, lap rugs, camp seats, camp tables and everything that can be demanded in their line, stylish in make and excellent in material.

There is no use disguising the fact that the outside exhibit was exceedingly scanty and far short of former years.

GOUGH BROS. BABY SHOW.

This event created a lively rivalry, there being three candidates for Gough Bros.' splendid prize—a suit of clothes to the father, a dress for the mother, and a $5 gold piece for the baby. Mr. Joseph Sprouls filled the dangerous position of judge, and awarded the first prize to the baby held by Mrs. A. E. Olliver, and adjudged the babies of Mrs. O'Donnel and Mrs. Huggins worthy of a prize as the hands of the society—pronouncing the babies a tie.

NOTES

The attendance at the Central yesterday was large, some 2 000 passing through the turnstiles.

The total amount of the gate receipts for both days was $2,500 which is the largest amount in the history of the society.

He is 92 years of age and is brisk and lively from head to heels, both inclusive. He is a Limerick man and left Ireland for Canada 67 years ago. He was presented to Lieut.-Governor Kirkpatrick, himself a Dublin Irishman, and the two held a hearty Irish colloquy. Mr. Gallivan has done his duty to his country. He was blessed with 17 children, 8 boys and 9 girls—60 grand children and 20 great-grand children—so far as he knows—a total of nearly a hundred descendants. Mr. Gallivan was the first postmaster of Enniscorthy, was assessor and ran the gamut of the municipal offices. He speaks, moves and looks as though he would outlive the century, in whose company he entered existence. Long life to this fine old Irish gentleman!

"No, not to us, though the material is much more expensive, yet Mr. Sproule believes in having the best obtainable. the lonely wife pleaded to be taken to Italy. He grew irritated because his studies were interfered with by such requests. Another span of time passed, of weary loneliness, in solitude, and again the wife begged to be taken home, that her babe might be born under the blue sky of her beloved Italy. A cruel thought took root in his masterful brain, and grew and bore fruit. He gathered his wealth, and with bales of richest silks, gold, silver and his library, he journeyed, she thought toward Italy. It was to America he came. Onward and onward, then by chance he found the Tarn. One month before the expected birth, he picked me up a half-starved halfbreed, on Deer Bay, and brought me here as servant. He has been a considerate master. The grewsome disappointment went hard with the wife. Afterwards he told her she was to remain forever amid these barren rocks. She never spoke of Italy again, until the day the babies, Zell, and Zanea came. She called the aged sire to her and asked him for the sake of her babies, the blessing of the warm climate of Italy. The rest you know. I loved the father. I loved the mother and her babies. I have served them well." Ishmael concluded to bring Zell up in utter ignorance of all that goes on out there, just for experiment. She would be under my care. Zanea he cared for himself, and educated her. They had, of course, to be kept apart, else Zanea would have been an education for Zell. Ishmael, as Father Ambrose, taught Zell to speak correctly; he also taught me. Zell never knew that old Ishmael and Father Ambrose were the same. Is there more you wish to know?"

"Who are the victims?"

"I do not know. Some of them drifted here as you did. Ishmael brought the rest. Judith is an old servant who came from the east with him."

"Shem, look, what is that?"

Out of the pass drifted a canoe, into the Tarn. In the boat sat two men.

"It is the two Ishmael waited so restlessly for. They have returned. The crowning of his life's work came too late. Sin never reaps. What is the matter with them? They sit and do not try to gain the store. Come, Shem, and help them."

Down the hill and into the boat. A few strong strokes brought them to the men. Flat on the bottom of the boat sat the two, perfect wrecks mentally and physically. Their bones were almost fleshless and they babbled as do babes seven months old. Such a sight for science sake! Had they returned violent maniacs it would not have been so heartrending as this imbecile childishness of these grown men.

"They will have to be cared for, Shem; where will we take them? Zell must not see this."

"No, we will take them to one of the lower caverns. This whole place is a chain of caves, all well furnished. We have plenty room for those unfortunate creatures." In at the door they guided the faltering steps. Through cave after cave, piled high with everything one could wish for, they led the men. They came to a cave large and furnished with low beds. Here the poor victims were put to bed. They fastened the doors then back again to the platform, where they found Zell calling for them. She came to meet Shem and Terry.

"Come. I have dressed her as you said, Shem. What now?"

"I will take thee to Zanea's cave where thou can'st rest. Thou art weary."

"Will she be alone all night, Shem?"

"Terry Denver will help me prepare old Ishmael; it will then be near down. At midnight following this we will bury them in the water. It was his wish. Come."

He led her from the main cave, leaving Terry alone with the dead. Terry went to Zanea's side. After a little time he began speaking to her.

"Ah, Zanea! it was not a wish to kill Zell. I could not think so. It was just one of those surging sensations you spoke of, that you found only in the snake and yourself. Had I but seen it quicker, Zanea, your life would not have ended as it did."

"Terry Denver, you chose your lovely Zell, a wise choice, verily, but even death will not take Zanea from thee. In the most solemn, most silent times of your life, Zanea will fill the shadowed corners of your inner self and bear thee sanctified companionship. 'Tis well that this can be; that in the quiet of great sorrow, or great joy, we can find within ourselves such a solace. Art thou still unsettled in thy choice, Terry Denver?"

"No, Shem; I love Zell."

"Does she love thee?"

"I do not know; Zanea said yes. I have not asked Zell herself. Shem, do you think she will understand?"

"German Syrup"

G. Gloger, Druggist, Watertown, Wis. This is the opinion of a man who keeps a drug store, sells all medicines, comes in direct contact with the patients and their families, and knows better than anyone else how remedies sell, and what true merit they have. He hears of all the failures and successes, and can therefore judge: "I know of no medicine for Coughs, Sore Throat, or Hoarseness that had done such effective work in my family as Boschee's German Syrup. Last winter a lady called at my store, who was suffering from a very severe cold. She could hardly talk, and I told her about German Syrup and that a few doses would give relief; but she had no confidence in patent medicines. I told her to take a bottle, and if the results were not satisfactory I would make no charge for it. A few days after she called and paid for it, saying that she would never be without it in future as a few doses had given her relief." ⑦

A KNOTTY QUESTION

Which can only be Solved after Mature Deliberation.

Every father and mother, before buying Boots and Shoes for their children, should hold a consultation together and try and arrive at an answer to the following five questions:

1. What kind of boot do we want?
2. Are any to be got that will wear well?
3. Who keeps this kind?
4. Are these people reliable?
5. Can they afford to sell good boots cheap?

Having carefully analyzed these questions to their satisfaction, why not decide to try

A GANG OF SWINDLERS PUNISHED.

They Defrauded Writers and Will Wear Convicts Clothes.

LONDON, Sept. 28.—The trial of Sir Gilbert Edward Campbell and others associated with him in a series of frauds on persons ambitious for literary fame terminated last night at the old Bailey in a verdict of guilty. Sir Gilbert Edward Campbell was sentenced to 18 months imprisonment at hard labor, he appearing on evidence to have been a guilty stool pigeon rather than a principal in the fraudulant schemes. William James Morgan, who was the chief in forming the various fraudulent societies and obtaining money from literary aspirants, was sentenced to eigh years penal servitude. James Sidney Tompkins, who was Morgand's right-hand man in the International Society? Literature and Art was sentenced to five years penal servitude. William Nathan Steadman, one of the lesser conspirators, received a sentence of 15 months at hard labor. David William Tolmie, six months, and Charles Montagu Clark, four months.

A RAID UPON BRIGANDS.

One Hundred and Sixty Persons Arrested at Palermo.

ROME, Sept. 28.—One hundred and sixty persons have been arrested in Palermo and its environs, suspected of being members of a conspiracy to waylay travelers. Most of the persons are habitual criminals. Among them the police say are the perpetrators of the recent brigand outrages and the authors of the menacing letters sent to noblemen and others in the district of Palermo.

A gang of robbers attacked the country house of the Girolamo, a family near Teramo a'Bruzzi yesterday. A desperate encounter took place, in which one person was killed and three others wounded.

A body of police yesterday attacked a band of brigands near Orani, in Sardinia, and took four prisoners.

PRIESTS CLAIM DAMAGES.

The Uganda Mission. They Say, Was Injured By Capt. Lugard.

PARIS, Sept. 28.—M. Ribot, Minister of Foreign Affairs, has requested the French Mission to present claims for damages to Great Britain in behalf of the Catholic priests in Uganda, who, it is claimed, sustained injury at the hands of Capt. Lugard. If the British Government displays a conciliatory spirit in regard to the claims, M. Ribot, it is said, will readily settle the matter.

Cardinal Lavigerie and the other heads of the French mission do not desire that the British leave Uganda, as they fear that the Germans will seize the territory. They prefer that the country should be governed by a native prince under British control.

Mr. Morley Communicates With Mr. McCarthy.

DUBLIN, Sept. 28.—Mr. Morley, Chief Secretary for Ireland, has sent a letter to Mr. Justin McCarthy, stating the intention of the Government with reference to evicted tenants in Ireland. Mr. Morley recalls a discussion which took place in the House of Commons in 1891, when an effort was made to remedy the evils by passing the 13th section of the Land Act. That provision, he said, entirely failed of its object. The magnitude of the failure was shown by the fact that the extra police for evictions involve an annual cost of £45,000, to say nothing of the expenses of prosecution and other proceedings.

"The Government," continues Mr. Morley, "have, therefore, decided to appoint a commission to examine the question promptly and impartially. The commission will report on the number, circumstances, costs and results of evictions and on all matters bearing on the question in any way, including any offers made for settlement. We institute the enquiry in good faith in the hope that both landlords and tenants will assist, and in the belief that it is an indispensable preliminary to effectual measures for healing very deep social mischief."

THE COMMAND OF THE FORCES.

General Sir John Ross Will Resign Early Next Year.

HALIFAX, Sept. 27.—General Sir John Ross, commander of the forces, Halifax, will give up that appointment early next year on the expiration of his regular period of service. It is stated that the appointment will be offered Lieut.-Gen. John Davis, C.B., who was last in service in command of the Dublin district, and who has been unattached for a couple of years. He was for a time in command of the Infantry brigade at Malta and previously served in Egypt in command of a brigade, seeing active service with his brigade in the Soudan campaign.

It is the greatest blood and flesh maker in existence, and is a life saver to consumptives. In big bottles 50c. and $1, at Peterborough Drug Stores.

We do not know of any preparation that has caught the public favor in so short a time as Dodd's Kidney Pills, but when we consider that three-fourths of the Canadian people are afflicted with kidney troubles in some form or other, and that Dodd's Pills are a quick and permanent cure for all these troubles, the success and increasing demand can scarcely be wondered at. AN EGLINGTON EPISODE.

AN ANGRY MAN HAS RECOURSE TO A SHOT GUN.

Storming a House At Midnight and Its Outcome—William Jones In the Hospital and the Man Who Shot Him In Custody—What Was the Cause of the Shooting?

TORONTO, Sept. 29.—William Jones, a wholesale butcher of Eglinton, lies at the General Hospital with the calf of his right leg filled with shot.

The circumstances giving rise to the shooting are peculiar and the motive somewhat shrouded in mystery.

William Jones, a butcher, Tuesday night visited the house of George Britton in Sherwood-avenue and demanded admittance. When refused he fired several stones through the windows. Herbert Britton, a son of the occupant, remonstrated with him and asked him to go away, but he refused. Britton then took a double barreled shot gun and fired a shot over Jones' head to scare him away. The only effect was to enrage the man, who fired more stones through the windows and threatened to break the door in.

His Aim Was Good.

Then Britton fired another shot, but this time it was meant for the invader, and took effect in one of his legs. Thirty-one No. 4 shot were distributed between his knee and ankle. Then his attack ceased, and when taken home by Messrs. Dunnett and McClelland, Drs. Jackes and Richardson ordered his removal to the General Hospital.

Britton's Father in Buffalo.

Young Britton surrendered himself at daylight yesterday morning and was promptly admitted to bail by Justice Jackes.

The doctors at the hospital are of the opinion that if the man escapes with nothing worse than the loss of his leg he will be doing very well. His injuries are of a very serious nature.

Jones was brought to the hospital at 6 o'clock last night in a buggy by his wife.

Mrs. Jones' Version.

On enquiry Mrs. Jones gave this version of the affray: "My husband is a wholesale butcher, and on Tuesday visited the city. It was about 11.30 o'clock when he reached Eglinton. He was passing along the street, when he met young Herbert Britton, who lives with his mother at Eglinton, and young Britton shot him. I do not know what motive Britton had in shooting my husband unless it was spite.

"What could he have had spite against your husband for, was there a woman in the case?" queried the reporter.

Spite, She Said, Was the Motive.

"I am sure there was no woman in the case, and as for spite I suppose it was because of some gossip going around. But I am sure there was no scandal."

Mrs. Jones states that the arrest of Britton was not brought about by her or her husband. "My husband," she continued, "did not think it necessary to take any proceedings until he got better."

GILMORE'S BURIAL.

The Dead Musician Given a Military Funeral in New York.

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—The obsequies of Patrick Sarsfield Gilmore were held yesterday and were of the most imposing character. As early as 8 o'clock the home of the dead musician in West Eighty-sixth-street was crowded with weeping friends anxious to have a last look at the face of the dead bandmaster. But the dark casket, literally smothered with flowers, was not opened, and the light from the seven-armed candelabrum fell not upon the still, pallid features, but on banks of fresh roses and blossoming lilies. At 9 o'clock the casket was borne from the house. It was followed by the widow, daughter, mourners, and a few friends. The pall-bearers were the non-commissioned officers of the Twenty-second regiment. The honorary pallbearers were members of the clubs of which in life the deceased had been a member. The casket was a plain black one with silver trimmings. It was draped in the Stars and Stripes and upon it lay a floral wreath. The cortege was headed by a platoon of 20 policemen. Then came a band playing the dead march, a firing squad of 16 members of the 22nd regiment in uniform, the pallbearers, press club and other organizations, including the non-commissioned officers of the 22nd regiment in uniform and a long line of carriages. The services were held at St. Francis Xavier's Church, where Father Dowey celebrated solemn requiem mass. Father Perdu delivered the eulogy. A great throng crowded the church and the streets in the vicinity. Only the close friends and the military detail went on to the cemetery.

THE CHOLERA.

No New Cases Reported in New York or at Quarantine.

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—There have been no new cases of cholera in this city since the 19th inst.

The steamer Teutonic, which arrived at Quarantine at 7.37 yesterday, made the quick time of 6 days 21 hours and 8 minutes. She brings 285 first cabin and 223 second cabin passengers. All on board are well. The Teutonic will be released from quarantine during the day.

The passengers of the Scandia were released to-day and sent to Ellis Island.

The Bremen steamer Lahn arrived at 9.15 this evening. She has 137 first and 168 second cabin passengers.

The passengers from the steamship Bohemia are to be landed on Hoffman Island to-morrow.

The condition of affairs is greatly improved. There are no new cases, and the patients are doing well.

Sealers Liable to Prosecution.

OTTAWA, Sept. 29.—The Minister of Justice is said to be of opinion that those Canadian sealers who have taken seals in Behring Sea this year and escaped the cruisers are still liable to prosecution for violation of the proclamation prohibiting the catching of seals in that sea this year. Should action be taken against these sealers it will be particularly hard on the vessels which left early in the season before the modus vivendi was renewed, and when it was pretty generally supposed that it would not be renewed.

More Seizures.

PORT TOWNSEND, Wash., Sept. 29.—The schooner George R. White of Laconner, which arrived from Copper Island last evening, spoke the schooners Walter Earl of Victoria and May Belle of Victoria off the Russian coast. They reported that the Russians had seized four British and two American sealers.

The sealing schooner Geneva of Victoria when off Copper Island lost a boat and three men.

Made a Complete Job of It.

STILLWATER, Minn., Sept. 29.—Mary Mendolke was shot last night by Stephen Seeckta. Seeckta ran a short distance, stopped and blew his own brains out.

Sanders Committed For Trial.

LONDON, Sept. 29.—Dr. Francis Charles Scott Sanders was committed yesterday for trial. He has at various times procured the sum of £200,000 by forging other parties' names.

Thought to Have Been Murdered.

NIAGARA FALLS, Sept. 29.—The coroner's inquest over the body of J. McQuillan, a tunnel employe, which was recovered from the hydraulic canal here last Thursday, leads to the belief that the man was murdered. McQuillan was supposed to have been drowned, but witnesses swore to hearing cries for help coming from the vicinity. They tried to locate them at the time, but failed. Further testimony revealed the fact that McQuillan had considerable money, and he had been seen in company with a man of desperate character. The man disappeared to-day.

Smallpox in New York.

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—Two new cases of smallpox have been discovered on the east side.

His Disappearance Explained.

NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—The mystery surrounding the disappearance of Henry O. Asten, who escaped from a retreat for insane persons at Bronxville, Sept. 20, was cleared up yesterday by the discovery that he was killed late last night by an express train of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad.

DOINGS OF THE ALLIANCE

THE PRESBYTERIAN ASSEMBLY HAD A BUSY DAY.

Ebor's Sketch of the Reformed Alliance—Talked of Everything: Inspiration and Missions, Opium and Whisky, Work and Wages, Land and Labor—Red-Hot Shot for Catholics.

TORONTO, Sept. 30.—White-winged peace did not assume her angelic away over the Pan-Presbyterians yesterday morning. This is notable, seeing that the alliance had fervently prayed for such a pacific visitation.

All the trouble has arisen through readers of papers wanting to read through their labored essays, instead of giving a digest of them as is done in the great English congresses. For a short time yesterday morning Cooke's Church looked more like a bear garden than a divine assembly. A dozen were talking at once, some asseverating something negative and others something positive as to motions, amendments and amendments to amendments. Principal Grant went so far as to threaten he would not read his paper at all if he were to be peremptorily cut off as some of his brethren had been.

Buttressing the Bible.

A good deal was said on the previous day about attacks on the Inspired Word. Nobly did Doctors Grant and McKibbon champion revelation. But this was not enough; the alliance as a body certified yesterday to the infallibility of the Holy Scriptures.

Hypocrisy Re Opium.

Rev. Dr. Kenneth Macdonald of Calcutta, who by reason of a long sojourn in the east is able to testify, said nothing specially fresh in discussing the opium question. He had, however, the courage of his convictions, and branded as cant and hypocrisy the calling upon the British Parliament to abolish the opium trade whilst the churches sanctioned the liquor traffic. The latter was, he deemed, the worse of the two evils. There was too much sentiment about this opium business, which was better in the hands of Government than in those of irresponsible individuals.

It was a relief to turn from this dreamy and somnorificent topic to one of more practical import—that of recreation. Rev. William Park, a Belfast minister, had the subject in hand. He did not do justice to it. It was a wishy-washy paper, full of trite platitudes, stamped by compromise, and afraid of anything save generalities.

They Sat as Dumb Dogs.

The chairman called for discussion and called in vain. The fact is there was nothing to answer. Recreation, or as it is often called, "the devil's mission of amusement," is a ticklish question for ministers and there was a conspiracy of silence and non-committal.

That Interminable Drink Question.

Rev. Dr. Hills of Wooster, Ohio, gave a five minutes address on this topic, advocating prohibition.

The chairman called for discussion, but as this topic involved no theological hair-splitting, no one responded to the summons for some minutes. Quoth Secretary Matthews: "I thought this would be a burning question, I expected much discussion."

Thus prompted Dr. Lindsay said, rather than that it should go forth that there was nothing to be said on the subject, he would say a few words, and he did. He made two points: That legislation would defeat itself if it went beyond the moral sense of the people; that moral suasion should be more resorted to. The Professor told a good story of a Highland minister who at 9 o'clock each Saturday night tapped on the windows of the two public houses in his parish and the topers went home. "Why do you do this." I asked. "Because the law says close at 11 o'clock; I think 9 is late enough. My moral suasion is better than the law." [Cheers and laughter.]

Mr. Macdonnell Holds the Fort.

Only one original speech was made on the topic. This was by Rev. D. J. Macdonnell. He told the alliance what he has repeatedly told his own people in St. Andrew's, Toronto. He said he had no objection to a church deliverance on the subject so long as it was Scriptural. Hitherto these deliverances had been ultra or infra-Scriptural, i.e., they have gone beyond Scripture and made that a sin in the church which is not a sin in God's sight. "Drunkenness is a sin; to drink is not. [Applause and dissent.] The Bible does not say it is. To say that every member of the church should be a total abstainer is pure nonsense. It is wrong to say: 'You are not a Christian if you do not abstain.' This is often said in Christian pulpits. It is not true."

Trades Unions and Strikes.

After a number of speeches, having nothing fresh in them about the opium trade, Professor Rentoul delivered himself of some noble sentiments as regards workingmen. The time had gone by for patronizing the labor classes. They have a right to combine and a right to strike.

The Principal's Reply.

The two pertinent points were (1) that if the church take no part in social questions she would develop into mere Plymouth Brethrenism; (2) that if the salary of a minister for the comfort of his wife and children be legitimate to discuss, how much more the wage question which involved the happiness of millions?

Rev. Dr. McKibben pointed out the danger of working people following the suggestions of theoretical instead of practical men, and the mistake of trying to secure by force that which only reason should grant. "Put God at the back of your political economy," was his parting shot.

Superlative Denunciations.

The densely crowded audience had something hot and strong served up in a series of addresses on the manifold "Aspects of Romanism." Neither facts nor arguments were fresh; 99 out of every 100 of the 3000 people crammed into the church had heard it all before; still they cheered as though it were a new evangel. The more extravagant the statements—and some were very extravagant—the more the welkin rang. There was plenty of politics, and every now and again it seemed as though the equal rights movement had like a Phœnix arisen with renewed vigor.

A Bombshell From Dundas.

"Aspects of Romanism in Canada" was dealt with in a paper by Dr. John Laing of Dundas, Ont. The Roman Catholic Church, he said, was more firmly established in Canada than in any other Protestant country in the world. In Manitoba 12 per cent of the population was Roman Catholic; in Ontario 16 and in Quebec 80 per cent. Of the 316 convents and seminaries many were established for the daughters of Protestants. The income of the church in Montreal he placed at $10,000,000 annually. Civil liberty in the Province of Quebec was seriously jeopardized and the Protestant portion of the population was fast being outstripped by the Catholics.

SEIZURES IN BEHRING SEA.

A British Opinion That Ottawa Authorities Are Too Loquacious.

[Cable despatch, Evening Telegram, Sept. 29.]

LONDON, Sept. 30.—The newspapers here comment freely upon the attitude taken by the Ottawa authorities in the matter of the seizure of Canadian sealers. It is noticed that the Dominion Ministers are scarcely reluctant about giving their views to journalists, and as most of these opinions are telegraphed far and wide the opinion of the London press is that more circumspection should be made use of. The case of the despatch of Reuter's agent in Ottawa is instanced. In this cablegram the possibility of trouble with Russia was freely hinted at, and the impression conveyed was that the views given were those of some personage high in authority at the Canadian capital.

Concerning the loquacity of the Canadian Ministers The Morning Chronicle remarks: "The Canadian Ministers find a great deal to say to the Ottawa journalists regarding the despatch to Behring Sea of a cruiser. It will not be out of place to remind them that in dealing with such a powerful European power as Russia it is not by any means the part of the diplomatist to say all he thinks. The first duty of the British cruiser sent to Behring Sea is to rescue the destitute sealers. Reprisal was not intended, and, if it had been, a solitary cruiser would not by any means have been chosen as the sole force sent to sea by the British Government. Lord Rosebery is clearly content to adopt the more reasonable course of awaiting explanations from St. Petersburg."

It is feared that the sealers who have been released on the Siberian shores are destitute.

Sir Charles Tupper yesterday introduced the Agents-General of the Colonies to Lord Ripon.

The Depredations of British Sealers.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 30.—The Russian steamer Kotick arrived from Petropaulovsky yesterday with 33,000 sealskins for Russian-American Sealskin Company. Among the passengers was N. A. Grebinbisky, the governor of Copper, Behring and Robbin Islands. He is on his way to St. Petersburg to report on the depredations of British sealers. The English sealers have almost ruined the rookeries on Copper, Behring and Robbin Islands, said Governor Grebinbisky.

THE SUICIDE OF DR. HERRON.

His Letter to the Coroner Explains His Motive.

LONDON, Sept. 30.—The coroner's inquest in the case of Dr. Herron, the army surgeon who was found dead in a room, in a hotel on the Strand, on Sunday last, was concluded yesterday by the jury returning a verdict that he killed himself while insane. Dr. Herron had been living with Ruby Russell, an actress, who died in a mysterious manner Sept. 20.

The coroner read a letter he had received from Dr. Herron which had been written Saturday night. In this letter Herron said: "There was no intention of a separation between me and Miss Russell. Therefore I will join her as quickly as possible. I have no doubt her death was not due to natural causes. Existence to me would not be worth having if through myself my promised bride committed suicide. I therefore take an overdose of morphia."

DID NOT CONSIDER CREED.

A Roman Catholic Elected Lord Mayor of London.

LONDON, Sept. 30.—The Livery of the city of London met in the Guildhall to select a successor to Lord Mayor Evans. The Guildhall was crowded and unusual interest was taken in the proceedings owing to the fact that strenuous opposition had developed against Stuart Knill, alderman for the Bridge Within-Ward—who stood next in rotation for the Lord Mayoralty, because of his religion, he being a Roman Catholic. Six candidates were proposed to the Livery. When Mr. Knill's name was mentioned it was received with loud cheering. There was a scene in the chamber when Councillor Moore protested against the selection of Mr. Knill because he was a Catholic. The protest was received with mingled hissing and cheers. It had little if any effect upon the Livery men, and Mr. Knill was elected Lord Mayor for the ensuing year.

SILENCE IN THE RANKS.

The Life Guards Refuse an Explanation to the Commanding Officer.

LONDON, Sept. 30.—Major-General the Honorable Paul Sanford Methuen addressed the 1st Life Guards at Windsor yesterday. Lord Methuen inspected and drilled the men and found them obedient and well disciplined. But when it came to endeavoring to obtain an acknowledgment from them of the proceedings of Saturday General Methuen met with failure. He said that he would advise those who had been guilty of destroying their equipments to confess the fact and he would treat their acts merely as insubordination, but if they should fail to confess he would have to proceed on the graver charge of mutiny. He would give them five minutes, he declared, to consider what they would do. The five minutes were passed, but not a soldier spoke. The men were sent back to their quarters and Gen. Methuen will now report the affair to the Commander-in-Chief, the Duke of Cambridge.

The Manitoba School Question.

OTTAWA, Sept. 30.—There is a new phase on the Manitoba school question. The Government has received a memorial from Archbishop Taché asking that previous petitions from the hierarchy requesting relief for the Catholic minority in Manitoba be considered, now that the highest court in the empire has maintained the constitutionality of the law abolishing separate schools in Manitoba. The memorial is now before the Cabinet, but its text has not yet been disclosed.

A $100,000 Fire in New York.

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—Fire in a six-story building, 22 and 24 White-street, last evening caused a loss to Otheman, Dyer & Southwick, woolen goods, of $10,000. They occupied the first and second floors. The floors above them were occupied by Paul Gurnheimer, dealer in laces and silk embroideries, whose loss is $70,000, and the damage to the building $20,000.

THE PLAGUE ERADICATED

NEW YORK QUARANTINE FREE OF CHOLERA.

The Report From Quarantine Shows That the Disease Has Been Almost Eradicated—Ships Which Were Detained Allowed to Proceed—The Record of the Ravages of the Plague in Europe.

QUARANTINE, N. Y., Sept. 30.—Dr. Byron's report from Swinburne Island for last night at 8 p.m. was as follows:

Patients under treatment for cholera 3, for measles 3, convalescents 34, no new cases or suspects since Sept. 27th. From the above it will be seen that, of the five cases reported on the 27th, one died, as previously noticed and one has been cured.

The Scandia sailed for Baltimore at 6.46. The Polaria, Rugia, Moravia and Slavonia and Dania, all of the Hamburg-American line, are still here. The Indiana and Herman with emigrant passengers are still here waiting to be released. The Gallia, Lahn and Noordland went to their docks to-day.

The Plague In Belgium.

Two Deaths At Havre.

HAVRE, Sept. 30.—Four fresh cases of cholera were reported in this city yesterday and two names were added to the death list.

AMSTERDAM, Sept. 30.—The cholera statistics show that throughout Holland yesterday there were 11 fresh cases of cholera and eight deaths from the disease.

Paris Still Suffering.

PARIS, Sept. 30.—There were 36 fresh cases of cholera reported yesterday in this city and suburbs and 18 deaths from the disease.

JUSTLY PUNISHED.

The U.S. Object to Strict Quarantine in Central America.

WASHINGTON, D.C., Sept. 30.—The embargo placed upon American commerce by the action of some Central American countries in closing their ports to ships from the United States is a matter of deep concern to the State Department. Aside from the actual loss to our merchants resulting from this action the interruption to the mails is a source of vexation. An unreasoning dread of the introduction of cholera has led to the issue of these troublesome decrees by the governments of the south. That which at New York was a rigorous but still limited quarantine has been exaggerated by our Central American neighbors into an absolute termination of intercourse with the U.S., and is regarded in official circles here as an unwarrantable exercise of authority. The Department of State is not disposed to act arrogantly toward our smaller southern neighbors in the matter, but is disposed to adopt methods based on reason to secure its object.

The United States steamer Concord, which arrived at Colon yesterday, was not ordered there with the purpose of compelling the local authorities to admit to that port the Pacific Mail steamship Columbia, which now lies off the entrance. The Concord's movement is to convey the Consul-General of the United States and the commissioners from the local government of Panama to Carthagena, where the President of Colombia resides, and endeavor to arrange with him some terms of settlement of the quarantine question.

THE EXCLUSION ACT.

Two Canadian Workmen Deported From Buffalo.

BUFFALO, Sept. 30.—Edward Doan, who came here from Humberstone, Ont., to work for a man in Ripley at $18 a month and his board, was deported last evening by Inspector DeBarry.

L. G. Edwards, Capt. Burnlem's late bartender, was also deported, as he could not be held as a witness in a civil suit should such be instituted against the captain. The young man would liked to have stayed, but the law allowed the inspector no option in the matter.

FIRE AT VIRDEN, MAN.

The West Portion of the Business Section Destroyed.

WINNIPEG, Man., Sept. 30.—About 2 o'clock yesterday fire started in the town of Virden and now the better portion of the business places is in ruins. Among the buildings which fell before the flames with all their contents were the Grand Central Hotel, the Virden Hotel, McDougall Implement warehouse, Higginbotham, Wilcox's and Wyatt's stores and the C.P.R. railway sheds. The loss is very heavy.

Sweeney Deposed.

DALLAS, Tex., Sept. 30.—Frand Sweeney, Grand Chief of the Switchman's Mutual Aid Association, has been defeated by the convention in session here for re-election. George W. The Columbus Naval Display.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—All the great naval powers and many of the smaller ones, to whom invitations were sent by the State Department to participate in the naval display at New York next April, have accepted the invitation, and have signified their intention to send some of their latest constructed vessels to take part in the exercises.

The Carnegie Works Will Not Shut Down.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 30.—The rumor sent out from Pittsburg yesterday that the Carnegie people had decided to discharge the non-union men at Homestead and close down the plant was emphatically denied to-night by H. C. Frick.

"There is absolutely nothing in the report," said he. "The works are running satisfactorily."

Hanged For Murder.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 30.—The Picayune's Brandon, Miss., special says: James Scuttell, a negro, who killed his wife last April, was hanged here yesterday in the presence of several thousand people. He said nothing on the scaffold about the crime, but he had confessed the killing before his trial.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 30, 1892.

At Hymen's Altar.

Mr. Newton Bird, of Stirling, wedded to Miss Bell, of "Ashbrook Farm," Smith.

The following account of a happy event has been handed the EXAMINER for publication, although a briefer report appeared in these columns some few days ago.

some few days ago:

Great interest was shown on Thursday forenoon in the marriage of Mr. Newton Bird, of Stirling, to Miss Sarah E. Bell, eldest daughter of Thos. E. Bell, Esq. The ceremony took place in the spacious drawing room at "Ashbrook Farm," the residence of the bride's father. The room was tastefully adorned with beautiful plants and flowers. Long before the hour fixed for the wedding the house was filled with guests and visitors —friends of the bride and bridegroom. Punctually at 10.30 the bridegroom entered, attended by Mr. J. Bird, of Lakefield, and Mr. E. Bird, Belleville, as groomsmen. Then the bride, leaning on the arm of her father, attended by her maids. The bride's dress was at once tasteful and becoming. She wore a dress of rich fawn colored henrietta, and carried a bouquet of lovely bridal roses. The two bridesmaids, Miss Annie Sanderson of Peterborough, and Miss Ruth Wensley of Stirling, were dresses of the same material as the bride and each carried a bouquet of pink roses. The procession through the hall into the drawing room was a very pretty one, the style and colours blending admirably, and the sweet, soft music played as they entered the room had a very nice effect. The bride was given away by her father. The ceremony, which was conducted by the Rev. E. N. Adams of Bethany, cousin of the groom, assisted by Rev. Geo. H. Raley, of Bridgenorth, was most impressive and listened to with much attention by the gathering. The ceremony over, the strains of the "Wedding March resounded as the bride and groom received many hearty congratulations. Miss Edith Forgie, of Pittsburg, Pa., presided at the piano. Breakfast was served in the dining room, the guests including Rev. E. N. Adams, Bethany; Rev J. H. and Mrs. Raley, Bridgenorth; Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Forgie and Miss Edith Forgie, Pittsburg, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. H. Bird, Miss Bird, Stirling; Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Routley, Miss Routley, Peterborough; Mrs. Jas. Madill, Kingston; Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Doak, Stirling; Mrs. McCaw, Belleville; Mrs. Madill, Lakefield; Mr. and Mrs. Faulkner, Stirling Mr. and Mrs. Mackay, Mrs. John Bell, Miss Bell, Miss Christie, Peterborough.

The tables were artistically arranged, the bride's cake, a very handsome piece of confectionery in four tiers, of course, occupying the place of honor in the centre. The Menu for the repast was served in the best style. Later Mr. Bird and his bride left for their home in Stirling, and needless to say, their departure was accompanied with the hearty good wishes of all their friends for their future happiness and welfare.

Among the presents received were:—$20 gold piece, Mrs. T. E. Bell; silver table and tea spoons, Mrs. T. E. Bell; five dollars and white spread, Miss Ida Bell; silver tea service, Mr. Mrs. and Miss J. Advertising a patent medicine in the peculiar way in which the proprietor of Kemp's Balsam for Coughs and Colds does, it is indeed wonderful. He authorizes all druggists to give honest trial for it, a sample bottle free, that they may try it before purchasing. The large bottles are 50c and a dollar. We certainly would advise a trial. It may save you from consumption. dw

Dan's Metrical Gratitude.

I, Dan Whetang, wish to express my thanks to all my friends who patronized my excursion, especially to our good farmers. You know I may have excursions, and I may fish, and I may trap muskrats, etc., "but this or that, whate'er befal, the farmer he must feed usall."

The king may ride o'er land and sea,
The lord may live right royally,
The soldier ride in pomp and pride,
The sailor roam o'er ocean wide,
But this or that, whate'er befal,
The farmer he must feed us all.

The writer thinks, the poet sings,
The craftsman fashions wondrous things,
The doctor heals, the lawyer pleads,
The miner follows precious leads,
But this or that, what'er befal,
The farmer he must feed us all.

The merchant he may buy and sell,
The teacher do his duty well;
And men may toil through busy days,
Or man may strait through pleasant ways,
From king to beggar, whate'er befal,
The farmer he must feed us all.

The farmer's trade is one of worth,
He's partner with the sky and earth;
He's partner with the sun and rain,
And no man loses for his gain.
And men may rise and men may fall,
But the farmer he must feed us all.

God bless the man who sows the wheat,
Who finds us milk and fruit and meat;
May his pocket be heavy, his heart be light,
His cattle and corn and all go right;
God bless the seeds his hands let fall,
For the farmer he must feed us all.

As a general rule, it is best not to correct costiveness by the use of saline or drastic medicine. When a purgative is needed, the most prompt, effective, and beneficial is Ayer's Pills. Their tendency is to restore, and not weaken, the normal action of the bowels.

There are more cases of sickness and death from diseased kidneys than from all other diseases combined. It is your own fault if you allow your kidneys to remain in an unhealthy condition when the cure is at hand. Dodd's Kidney Pills are guaranteed to cure the worst cases. It costs but little to give them a trial. They are for sale by all druggists and dealers or by mail on recipt of 50 cents or 6 boxes for $2 50.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

A violet rain and thunder storm, accompanied by a very strong wind, passed over this place on Sunday evening last. We have not learned of any serious damage being done by the storm.

Farmers and others in this vicinity are at present engaged in selecting the choicest of their produce for exhibition held here on the 6th and 7th October.

We are glad to learn that Mr. Kindred, who has been very ill during the past week, is now recovering, and we trust will in a short time be able to attend to his duties again.

Grapes appear to be a favorite fruit with the boys of this neighbourhood, as a certain garden has twice during the past week been visited and the grapes attacked by the lovers of the fruit.

In order to please everybody a correspondent has undoubtedly a hard road to travel. Some individuals complain of items that are not penned while others become very indignant if anything is published which they imagine concerns themselves. All that we as correspondents can say to such persons is that we mean to offend no person or interfere with other people's affairs so long as they remain remain within the limits of honesty and respectability.

The New Tenor.

Every member of the congregation was delighted with Mr. M——'s singing. The ladies declared that St. Marks church possessed the best tenor in the country; they feted and dined him, and his presence and singing became indispensible at evening parties.

Sabbath after Sabbath, for eight months his clear, silvery and soft tones, either in solos or concerted music, were heard in St Mark's, and drew scores of admirers from other churches.

One week it was announced that the "new tenor" would sing an important solo at the Sabbath morning service. Crowds were present to hear him. The organist, when the time arrived for the solo, played with great skill the introductory bars of music, and at the right time the "new tenor" began to sing.

It was soon discovered, after the singing of two or three bars, that the singer was suffering dreadfully from hoarseness. Those who were acquainted with the solo, knew it would be impossible for the singer to reach the upper notes. The "new tenor," himself, seemed to be aware of this, and wisely finished at a convenient resting place. Much regret was expressed by those present that a bad cold prevented the tenor doing himself justice.

An old lady member of the congregation, whose daughter sang in the choir, rushed up to the "new tenor" at the close of the service, and in a motherly way advised him to use Harvard Bronchial Syrup, which she declared would relieve him before night. The "new tenor" took the old lady's advice, and on returning from service procured a bottle of the great remedy from the druggist. It was faithfully used for a few hours, and every trace of hoarseness was removed.

Harvard Bronchial Syrup enabled the popular tenor to sing at the evening service. The secret of the tenor's rapid cure soon leaked out, and in a short time every member St. Mark's church was provided with a bottle of Harvard Bronchial Syrup to be used in cases of hoarseness, sore throat and coughs. The "new tenor" makes the great remedy his nearest friend whenever he feels the slightest huskiness of voice.

A Voice From the Canadian Press:

The Black Death!

The Scourge of the East.

Grim Asiatic Cholera is marching with stealthy but steady strides to these Western shores.

The foe is at our doors. Sanitary science with powerful disinfectants, fumigations and rigid quarantine regulations, stands guarding our ports.

But this fell destroyer on pestilential wing seems to float in the very air, and defy all efforts to beat him back. Wherever there lingers impurity and putrefaction he takes up his abode, and the seeds of the pestilence germinate and multiply.

Public sanitary vigilance is imperative. Let the sewers be flushed and every form of impurity be swept away. Let the health of the community be maintained to the highest possible degree. But in addition to all this let every individual be on the alert.

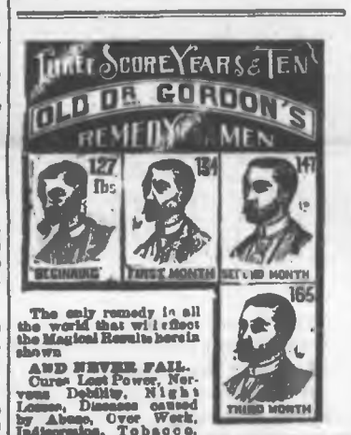
The human body has the most perfect and complete system of sewerage, defying the utmost art of man to rival.

A wise Creator has provided means for the eradication of all effete and impure materials from the human body.

Morse's Indian Root Pills is such a perfect combination of the best and most energetic remedies provided by a beneficent Providence for the purpose of cleansing the whole system, "flushing the sewers," rousing up the liver, the kidneys and the whole intestinal tract to their proper functions and at the same time imparting vigor and tone to the whole system, that it is with the utmost confidence that we recommend it to the public as the best preventive of the fearful ravages of that justly dreaded disease, Asiatic Cholera.

To be free from sick headache, biliousness, constipation, etc., use Carter's Little Liver Pills. Strictly vegetable. They gently stimulate the liver and free the stomach from bile.

Regulate the liver and bowels by the judicious use of National Pills, they are purely vegetable.



The only remedy in all the world that will effect the Magical Results herein shown

Y.P.S.C.E. Officers.
At a regular meeting of the George street Methodist church Epworth League of Christian Endeavour held on Monday evening last there was a large attendance of members and friends. Miss M. E. Fria, the president, presided. The officers for the ensuing six months were elected as follows:—President, H. E. Armstrong; 1st vice-president, Miss B. Stevens; 2nd vice-president, Miss E. Might; 3rd vice-president, Miss L. Rutherford; secretary, A. V. Lee; Treas., Miss Burnett. The 1st vice-president takes charge of Christian Endeavour work, the 2nd of religious work and the 3rd of social work in connection with the society. The reports received for the past six months were very encouraging and the treasurer's report was highly gratifying. The committees will be elected on Monday night next, when the newly elected officers will assume their duties.

Cupid's Captures.
History repeats itself—more than that, mythology repeats itself, human nature is always the same, and the pretty myth of Venus overcoming the mighty Mars is repeated these days and remarkably in this town. During the past two months in Peterborough no less than five valiant sons of Mars belonging to the 57th Battalion have lowered their colours and surrendered at discretion to the influence of the goddess of love. Lieut. Stevenson was the first to yield, and his example was followed by Lieut. Tebb. Capt. Donaldson was the next to surrender to the silken bondage. Lieutenant Hayes handed over his sword next and now Lieut. Schofield is added to the captive warriors. The great majority of the 57th officers are now happy benedicts with a very lonesome bachelor's mess left out in the cold, but, if there is anything in the novelist's claim for the force of example, we may expect les misérables to fall in with their benedictine brethren in arms and join the home guard. Militant matrimony is the proper thing; the wedded warriors will have new incentives to brave deeds—they will literally have homes and firesides to fight for and probably the interests of the recruiting branch of the infantry arm of the service will be promoted.

What to Save.
And how to save it, are subjects which interest all prudent housewives. This information is given in "Ayer's Home Economics," containing one hundred recipes for using odds and ends from table and market. It is a book especially valuable to young housekeepers, and will afford many new and useful hints even to those more experienced. A Fine Conundrum Social.
The Epworth League of Christian Endeavour of the George street Methodist church held a conundrum social at the residence of Mrs. A. B. Appleby, Bernards avenue. It was attended by about 75 young people. The proceedings were of an informal nature and during the evening some good instrumental music was rendered. Each gentleman received a card having on it a conundrum and it was his duty to seek the lady holding the card having the proper answer. They then remained partners for the evening.

Changed Hands.
The Brennan house has changed hands again and Mr. Doherty, late of the Wellington House, Toronto, is the new landlord. Mr. J. Graham, late proprietor, has purchased Mr. T. Dunn's saloon in Peterborough and will remove to that town this week. Mr. Graham, during his proprietorship of the Brennan House, proved a genial, courteous and obliging landlord and his many friends here will wish him every success in Peterborough. We understand that Mr. Dunn has purchased the Wellington House from Mr. Doherty.—Norwood Register.

Rare Sport With Spoon and Hook.
On Thursday a party composed of Messrs. W. Cardwell and L. H. Terrill, town, Thos. Eastwood, the smiling proprietor of the Eastwood House, Buckhorn, and Charles Tobico, an Indian guide, did a big day's fishing work. In Buckhorn Lake between the village and Deer Bay they caught, with trolling line and rods, 147 pounds of fine fish. The largest fish weighed 18 lbs. and there were many fine specimens of bass also. This perhaps is the finest fishing ever done in the northern waters in one day by a party of four men. And this is not the first good day's fishing Buckhorn Lake has seen this season, by any means. Fishing there is at its best at the present time.

Work of Committee Meetings.
The Manufacturers Committee met last night and transacted some business in regard to a large establishment extending its premises and being granted remission from extra taxes for a period of 10 years.

The Fire, Water and Light Committee also met and decided to recommend to the council the granting of five additional hydrants for fire service. They will be placed as follows:—Two on Gilmour street, one at the corner of Lock and Romaine, one on corner of Bagnarde avenue and George and one on Sherbrooke. The committee also unanimously decided to lay before the council that steps be taken as soon as expedient towards an arbitration between the council and the waterworks company in reference to the assumption of the system by the town, and that the town solicitor be notified to that effect.

THE STOMACH OF MAN is subject to a dozen such common but painful affections as cramps, cholera morbus, cholera, diarrhœa, and dysentery, and by neglect any of them may be made chronic and dangerous. Mount Pleasant.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

It is our sad and painful duty to chronicle the lamentably early death of Miss Ida Reid. She had been unwell for a considerable length of time previous to her demise, which took place on Sept. 18th, and when every hope of complete restoration was abandoned as futile. Death seemed a happy release to her, who had made full preparation for the entrance of her spirit into the heavenly home. The remains were interred on the 20th at Shield's cemetery. Her sorrowing brothers, sisters and relatives have the sympathy of the whole village and community in their sad bereavement.

Miss E. McIver of Millbrook is spending a few days at the parsonage.

Mr. Samuel Best of Maganetawan, one of the earliest settlers of our village, paid us a visit last week. He spent many happy moments with old friends in this part, refreshing old memories and scenes, and contrasting times around our village 20 or 30 years ago with what they are at present. He looks apparently as if time had been dealing gently with him and retains his former vivacity remarkably well. He left for his home on Friday last.

On a Prospecting Jaunt.

On Wednesday afternoon Hon. A. S. Hardy, Hon. R. Harcourt, Hon. C. F. Fraser, Hon. J. M. Gibson, accompanied by Mr. W. T. Harty, M.P.P., and Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., and officials of the railway took a trip over the Kingston, Napanee and Western Railway from Tweed to Deseronto. The paper mills, Portland cement works and other industries along the line were inspected. The party were afterwards the guests of Mr. E. W. Rathbun, of Deseronto. On Thursday the day was occupied in the inspection of the varied industries included in the Rathbun works, at Deseronto, which are a live example of the extreme application of the doctrine of utilitarianism. Absolutely nothing goes to waste, every portion of lumber or refuse is made use of—a block of wood the size of a visiting card is turned to account. Sawdust is distilled, producing alcohol for industrial purposes or combined with clay and converted into terra cotta building material. Even the smoke from the furnaces is subjected to "creative" processes, and valuable commercial products are the result. At the Rathbun's Deseronto establishment, in the manufacture of a sawlog, there is not enough waste to stop a clock.

A most estimable lady almost destroyed until Dr. Butler's Golden Pills came to the rescue. After their use for a short time she was able to resume her duties, after suffering untold misery from nervous prostration and the ills that attend that most distressing disease. These, if not checked in time, lead to insanity and death. Golden Pills are guaranteed to cure all nervous and blood diseases.

Mrs. Mary E. O'Fallon, a very intelligent lady of Piqua, Ohio, was poisoned while assisting physicians at an autopsy 5 years ago, and soon terrible ulcers broke out on her head, arms, tongue and throat. Her hair all came out. She weighed but 78 lbs., and saw no prospect of help. At last she began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla and at once improved; could soon get out of bed and walk. She says: "I became perfectly cured by

WALL PAPERS!

During the past week we have been very busy in our Wall Paper department.

The result has been large sales—very satisfactory both to ourselves and our customers.

Every room papered during the week has been thoroughly satisfactory to the buyer, and that is the secret of our great success.

We have no old papers—all this season's stock—and for the next few weeks we expect to be very busy. This is the season of the year when the home is being nicely decorated and made pleasant for the long winter evenings.

The morning is the best time to select Papers, and the public will find THE PETERBOROUGH BOOKSTORE the best equipped to supply all kinds of Papers, &c.

The Indian Captures the Race.

The Matched Canoe Race at Chemong Yesterday—Intense Excitement Over the Great Aquatic Event—Carnegie is Defeated by About 75 Yards or More.

It was a large number of sportsmen that wended their way to Chemong Park yesterday to witness the great match canoe struggle which local enthusiasts and local capital had gotten up. The people came from far and near and by three o'clock there could not have possibly been less than 500 persons on the grounds to witness the memorable battle with cances. The unknown who was to go in the event proved to be Mr. Hilliard Carnegie of Coboconk, son of Mr. John Carnegie, ex M.P., and a canoeist of long standing and reputed ability. The race was to be against one who took part in the recent Chemong regatta and that individual turned out to be no less a person than Geo. Taylor, a first class man in the canoe and a brother of John Taylor who recently paddled in the matched canoe race with Gardner Nicholls of Bobcaygeon. Geo. Taylor and his brother in the regatta of last week won the double canoe race quite easily. The race of yesterday was

and over a straight course, (with no turning buoy) a distance of 1½ miles. Some time was occupied in laying out the course, anchoring the buoys and attending to all the preliminary arrangements. The starters were Messrs. Jas. Stabler and George Fitzgerald, while the judges were Frank Adams, Thos. Nicholls, of Lakefield, and Daniel Westaug. The course started about a mile above and west of the Chemong Club's boat house from a little island about 100 yards from the shore and extended in a straight line down past the boat house and the park to the fence running down to the water from the hotel. The distance the paddlers kept from shore all along the racing route would vary probably from 50 to 200 yards according to the contour of the shore. It was over the same course as Messrs. McIntyre and Mercer rowed some years ago, only this course, which was one half a mile longer, finished at the Ennismore bridge, making the distance two miles. It was precisely at 4.30 o'clock when all was ready for the race. Carnegie paddled in a basswood canoe owned by the Ontario Canoe Company. The bark was very light weighing less than his opponent's. It was twenty feet long nine inches deep and with a 22 inch beam. Geo. Taylor's racing canoe was also 20 feet long, 22 inches beam, and only 7 inches deep. It was a magnificent Spanish cedar shell, a

REGULAR RACING OUTFIT AND DECKED OVER

in Rob Roy style. Taylor's canoe is owned by Dr. Douglas, who resides near Lakefield. The proud possessor brought it from England and it has seen service many years. At the word "Go" fell from the lips of the starters, who were out in a boat near the red flag which marked the starting point, both contestants caught the water at once with their spoon blade double paddles, and in the twinkling of an eye they were off. The double bladed paddle worked skilfully in the hand of each, first dipping the blue waters with a powerful stroke on one side and then on the other, soon left the starting point behind. Carnegie and Taylor kept well together for the first quarter, and neither seemed to have any perceptible advantage. At the half mile the Indian was about three quarters of a boat length ahead and both were working for dear life. The lake was in a fine condition for aquatic events its surface being only here and there and with a slight wind blowing in the backs of the two young contestants. In the third quarter Carnegie raised up in his canoe and shot the prow of his barque ahead of his opponents by some six or eight feet as they passed the first half, but a moment or so after entering the last three quarters he sat down again and the Indian who was working the double blade spoon paddles to perfection with clean, neat strokes and powerful sweeps forged ahead of the Coboconk boy and gradually the daylight shone between them; wider and wider it grew until victory shone upon the dusky brow of the Indian boy as he finished passing the winning buoy a victor by fully 75 yards if not more. Carnegie made no spurt at the close but rather slackened his gait when he saw defeat staring him in the face. Carnegie's canoe not being decked like his opponent's, when he finished it was filled with three or four pails of water. His stroke was not as good as the Indian, who it is stated on reliable authority only handled a double paddle yesterday for the first time. The loser's stroke was too long and he rolled the spoons back too far, thereby lifting the water as he raised the blades alternately, and also caused considerable splashing which served to fill his canoe with water.

Loud cheers greeted the close of the struggle, and it is calculated, and pretty correctly, too, that no less a sum than $1 500 changed hands on the result. Bets flew fast and thick and money was recklessly handled from $300 down. Great odds were offered on Carnegie by some enthusiasts who offered to bet 2 to 1, 5 to 3 and such like sums on his prowess and ability. The principal theory the the losers advance for Mr. Carnegie's defeat is that there was no restriction or such stipulation as "boat and best canoes" in the terms of the challenge and on account of the recognized racing properties and neat finished build of Taylor's canoe, it also being decked; they claim that is the reason of his victory. The air is full of talk about the great race, the money lost and won, the canoes used, etc., and loud proclamations are heard on all sides for another fight between the pair, which if intentions are carried into effect may come off soon.

Copyright, 1892, by the Author.

"I cannot say. Father Ambrose, or Ishmael, as we will now call him, talked along with her, but what of I do not know. Come, you will have to help me fetch the burial caskets." Terry followed the faithful Shem to one of the lower caves where stood on shelves four coffins of oak, well lined with silver. At the head and foot were heavy bars of silver securely fastened, which acted as handles. All were made alike, but for size. Two were large and two small. Ishmael had thought of everything, even coffins. From its resting place they took one of the small ones and carried it to the side of Zanea. Gently these two men lay the girl in the narrow case. Terry's lips drew close, and he drew a deep breath. Shem's face was rigid with sorrow. He clasped his hands behind his back, and his voice trembled as he spoke.

"Terry Denver, she loved thee. She was the stronger, nobler of the two girls, and she loved thee. What is it that wins love? Why couldst thou not receive such a woman's love? We will have to close the coffin." Neither touched her. Neither saw the luxuriant hair needed smoothing, and the little cold hands were not folded; all they knew or felt was that Zanea had gone from them. Neither knew until now how large the place she had filled in both their lives, and now, she was gone. They put the lid in place and fastened it down, then turned to prepare Ishmael. Before dawn the dead were ready for burial.

Again midnight. Terry, Zell, and Shem were on the platform. At their feet were placed the coffined bodies of Ishmael and Zanea. Terry had asked to have a burial service. Zell knew not what it meant, and Shem did not care. Now they waited the service. Terry was standing with bowed head, then he said:

"Shem, I cannot. Her life was perfect. She was without sin. For what could we pray other than that we may have strength to live as did Zanea. For her no prayer is needed."

And Shem responded, "Amen." They lowered her to the water's edge, then slipped the ropes, and what was left of Zanea sank out of sight for eternity. Terry looked to Shem to see what next, but Shem had forgotten the other body. His hands were outstretched, as if to ward off a blow. His face was livid as with some great exertion. He began speaking, with that sublimed force heard in the few first thunder peals of a violent thunderstorm.

"WE WILL BURY THEM IN THE WATER."

"She has gone! Great heavens, she has gone from me, and I loved her! I am black and coarse, yet I loved her! Oh, Father, why hast Thou put in forms black, crooked, deformed, loathesome and repulsive that hunger for love, that can never, never come to us! Why hast Thou made some of us deficient in body, yet left the ability to feel that sublimest madness, love!"

Over the agonized face a weary smile stole, and when he spoke again it was as if speaking to Zanea.

"She would have said, patience, Shem. Yes, Zanea, I will be patient. Thou wert a noble example."

He was as simple as a child when he promised Zanea he would be patient. All the passion was controlled and he thought only to do as Zanea wished. Zell had watched Shem in wonder. Now she crept to him; taking his hand in hers she said:

"Now you are my old Shem. I feared thee as I saw thee just now. Shem, be gentle with me always. I did not know that tempests were in aught but the air and clouds. You said you loved Zanea. Father Ambrose told me when last we talked that the love man gives woman is to her what the steady, gentle rain is to the drooping flowers. Thy love is like a tempestuous thunder blast and would beat the flowers down."

BULT'S SCHEME PREFERRED.

The Parnellites Like the Plan of the Father of Home Rule.

LONDON, Sept. 29.—In an article published yesterday Mr. Redmond approves the Home Rule program of Isaac Butt. Mr. Redmond declares that the Parnellites are willing to accept a statutory parliament with an executive responsible to it, leaving untouched the supremacy of the Imperial Parliament on purely Imperial questions on which alone Irish members shall have the right to sit and vote at Westminster. The Irish Legislature, he says, must control the judiciary, police and land. These points he pronounces vital and declares they cannot be compromised. He believes it would be better for Ireland to wait another generation than accept a scheme not granting these demands.

THE DIFFERENCE WITH RUSSIA.

The Seizure of English Sealing Vessels May Cause Trouble.

LONDON, Sept. 29.—Regarding the despatch of a British cruiser to Alaskan waters it appears that the officials here objected to the form of Reuter's statement from Ottawa, which led to comments in the English papers indicating possible trouble with Russia. Lord Rosebery already possesses full information from the British side respecting the seizures and is now awaiting Russia's version.

Meanwhile the cruiser goes to relieve the sealers, who, it is feared, are destitute though released on the Siberian shores.

A PRINCE'S LOVE.

Princess Alix of Hesse Likely to Be His Bride.

LONDON, Sept. 29.—The announcement that Prince George would marry Princess Marie of Teck, the late Duke of Clarence's fiancee, appears to have been premature. When approached by his grandmother, the Queen, on the subject he said:

"You would not have me marry a lady I do not love. I will select a wife for myself."

The Prince has been paying marked attention to Princess Alix, daughter of Ludwig IV., Grand Duke of Hesse. She is beautiful, of the highest attainments and 21 years of age. Her only drawback is that the Prince and Princess are first cousins, but this will make no difference. The Prince and Princess of Wales have given their consent, and it will undoubtedly be a match.

LOCKHART'S EXPEDITION.

The British-Indo Force Sets Out From Allahabad.

SIMLA, Sept. 29.—The force under command of Col. Sir W. Lockhart started on its trans-Indus campaign yesterday from Allahabad preceded by a corps of sappers, who will make a road for the expedition through the Susul pass. The ostensible object of the expedition is to restore peace among the Black Mountain tribes. The British have had frequent trouble with these tribesmen, and they have refused to surrender to the British the fomenter of the trouble, a chief named Hashim Ali, though they agreed to do so. Some of the Indian newspapers have urged the Government to put an end to the constant irritation by annexing the district. Colonel Lockhart's force consists of 5000 mixed British and Indian troops.

Nationalist Magistrate.

DUBLIN, Sept. 29.—The Irish Lord Chancellor has appointed six new magistrates for the city of Cork, all of whom are McCarthyites. Until Mr. Morley's appointment as Chief Secretary for Ireland the magistrates of Ireland, with scarcely an exception, were Tories.

The corporation of the city of Belfast has decided to present an address to Lord Houghton, the new Viceroy of Ireland, upon his arrival in Dublin. This is in strong contrast to the action of the authorities of Dublin, who refuse to present him with an address. The only reason for their refusal is that they are Parnellites.

Objection to a Roman Catholic Mayor.

LONDON, Sept. 29.—The proposed selection of Stewart Knill, who is next in rotation as Lord Mayor of London, has aroused considerable opposition, in view of the fact that Knill is a Roman Catholic. In response to enquiries made of him by Lord Mayor Evans, Mr. Knill has written a letter in which he says that in the event of his selection as Lord Mayor he would have an Anglican chaplain to perform public duties, while his private chaplain would be a Catholic.

Lord Churchill's Syndicate.

LONDON, Sept. 29.—A syndicate has been organized to explore the Transvaal and Mashonaland. Lord Randolph Churchill, Col. North and G. S. Goldman are the directors.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla does what no other blood medicine in creation can do. It searches out all the impurities in the system and expels them harmlessly through the proper channels. This is why Ayer's Sarsaparilla is so pre-eminently effective as a remedy for rheumatism.

The Best in the World,

The oil of the Norwegian Cod Liver is nature's grand restorative, and is only found in its entirety and purity in Miller's Emulsion. It is the most palatable and wholesome preparation of Cod Liver Oil in the world, and is now being taken by invalids, particularly those afflicted with consumption, with the most astonishing success. It is the greatest blood and flesh maker in existence, and is a life saver to consumptives. In big bottles 50c. and $1, at Peterborough Drug Stores.

We do not know of any preparation that has caught the public favor in so short a time as Dodd's Kidney Pills, but when we consider that three-fourths of the Canadian people are afflicted with kidney troubles in some form or other, and that Dodd's Pills are a quick and permanent cure for all these troubles, the large and increasing demand can scarcely be wondered at. Sold by all dealers or by mail on receipt of price, 50 cents per box. Dr. L. A. Smith & Co. Toronto.

News About Town

It is the current report about town that Kemp's Balsam for the throat and lungs is making some remarkable cures with people who are troubled with coughs, sore throat, asthma, bronchitis and consumption. Any druggist will give you a trial bottle free of cost. It is guaranteed to relieve and cure. The large bottles cost 50c and $1. dw

Forewarned is Forearmed.

Many of the worst attacks of cholera morbus, cramps, dysentery, colic, etc., come suddenly in the night and speedy and prompt means must be used against them. Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is THE remedy. Keep it on hand for emergencies. It never fails to cure or relieve. dw

Preferential Trade.

Preferential trade properly consists in giving the preference to Burdock Blood Bitters when seeking for a cure for constipation, dyspepsia, headache, biliousness, jaundice, scrofula, poisonous humors, bad blood, rheumatism or kidney complaints. It is the true cure and has cured cases which had resisted all other treatment. dw

EXCELLENCE.

RHEUMATISM.—Mr. WM. HOWES, 66 Red Lion St., High Holborn, W. C., London, Eng., states he had rheumatism 20 years; suffered intensely from swelling of hands, feet and joints. He used St. Jacobs Oil with marvelous results. Before the second bottle was exhausted the pain left him. He is cured.

NEURALGIA.—Mrs. JOHN McLEAN, Barrie Island, Ont., March 4, 1888, says: "I suffered severely with neuralgia for nine years and have been greatly benefited by the use of St. Jacobs Oil."

SCIATICA.—Grenada, Kans., U. S. A., Aug. 8, 1888. "I suffered eight years with sciatica; used five bottles of St. Jacobs Oil and was permanently cured." JACOB L. SMITH.

STRAIN.—Mr. M. PRICE, 14 Tabernacle Square, E.C., London, Eng., says: "I strained my wrist and the severe pain yielded like magic to St. Jacobs Oil."

LAMEBACK.—Mrs. J. RINGLAND, Kincaid St., Brockville, Ont., writes: "I was confined to bed by severe lumbago. A part of a bottle of St. Jacobs Oil enabled me to go about in a day."

A LIBERAL POLICY.

The STANDARD has always taken the lead over other companies in the effort to simplify the assurance contract, and to maintain public confidence in life assurance. Its prompt and liberal settlement of claims has given it a world-wide reputation for generous straightforward dealing, and by its example has done much to do away with contesting of policies.

The New Free Policy of the Standard Life Assurance Company is given without extra charge; allows free residence in any part of the world, and is incontestable and unconditional except on the ground of false statements in the application, and that only during the first two years; after that it is absolutely free. This policy is simply a promise to pay a certain sum at the maturity of the contract, instead of having a number of useless clauses on the back of the policy showing what the insured may not do, and which always gives rise to dissatisfaction and dispute; the STANDARD prints only on the back of the policy a list of special privileges granted to the assured.

Which can only be Solved after Mature Deliberation.

Every father and mother, before buying Boots and Shoes for their children, should hold a consultation together and try and arrive at an answer to the following five questions:

1. What kind of boot do we want?
2. Are any to be got that will wear well?
3. Who keeps this kind?
4. Are these people reliable?
5. Can they afford to sell good boots cheap?

Having carefully analyzed these questions to their satisfaction, why not decide to try

OUT OF RANGE OF THE VATICAN.

The Society of Jesus Meets for the First Time Out of Rome.

MADRID, Sept. 29.—The monastery at Arpeitia, in the Province of Guipuzcoa, near which Ignatius Loyola, founder of the Society of Jesus, was born, is the scene of a great meeting of members of that order. Provincials of the society from all parts of the world have assembled to elect a successor to the late Father Anderledy, the general of the Jesuits. This is the first time since the founding of the society in 1534 that the election of a general, who holds office for life, has been held outside of Rome. The venue of the occasion was changed in order to escape the influence of the Vatican.

Among the American delegates to the meeting were: Rev. P. Villiger of Philadelphia, who is prominently mentioned in connection with the office of general; Thomas Campbell, provincial of the Maryland and New York province; Very Rev. John P. Fridman, provincial of the Missouri province; Rev. P. Healy of Providence, Rev E. J. Piggins of Chicago and Rev. R. T. Meyer of Milwaukee.

CANADA'S NATURAL FERTILIZERS.

Muck—Its Origin, Use or Application and Value.

Every true muck consists largely of semi-decayed vegetable matter or humus—the accumulated remains of plants, chiefly aquatic, of many generations. These well-known deposits of swamp muck are the result, principally of the continuous action of water on the fresh and green vegetable matter, converting it into a uniform black or brown mass. The lack of structure in the matter deposited increases with decay. In the upper layers are to be found the roots of plants still growing on the surface, together with much undecomposed woody tissue. The lower portions of the muck deposits show, as a rule, but few roots, the process of decomposition having proceeded farther, destroying all structure. A black or brown material results, light as to weight and powdering easily when dry.

In some degrees a measure of the value of a muck may be obtained from its color, its structure, and the amount of ashes left when a small sample is burnt. A good muck should be dark brown or black, structureless (that is not full of undecayed woods and roots), light and easily powdered when dry, and should yield only a small quantity of light ashes when burnt.

As a supplier of plant food, muck is chiefly valuable for its nitrogen, contained in the organic matter or semi-decomposed plant remains. Under favorable circumstances it yields this nitrogen as food for farm crops.

But in addition to being a nitrogenous fertilizer; its application to many soils improves their tilth or mechanical texture. If a soil be too light or too heavy, the best results cannot be obtained, though all the elements of plant food be present. Muck has the effect of making heavy soils porous, allowing air and water to freely permeate and the roots to find an easy passage. For light and sandy soils and those poor in organic matter muck is most beneficial, improving their retentive powers for moisture and fertilizing elements. For rich soils that require lightening it forms a valuable and cheap substitute for barn-yard manure, on account of its bulk and lasting qualities.

By its further decomposition in the soil, carbonic acid gas is developed. This when dissolved in the soil-water assists in setting free mineral plant food hitherto in a condition unavailable and is probably in service in other ways. The germs of nitrification which render soluble and assimilable the nitrogen of muck, likewise convert and make soluble that in the nitrogen-holding substances in the soil, so that both the mineral and organic plant food of a soil are made more readily available for crops by the application of muck.

As might be supposed, all mucks are not equally valuable. Those which contain large amounts of clay and sand will be poor in organic matter and consequently in nitrogen. Again, the proportion of nitrogen in the organic matter of mucks is very variable. This is partly due to the nature of the vegetation from which the muck has been formed, partly to the degree of decay or fermentation that has taken place, and partly no doubt, in some instances, to a leaching action of the water on the soluble nitrogen-holding compounds. The color of muck is not an invariable criterion as to its quality; many of a brown color contain a larger percentage of nitrogen than black samples, which appears contrary to the generally accepted opinion.—Frank T. Shutt, M. A., Chief Chemist Dominion Experimental Farm.

STORMY MEETING OF MEDICOS.

There Were Some Acrimonious Words at Yesterday's Gathering

TORONTO, Sept. 30.—Stinging invective answered by acrimonious epithet and bitter recrimination seemed to be the order of the day at the meeting of the Legislative Committee of the Council of the College of Physicians and Surgeons and the Medical Defence Association of Ontario yesterday afternoon, in the rooms of the council, Bay and Richmond-streets.

The meeting was held with the laudable object in view of investigating the grievances of the Defence Association and endeavoring to restore harmony between the practitioners and the members of the council.

The Cause of the Split.

The principal reason for the split between the two bodies is the result of the passing of an enactment through the Legislature which empowers the Registrar to strike the name of any practitioner off the list unless he pays into the coffers of the council such dues as shall be levied by that body.

Ex-President J. A. Williams of the council started the apple of discord rolling by declaring that these fees were an honest statutory debt and that anyone trying to evade the payment of such was acting in exactly the same manner as he who was trying to defraud any just creditor.

The Fun Waxed Furious.

The members of the Defence Association inferred from this that Mr. Williams meant to insinuate that they were acting in a dishonest manner, and in consequence speaker after speaker successively claimed the floor and in scathing terms of sarcasm reviewed the regime of Mr. Williams while he was president of the council, pointing out with pitiless accuracy various discrepancies in his statement of the condition of the financial status of the college, as compared with the official report of the treasurer.

In rebuttal, Mr. Williams urged that when he issued the pamphlet referred to he was unable to gain access to the Treasurer's books and was under the impression that he was giving a fair estimate of the expenses incurred in maintaining the College building.

Dr. Comfort stated with great positiveness that the defence could never be in harmony with the council until the objectionable clause was removed from the enactment, and while it remained in force there was no use in trying to patch up the peace, as no proposals could be entertained for a moment while this monstrous injustice remained unremedied.

Not the Fee, but the Mode of Collecting It

Dr. Sangster wished to impress upon the members of the council present that it was not the fee that they objected to paying, but the levying of it by a council over whom they had no control.

Dr. Bergin of Cornwall took up the role of peacemaker with great facility and poured oil upon the troubled waters by appealing to the defence to try and enter into the negotiations with the intention of restoring harmony instead of washing all their soiled linen before the public through the medium of the press as they were doing at present and beseeching them to write out their complaints at once and hand it in to the chairman, Dr. Fowler.

The Amendments Asked.

Dr. McLaughlin accordingly handed in the following requests from the Defence Association:

1. That Article 41, A, of the Ontario Medical Act be repealed.

2. That action in regard to the levying of annual fees be held in suspense until the medical profession is properly represented in the council.

3. That only each of the following universities be allowed to send a representative to the council, to wit—Queen's, Toronto, Trinity and the Western.

4. That the territorial representatives number 17 and the homeopathic five.

The meeting then broke up, as a number of those present had to return to their homes on the afternoon train.

Those taking part in the discussion were: Drs. Fowler, Williams, N. T. Aikins, Geikie, Bergin, Meacham, Armour, Coburn, Britton, Comfort, Wylie, Day, Thorburn, McLaughlin, Sangster, Hutchinson, Hillier, Bingham, Johnson, Orr, White, Pyrie, W. H. B. Aikens and Britton.

The Legislative Committee Meet.

At the close of the session the Legislative Committee gathered in solemn conclave and passed the following resolutions, in which they practically yielded every point demanded by the practitioners:

1. We consent to 41 A remaining in abeyance until after the next election and allowing the electorate to pronounce upon it.

2. We do not consent to suspend section 47, but will still rely on the honor of the profession to pay the fee.

3. We will favor adding five additional territorial representatives.

4. We will not object to institutions which neither teach nor grant degrees being deprived of representation.

5. We are in favor of protested elections being referred to the senior county judge in the division in which the election took place.

BEECHAM'S PILLS sell well because they cure.

THE SHOOTING AT EGLINTON.

The Victim at the Point of Death This Morning.

TORONTO, Sept. 30.—Early yesterday William Jones, who was shot at Eglinton on Thursday, became unconscious, and later in the day gangrene set in and by midnight it had affected the injured leg above the knee and his death was hourly expected.

County Crown Attorney Stewart was notified of the man's condition, and about 11 o'clock last night visited the Hospital with a view to securing Jones' ante-mortem statement, but his trip was unfruitful.

It is freely stated that Jones' purpose in going at so late an hour to Mr. Britton's house was in fulfilment of an hotel boast that he would take advantage of the absence of the head of the family to obtain favors from his wife.

Mrs. Jones is deserving of much sympathy, as, to add to her other troubles, an execution for a debt of her husband's amounting to $90 was put in Thursday night.

Board of Methodist Missions.

OTTAWA, Ont., Sept. 30.—The Board of Methodist Missions resumed its session yesterday under the presidency of Rev. Dr. Douglas of Montreal, when a large amount of routine business was pushed through. A number of committee reports were handed in and adopted, including the Indian report, the report on Resolutions, and the report of Rev. James Woodsworth, superintendent of missions in Manitoba and the Northwest. A vote of thanks was passed to Dr. Brecher of Sackville, N.B., for his gift of $1000 towards the establishment of a hospital in connection with the work in China. It was resolved to interview Hon. Mr. Dawdney regarding the projected industrial school at Red Deep, also the institute at Brandon, as there was an apparent misunderstanding between the officers of the Board and the Government as to a basis of procedure.

Another Fake Concern.

LYNN, Mass., Sept. 30.—At a meeting of the French department of the Order of the Helping Hand last night there was much criticism of the grand officers of the order, and charges were made that the benefit fund had been so handled by them that neither its amount nor its whereabouts is known, that 50 per cent. supposed to be deposited with the State Treasurer has not been so deposited, and that $4000 of a recent special assessment has not been accounted for.

VALEDICTORY SERVICES.

THE CLOSING HOURS OF THE PRESBYTERIAN ALLIANCE.

A Full Description of the Last Meeting of the Alliance in Cooke's Church—The Delegates Speak Their Thanks and the Meeting Adjourns in Harmony.

TORONTO, Oct. 1.—One of the most impressive services ever held in Toronto was "the valedictory" to the Reformed Alliance last night. Had the big church been twice its size it would have been filled. Hundreds could mount no higher than the steps of Cooke's Church long before the proceedings started.

Their New President.

The chairman did not fill the chair because he is a thin little spare man. But he evidently realized his position, for he looked as sad as at a funeral. He spoke in slow, deliberative tones, and made up for lack of matter by the time he took to say what they were met for. Eulogy of Toronto is nothing fresh. Last night it was expected and it was forthcoming. "Your fair and beautiful city; your unbounded hospitality" and a dozen other things with just as expressive adjectives formed the staple of the venerable doctor's speech.

Rev. William Park of Belfast has all the fire that characterizes the successors of the late Dr. Cooke, after whom the church where the alliance has met is named. In contrast with the chairman he rattled on in a jolly style in proposing a resolution of thanks to everybody, including waiters, ushers and cabinboys.

Mr. Park was candid and admitted that he and his confreres were densely ignorant of Canada before they came to Toronto. Then he grew as exuberant in his fancies as a young man first in love; he positively spoke of Toronto as a queen sitting on a silver lake with her skirts spreading out in all directions!

Rev. Dr. Putnam of Indiana, a short, stout man with pilot coat, looking more like a contractor than an embodiment of divinity, paid a poor compliment to the intelligence of the great audience when he retailed out to them such a mass of small talk and Yankee humor, not at all in good form.

Rev. Dr. McAdam Muir of Edinburgh made a poor pun. "Toronto," he said, "I knew was called the Queen City; now I know that the Queen she is called after is that of Sheba." Another old chestnut was the story of the student who, when asked to name the minor prophets, replied: "I never make these invidious distinctions." There was no fear of this student indulging in the higher criticism!

Got the Best of Everything.

As the people liked this fare the doctor gave them some more. Said he: "When I was a boy a Scotch minister asked me what I would like to be when I grew up. 'A stranger,' I replied. 'Why a stranger?' 'Because strangers always get the best of everything.'" Whereat all the people laughed.

Yes, these delegates ought to be thankful, for $7000 have been spent over them—more than would be given to any poor Presbyterians at home.

Rev. Dr. Hoge of Indiana gave a historic sketch of American Presbyterianism. This he eulogized, but was more loudly cheered when he said: "Better than Presbyterianism is loyalty to righteousness, loyalty to truth, loyalty to Christ."

Rev. John B. Drury of New York enthused about the great increase in Toronto's population, anticipating it would soon be a million.

Mr. Drury gave a chapter in American Presbyterian history, stating that he represented the oldest reformed church of the American continent, whose synod had missioned Toronto before the war of 1812.

Ex-President Blaikie made the speech of the evening. His venerable appearance, his long gray locks, glistening eye added to the pathos of his voice.

Real Romances.

Truly eloquent, without bombast or affectation, was the story he told. It was full of references to the thrilling tales of the history of the Waldenses, Vaudois, Bohemia and John Huss. The Vaudois at first objected to joining "reformed" churches on the ground that they had never been "deformed." [Laughter.] Reminiscences of Hungary were in order, and the doctor related, to the amusement of his hearers, how a distinguished reformer had kissed him on both cheeks, an honor he had never received in the service of the Alliance from either male or female. [Loud applause and laughter.]

In conclusion he pathetically told how greatly cheered and warmed he had been by the whole tone and spirit of this great Toronto gathering. Specially did he rejoice at the exaltation of the name of Christ:

His name for ever shall endure:
Last like the sun it shall:
Men shall be blessed in Him and blessed
All nations shall Him call.

With this quotation the ex-President concluded his impressive address.

Then forth spoke the President-elect: "Let us sing the two succeeding stanzas, and with vigor unparalleled in Toronto the vast crowd rose and sounded forth in a great volume of harmony:

Now blessed be the Lord our God,
The God of Israel;
For he alone doth wondrous works:
In glory that excel.

And blessed be his glorious name
To all eternity:
The whole earth let his glory fill.
Amen, so let it be.

Principal Caven's Reply.

Loud were the acclaims as the popular principal of Knox College ascended the platform to reply to the speeches of thanks. In the choicest of English, with the attic Scotch flavor and in tones of commingled gratitude and sorrow, Dr. Caven admirably did his duty. "You have brought us joy, and light and gladness," said he, and these three virtues brightened the speaker's face. Then, carried beyond the academic dignity of precision, the Doctor used the language of enthusiasm, if not of exaggeration, when he characterized the foregathering of the Pan-as "the greatest ecclesiastical event in the history of Toronto or even the Dominion of Canada."

The amende honorable may have been made at the Elliott House breakfast to Dr. Lindsay, but it certainly has not been made publicly. How, then, could Principal Caven say, "There is not an arrow sticking in any one's breast"?

The concluding sentences of the response were grand and of high tone, intimating the spiritual blessing of every Toronto evangelical denomination, and forecasting its fruition in the general assembly of the First-born above.

A CLEAN BILL OF HEALTH.

THE AUTHORITIES AT NEW YORK MAKE A GRATIFYING REPORT.

The Medical Authorities Send Word That There Have Been No Fresh Cases At the Quarantine Station—The Detained Ships, Being Pronounced Free of Contagion, Allowed to Go To Their Docks.

QUARANTINE, N.Y., Oct. 1.—Dr. Jenkins returned from lower quarantine this evening and reported that the patients on Swinburne Island are all doing well. Two hundred of the steerage passengers on the Bohemia were landed and disinfected today, and the rest will be taken off to-day. The steamer will also be disinfected. All her bedding, temporary woodwork and bunks will be burned and she will then come to lower quarantine to unload.

The Hermannia, with her immigrants, will go up to-day and the other immigrant steamers, the Indiana and the Massillia, will still be held. The Moravia and Rugia are still unloading. Dr. Jenkins reports a small strike among some of the workmen on Hoffman Island. The strikers want to go home, but upon being told that they could be quarantined for the full time whether they worked or not they thought better of it and decided to earn money during they stay in lower quarantine.

The Guard Not At Quarantine.

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—The police guard at lower quarantine was yesterday withdrawn, Dr. Jenkins saying it was no longer necessary.

It Reaches Odessa.

ODESSA, Oct. 1.—It is officially announced that cholera is present in this city. From Sept. 23 to Sept. 28 there have been ten cases of the disease reported, four of which proved fatal.

Twenty-Four Deaths at Hamburg.

HAMBURG, Oct. 1.—The official cholera statistics for yesterday place the number of new cases at 33 and the deaths at 24.

At Altona yesterday nine new cases and nine deaths were reported.

Reported Case in Berlin.

BERLIN, Oct. 1.—Two patients suffering with cholera were taken to the hospital yesterday. Ten other persons suspected of having the disease were removed to the hospital.

Is Inoculation a Success?

BERLIN, Oct. 1.—Dr. A. Stanhope, who was inoculated with cholera virus in Paris and who subsequently served as a nurse in Hamburg cholera hospitals, arrived yesterday. He is well and hearty and attributes his escape from cholera entirely to the inoculation he underwent.

Decreasing at St. Petersburg.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 1.—There were reported here yesterday 13 new cases of cholera and nine deaths.

ACCUSED OF TREASON.

Members of the Advisory Committee at Homestead Under Arrest.

HOMESTEAD, Pa., Oct. 1—A great sensation was made here yesterday by the arrest for treason of several members of the Advisory Committee of Homestead strikers. The arrests came like a thunderbolt to the strikers. Several of the prisoners did not know why they were arrested until safe behind the bayonets of the soldiers. Through fear of an attempt at rescue they were taken to the City Farm steamer, placed on the train, brought to Pittsburg at 11 o'clock and landed in jail.

The Chinamen Were Innocent.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—The Department of State is informed by the Chinese Minister that there is nothing in the certificates found upon the Chinamen recently arrested at Detroit for being unlawfully in the United States to show that the society issuing them had such an object in view as the murder of the Emperor of China, nor was the society mentioned in the trial last year of persons connected with secret societies. It further appears that persons tried were not natives of Kuang Tung, but of Hunan, from which latter place very few have emigrated, and it is believed that the characters in the certificate were printed by a foreign lithographic process, not a China one.

The McKinley Bill at Fault.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 1.—Judge Ross has decided that the McKinley Bill did not repeal the Act of 1883, granting the right of a drawback of 75 cents per ton on imported bituminous coal which is afterwards used for fuel on American steam vessels engaged in the coasting trade.

The decision will result in the payment of $200,000 to coal dealers in this city who, since the passage of the McKinley Bill, have been deprived of the drawbacks on all coal sold to American steamships.

Business Is Good.

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says business continues larger than ever at this time of the year and the commercial sky is without a cloud.

The failures during the past week number for United States 177 and for Canada 31, or a total of 208, as compared with 211 last week. For the corresponding week last year the figures were 230, representing 201 failures in United States and 29 in Canada.

He Was Crazy.

NYACK, Oct. 1.—On Tuesday and Wednesday the cashier of the Nyack National Bank received letters from Michael Welsh of New Londoff, Ct., who claimed to be wealthy, demanding $5000 at once from the bank. This morning, soon after the bank opened, Welsh appeared in person and said he must have the money. An officer arrested him and found that he was crazy. He was penniless.

Went Afloat in a Packing Box.

NEW LONDON, Conn., Oct. 1.—Capt. Albert Ahle and Prof. William Tobie, the two surf men from Far Rockaway Beach, who started from the iron pier near the latter place on Sept. 13 in a boat made of pieces of drygoods boxes, to make the trip by water to Boston in 40 days, on a wager of $500 against $1000, arrived here yesterday in the best of health. They are confident of winning.

The Mailman Murdered and Robbed.

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M., Oct. 1.—The body of Amado Monteria, a mail carrier who has been missing since the 12th, was found with three deep gashes in his head. The mail pouches had been rifled.

THE ASSIZES AT WOODSTOCK.

Refusal of a Writ of Certiorari in a Liquor Case.

WOODSTOCK, Oct. 1.—At the assizes yesterday the charges of perjury against John Bell Jackson of Ingersoll, barrister, and Jas. Ryan, license inspector came on for trial. When the matter was before before the grand jury a few days ago a true bill was found in each case. The crown was represented by F. R. Ball, Q.C., while B. B. Osler, Q.C., and Wallace Nesbitt appeared for the persons charged. The case against Mr. Ryan was called first and Mr. Osler took the objection that as the original depositions and proceedings before the magistrate and the recognizance were not in court the cases should be dismissed. Mr. Ball said that the magistrate had informed him that he had in the ordinary way forwarded the papers to the crown office, but that he (Mr. Ball) had not received them, and as this was in December last he supposed that the papers were lost. He asked to be allowed to call the magistrate and the informant to prove that a recognizance had been entered into. To this counsel for the defendants strenuously objected, and after a good deal of argument on both sides, His Lordship finding that no copy of the proceedings were in existence, gave effect to the objection, dismissed the case and quashed the finding of the grand jury. The Jackson case being in the same position was also dismissed.

The perjury charged arose in the liquor case of Queen v. George Southwick. Southwick was fined for selling liquor in prohibited hours, and moved for a certiorari to bring up the conviction which was refused. One of the affidavits in support of the motion set out that Inspector Ryan had sat on the bench with the magistrate and had communicated with him during the trial. In answer to this Ryan and Jackson swore affidavits contradicting it, and saying that the inspector had sat during the trial at the counsel's table.

THE CHINESE QUESTION.

Will Celestial Actors Be Permitted to Enter Uncle Sam's Territory?

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—Inquiry was recently made of the Treasury Department whether the Chinese exclusion act prevents the bringing into this country of Chinese actors and artists. The applicant says that a syndicate of Chinese at Chicago propose to lease a tract of ground near one of the entrances to the World's Fair to erect a theatre building and galleries in which to give Chinese plays and to exhibit products of that country during the exposition. The project, he says, will necessitate bringing to this country about 200 Chinese persons, and he desires to know if this can be done.

Assistant Secretary Spaulding has replied to him that as the enterprise described appears to be purely a commercial transaction having no official connection with the Columbian Exposition, the law would exclude persons referred to unless they should present at the time of their landing certificates from the Chinese Government identifying them as persons entitled to enter the United States in accordance with the restriction laws.

MANITOBA SCHOOLS.

Archbishop Tache Sends a Memorial to the Government.

OTTAWA, Oct. 1.—The reports that Archbishop Tache "accepted the situation" in Manitoba prove to be incorrect. The supporters of the extinct separate schools in Manitoba have not given up the fight. The Dominion Government has received a petition from the archbishop, who is the representative in this matter of the Manitoba Catholics, praying for action by the Dominion to upset or offset the course of the Manitoba Government in stopping separation for separate schools.

Archbishop Tache's petition had not up to-day been discussed by the cabinet, and its text could not be got, but it is understood to recite the position of the minority in Manitoba, to repeat the petition of right which was moved for in the Provincial Legislature and to require the Dominion Government to carry out its promise of remedial legislation. It is supposed that an important meeting of the Cabinet, adjourned from to-day until to-morrow morning, has been called mainly to deal with this matter and with the vacant chief justiceship of the Supreme Court. It is expected that Justice Strong will be promoted and he be succeeded by Chief Justice MacDonald of Nova Scotia.

Fewer Failures in Canada.

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—Dun, Wimah & Co. have just issued the statistics of failures for the quarter ended Sept. 30. It is shewn that in the United States there were only 1934 failures for the quarter. The failures for the same period last year were 2754. Thus far in the present year for nine months the failures number 7487, as against 8828 failures for the same nine months of last year.

The failures in Canada for the quarter show a small decline in number.

Mysterious Shooting.

MT. HOLLY, N.J., Oct. 1.—While driving along the road last night in the vicinity of Mt. Holly with Samuel W. Shinn, son of Sheriff Shinn, Miss Emily Ellis, an attractive young woman of considerable social prominence in Mt. Holly, was struck in the thigh by a bullet fired by some person unknown, causing a dangerous wound. The assailant has not been arrested.

Infanticide at Newcastle.

NEWCASTLE, Ont., Oct. 1.—As Section Boss J. Witheridge was going with his men to work yesterday morning they found a male child, evidently recently born, wrapped in a newspaper lying on the gravel alongside of the track about two miles and a half west of Newcastle station. The child was dead when found. It is likely an inquest will be held.

Doctors Can't Get the Ossified Man.

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—The World's Lockport special says that the remains of J. K. Bass, the ossified man of the museum, were placed in a burglar-proof vault that his friends had built at Glenwood Cemetery. All requests of physicians to be allowed to make an autopsy of the body have been refused. The will of the ossified man disposes of $8000, mostly to nephews and nieces.

Lakefield.

(From Our Own Correspondent).

The village has been very quiet for the last week or two. It is hard to obtain items for correspondence.

It is understood that a branch of the Trader's Bank will shortly be opened in Lakefield as an office has been secured, and promises of support from our business men. Such an institution is much needed.

The fine weather has enticed quite a number up to their lake cottages the last week, and all are enjoying the fine bright days and cool evenings. The islands and lake never looked better, while the fishing and shooting are good. Some large 'lunge have been taken, and Wednesday Mr. Hall got 14 partridge on the lake shore; others get from 3 to 10 every day.

We regret to chronicle the death of Mrs. T. J. Greive, who has been suffering from that dread disease cancer for some time. All that medical skill could do was done, but to no avail, and she was released after months of suffering on Wednesday morning. The funeral took place on Thursday afternoon to Hillside cemetery.

On Wednesday morning an old man named Wm. Cousier, who resided alone about one mile east of Warsaw, was found dead in bed. He had not been seen since he quit work the previous Saturday. Word was sent to Coroner Bell, Lakefield, who, after communicating with Dr. Couch, Warsaw, decided there was no need for an inquest, as there was no doubt death was due to natural causes. The deceased was a widower and resided alone, working with the farmers in the neighborhood. He has a stepdaughter in Peterborough.

Our village constable has been making it hot for transient traders and peddlers of late, and Lakefield will be given the "go by" in future by that class of gentry. The last was an Italian grape peddler who got off by fast driving. Constable Doidge, however, got a summons and followed him to town, and he was to have appeared before Justice Hall yesterday but it is learned he has "skipped," leaving some of the town fruit dealers mourning his departure.

We Expend The Treasure Too Fast.

In these days of keen competition, hurry, worry and excitement, a vast amount of nervous force is expended. Indeed, this great nerve force is paid out much quicker than it comes in. The results that follow such an expenditure of nerve power, are nervous debility, sleeplessness, languor, dizziness, used up feeling and lack of vitality. The whole system becomes deranged and run down, and requires a powerful tonic and strengthener to renew every part.

The ordinary medicines of the day cannot renew the broken-down nerve system: a perfect nerve food and nerve tonic must be used. There is only one remedy of this kind; it is known as Paine's Celery Compound, and when properly and honestly used it never fails. It builds quickly in flesh, bone, tissue and muscle; it invigorates and tones up every nerve; it creates a perfect digestion and gives sound and refreshing sleep.

Reader, if you are not what you should be, we counsel you to give Paine's Celery Compound a trial; the cost is trifling, but the general results are always beyond the expectations of the most sanguine.

A Harvey Lithograph Quarry.

A Valuable Deposit on the Shores of Pigeon Lake.

On the southern shore of Pigeon Lake in the township of Harvey, on lot 14, in the 15th concession, there is a deposit of lithographic stone of very promising quality. The quarry is situated on a 14-acre plot owned by Mr. Harry Grundy, town. It is covered by a deposit of splendid limestone, suitable for building purposes of a superior character, the thickness of the strata admitting of large blocks being gotten out. At the depth of about 15 feet the deep stratum of lithographic stone occurs. Specimens of it have been taken out and forwarded to Messrs. Alexander & Cable, lithographers, Toronto, and a specimen of the lithographing done on the Harvey stone shows it to be well adapted for fine artistic work in this line. The stone was polished by Mr. Gibson, of Toronto, who agrees with Alexander & Cable in pronouncing it of a first class quality. Mr. David Boyle, in charge of the work of procuring specimens of Ontario minerals for the World's Fair, Chicago, is very anxious to procure samples of the Harvey lithograph stone to include in the other Ontario mineral exhibits, and Mr. Grundy will meet his wishes in this respect. He is also in negotiation with several persons with a view of quarrying the limestone that overlies the lithograph deposit. When the surface indications are so promising in quality the deeper deposits will be of most superior value, since it is the tendency of mineral deposits to increase, within reasonable limits, in quality from the surface downward. This mine promises to be a very valuable property.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is an honest medicine, honestly advertised for those diseases which it honestly and absolutely cures.

Enormous Demand.

It is Now the Favourite Food.

The demand up to the present time for that justly popular Lactated Food is enormous. Thousands of mothers in Canada have commenced its use this year for their babies, and have cast aside all other prepared foods.

This fact proves strongly that Lactated Food has given entire satisfaction. Mothers have written to the manufacturers kindly thanking them for having introduced such a boon for babies. Mothers declare that their weak and delicate little ones were made strong and healthy by the use of Lactated Food.

This King of Foods is lauded and praised in every part of our Dominion, and the time is not far distant when it will be the only prepared food that will be admitted into the home.

Where Abraham Was Born.

Not far from Aleppo is situated the little town of Orfah, the ancient Ur of the Chaldees, which is of great historical interest, having been the birthplace of Abraham, the patriarch. There are but few Jews in the place. The Arabs point out a small stone structure lying just outside of the town which they declare is the identical house where old Abraham first saw the light. On account of this fact the building is called Belt Eli Chalti (the house of the friend of God.)

As a general rule, it is best not to correct costiveness by the use of saline or drastic medicine. When a purgative is needed, the most prompt, effective, and beneficial is Ayer's Pills. Their tendency is to restore, and not weaken, the normal action of the bowels.

"Ah, child, thou art a sweet, frail daisy. Thou shalt receive the steady, gentle rain of love Father Ambrose told thee of. Nature supplies the even, steady dew and rain for its frailest and loveliest blossoms. But Zell, Zell, see yonder on the mountain top are vines and trees whose roots reach into the crevices in the rocks great distances. Those trees and vines are fixed, almost, as the rocks themselves. They need the downpouring rain and can stand against those tempestuous thunder blasts. But come, we dally while Ishmael waits his burial."

Without a word they gave to the waters the last of him who for a century had sinned cruelly to further the cause of science.

CHAPTER XI.

ELL and Shem, come down to our own little home to-night. I like the valley, it is peaceful and sheltered. One can rest down there."

"Oh, Terry! I am so glad you like down there. So do I. Up here the wind is always tearing, and Zanea is not here now. Come, Shem, do."

"I will draw the doors first. You go on, I will follow."

The grey dawn was pointing dainty fingers at the shadows when the three said good night.

It was after midday before they assembled again. Zell was quiet. Shem had bowed beneath his sorrow and had not thought to lift his head again. Terry may have felt the loss but he chose to bury his sorrow. He suffered in silence.

"Shem, what are we to do?"

"What do you mean?"

"We, or you and Zell, cannot live here alone. Now that she has met her kind she could never stand the old life. You will have to go out into the world for her sake."

"True, true. Zell and Shem are but children. How can we buffet in the world? Ishmael, thou did'st wrong, my master, yet thy punishment was great. Thou did'st not see the crowning of thy experiments and thou did'st not reveal to thy servant where the records were kept. All are lost. Thou wert too secretive. I have searched but find nothing. Ninety-nine years' work lies hidden in those caves, but where? 'Tis a just punishment."

"Do not talk so, Shem. Let him rest. You and Zell will find me a muffler to all buffets."

"Terry, am I to go with you out beyond where so many gather? Where more like you live? What will it be like?"

She had risen in her eagerness and stood before Terry. She clasped her little hands and looked into Terry's eyes as if trying to see the world there. Terry's heart beat now and he found it rather trying. He wondered if out where others like himself lived, others who were beautiful to look at, others who had soft words and winning ways, there were those whom Zell would find the world in. His face flushed and the dark eyes glowed, showing clearly his wish to do as Jack had thought he would do—pick Zell up and just appropriate her, but he did not. Shem stole sadly away to hide his grief, and Zell, disappointed at Terry's silence, pouted prettily, saying coyly:

"Why will you not answer, Terry?

"Zell, do you like me?"

"Like you? Oh, yes! almost as much as I do Shem."

"Were you forced to give up Shem or me, which would go?"

"Terry, why do you ask such queer things? You might as well ask me which I would give up, the sun or the moon. I love both; one is warmth, the other coolness. Shem is warm—you are cold. The sun lights and heats the day, but through all the space between evening and the morn, the moon shines steadily. If there was a night to my life, Terry, I would choose you. You are so still and calm. Terry——."

"Yes, Zell.

"Is there a night to our lives?"

"Little one, there comes a time of darkness to all our lives; shadows gather thick and fast; sorrows and troubles come and all seems gloom. Zell, will you choose me?"

"Yes, Terry."

Educational Work.

The work of educating the public to a thorough knowledge of the virtues of Burdock Blood Bitters as a cure for all diseases of the stomach, liver, bowels and blood has been completely successful. The remedy is now known and used in thousands of homes where it always gives great satisfaction. dw

A Pleasant Herb Drink.

The best cure we know of for constipation and headache is the pleasant herb drink called Lane's Family Medicine. It is said to be Oregon grape root, combined with simple herbs, and is made for use by pouring boiling water onto the dried roots and herbs. It is remarkably efficacious in all blood disorders, and is now the sovereign remedy for ladies in clearing up the complexion. Druggists sell the packages at 50c and $1 dw

As a healing, soothing application for cuts wounds, bruises and sores, there is nothing better than Victoria Carbolic Salve. dw

There are more cases of sickness and death from diseased kidneys than from all other diseases combined. It is your own fault if you allow your kidneys to remain in an unhealthy condition when the cure is at hand. Dodd's Kidney Pills are guaranteed to cure the worst cases. It costs but little to give them a trial. They are for sale by all druggists and dealers or by mail on receipt of 50 cents or 6 boxes for $2 50.

To be free from sick headache, biliousness, constipation, etc., use Carter's Little Liver Pills. Strictly vegetable. They gently stimulate the liver and free the stomach from bile.

Regulate the liver and bowels by the judicious use of National Pills, they are purely vegetable.

Wishes to speak through the Register of the beneficial results he has received from a regular use of Ayer's Pills. He says: "I was feeling sick and tired and my stomach seemed all out of order. I tried a number of remedies, but none seemed to give me relief until I was induced to try the old reliable Ayer's Pills. I have taken only one box, but I feel like a new man. I think they are the most pleasant and easy to take of anything I ever used, being so finely sugar-coated that even a child will take them. I urge upon all who are

"Between the ages of five and fifteen, I was troubled with a kind of salt-rheum, or eruption, chiefly confined to the legs, and especially to the bend of the knee above the calf. Here, running sores formed which would scab over, but would break immediately on moving the leg. My mother tried everything she could think of, but all was without avail. Although a child, I read in the papers about the beneficial effects of Ayer's Pills, and persuaded my mother to let me try them. With no great faith in the result, she procured and I began to use them, and soon noticed an improvement. Encouraged by this, I kept on till I took two boxes, when the sores disappeared and have never troubled me since."—H. Chipman, Real Estate Agent, Roanoke, Va.

"I suffered for years from stomach and kidney troubles, causing very severe pains in various parts of the body. None of the remedies I tried afforded me any relief until I began taking Ayer's Pills, and was cured."—Wm. Goddard, Notary Public, Five Lakes, Mich.

He brings us to the period of Handel in a most delightful way, and his entertainment may well be called a dream of the past." At this concert Marie Hollinshead, Montreal's leading soprano, will contribute solos and sing in duet with Mr. T. Dunn, which will in itself be a treat. Further particulars hereafter.

District No. 34 I.O.O.F. Meeting.

Peterborough District No. 34, I.O.O.F., met in Otonabee lodge rooms last night with a large attendance. Bro. John Nugent, D.D.G.M., presided. After the transaction of some business in the interest of the Order in this district, the following officers were elected:—Bro. R. J. Stewart, of Norwood, received his commission as District Deputy Grand Master, succeeding D.D.G.M. Nugent, and took the chair. Bro. G. J. Early was re-elected secretary-treasurer; Bro. Thos. Workman was elected warden; Bro. Hill, marshal, and Bro. W. F. Green, guardian. Bros. S. Clegg, A. McFarlane and G. J. Early were reappointed finance committee.

Committee Meetings.

The council met last night in committee of the whole to prepare for Monday's regular meeting. The Finance Committee met and passed a number of accounts. Representatives from the central fair were present and the expenses between the Agricultural Society and the town in connection with the entertaining the Lieut.-Governor were satisfactorily settled. The Committee on Appointments decided to recommend to the council that the increases in salaries asked by Chief of Police Reed and Constable McGinty and Stewart be granted. The License Committee and the Health Committee also met but transacted no business of importance. The Street and Bridge Committee decided to recommend that certain crossings be placed down in different parts of the town at the request of several ratepayers. The Edison committee also met. Mr. Allan Macdougall, C.E., Toronto, was present and consulted with committee in connection with the drain. The tenders were opened and it was decided to recommend to the council that the work of constructing the Edison drain down rink street to Point St. Charles be awarded to a Toronto firm who tendered for the work nearly $400 cheaper than any of the other six contractors who put in tenders for the job.

Lewis Morrison—"Mephisto."

The popular American actor, Mr. Lewis Morrison, will be seen in his elaborate scenic and dramatic production of "Faust," at opera house, Oct. 1. Mr. Morrison as Mephisto, stands without a rival on the American stage. The version of Goethe's "Faust" in which Mr. Morrison will appear is an effective play. The language is generally spiritual and the piece ranks favorably with the creditable attempts that have been made to give Goethe's poem an English stage setting. Marguerite is shown here freed from the refinement and sentimentality with which she is usually and inconsistently endowed in the versions familiar to our stage, and in both instances it is an improvement. Mr. Morrison enacts the Prince of Darkness with fine power and intelligence, and with the keen appreciation of the humorous aspects of the character. His elocution throughout, especially in the long soliloquies, is of a high order of merit, and his enunciation is of the clearest and most scholarly. The effort may be praised cordially for its strong artistic qualities and for its broad and picturesque effectiveness. The piece will be placed upon the stage in a very effective manner. The costumes are appropriate, and the groupings, for which an ample share of auxiliaries will be provided, are arranged with much skill and judgment. The scenery, all of which is carried by the company, is said to be very fine, especially in the "Brocken," with its rain of fire and its weird and grim effects. There is some excellent music, in which large demands are made upon Gounod's "Faust."

Yesterday's Baseball Match.

A baseball match was played yesterday afternoon between a team selected from the town with one or two Peterborough players and the Vatican Park Nine. Dan McCabe pitched and struck the Vaticans out by the wholesale. Tighe was the only other Peterborough player. The remainder of the team were composed of all outsiders. At the close of the seventh innings the score stood Peterborough (if it can be so called) 17, Vaticans 13. The Vaticans allege their opponents were to play nine innings but when they refused to do so the umpire, J. Thompson, declared the game in their favour by a score of 9 to 0. Following are the names of the players in each team and their scores. Cassidy, left fielder for the Vaticans, made a two base hit in the sixth innings and during the game a neat double play was made by their shortstop to Mahoney to King.

Simply Awful

Worst Case of Scrofula the Doctors Ever Saw

Completely Cured by HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA.

"When I was 4 or 5 years old I had a scrofulous sore on the middle finger of my left hand, which got so bad that the doctors cut the finger off, and later took off more than half my hand. Then the sore broke out on my arm, came out on my neck and face on both sides, nearly destroying the sight of one eye, also on my right arm. Doctors said it was the

they ever saw. It was simply awful! Five years ago I began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. Gradually I found that the sores were beginning to heal. I kept on till I had taken ten bottles, ten dollars! Just think of what a return I got for that investment! A thousand per cent? Yes, many thousand. For the past 4 years I have had no sores. I

Work all the Time.

Before. I could do no work. I know not what to say strong enough to express gratitude to Hood's Sarsaparilla for my great cure." GEORGE W. TURNER, Farmer, Galway, Saratoga county, N. Y.

A KNOTTY QUESTION

Which can only be Solved after Mature Deliberation.

Every father and mother, before buying Boots and Shoes for their children, should hold a consultation together and try and arrive at an answer to the following five questions:

1. What kind of boot do we want?
2. Are any to be got that will wear well?
3. Who keeps this kind?
4. Are these people reliable?
5. Can they afford to sell good boots cheap

Having carefully analyzed these questions to their satisfaction, why not decide to buy

A Midnight Blaze.

The Storehouse Belonging to Mr. James Stevenson and Occupied by Mr. A. B. Appleby Considerably Damaged by Flames Last Night—The Firemen Make a Quick run and do Good Work.

An alarm of fire was sounded shortly before one o'clock this morning to which the brigade responded in a quick manner. The blaze was in the large two story and a half frame storehouse occupied by Mr. A. B Appleby, as a dealer in wools, skins, salt, etc., and owned by Mr. Jas. Stevenson, M P. The fire is supposed to have originated in the north west corner of the building in an open lean-to which abuts the structure on the east side. The flames quickly shot up the side of the great premises, so inflammable and dry was the material, that the storehouse was one mass of roaring flames when the firemen arrived on the scene. To save the building seemed like an improbable task but the firefighters bravely went to work and soon had four streams playing upon the fiery element, one stream from Aylmer street hydrant, two from the Simcoe street, and another from Bethune street. The fire which burning on the inside and under the roof considerably was difficult to get at, and it was some time before the last vestige of flame was extinguished although the firemen had the building under control and saved from destruction in no time. It was nearly three o'clock when the firemen returned to the station. Mr. A. B Appleby who has carried on extensive business in hides, tallow, salt and plaster on the premises for the last four years is not a heavy loser. In the building at the time was a stock valued at $1800 but owing to the speedy action of the firemen this was saved and Mr. Appleby's loss is not more than $200. He is insured in the Imperial, W. H Hill, agent for $1500. A carload for shipment was sidetracked near the store house. A passing engine attached to a freight train standing on the track at the time of the fire was uncoupled and connected with the carload of hides which was drawn off a safe distance. The cellar of the storehouse was well stocked with hides of sheep skins and calf skins but these were not injured. The damage to the building, which is not destroyed, except the roof, but badly charred on the sides and in some places in the interior, is about $500. Mr Stevenson has it insured in the Phoenix, of Hartford, Cox & Davis agents, for $1250. How the fire started is a mystery, but judging from the very convenient place in which the fire was first noticed, it is doubtless the work of some incendiary. Mr. John McDonald left the place at six o'clock last night, and all was well then. There has been no fire in or around the building for months. Mr. Appleby went into the office last night about 9.35 o'clock to get some papers but did not strike a light of any kind. Everything was all right at that hour. A large store house to the rear belonging to Mr. Adam Hall, and in which is stored stoves, etc., was slightly scorched, but very little damage was done.

THE SOLSVILLE MIRACLE.

Another Great Triumph For a Canadian Remedy.

An Account of the Sufferings and Restoration of Philander Hyde—Helpless, Bed-Ridden and Long for Death—His Recovery From This Pitiable Condition—A Remarkable Narrative.

From the Syracuse Standard.

During the past few months there have appeared in the columns of the Standard the particulars of a number of cures so remarkable as to justify the term miraculous. These cases were investigated and vouched for by the Albany Journal, the Detroit News, Albany Express and other papers whose reputation is a guarantee that the facts were as just stated. That the term miraculous was justified will be admitted when it is remembered that in each of these cases referred to the sufferer had been pronounced incurable by leading physicians, and at least one of the cases was treated by men whose reputation has placed them among the leaders of the world's medical scientists, but without avail, and the patient was sent to his home with the verdict that there was no hope for him, and that only death could intervene to relieve his sufferings. When some months later the restoration to health and strength of the former sufferer was announced, it is little wonder that the case created a profound sensation throughout the country, nearly the following letter, which indicated an equally remarkable cure, came under the notice of The Standard.

SOLSVILLE, N. Y., June 25, 1892.

* * * Five weeks ago father, (Philander Hyde) was very low and not expected to live but a short time. He was in such agony that we had to give him morphine to relieve the terrible pain from which he was suffering. The doctors had given him up. They said there was no help for him, and my dear father hoped for death as being the only certain relief from his sufferings. One day he saw in the Albany Journal an account of how a man by the name of Quaak, living in Galway, Saratoga county, and who was afflicted like father with locomotor ataxia, had been very greatly benefited and hoped for permanent cure from the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. On learning that the pills could be had of the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont., and Schenectady, and that they were not expensive, my husband sent $2.50 for six boxes of them. And what a blessing they have been! Father has taken but four boxes of the Pink Pills. He is no longer confined to his bed, but is able to get up without assistance and with the aid only of a cane to walk about the house and all around out of doors. He has a good hearty appetite, his food agrees with him, the pain in the back from which he suffered so long and so terribly has left him. He has no more sinking ebbs and he appears and says he feels a little a new man. The doctors had pronounced his disease to be creeping paralysis and said he could not be cured. How glad we are that we heard about these wonderful Pink Pills, and how thankful we are for what they have done for father. Indeed, they have done wonders, yes, even a miracle for him.

Respectfully yours,
MRS. WILLIAM JOHNSON.

The above letter indicated a cure so remarkable as to be worthy of the fullest investigation, and the Standard determined to place the facts, if correctly stated, before the public for the benefit of other sufferers, or if unfounded, to let the public know it. With this end in view a reporter was sent to Solsville with instructions to give the facts of the case as he found them. With these instructions he went to Solsville and on Tuesday, August 2, 1892, called upon Philander Hyde and learned from him and from his relatives and neighbours and friends the whole story of his sickness and his terrible suffering, of his having been given up by the doctors, and of his cure and rapid convalescence by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People.

It may be of interest to the reader to know that Solsville is a post office village in Madison country, N. Y., about 30 miles from Utica, on the line of the New York, Ontario and Western Railroad. It is the station at which to get off to go to Madison Lake, the charming and attractive objective point of a great many picnic and excursion parties. On reaching Solsville the reporter enquired of the station agent, who is also agent there of the National Express Company, if he knew a man by the name of Philander Hyde, and where he lived, and also if he knew a man by the name of Wm. Johnson. "Yes," said he, "I am William Johnson, and Philander Hyde, who is my wife's father, lives with me in that white house over there on the side hill; that's him sitting on the piazza."

When told that your reporter's errand was to interview Mr. Hyde, and to learn about his sickness and alleged cure, Mr. Johnson said: "That's all right; you go right over to the house and see Mr. Hyde and my wife. I will come over pretty soon, and we will be only too happy to tell you all about it."

"Will you walk in," said Mrs. Johnson. "Those children (who are playing about the place) are my twins, and this is my father, Philander Hyde."

Mr. Hyde walked into the sitting room and taking a seat said he would willingly tell the story of his sickness and cure, and had no objection to it being published, as it might be the means of helping others whose sufferings were similar to what his had been.

His story was as follows:

"My name is Philander Hyde. I am nearly 70 years old—will be 70 in September. I was born in Brookfield, Madison county, where all my life was spent until recently, when, becoming helpless, my son-in-law was kind enough to take me into his home, and from him and my daughter I have had the kindest care. My life occupation has been that of a farmer. I was always prosperous and well and strong and rugged until two years ago last winter, when I had the grip. When the grip left me I had a sensation of numbness in my legs, which gradually grew to be stiff at the joints and very painful. I felt the stiffness in my feet first, and the pain and stiffness extended to my knees and to my hip joints, and to the bowels and stomach and prevented digestion. To move the bowels I was compelled to take great quantities of castor oil.

"While I was in this condition, cold feelings would begin in my feet and streak up my legs to my back and would follow the whole length of my backbone. These spells, which occurred daily, would last from two to four hours, and were excruciatingly painful. I could not sleep, I had no appetite, I became helpless, and life was such a burden that I prayed for death. Why, my dear sir, the pain I suffered was more to be dreaded than a thousand deaths.

"Whilst in this condition I was treated by Dr. Green, of Peolville, and Dr. Nicholson, of Solsville, and Dr. Weed, of Utica. They did me no good. I soon became perfectly helpless and lost all power of motion even in my bed."

"On the 24 th of February last," said Mrs. Johnson, "we had him brought to our home. He had to be carried all the way in a bed. He was so helpless and such a sufferer the doctors gave him up. They said he had locomotor ataxia and that he could not be cured. They stopped giving him medicine and said they could only relieve the pain, and for the purpose he took a pint of whiskey a day for three months and morphine in great quantities.

"It was while father was in this dreadful condition that we saw in the Albany Journal the story of the miraculous cure of a Mr. Quant in Galway, Saratoga county, by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. We had a much faith, but we felt that it was our duty to try them, and so we sent to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company and got six boxes of the pills. We read the directions carefully, and resolved to comply with them as fully as possible. We stopped giving him morphine or any other medicine, cut off all stimulants and gave him the Pink Pills and treatment according to directions in which each box is wrapped. The effect was wonderful and almost immediate. In ten days after father began taking the pills he could get out of bed and walked without assistance, and has continued to improve until now he walks about the house and the streets by the aid of a cane only.

"Yes," said Mr. Hyde, "and the pain has gone out of my back and the numbness out of my legs. I have no more chills, my digestion is good, and I have an excellent appetite," and then after a pause, "But, ah me, I am an old man, I have seen my best days and can not hope to recover my old vigor as a younger man might, but I am so thankful to have the use of my limbs and to be relived of those dreadful pains."

Mr. Hyde has continued to take the Pills regularly since he began their use, and was on his tenth box at the time he told his story.

Besides Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, other people in Solsville confirm the accounts of the sickness of Mr. Hyde and of his most remarkable recovery, and a number of others, for various ailments, from using the Pink Pills. The mother of Abel Carse is using them for rheumatism with satisfactory results, and Mrs. Lippitt, wife of ex-senator Lippitt, is using the Pills with much benefit for nervous debility.

A further investigation revealed the fact that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is not a patent medicine in the sense in which it is understood, but a scientific preparation successfully used in general practice for many years before being offered to the public generally. They contain in a condensed form all the elements necessary to give new life and richness to the blood and restore shattered nerves. They are an unfailing specific for such diseases as locomotor, ataxia, partial paralysis, St. Vitus' Dance, sciatica, neuralgia, rheumatism, nervous headache, the after effects of la grippe, palpitation of the heart, pale and sallow complexions, and the tired feeling resulting from nervous prostration; all diseases depending upon vitiated humors in the blood, such as scrofula, chronic erysipelas, etc., etc. They are also a specific for troubles peculiar to females, such as suppression, irregularities, and all forms of weakness. They build up the blood and restore the glow of health to pale and sallow cheeks. In case of men they effect a radical cure in all cases arising from mental worry, overwork or excesses of whatever nature.

These Pills are manufacturing by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont., and Schenectady, N.Y., and are sold only in boxes bearing the firm's trade mark and wrapper, at 50c a box, or six boxes for $2 50. Bear in mind that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are never sold in bulk, or by the dozen or hundred, and any dealer who offers substitutes in this form is trying to defraud you and should be avoided. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills may be had of all druggists or direct by mail from Dr. Williams' Medicine Company from either address. The price at which these pills are sold make a course of treatment comparatively inexpensive as compared with other remedies or medical treatment.

Advertising a patent medicine in the peculiar way in which the proprietor of Kemp's Balsam for Coughs and Colds does, it is indeed wonderful. He authorizes all druggists to give those who call for it, a sample bottle free, that they may try it before purchasing. The large bottles are 50c and a dollar. We certainly would advise a trial. It may save you from consumption. dw

"German Syrup"

J. C. Davis, Rector of St. James' Episcopal Church, Eufaula, Ala.: "My son has been badly afflicted with a fearful and threatening cough for several months, and after trying several prescriptions from physicians which failed to relieve him, he has been perfectly restored by the use of two bottles of Boschee's German Syrup. I can recommend it without hesitation." Chronic severe, deep-seated coughs like this are as severe tests as a remedy can be subjected to. It is for these long-standing cases that Boschee's German Syrup is made a specialty. Many others afflicted as this lad was, will do well to make a note of this.

An Episcopal Rector.

J. F. Arnold, Montevideo, Minn., writes: I always use German Syrup for a Cold on the Lungs. I have never found an equal to it—far less a superior.

Trouble at Spurgeon's Tabernacle.

LONDON, Sept. 30.—Thomas Spurgeon presided at the immense meeting in the Tabernacle Sunday evening. After the services numerous signatures were attached to a requisition for a special church meeting to consider the information at hand concerning the filling of the vacant pulpit. Bad feeling was apparent throughout the singing. Several unseemly disputes took place at the requisition tables, and in the vestibule some 30 members quarreled bitterly as to the respective merits of Thomas Spurgeon and the Rev. Dr. Pierson. "We need not go to America to find a man who can tell us how to worship God," shouted one man, as Thomas Spurgeon walked out. "There is the man whom our old pastor wished to succeed him."

AN ENGLISH ELECTION.

Electioneering Tactics That Did Not Get Hodge's Vote.

Polling day. An enthusiastic partizan in a carriage meets an unmistakable Hodge, and pulls up promptly:

"Good day, my man."

"Good day to your honor."

"Nasty wet afternoon, isn't it?"

"Nice rain, sir; nice rain."

"Are you going to the poll?"

"Gwine to look round by'm bye."

"Conservative? or are you Liberal?"

"Oh, any of 'em! I don't care who 'tis."

"What! Don't you prefer one party to the other?"

"Oh, ay—it's as we finds 'em. We takes them as they takes us."

"Quite so. Then you'll vote for the poor man's friend——"

"Sure enough."

"The candidate who intends to give you a cottage, an allotment and an old age pension, and to save you from the workhouse."

"That's it—that's it!"

"Then come with me and vote for Sir George."

"Oh! he's a clever 'un—he's a stinger."

"What do you mean?"

"Why, sir, I hear Sir George speechifying over on the Green Tuesday. There were only one chap as opposed him, and him asked what Sir George ever done for the agricultural laborer, and Sir George he ups that quick and calls him a two-headed sheep, he did. That settled him. Lor', 'ow we did laugh. Oh, he's a clever 'un, Sir George!"

"Ha! ha! you're right. Well, jump in here, and I'll take you to the poll."

"You havn't a bit o' baccy about ye?"

"No; but—some other time, perhaps—ahem!——"

"Or a copper to give a poor old man?"

"Certainly not. We don't allow bribery nowadays. Jump in, I say, and I'll drive you down. By the by, what is your name?"

"Hodge—Will'm Hodge."

"Where do you live?"

"I live hereabout all my life."

"Well, then, come along."

"What for?"

"What for, man! Why, to vote for Sir George."

"Hoo, hoo, hoo! Me vote for Sir George!"

"Yes of course. What are you laughing at?"

"He, he, he!"

"Confound it' man! don't stand giggling there. Come along to the poll."

"Me come along to the poll! He, he, he! Lor' blesh ye, sir—I ain't got a vote."

"Not got a vote!

INTENSE SUFFERING!

Mr. William Buchanan, 24 years engineer in the Cunard Steamship Company's service, 8 St. John's Road, Kirkdale, Liverpool, Eng., writes: "I suffered two years of agony from an affection in the head which six physicians pronounced incurable.

They were divided in opinion as to whether it was acute neuralgia of the head or rheumatic affection of the brain, but all agreed that I could never recover. In my paroxysms of pain it needed two and sometimes three men to hold me down in bed. When at death's door, was applied to my head. It acted like magic. It saved my life. I am well and hearty, and have had no return of the trouble."

THE M'CARTHYITES MAKE ANOTHER APPEAL.

It is Addressed to Irishmen in America and Australia, and Sets Forth the Pressing Need of Home Rulers for Financial Support, Impressing the Fact That Success is at Hand.

DUBLIN, Sept. 30.—A meeting of the National Federation was held yesterday, at which Justin McCarthy, leader of the anti-Parnellite section of the Irish parliamentary party, presided. The federation approved the issue of a manifesto addressed to Irishmen in America and Australia. This manifesto says:

"We address you on the national cause at an auspicious time and from an auspicious position. Our demand for justice has been advanced by the power of the people to another stage that is decisive and all but final."

Continuing, the manifesto says: "The prospect now before us is full of cheer, and should inspire renewed and redoubled effort, for it shows the sure way to victory as the result of the general election, at which the supreme question was Home Rule. The electors of Great Britain and Ireland, after six years' experience with a Government hostile to Home Rule and devoted to coercion, have established an administration founded on the principle that satisfaction must be given to the just demands of Ireland without loss of time."

After denouncing the tyrannical action of the Conservative Government, the manifesto proceeds to comment upon the parliamentary prospects of Home Rule. The leaders of the Government, it says, are pledged to promote and to use all their strength to pass a bill satisfactory to the Irish members of the House of Commons and to the Irish people.

It adds: "We are convinced of the sincerity of the Liberal leaders, not only because of the course pursued by the Liberals since Mr. Gladstone adopted Home Rule, but also because their interests demand such a permanent settlement as Ireland can cordially accept. We do not forget the declarations of Mr. Balfour that no matter what the bill may be the House of Lords will reject it. We also bear in mind Mr. Gladstone's warning that if the House of Lords rejected a measure deliberately adopted by the country they would do so at the peril of their chamber. Far from hearing with disquiet of what the House of Lords will do, we feel perfect confidence that the Irish cause will win the day. Success is near. In the meantime we need the help of the people to maintain the movement with vigor. The strain is increasing and will increase as the final stage of the struggle approaches. We need help urgently to save the evicted tenants until the Paris fund is available or the Government Commission leads to parliamentary intervention.

"When the elections occurred the needs of the evicted tenants had so exhausted our resources that the conflict with our opponents would have proved fatally unequal but for the help of Irishmen in America and Australia. The course of events justifies the confident expectation that when Ireland next addresses her sons beyond the ocean the voice of her parliament will be heard celebrating her victory."

A Tank Steamer on Fire.

LIVERPOOL, Sept. 30.—The British steamer Highland Chief, at this port from Buenos Ayres, reports that on Sept. 28, in latitude 51 north, long. 7 west, she met the British tank steamer Bayonne, which was then on fire. A party of the latter's crew had already taken to the boats. The British steamer Nicaraguan was near at hand. But at the request of the Bayonne the Highland Chief waited till the fire was quenched. While she was standing by a boat was swamped and five persons were drowned. The Bayonne sailed from Philadelphia Sept. 15 for Avonmouth.

THE COLONIAL CONFERENCE.

The Delegates Introduced by Sir Charles Tupper.

LONDON, Oct. 1.— Sir Charles Tupper, the High Commissioner in London for Canada, in introducing the colonial representatives to Lord Ripon, the Secretary of State for the Colonies, yesterday, referred to the fact that Lord Ripon once negotiated a commercial treaty between Canada and the United States, which Sir Charles declared had been of the greatest benefit to Canadians.

Lord Ripon replied that he took the greatest interest in the self-governing colonies of Great Britian, which colonies, he added, had passed laws the practical results of which might be studied with advantage by British statesmen.

ANOTHER ENGLISH TRAGEDY.

A Man Confesses That He Stabbed His Wife to Death.

LONDON, Oct. 1.— The inhabitants of the Isle of Man are in a state of great excitement over the first murder committed there in seven years. The victim was Mrs. Edith Ann Cooper. She and her husband, George B. Cooper, arrived in Douglas in August and took rooms at the Regent Hotel, where she was found one night brutally murdered. Cooper was arrested. The trial has been going on for several days, To-day the prisoner broke down and confessed that he had quarreled with his wife and that in the heat of passion he had stabbed her with a penknife. Ten years ago Cooper was charged with shooting his first wife. The charge arose out of an intrigue in which Cooper had been engaged with another woman. He was acquitted of this crime. He claims the last wife was drunk when he slew her, but his statement is refuted by several witnesses.

IS HE THE "RIPPER."

The Police of Vienna Think They Have Struck a Clue.

VIENNA, Oct. 1.— The police of Pesth, Hungary, believe that the alleged lunatic, Szeemerdy, who committed suicide in Pressburg after being arrested for a number of atrocious murders, was the wretch known as Jack the Ripper in London. They say that they have evidence that he was in London at the time that each and every murder attributed to Jack the Ripper was committed. The lunatic at Pressburg, however, does not appear to have chosen fallen women for his victims, and he robbed people as well as murdered them.

Cotton Spinners Threaten to Strike.

LONDON, Oct. 1.—Seventy-seven per cent. of the master cotton spinners of England decided to enforce a reduction of five per cent. in the wages of their employes. The men stubbornly refuse to accept the proposed reduction and intend to strike. It is generally admitted in Manchester that the stoppage of work will not be a bad thing for the trade, as it will enable the spinners to reduce their present stocks.

The decision to reduce wages affects 17,000,000 spindles using American cotton.

Another Gladstonian Victory.

LONDON, Oct. 1.—In the Parliamentary election for South Bedfordshire yesterday, Samuel H. Whitbread, Gladstonian, was elected, defeating Col. Oliver T. Duke, Liberal-Unionist. The Liberal-Unionists succeeded in reducing the former Gladstonian majority by 587 votes.

Disestablishment.

LONDON, Oct. 1.—Welsh newspapers declare that Gladstone has invited an eminent Welsh ecclesiastic to draft a bill disestablishing the Church in Wales.

A Great Cyclone in Japan.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 1.—The steamship Peru arrived last evening and brings Japanese news to Sept. 16. By the great cyclone at Okinawa 400 persons were crushed to death and 23 houses were completely overthrown and 1500 partially. The crops were greatly injured and the above figures do not include the devastation wrought in the smaller islands. At Homamatsu the court, school, 62 dwellings and brick railway station were blown down and 10 persons killed and many wounded.

A Whole Family Wiped Out.

RACINE, Wis., Oct. 1.— Diphtheria during the past two weeks has carried off many children and caused the closing of several public schools. Two weeks ago the family of Peter Heldt consisted of father, mother and six children. The oldest daughter contracted the disease at a funeral. She died on Sept. 19. The remaining children, one by one, came down with the disease and another died on the 23rd and still another on the 27th. This morning the remaining three children lay stretched out in the house awaiting burial, having died last night. The mother is almost crazy with grief.

A Disappearance Explained.

DENVER, Oct. 1.—The badly decomposed body of O. J. Prescott, a prominent Democratic politician and contractor, was found in his room in the Revere House yesterday. Mr. Prescott had been missed by his friends for several days, and it was thought he was out of the city on business, but it is now evident he has been a corpse in his room for over a week.

The President Will Be There.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.— There is no truth in the report that the President has decided not to participate in the dedication of the Columbian Exposition Buildings at Chicago on the 21st prox.

"The President recognizes it as a public duty to be in Chicago on that occasion," said Private Secretary Halford to-day, "and he will go if he possibly can."

'Twas a High Blaze.

DENVER, Oct. 1.—The famous Signal Station Bridge at the summit of Pike's Peak burned last night while the building was being used by the weather bureau. It was the highest point of observation in the United States. This year it was utilized as a cafe for passengers.

Burned Out.

CARLSRUHE, Ont., Oct. 1.—The extensive brick and tile works near Carlsruhe, owned by John Riels, were destroyed by fire last evening. Loss considerable. Cause of fire unknown.

Collision on the Boston and Maine Road.

ROCHESTER, N.H., Oct. 1.—Two Boston and Maine freight trains collided near here yesterday. Both engines and a number of cars were badly wrecked. Engineer Rhines was terribly bruised and scalded, and his fireman, Wallace Hunt, internally injured. Thomas W. Gordon of Lynn, Mass., who had charge of a car of horses, received severe injuries.

She Went Too Fast in the Fog.

BOSTON, Oct. 1.—The steamer Providence of the Fall River line has been libeled for $50,000 in behalf of Benjamin A. Vanbrunt and others, owners of the schooner Benjamin A. Vanbrunt, which was sunk by the steamer Sept. 7. The libellant alleges that the steamer was moving at a high rate of speed in a fog when she struck the schooner.

Mr. Gladstone Goes to Hawarden.

LONDON, Oct. 1.— Another Cabinet was held yesterday. Upon the conclusion of the Ministers' deliberations Mr. Gladstone started for Hawarden, where he will remain until the end of October.

BABY FOUR WEEKS OLD

Distressing Skin Disease from Birth. Cured in 5 Weeks. Made Healthy and Beautiful by Cuticura Remedies.

My baby boy had been suffering from birth with some sort of an eruption. The doctors called it eczema. His little neck was one raw and exposed mass of red, inflamed flesh. His arms and across and under his thighs, wherever the fat flesh made a fold, were just the same. For four weeks after his birth he suffered with this eruption, and until I got CUTICURA REMEDIES, there was little sleep for any one. In five weeks he was completely cured. He was nine weeks old February 1st, and you ought to see his skin now, smooth, even, and a beautiful pink and white color. He is as healthy as he can be. The CUTICURA RESOLVENT has given him ease, vigor and strength. I enclose his portrait. Thanks to the famous CUTICURA REMEDIES. They cannot be spoken of too highly, they have done all that has been claimed for them.
WM. A. GARDNER, 184 E. 123d St., New York.

From the age of two months my baby suffered with the eczema on her face and body. Doctored without avail. Used CUTICURA REMEDIES. Found them in every respect satisfactory. The child has now a beautiful skin and is cured. We cheerfully recommend the same to all mothers.

CRONIN'S MURDER AGAIN.

THE CHICAGO POLICE ON THE TRACK OF ONE GEOGHEGAN.

It is Said That He is the Man who Murdered the Doctor, and That He Was Employed by an Influential Combination to Do It—He is Now Serving a Term in Prison in the West.

CHICAGO, Oct. 3.—The Times Saturday says: Application will be made to Governor Fifer within the next ten days for a requisition for Tom Geoghegan, now nearing the close of a term of two years in the State prison at Salem, Oregon. In the requisition Geoghegan will be charged with a minor crime, but the real object of bringing him back to Chicago is to establish his identity as the man who butchered Dr. Cronin.

Geoghegan is well-known to the Chicago police. He lived many years in this city and made a record as a dangerous and desperate criminal. He was an associate of "Major" Sampson, who testified at the Cronin trial that he was approached by certain parties with the proposition that he murder Dr. Cronin for a consideration. Sampson weakened and told his story to the police.

It is now claimed that the same parties made the same proposition to Geoghegan, who gladly accepted their offer and murdered Dr. Cronin in the Carlson cottage. The name of Geoghegan was whispered about at the time in connection with the murder, as he was known among a certain element as a man who would not hesitate to commit murder for money when he was guaranteed protection by such an influential combination as that which engineered the removal of Dr. Cronin. It is known that he was accused of the crime at the time by one of his associates, and that he shortly left the city, going west, where he committed numerous burglaries and highway robberies, for one of which he is now doing time.

HIS SKULL WAS CRUSHED.

Enquiry Into the Electrical Car Accident of Saturday.

TORONTO, Oct. 3.—"The death of deceased was caused by a fracture of the skull; the skull was so thin that light would pass through," testified Dr. A. J. Johnson at the inquest held Saturday evening by Coroner Aikins at St. Michael's Hospital on the body of Ralph M. Blackley. Blackley was killed by a street car in Church-street Saturday morning at 9.10. He boarded trailer 307, which was drawn by trolley 184, at Gerrard-street. He wished to have a smoke, and as the back seat was full, he stood on the step above the devil's strip, though the conductor warned him of his danger. At Gould-street the trolley was going at full speed, as it was behind time. Here a north-bound trolley, driven by William Brodrick, met the car on which Blackley was riding. Brodrick saw him on the step and shouted for him to get inside. He got back far enough, as he thought, and looked at the oncoming car. The corner of the car struck Blackley on the right temple with such force that the poor fellow was "sent flying through the air," as Mr. Robert Simpson described it. He landed on the pavement on the devil's strip, and when picked up had a terrible gash on the left temple, as though his head had been caught between the two cars. He was taken to St. Michael's Hospital, where he died.

Blackley was a law student with the firm of Ritchie, Leeming & Ludwig. He had previously studied for two years and a half with Walker, Scott & Lees of Hamilton. The particulars of the accident were published in The Sunday World.

William Scardon was foreman of the jury, Wallace Nesbitt was counsel for the friends of the deceased, and William Laidlaw, Q.C., for the company. David Blackley, the father of the deceased, an accountant, residing at 146 Emerald-street, Hamilton, was also present.

After the evidence of Messrs. William Laidlaw and Robert Simpson, who were passengers on the car, and of William Brodrick, James Ferguson, Samuel Irwin, George Taylor and William Jackson, all employes of the company, the jury at 11.40 returned this verdict:

We find that the deceased came to his death while riding in an open trailer by being struck by a trolley car going in the opposite direction. We find that he contributed to his death, that the conductors and motor men on the colliding cars are not to blame. We find that the Toronto Railway Company have not taken proper precaution to guard their open trailers. We find that there should be some kind of a guard at the inside of the open trailer; that the steps of the trailer should be on hinges so that they could be raised when on the inside; that the conductors should be able to signal the motorman to reverse.

HE WITHSTOOD 500 VOLTS.

Remarkable Escape of an Electrical Switch-Board Man.

TORONTO, Oct. 3.—A young man named Black, who has charge of the switch-board at the street railway power house, had an experience Saturday which neither himself nor his fellow-workmen will ever forget.

Black was in the forenoon engaged in filing a switch, when the file suddenly came into contact with the positive and negative wires. This threw the entire power of the station, 500 volts, into his body. At the same instant Black was enveloped in as it were a brilliant pyrotechnic display, which for the moment hid him from view.

Horror-stricken, his fellow-workmen ran to his assistance. But 500 volts was not enough to kill Black. It melted the file which he held in his hands, but the worst it could do to him was to temporarily incapacitate him. When his comrades raised him to his feet he was not even unconscious. His eyes, however, were affected and his hands rather severely burned, but after having bathed his eyes in water and applied oil and flour to his hands he manfully went back to work again.

The contact of the file with the positive and negative wires blew out the circuit break, and for about five minutes every motor car in the city was at a standstill.

"I only wish those people who are crying out so much about the fatal trolley wire had been down at the power house when the accident happened," remarked Electrician Davies to The World's Young Man, "and I think they would have been convinced that it takes more than 500 volts to kill a man."

Will Make No Charge.

TORONTO, Oct. 3.—William Jones, the victim of the Eglinton shooting affray, was conscious enough yesterday to have made an ante-mortem statement had he chosen to do so. But he simply would not. His nurse told him that he would die, and this he said he did not believe.

THE CHARGE OF TREASON

CAUSES GREAT EXCITEMENT AMONG THE MEN AT HOMESTEAD.

This is the First Time Such a Charge has Been Made Against Strikers or Others Engaged in Labor Agitations in Any State—Is Armed Resistance to the Law Treason?

PITTSBURG, Oct. 3.—Nothing done since the first trouble at Homestead, except possibly the attempt on the life of H. C. Frick, has caused more talk than the act of Chief Justice Paxson in issuing warrants for the arrest of 33 Homestead men charged with treason. This is the first time that a charge of treason has been brought in any State for acts arising from a strike or labor trouble, and it is said among the attorneys that it is proper that the great industrial State of Pennsylvania should be the first to settle the question as to whether armed resistance to the law is treason.

All the judges of the Supreme Court now present in the city consulted over the cases Saturday in their chambers in the court house. District-Attorney Burleigh and P. C. Knox were sent for, and had a long consultation with the Chief Justice, after which the justices again consulted, and then District-Attorney Burleigh and Mr. Knox were instructed by the Chief Justice to prepare the informations. County Detective Beltzhoover was ordered by the Chief Justice to make the information, and the Chief Justice signed the warrants for the arrest of the accused men. It is not likely that any application for release on bail will be made to-day, but the applications will be heard on Monday.

The most novel part of the cases will be their subsequent disposition. The Chief Justice will hear the application for bail, and before the cases go to the grand jury he will call that body before him and deliver to it a special charge on treason, fully defining the crime and commenting on the cases. Should true bills be found a proceeding never seen before will occur. Chief Justice Paxson is an ex-officio judge of the Court of Oyer and Terminer, and he will sit in that court for Allegheny County and try the cases. This will be a novel and heretofore unknown thing, and will make the cases by reason of their peculiar circumstances of world-wide notority.

Messrs. Brennan & Cox, attorneys for the strikers, were highly indignant over what they term the persecution of the defendants, and made some uncomplimentary remarks about the cases and those engaged in prosecuting them. The claim to have no fear about the outcome, and say it will not be possible to make treason out of the acts of the Advisory Committee. They hinted that the long contemplated suits for treason against the Carnegie people would now be pushed. O'Donnell, Critchlow and Clifford, three of the accused men, are now in jail, making nine already under arrest. It is expect that further arrests will be made.

THE VACANCY NOT FILLED.

The Cabinet Council Does Not Name a Chief Justice.

OTTAWA, Oct. 3—The Cabinet sat from 11 until 4 Saturday, with an hours' intermission for luncheon. Contrary to general expectation, the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court was not appointed, but it is understood that A. Desjardins, M.P. for Hochelaga, was appointed senator in place of Chief Justice Lacoste, and Dr. John Ferguson, ex-M.P. for Welland, senator for Niagara District.

Council is said to have been occupied with consideration of the new memorial recently received from Archbishop Tache re Manitoba school question, but no action has been taken yet.

There will be another meeting of council next week before Sir John Abbott leaves for England, at which it is expected that the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court will be appointed, and some action taken in reference to Archbishop Tache's memorial.

Frank Beard, the Premier's private secretary, will accompany him to England when he sails next Saturday.

MR. VAN HORNE HOME.

He Disclaims Any Endeavor to Establish a Fast Atlantic Service.

MONTREAL, Que., Oct. 3.—Mr. W. C. Van Horne, President of the C.P.R., who returned from England on the Parisian, reached Montreal Saturday, looking well and hearty after five weeks' absence in England.

Mr. Van Horne's return was awaited with considerable interest by railway and business men, as well as by a number of speculators, as it had been rumored his trip had something to do with the establishing of a fast Atlantic steamship service and the testing of stocks in the English markets. As soon as he reached here he was seized by a number of people who are anxious to know all about what he has been doing. But Mr. Van Horne is not a gentleman to give much away. He has a manner of answering questions in a way that leaves a great deal to be imagined, and those who are anxious to know all about his plans are not very much enlightened. Mr. VanHorne, however, denied that his trip had anything to do with a fast steamship line. He declared that the company was anxious to see such a service established, but was not doing anything itself in that direction. The object of his visit, he said, was simply to arrange some business of no special importance, and had nothing to do with the testing of stocks or the acquisition of new roads.

The Election Trials.

TORONTO, Oct. 3.—Mr. Justice Falconbridge and Mr. Justice Street sat for a short time on Saturday morning and fixed the times and places for the trial of the bye-election petitions filed in the Queen's Bench Division as follows: North Perth, Stratford, Oct. 15, at 1 p.m.; Welland, Welland, Oct. 29, at 10 a.m.; East York, Markham Town Hall, Nov. 5, at 10 a.m.; Monk, Cayuga, Nov. 12, at 10 a.m.

A NOVEL IN MALE ATTIRE.

CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 3.—When the name of Nora Moore, charged with appearing in public in male attire, was called in the police court Saturday there was no one answered, and her bail of $100, deposited by a professional bondsman, was forfeited. Miss Moore is really May Dickinson, a belle of Finlay, O., who had come to the city with Drs. Nicholas Howard and Samuel Edwards, two young physicians.

She had donned male attire to see the sights, but was suspected when the trio entered a downtown saloon and were arrested. The men were fined for carrying concealed weapons.

UGANDA TO BE GIVEN UP

THE EAST AFRICA COMPANY UNABLE TO HOLD IT.

The Ministry, Through Lord Rosebery, the Foreign Secretary, Informs the Company That It Is Not the Business of the Authorities to Lend Military Aid To Private Enterprises.

LONDON, Oct. 3.—It was known yesterday afternoon in political circles that the Cabinet had decided not to occupy and annex Uganda. A bad thing this is for the East Africa Company and their many influential connections. To Conservatives not personally or financially interested the opportunity seemed favorable for attacking the Liberal Government with the old cry of the policy of scuttle, and there was every prospect that once more the cry of the Jingo would be heard in the land. Had the ordinary course observed in these matters by British Ministers been followed that result would undoubtedly have ensued. There would have been current all kinds of innuendo and misrepresentation, the Ministerial mouth being closed till February, when Parliament meets. In the meantime all the mischief would be done and the position of the Government undermined. Lord Rosebery's adroit action in promptly communicating to the press his masterly letter addressed to the East Africa Company spoiled that game. No room or opportunity was left for slander or misrepresentation. The facts were plainly laid before the public at home and abroad, and the level-headed public may be trusted to form a just conclusion. This proceeding, following precisely on the lines taken by Mr. John Morley when he had resolved upon a course respecting evicted tenants, indicates quite a new departure. When Parliament is sitting these confidences between Ministers and the people are brought about through the machinery of question and answer. In the recess the Ministers are dumb, and become the prey of idle, sometimes malicious, gossip. This new way is rather American than British. It has "caught on" and is likely permanently to establish itself.

Lord Rosebery's letter to East Africa Company makes it plain that in Uganda there is no question of scuttle, for the sufficient reason that there has been no occupation. What happened was that a private trading company, seeing an opportunity of turning an honest penny, spread themselves out to exploit Uganda, and Captain Lugard, their own agent, has reported that the game was not worth the candle, and they are about to withdraw within narrower limits. They want the Government to pledge all the resources of the Empire to effect the purpose which they have abandoned, and which being accomplished would, in view of their contiguity, be an excellent thing for them. It is useful to recall the fact that Lord Salisbury when in office carefully refrained from intimating any intention of taking the course which Mr. Gladstone now declines to be lured into. He was frequently appealed to, and as far back as autumn of last year an attempt was made to force his hand by a formal intimation made to him by the directors of the British East Africa Company that they were no longer able to bear the expense of remaining in occupation. Orders were given to Captain Lugard to prepare for immediate evacuation and the responsibility of what might thereupon happen was cast on Lord Salisbury's shoulders. In reply he merely shrugged his shoulders, and the directors, desperately hoping something might turn up, sent the cap round among their friends and raised a sum sufficient to enable them to hold on till Dec. 31 next. Had Lord Salisbury been reinstated in power by the general election he might have yielded to the powerful influence the directors of the British East Africa Company are enabled to bring to bear and pledged British arms and credit to complete the work commenced by this private trading company. He was spared the temptation, and now the directors have Mr. Gladstone and his Cabinet to deal with. As far as the actual state of Uganda and its relations with Great Britain and other European powers are concerned, the decision arrived at by the Cabinet leaves them exactly as they were. There is no abandonment of one of the spheres of British influence in East Africa.

A Commission May Take Charge.

LONDON, Oct. 3.—The Press Association says that the amount of grant voted by the Government to enable the British East Africa Company to remain in Uganda for at least three months longer is £12,000. It also says that it is probable that after the evacuation of the territory by the company a British commission will be appointed to take charge of affairs there.

THE CASE OF ALICE MITCHELL.

The Memphis Murderess May be Brought to Trial.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 3.—There is a chance that Alice Mitchell will yet be tried for the murder of Freda Ward. Judge Duboise of the Criminal Court intimated as much yesterday, when an application was made by the counsel for Tillie Johnson, Alice Mitchell's co-defendant, for the beginning of her trial next Monday. The judge declined to grant the application, and ordered Tillie Johnson's case retired, saying that he might any day be informed by the authorities at the Bolivar Insane Asylum that Alice Mitchell had recovered her reason. In such event she and Tillie Johnson would be tried together. It has been reported for a week that Alice's mental condition was greatly improved since she was put in the asylum a month ago, and the asylum physician has hope of her complete recovery.

The Exodus from Dakota.

WINNIPEG, Oct. 3.—A party of 40 settlers from North Dakota arrived here Saturday to select land in Manitoba. They say that many of their Dakota neighbors are also preparing to leave for the Canadian Northwest.

The C.P.R. land department during last month disposed of nearly 50,000 acres to actual settlers, although last month is regarded as one of the dullest months in the year for land sales.

Cut in Two by the Cars.

WINDSOR, Ont., Oct. 3.—The local coming west on the Grand Trunk Railway Saturday afternoon ran over a man about two miles west of Puce station. He was lying across the track and the train cut him in two. Nothing was found on his person by which he could be identified. He was apparently about 28 years of age, and was five feet six inches in height.

The Season's Crops.

A Review of the Grain Raising, Stock and Dairy Industries this Year Around Peterborough Furnished by a Well-Known Agriculturist.

Mr. Dawson Kennedy, ex president of the West Peterborough Farmers' Institute, and a director of the Peterborough Central Exhibition, is a prosperous and skilful farmer of Otonabee township. On Saturday evening in conversation with an EXAMINER reporter, when asked what the results of the past year had been for the farmer, furnished the following opinion;

The buckwheat crop is now being cut and harvested. Considerable has been sowed this year around Peterborough, and as far as I can learn it has all escaped the frost. The yield will be large as the grain is full, plump and well ripened. The buckwheat wheat which was sown to late will not ripen now as the season is two late for it to mature. All fall wheat was sown nearly two weeks ago and there has been more put in this season than last. Farmers are busy sowing rye at present and quite a large acreage will will be sown this year, more than previously. That clover which was left for seed is now being cut. It is the clover seed harvest at present. Potatoes are not all yet dug. Their growth is not so large in size as last year, but there are many in a hill Generally speaking I am of the opinion the yield will be fair."

"What about the vegetables and roots," asked the reporter, "are they being raised and what will be the yield?"

"Mangolds, turnips and carrots," said Mr. Kennedy," are good The former are being pulled and housed now in order to escape the frost. Carrots and turnips will be dug later as they stand the frost much better. Many farmers have cut their corn. The ears are speedidly loaded and some dairyman will have hundreds of bushels to husk this winter."

"Have many of the farmers yet thrashed their season's crops, and how do they appear to be satisfied," was asked.

"A lot of thrashing has been done, but the bulk remains to be done. Grain is turning out well, fully as good as expected, except spring wheat, which is a comparative failure in this section. Fall wheat was a fine yield and the yield of hay on all meadows was enormous. There will be plenty of feed for stock this winter. Fall ploughing is progressing. We have nearly all ganged our land once, and are now ploughing it a second time. It will be six weeks yet at least before it freezes too hard to turn the sod."

"What about dairying and the season's make of cheese?"

"Well," said Mr. Kennedy, "fall pasture is unusually green and nutritious on account of the large number of rains and the favourable weather. It will be fully six weeks yet, along about the middle of November, before the cheese factories close up. This year's make of cheese and the quantity of milk sent will be better and larger than in other years, the fall pasture as I mentioned before, helping this. Flowers were killed two weeks before this last year. From the steady price paid for cheese the dairying interest has been profitable. Many farmers are building silos and utilizing ensilage as a winter food for cattle, believing it to be the cheapest and best. For dairying good high grade cattle are better than thoroughbred stock excepting, probably, thoroughbred Holsteins. I think most farmers have found this out, and formed the same opinion as I have in this branch of agriculture."..

The Renowned Morrison

Appears as "Mephisto" in Goethe's Immortal "Faust" in the Opera House on Saturday Night and is Splendidly Supported.

It was a select and intellectual house which packed the opera house on Saturday evening from proscenium to entrance to greet Mr. Lewis Morrison on his first visit to Peterborough in the sublime scenic production of "Faust." It was undoubtedly the finest production both in staging and dramatization that ever appeared here. Although not nearly all of the three tons of special scenery which the company carries could be arranged and adjusted on the limited stage here, enough was shewn however to give an air of realism, naturalness and heightened effect to the grand scenic production which is everywhere hailed with great delight. Among the special scenes may be mentioned the dancing scenery and picturesque beauty of Marguerite's garden and cottage, the Square of the Fountains, and the Shrine of Virgins. The apotheosis showing Marguerite's final salvation and the form of her regenerated lover "Faust" kneeling in the attitude of prayer with uplifted hands extended toward her godly image was a most beautiful stage picture and intensified by the brilliant electric lights and calcium effects. No words can add to the distinguished reputation of Mr. Lewis Morrison in his conception "Mephisto," played by him over 2,500 times. Miss Florence Roberts as the beautiful chaste peasant girl "Marguerite," and for whom "Faust" (Mr. W. R. Owen) at the artful offering of "Mephisto," renounces his insatiable cravings after knowledge, and the decrepitude of old age is pleasing, innocent, graceful and natural in her acting. "Faust," with unstable mind and unquenching thirst after money, youth, wealth, and led on by "Mephisto" with a devilish cunning, runs his precipitate bargain in the end and plunges madly into dissipation in order to obliterate the past. Mrs. Edwin Clifford, in the role of "Margaret," is a typical German peasant's wife, a confirmed gossip and a foolish old woman. Her making love to "Mephisto" provoked much merriment. The story written by the cultured Goethe is a pretty one and has many moral lessons. It was rewritten and adapted for Mr. Morrison by Mr. Gus Lipsher. Further details of the grand dramatic effects and high characteristic acting of the dramatis personæ in the play would be quite unnecessary.

A Voice From the Canadian Press:

The Black Death!

The Scourge of the East.

Grim Asiatic Cholera is marching with stealthy but steady strides to these Western shores.

The foe is at our doors. Sanitary science with powerful disinfectants, fumigations and rigid quarantine regulations, stands guarding our ports.

But this fell destroyer on pestilential wing seems to float in the very air, and defy all efforts to beat him back. Wherever there lingers impurity and putrefaction he takes up his abode, and the seeds of the pestilence germinate and multiply.

Public sanitary vigilance is imperative. Let the sewers be flushed and every form of impurity be swept away. Let the health of the community be maintained to the highest possible degree. But in addition to all this let every individual be on the alert.

The human body has the most perfect and complete system of sewerage, defying the utmost art of man to rival.

A wise Creator has provided means for the eradication of all effete and impure materials from the human body.

Morse's Indian Root Pills is such a perfect combination of the best and most energetic remedies provided by a beneficent Providence for the purpose of cleansing the whole system, "flushing the sewers," rousing up the liver, the kidneys and the whole intestinal tract to their proper functions and at the same time imparting vigor and tone to the whole system, that it is with the utmost confidence that we recommend it to the public as the best preventive of the fearful ravages of that justly dreaded disease, Asiatic Cholera.

One Man Can Do It.

The cut explains a practical method for one man to hoist grain such as corn, etc., into the corn house in a bushel basket. Two ropes are necessary - one on the bottom of the basket, as well as the hoisting rope. The bottom rope will invert the basket every time, inside of the granary, and between the two ropes the basket returns out of the window automatically. This enables one man to stand on the ground and put a large number of baskets of grain out of sight in a very few minutes. —I. E. Williams, Cattaraugus Co., N.Y.

A Friend

Wishes to speak through the Register of the beneficial results he has received from a regular use of Ayer's Pills. He says: "I was feeling sick and tired and my stomach seemed all out of order. I tried a number of remedies, but none seemed to give me relief until I was induced to try the old reliable Ayer's Pills. I have taken only one box, but I feel like a new man. I think they are the most pleasant and easy to take of anything I ever used, being so finely sugar-coated that even a child will take them. I urge upon all who are of a laxative to try Ayer's Pills."—Boothbay (Me.) Register.

In Need

"Between the ages of five and fifteen, I was troubled with a kind of salt-rheum, or eruption, chiefly confined to the legs, and especially to the bend of the knee above the calf. Here, running sores formed which would scab over, but would break immediately on moving the leg. My mother tried everything she could think of, but all was without avail. Although a child, I read in the papers about the beneficial effects of Ayer's Pills, and persuaded my mother to let me try them. With no great faith in the result, she procured and I began to use them, and soon noticed an improvement. Encouraged by this, I kept on till I took two boxes, when the sores disappeared and have never troubled me since."—H. Chipman, Real Estate Agent, Roanoke, Va.

"I suffered for years from stomach and kidney troubles, causing very severe pains in various parts of the body. None of the remedies I tried afforded me any relief until I began taking Ayer's Pills, and was cured."—Wm. Goddard, Notary Public, Five Lakes, Mich.

A Sunday Alarm of Fire.

An alarm of fire sounded a few minutes before one o'clock on Sunday called out the brigade, but their services were not required. An outhouse on Messrs. R. and A. J. Gough's premises, Hunter street, caught fire from children setting paper afire with matches. The blaze was fortunately subdued by a few pails of water. The damage done was trivial.

The Edisons Victorious.

The Edison and Peterboroughs met on the baseball diamond again on Saturday afternoon in which the electricians by good fielding and base-running defeated the home team by 8 runs to 3 The match was a sort of a scratch one, only four innings being played and one or two of the Edison men played with the Peterboroughs. This will probably be the last game of the season. Mr. Wm. Watson refereed the match. No official score was kept.

The Bicycle Race Protested.

Mr. —, Strickland, of Lakefield, who entered the bicycle race at the Central Fair has entered a protest with the directors regarding the result and conditions on which the race was won. It appears the advertised race was one mile in distance, best two heats in three, but the judges at the time of the event did not know the distance, and it appears the enterers decided to contest the race in half mile heats. It is probable Mr. Strickland's protest will be considered. It will be remembered in this race that J. Carveth took 1st, W. F. Harris 2nd, and C. Gillespie 3rd.

Deceased lady was medium aged and respected by all who knew her. She leaves a husband and one child to mourn the loss of an affectionate mother and wife.

A Summer Cottage Burned.

Mr. Hector McIntyre received a telegram from Mr. John Holmes of the Burleigh Falls hotel this morning stating that his brothers, Mr. J. E McIntyre's cottage 'Granview' Stony Lake, was burned to the ground at an early hour. Mr. McIntyre's cottage was one of the prettiest ornamental lodges at the lakes and he had recently added some $500 improvements to it. The loss cannot be estimated as the owner is out of town today. It is partly insured. No further particulars of the fire is yet furnished.

Sudden Death of a Young Operator.

Mr. Stewart Robinson G.T.R operator at Lakefield Junction one mile east of here died in the Nicholls Hospital at 11 o'clock last night of hemorrage of the lungs. Deceased was in his twenty-first year and a respected employee of the road. Mr. Robinson worked as usual on Saturday but in the evening was suddenly taken ill and died after twenty-four hours illness. His remain will be removed to Port Hope to-morrow where they will be interred. The young man enjoyed the esteem of all who knew him.

Interred in Emily.

The funeral of the late Bert Morrow took place Sunday afternoon from the Nicholls Hospital. The floral decorations on the coffin were elaborate, notably so a handsome wreath from the Y.P.S.C.E of St. Paul's church, of which the deceased was an associate member. Rev. Mr. McWilliams conducted the funeral service at the hospital. The remains were interred in the Emily cemetery. Rev. Mr. Bamford conducted the services at the grave. The bearers were:—A. J. Johnston, J. W. Bennett, W. F. Nelson J. H. Connell, Robert Strachan and W. R. Johnston.

Night Singing Classes.

Mr. L Seward will this month begin classes for the teaching of Vocal Part Music, which will afford an opportunity of quickly and thoroughly acquiring the desirable accomplishment of sight-singing. The music studied in these classes will be available for church entertainments or for social circles. Special attention given to the development of male voices. Terms for a 3-month course—Ladies, $1 00; gentlemen, $1.50 The first meeting will be held at Turner's Music Store, on Thursday, Oct. 6th, at 8 p.m.

A New Telephone Exchange Card.

The amalgamation of the Bell and Ontario Telephone Companies, and the junction of the latter's subscribers with the Bell central office, has necessitated the issuing of a new card containing the names of all the present subscribers of the Bell exchange. This card is now in the printers' hand, and it would be well for all those persons who intend having an instrument placed in their premises to make application at once, and have their numbers, which will be fixed, printed on the new card. By so doing it would save a great deal of inconvenience and labor, as it will probably be some time before another new subscribers' card will require to be issued.

A Past Orange Master Laid at Rest.

The funeral of the late Christopher Graham took place yesterday from his residence on Aylmer street. Rev. Mr. Edwards conducted the service at the house, while the Orange burial at the grave was conducted by Bros. J. H. McWilliams and John Agnew. The bearers were Bros. Robert Weir, J. Graham Weir, R Lesece, G. W. Ball, W. Cardwell and T. Jones. About 300 Orangemen were in the procession as it moved down George street to the Little Lake cemetery, headed by the 57th Battalion band. Bro. Col. Poole was marshal of the day. The lodges which turned out consisted of the Orange and True Blue lodges of Peterborough and Warsaw, Smith and Emily L.O.L.

A West End Sensation.

A rather lively sensation disturbed the Sunday evening serenity of a west end residence last evening. The actions of the servant after she had parted with her young man at the back door seemed suspicious. Subsequent investigation discovered a man concealed under the bed in her room. The head of the house was on hand at once and held the man at bay, while the girl fled en deshabille, shrieking. "Oh, don't shoot him Mr. ———! He's my brother, and he's drunk." The police were telephoned for and the man taken to the station. It turned out that he was a married man, and a foreman in one of the departments of a large manufacturing establishment. His wife is absent on a visit in the vicinity of Lindsay. He was released to appear when called upon, and his "sister" is out of a place.

Services Recognized.

Chief T. Rutherford has received the following letter from Mr. A. B. Appleby, which explains itself. The fire brigade return their thanks to Mr. Appleby, not so much for the pecuniary benefit of the recognition of their services, although that is always welcome, but for the kindly reference made to them and their services by Mr. Appleby:

To Chief and Members of Peterborough Fire Brigade:

GENTLEMEN,—I have pleasure in handing you this check for $25 00 as some slight recognition of the efficient services rendered by the brigade at the fire at my place of business on Saturday morning. I want to say that the prompt and well-directed work of the brigade deserved the praise given by all who saw them at work. I am, gentlemen,

Yours, etc.,
A. B. APPLEBY.

—Some change in the matter of giving more accommodation room to farmer's wagons on the market square will soon have to be made by the market committee. On Saturday the market was so large that at least half a dozen wagons could not get a stand around the walks. It has been suggested that a board walk be laid up and down the middle of the square, north and south. This would afford accommodation for many more vehicles without inconvenience and at a trifling outlay.

A Few Wise Words to Young Men.

Addressed by Rev. C. B. Kenrick—Their Temptations and Besetting Sins.

Last night at St. John's church Rev. C. B. Kenrick after Evensong addressed a few pertinent words of counsel to young men. He said he had undertaken the difficult task of speaking to young men because of the conviction that had forced itself upon him that the young men—of St. John's especially—had fallen into indifferent habits, the result of the summer holidays. If he should speak with apparent harshness it must not be thought that he did not sympathize with the young men, whom he had the most earnest desire to help. Young men were exposed to peculiar temptations and this condition was aggravated by the habits of the summer holidays, when the pursuit of pleasure had replaced practices and thoughts of holy things, and the practices that had obtained in camp had remained when they returned home. The life of the average young man was devoted very largely to selfish pleasures, and the plea that they had no time to serve God was another way of expressing lack of desire to do so. The world was full of Esaus, who bartered their eternal birthright for the sake of present gratification. If young men realized what life was, what God was, and what eternity meant, they would not dare to lead a life of indifference, in utter disregard of the duties of life and the latter end. Young men made plans for life full of ambitious projects regardless of God, but death was the horizon of their lives and death was a terrible thing when there was no preparation for eternity. Young men were reminded in reference to the temptations that beset them that without Christ they could do nothing. False ideas of true manliness was the rock upon which young men split. It was a mistake to think that it was manly to smoke, to hang round bar rooms, to bet, to gamble. It was not manly to have the mother sitting up in anxiety at nights waiting for her son's return from haunts of dissipation. It was not manly to break a wife's or mother's heart by a vicious life. It was not manly to be afraid of what vile associates would say if one chose to do right. The speaker wished to set before young men higher ideals of what life meant. He urged young men to fight, with God's help, against the inclinations of the lower nature. God would not have a half-hearted service, and therefore young men were urged to give themselves to God with their whole hearts. There was not a moment to lose—God had given them a certain time—a few years at most—to prepare for eternity and that time was fast slipping by. The speaker closed his earnest address by an appeal to give themselves to the service of God.

A Clerical Denunciation of Illicit Liquor Selling.

The Liquor License Act Must be Observed

After mass on Sunday at St. Peter's Cathedral, Rev. Father Collins, having in mind evidently, recent examples of the results of the practice of selling liquor during prohibited hours, especially Saturday nights and Sundays, took occasion to denounce this practice in earnest terms of righteous indignation. He pointed out its sinful and vicious effects in a very graphic manner, and emphasized the importance of it being rigidly suppressed. He would do all in his power to secure an observance of the law, and urged the authorities to act with promptness and vigour. He also urged upon the members of the congregation the duty of co operating with him in the matter of securing punishment for the breaches of the license law in question, which were doing so much to degrade the manhood, darken the homes and weaken the spiritual vitality of, not only some members of his own congregation, but of many of the citizens generally. The reverend gentlemen's remarks in their general tenor indicated that, so far, as he was concerned, there would be no half measures in the endeavour to suppress the offence of selling liquor during prohibited hours.

Church Chimes.

Rev. Mr. Shuttleworth, of Norwich, will preach the annual sermon to the Royal Templars of Temperance in the George street Methodist church next Sunday.

Rev. Mr. Goldsmith, of Toronto, occupied the pulpit of St. Paul's church yesterday and created a fine impression. He also addressed the Y.M.C.A in the evening. At the evening service Mr. J. Crane although suffering from a cold sang with admirable effect "Home at last." Rev. Mr. Torrance is improving nicely.

Rev. John Craig, brother of Mr. T. Dixon Craig, M.P., Port Hope, and a returned missionary from the Telegu, India, filled the pulpit of the Murray street Baptist church yesterday morning and delivered an earnest missionary discourse. He showed miniature, clothed statues representing the different castes of the people among whom he has labored for years.

Simply Awful

Worst Case of Scrofula the Doctors Ever Saw

Completely Cured by HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA.

"When I was 4 or 5 years old I had a scrofulous sore on the middle finger of my left hand, which got so bad that the doctors cut the finger off, and later took off more than half my hand. Then the sore broke out on my arm, came out on my neck and face on both sides, nearly destroying the sight of one eye, also on my right arm. Doctors said it was the Worst Case of Scrofula

they ever saw. It was simply awful! Five years ago I began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. Gradually I found that the sores were beginning to heal. I kept on till I had taken ten bottles, ten dollars! Just think of what a return I got for that investment! A thousand per cent? Yes, many thousand. For the past 4 years I have had no sores. I

Work all the Time.

Before, I could do no work. I know not what to say strong enough to express my gratitude to Hood's Sarsaparilla for my perfect cure." GEORGE W. TURNER, Farmer, Galway, Saratoga county, N. Y.

The Baptist Mission.

Formally Opened Yesterday With Three Very Interesting Services—Large Attendance and Able Addresses.

The new Baptist Mission Chapel, corner Stuart and Park streets in the South Ward was formally opened yesterday Three services, all of which were largely attended, were held. The morning service was conducted by Rev. J. E Trotter, who preached a most excellent sermon from Judges 3 31. At the afternoon meeting both Mr. Trotter and Rev. John Craig, B A., of Akidia, India, a returned missionary, gave addresses. Mr. Craig's talk was on India and its great need of gospel workers. He exhibited miniature statuary representing the different castes among whom he labors, their mode of dress, etc.

In the evening Mr. Craig preached a most eloquent and thoughtful discourse from Genesis, 43 1, in which he set forth the great spiritual destitution of the world. The large attendance, fine addresses, good music, liberal collections and fine weather, all contributed to make it a most enjoyable day for those interested in the mission.

This evening a tea and excellent programme of music, addresses by resident clergymen and Rev. H. J. Ware, of Lindsay, will be given. To this meeting the public are cordially invited. A free will offering will be taken up.

METHODIST EDUCATION.

Eloquent Pleas for the Cause of Ministerial Education.

Summary by Rev. Dr. Potts and Rev. Dr. Dewart in the George Street and Charlotte Street Methodist Churches—Liberal Contributions to the Educational Fund—Rev. S. T. Bartlett in the Evening.

Special services were conducted in the Methodist churches in the interests of the Educational Fund of the church. There were large congregations at all the services, and the addresses given were eloquent appeals on behalf of the interests to which the services of the day were specially devoted.

IN THE CHARLOTTE STREET CHURCH

There was at the morning meeting an unusually large congregation—the largest that was ever assembled there on a similar occasion. In making the announcements, Rev. Mr. Edwards, pastor, stated that the contributions of the congregation last year to the educational fund amounted to $60, a falling off from the two previous years and he urged liberal contributions on the present occasion.

Rev. Dr. Potts, Secretary of the Educational Society, announced for his text St. Matthew II and part of the 1st and second verses:

"Behold there came wise men from the east to Jerusalem, saying where is he that is born King of the Jews?"

The preacher began by saying that Christianity should be the active point of all investigation. The study of it revealed the best aspects of humanity, physically, intellectually and spiritually. Christianity was designed for all diseases of mankind; high and low, rich and poor. His object, the preacher said, in selecting his text, was to show the wisdom of the magi in searching for Christ. They were the leading religious and secular teachers of the Medo-Persians. The chapter in hand represented

THE SUPREME SEARCH OF LIFE,

Every wise man was searching in the sphere of life his taste suggested. Referring to scientific research, the speaker said the millenium would soon dawn if scientists could be depended upon as safe judges, for there there was no discrepancy between true science and revealed religion. The question of Herod as to Christ was as important to-day as it was in his time. The supreme search of life was Christ. The wise men were types of true searchers of Christ in the higher walks of life, while the shepherds represented the lowly. The supreme satisfaction of life was the finding of Christ, and no form of earthly satisfaction could give the real satisfaction which resulted from finding Christ, which included the satisfaction of mercy, grace and glory. Connected with the two forms of supreme satisfaction, seeking Christ and finding Christ, was the supreme duty which grew out of them, and consisted in worshipping Christ after the example of the shepherds and the wise men. As they gave gifts, so

CHRIST DEMANDS THE GIFT OF OUR HEARTS,

our love, our confidence and our obedience. And to-day Christ required our gifts for His cause and His poor, which were gifts to Himself. The gold which the wise men presented to Christ was doubtless used by His parents to make their escape from the wrath of Herod and to preserve Christ and His mission from destruction. This idea was elaborated in a very eloquent manner to show the duty of Christians to give of their substance in order to promote the spread of His cause. Reverting to the educational interests of the Methodist Church the speaker said the growth was encouragingly satisfactory. The liberality of the church was shown in the contribution of a quarter of a million of dollars (lacking one thousand) for the cause of missions, with which the educational interests were very closely allied, for the success of mission work depended upon an available mentally, as well as morally equipped. The Educational fund of the Methodist church gave aid to five training institutions, Sackville, N B, the Theological School, Montreal, Albert College, Belleville; Victoria College, Toronto; and Wesley College, Winnipeg. Of this fund one quarter was used as loans to assist student ministers, to be repaid in ten years without interest. Rev. Dr. Potts closed his eloquent and scholarly address by making an earnest appeal for liberal contributions towards the Educational Fund.

SUPPLY OF PROPERLY EDUCATED MINISTERS,

During the collection of the contributions a fine quartette was rendered by Miss Fawcett, soprano, Mrs. Green, contralto, Mr. A. L. Davis, baritone, and Mr. Steers, tenor. The execution of this was exceedingly creditable. The nuances and expression demanded by the composition—"The Flower Land"—receiving just and delicate attention. The anthem that preceded the sermon was also very effectively produced. The choir of the Charlotte street Methodist church is, it may be safely said, one of the best in the town.

In the evening Rev. S. T. Bartlett, preached an eloquent and thoughtful educational sermon to a fair congregation. The music was especially effective, Mrs. Green's solo and Mr. Davis' solo, "Eternal Rest" being excellently rendered.

In the George Street Methodist.

Yesterday was the annual educational services in the George street Methodist church. Large congregations assembled at both the morning and evening services. In the morning Rev. Dr. Dewart, Toronto, editor of the Christian Guardian, the organ of the Methodist church, filled the pulpit. The doctor is one of the foremost and powerful divines of Methodism at the present day. He is overflowing with energy and power, and his sermon of yesterday morning, much of the vigor and force of which is lost in condensation, was impressive and earnest with eloquent appeals for the church to support Christianity and Christian institutions for the great good they had done for the world and for all mankind, and are doing at the present day. At the opening the pastor, Rev. Mr. Locke, briefly explained the aims and objects of the Educational Society of the Methodist church. It was not to assist college federation by any means but to help in maintaining their universities and theological colleges and to aid poor candidates for the ministry, by way of a loan, in obtaining a suitable education. The colleges need to an annual income from the society of $30 000

Rev. Dr. Dewart spoke from the words found in Isaiah, 43rd chapter and the 12th verse, "Ye are my witnesses, saith the Lord, that I am God." In all ages there had been a law of compensation in the spiritual world as well as in the material. It had often been that the church in her darkest periods had reaped something for good. The speaker illustrated several instances, taken from the Bible, of the church prospering measurably during what seemed to be her dullest and most stagnant periods. Take great truth was illustrated life in the hours of apparent affliction and hopelessness. The Lord was constantly watching over his children and would not allow them to suffer. He was here calling upon us all to give assurances of His presence, comfort and support. Christ calls all who have had experience of His goodness to testify for Him to know that He was the Lord. There was something grand in the fast and thought of God looking down upon His people and communing to them the evidence of His character, great love, mercy and compassion. The Almighty was never nearer or more precious to His people than He was to-day, and they were witnessing unto Him that He was God. The word witness meant to testify some fact or truth. Even in the material world there were indications that shadow forth or typify attributes of God Himself. The various beauties in nature, the grand and beautiful things on earth that impress us were instances of a maker's hand and has their outline in human mind. They typified the things of God, the way of salvation. Every thing in the spiritual world echoed by one oration by the Holy Man revealing his conscience concerning as he witnesses for Christ. The preacher enlarged upon the early history of the church through all its dark ages and severe persecutions but God was guiding it with a master hand and

IN THE EXAMPLES OF INDIVIDUAL

TO DAY CHRISTIANITY WAS THE POWER

to combat anarchy and tyranny. God gave his witnesses for Christ and the world in the Christian church could witness to Him in many modes. By her ordinances which were divinely appointed and could open many avenues of Christian grace. In prayer and in the preaching of the gospel the church bore evidences of God's great love and truth. The interposition of God's hand was seen all along the ages and to-day Christianity was the mightiest moral force in the world and travelling into every land and into every creed the power of God's presence. We could not neglect the command of our God without bringing guilt and condemnation upon our own souls. God brought us into the church that we might be channels for those in destitution. We want a working church, and increased liberality and for the moral transformation and conversion of the sinner. No power could account for this transformation but the power of God, and the silent eloquence of a holy life spoke manfully as a witness of God.

The reverend gentleman closed with an eloquent appeal for all to help maintain the educational institutions, which were the centres of light and learning for coming time. God had committed the work of religious education and sublime enlightment to us, and we should give liberally to the cause.

In the evening Rev. D. Potts, general secretary of education, preached in the evening to a large congregation. His discourse, which was an able plea for the cause of education, was thoughtful and powerful.

The collections in the interests of the Educational Fund, which were taken up at both services, were large, and much in excess of last year.

He gathered her in his arms, his hand stroked caressingly her lovely face; then he bowed his head and looked tenderly into her eyes a moment. He seemed loth to partake of the joy of this, the first kiss. All things have an end, even hesitation. Now he seemed loth to end this, the first kiss, yet even that ends.

"Terry, do you know I think you must be both sun and moon; yes, and all the world. I do not want to go out beyond now. Can we not live here?"

"No, we must live; you must see the world. There are other men I wish you to see before—before we are married. You might love one of them more than either Shem or me."

"Perhaps."

Terry winced under the coolness of that "perhaps." He would have liked more. That was not quite satisfactory.

"Zell, why do you not talk? I am not a man of many words."

"Shall I tell you?"

"Yes."

"Well, when I try to talk to you now. I find I can think of nothing to say, but—I love you. I love you, and you have not told me you love me, Terry."

Again he held her close to him, and with all the intensity of those grand, silent natures, he reverently said:

"I love you, Zell, and may God bless us both."

"Come, let us find Shem; he must know. You tell him. Will he grieve, Terry, when he knows I love you more than I do him?"

"He will not grieve. You love Shem as of old, every bit as much. You must not put it that way. I will tell him; he will, I think, be glad. Oh! here he is."

Zell held Terry's hand and frankly met Shem, waiting sweetly demure for Terry to tell the all-absorbing fact of their love.

"What is it, Terry Denver? The brown placidness of your eyes have caught and held a glow as of imprisoned fire."

"Zell loves me, Shem."

"And does Terry Denver love Zell?"

"Yes."

"Good; but, Zell, thou hast not seen others, art thou sure?' Terry Denver is not a handsome man. He is not a man of nectar-tipped words, neither is he given to blandishments. There are those who toss off words gracefully as doth yon fern toss golden pollen from its tasselated flowers. There are those who, to look at, move even me, Zell."

"No more, Shem; thou art cruel. Thou wouldst not have me love a tasselated, fern like man, wouldst thou? Terry speaks as doth yon mountain. I lay my hand on it and I know it is strong. I lay my hand on Terry and I know his strength. Then, he speaks to me in every touch. When he takes my hand, without a word he tells his love for me and I feel my language weak compared with his. Oh, Terry! thou art my strength."

Zell sought the support of Terry's strong arms, and Shem turned partly away. He stood like a pine tree, sombre and alone. "Zell and Zanea both gone," was all he said, and it sounded like the sighing pines more than a human voice. A moment he stood thus, then he said, lightly:

"I bantered thee, my little one. I thinkest thou lovest thy Terry as he ought to be loved. I, too, find him a man of strength, and his very silence is eloquent. May he long be spared to thee that thou canst more fully understand and appreciate that same silent eloquence. Now, Zell, hie thee to thy room, I would talk of weighty affairs with thy Terry."

"Shem, do you not think Zell might hear the weighty affairs discussed with profit to herself and us. She is no longer a child. She is to stand by my side through life. If joy or pleasure comes she will be by me to receive her share. If sorrow and trials come our united strength will be greater than if we meet it alone. We will stand together, Shem."

"Thou art a worthy pair, and in sorrow wilt thou find thyselves a joy. When art thou going out beyond Terry Denver? Before Zell goes an outfit more in unison with the times, will have to be procured for her. She will inherit all her father's wealth, which is in the millions. It is all in gold, stored in the remotest cave, gold and gems, principally diamonds. Ishmael made me guardian. You will be as soon as Zell is your wife. The cave is sealed up and quite safe if you feel like leaving it so until some future time; there will be no danger of it being discovered."

APPEAL OF MENDICANTS

THE M'CARTHY LETTER JUDGED ADVERSLY BY ENGLISHMEN.

Mr. Morley Wishes to Appoint an Under Secretary in Ireland Mr. George Fotterell, But it is Understood That Mr. Gladstone Favors the Appointment of Mr Robert Hamilton.

LONDON, Oct. 1.— The Irish eviction question and the evacuation of Uganda were the main matters discussed at yesterday's Cabinet councils. A decision concerning Uganda was postponed because of the more urgent necessity for a solution of the difficulty in the way of affording relief for the evicted tenants in Ireland.

Mr. John Morley, Chief Secretary for Ireland, is understood to have advised a temporary grant of money on the ground that the Commission to examine into evictions cannot complete its enquiry in time to prepare a bill to be introduced at the opening of Parliament. He also advanced in support of a grant that while the commission was deliberating the evicted tenants would suffer.

The Irish Evicted Tenants' Association ask in the interim a grant of £250,000 with due representation on the commission.

Mr. Morley has promised that the association shall be represented in the Commission, but refrained from pledging himself on the grant until he had consulted the Cabinet. The representative of the Associated Press has learned that the Ministers are inclined to concede a moiety of the evicted tenants' demands, but refuse to immediately sanction any portion of the proposed grant.

Mr. Morley will now be able to communicate to the Nationalist leaders the intentions of the ministers, whose assent to the grant will be accelerated by duly nursed public clamor over the sufferings of the evicted tenants as winter approaches.

Another subject mooted by the Cabinet was the appointment of an Irish Under Secretary.

The Associated Press announced a month ago that a well-known politician, George Fotterell, who was once legal adviser to the land commission, was Mr. Morley's own selection for this office. There is some ministerial opposition, however, and this appears likely to balk Mr. Fotterell's appointment. Mr. Ridgway has not yet resigned the post, though he is ignored by the present Chief Secretary.

Mr. Gladstone wants a former Under Secretary, Sir Robert Hamilton, now Governor of Tasmania, to come home and resume his old place. If Sir Robert consents it will only be in deference to the solicitations of Mr. Gladstone, who deems him the best man for the critical transition period.

The gravity of the eviction trouble becomes more intense under the action of Tory landlords. The number of evicted tenants now reaches 4500. The number of eviction notices pending under the act of 1887 reaches almost 30,000. Many of these are formal, but all tenants, unless they pay their arrears within six months after they receive notice, are liable to be ousted or become mere caretakers of their own farms. If the landlords mean to try to foil the Liberal policy, by wholesale evictions, there will be a bitter land war. The ministerial circle is confident that the Cabinet will not hesitate to sanction the boldest measures the Irish executive may require to foil the Unionist tactics.

Whatever may be the effect of the McCarthyite manifesto in America it has fallen flat here. The Liberal press give it scant comment, while the Conservative papers dub it a "mendicant whine, its grand eloquence of language failing to conceal its true character—an appeal for funds to enable anti-Parnellites to live in comfort in London throughout the next session."

AMERICAN CATTLE.

They Are Pronounced Free From Pleuro-Pneumonia.

LONDON, Oct. 1.—Secretary Rusk's proclamation declaring the United States free from pleuro-pneumonia has not yet officially reached the Board of Agriculture here. The Board officials, however, accept the declaration as valid and appear ready to respond to United States authorities' application for the free admission of live cattle. The Live Stock Journal, referring to the vast importance of the proclamation, holds that the Government must allow a sufficient interval to elapse in order to prove beyond a doubt that the disease has been wholly suppressed, and that this provision should also have been made against Texas fever, of which 500 cases were detected in 1891 among animals intended for export.

Change in Welcome.

GENTLEMEN,—For twenty years I suffered from rheumatism, dyspepsia, poor appetite, etc., and received no benefit from the many medicines I tried, but after taking five bottles of B.B.B. I can eat heartily of any food and am strong and smart. It is a grand medicine and has made a wonderful change in my health.

We do not know of any preparation that has caught the public favor in so short a time as Dodd's Kidney Pills, but when we consider that three-fourths of the Canadian people are afflicted with kidney troubles in some form or other, and that Dodd's Pills are a quick and permanent cure for all these troubles, the large and increasing demand can scarcely be wondered at. Sold by all dealers or by mail on receipt of price, 50 cents per box. Dr. L. A. Smith & Co., Toronto.

TROUBLE AT THE TABERNACLE.

A Dispute as to the Successor of the Great Divine.

LONDON, Oct. 1.—While the feeling of the purely Baptist section of Mr. Spurgeon's Tabernacle is in favor of the retention of Rev. Thomas Spurgeon for a further preaching period, the bulk of the congregation desire the permanent services of Rev. Mr. Pierson. Rev. Thomas Spurgeon has already booked passage for New Zealand, but it officially requested to stay he will probably agree. Despite the present dispute the deacons concur in the opinion that it will not lead to a split in this the biggest congregation in the world.

THE ELEPHANT TOOK IN THE CASH.

He Swallows a Purse With Six Sovereigns In It.

LONDON, Oct. 3.—A lady visiting the Zoological Gardens, sitting down before the elephant stable, laid down a brown purse containing six sovereigns on her lap. One of the elephants being minded to try the gold cure, or mistaking it for a bun, extended his trunk, picked up the purse and swallowed it. The strongest emetics were immediately administered, but with no effect. The elephant would not give up the gold, and the Zoological Society likewise refuses to refund it, for which reason the lady has entered action at law.

DAVITT AT GLASGOW.

A Land League Threatened in Great Britain to Offset Landlordism.

LONDON, Oct. 3.—Michael Davitt addressed a meeting of Irishmen in Glasgow yesterday. He said he believed the time was ripe for a movement to give English, Scotch and Welsh farmers the protection of judicial leases and land courts for the revision and reduction of rents. "Such a movement," he said, "will give the Argyles, the Devonshires, the Balfours and the Westminsters, who are now encouraging the Irish landlord campaign, enough to do to defend their own interests. The moment the landlord campaign is opened in Ireland we will start a land league in Great Britain."

CUMBERLAND'S CLAIMS.

The Squabble Over the Hanoverian Effects To Be Ended.

BERLIN, Oct. 3.—The Duke of Cumberland claims the royal library and art collections, which were partly bought and largely inherited by his father and the King of Hanover, as belonging to him by the terms of the recent settlement regarding Hanover. The Prussian Government refuses to surrender the treasures on the ground that they belong to Hanover, which as a state has been absorbed by Prussia.

The Court Report says that when the Emperor goes to Vienna it will be arranged that he will meet the Duke of Cumberland and cement their friendship by allowing his claims. The Emperor desires an interview to bring about a termination of the squabbles over the goods once belonging to the House of Hanover.

A MYSTERY OF WINNIPEG.

Miss O'Dell, Formerly of Orillia, Found Dead from a Bullet Wound.

WINNIPEG, Oct. 3.—Miss Olive O'Dell was found dead early yesterday in the kitchen of her parents' residence here with a bullet hole through her breast and her brother's gun lying near by. The circumstances surrounding the young woman's death are most mysterious. She has had no troubles so far as known and retired last night at the usual hour and apparently in good spirits. When found she was partially dressed. Most people incline to the theory of suicide, and some think it a case of murder, and their contention is supported by the positive statement of a lady neighbor, who declares that about 3 o'clock in the morning she heard a man running out of O'Dell's residence and down street. Strangely neither this lady nor the parents sleeping in the house heard the report of the gun. Her brother, however, is positive that his gun was not loaded when he left it in the kitchen last night. The young woman was a teacher in Carlisle Church Sunday school. Her father is timekeeper of the C.P.R. shops there, and is a brother-in law of Col. Drinkwater of the Midland battalion. Family came from Orillia, Ont.

Runs Ashore on Her First Trip.

HAMILTON, Oct. 3.—The new steamer Arabian, which left here last Saturday light for Duluth, went hard aground yesterday on the American side of the St. Clair River below Algonac, Michigan. Captain Fairgrieve received a telegram from Captain Chestnut saying that the tug Howard had been sent from Port Huron to her assistance and he expected to have her off by this morning. The Arabian is on her first trip and the mishap is consequently considered doubly unfortunate by the superstitious sailormen.

The Telegraphers Win.

Never Tie Yourself to a Horse.

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 3.—The people of Independence-avenue, a crowded thoroughfare, witnessed a horrible tragedy Saturday. Lee Ellington, a boy 10 years of age, was leading a horse to a water trough. He had tied the halter around his wrist. The horse took fright and ran away, throwing the boy to the ground and dragging him at a terrible speed along the street. The horse had run 2 miles before he was stopped. The boy in the meantime had been killed, and his body had been reduced to a pulp.

The Murder Done by a Chinaman.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—Agents for the bark William Hales, on which the captain and his wife were murdered, have been advised by cable from the United States consul at Cape Town that the deed was committed by the Chinese steward, Ah Jou, who afterwards committed suicide.

A LIBERAL POLICY.

The STANDARD has always taken the lead over other companies in the effort to simplify the assurance contract, and to maintain public confidence in life assurance. Its prompt and liberal settlement of claims has given it a world-wide reputation for generous straightforward dealing, and by its example has done much to do away with contesting of policies.

The New Free Policy of the Standard Life Assurance Company is given without extra charge; allows free residence in any part of the world, and is incontestable and unconditional except on the ground of false statements in the application, and that only during the first two years; after that it is absolutely free. This policy is simply a promise to pay a certain sum at the maturity of the contract, instead of having a number of useless clauses on the back of the policy showing what the insured may not do, and which always gives rise to dissatisfaction and dispute; the STANDARD prints only on the back of the policy a list of special privileges granted to the assured.

DID HE MURDER CRONIN?

GEOGHEGAN TREMBLED WHEN HE SAW THE DESPATCH.

He Is Under an Alias And Is Held at Salem, Ore., For Robbery and Assault—A Chicago Lawyer Instructed to Resist the Application for Requisition Papers on Oregon for the Prisoner.

SALEM, Ore., Oct. 3.—A despatch from Chicago last night said that Thomas Geoghegan, alias Thomas Coleman, who is now confined in the penitentiary here, is supposed to have been connected with the murder of Dr. Cronin. The prison officials say they have heard a rumor to that effect, but put no faith in the story.

Coleman was sent here from Portland in March, 1891, to serve two years for assault. He was a "trusty" up to two months ago, when a bench warrant for his arrest came from Portland, where he is wanted to answer a charge of robbery and assault. He has the appearance of an allround crook.

Coleman says he would have no trouble in clearing himself of connection with the Cronin murder. He formerly lived in Chicago, where he now has a brother and three sisters living. He says that for the last three years he has been in Oklahoma, Puget Sound and San Francisco. He seemed nervous when speaking about Chicago, and when he was permitted to read the Chicago despatch his hand quivered and tears came to his eyes.

Two months ago, when Coleman had his trustyship taken away, he asked the reason and said that he presumed it was on account of "that Cronin matter." At that time he said nothing further about the crime, but has since told convicts that he could easily prove an alibi.

Geoghegan Will Fight.

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 3.—James A. Boody, a lawyer, says he has been retained by the friends of Thomas Geoghegan in this city to resist an application expected to be made to Governor Fifer within the next few days for requisition papers on which he is to be brought here from Salem, Ore., to answer the charge of murdering Dr. Cronin.

But Mr. Boody refuses to give the names of his clients. So far as the police authorities are concerned they disclaim all knowledge of any move being made to bring Geoghegan back to Chicago, and declare very positively that there is no foundation for the story.

Geoghegan was a tough character in Chicago some years ago and well known to the police. He left here under rather peculiar circumstances to escape punishment for some petty crime just after the Cronin murder, but the officials say they were never able to get any proof positively implicating him in that affair.

Their Statements Worthless.

JOLIET, Ill., Oct 3.—Coughlin and Burke both deny that they know anything about Geoghegan, the Oregon suspect in the Cronin case.

DR. BRIGGS' HERESEY.

The New York Presbytery Will Take It Up in Remember.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—At the afternoon session of the presbytery the judgment of the General Assembly in the appeal of the Briggs case was read and Dr. Birch, for the committee on prosecution, announced that they were ready to go ahead with the trial.

Dr. Thompson said he was not in favor of delay in the matter, but a number of members of the presbytery were absent. He moved that the Presbytery take up the case in the Audience room of the Scotch Presbyterian Church on Nov. 9, and continue each afternoon, except Saturday and Sunday, until completed.

Dr. Hall raised the question as to whether or not the hearing should be public or with closed doors. He favored the latter, and wanted all reports given to the press formulated in the session and sent out.

Dr. Briggs replied that he favored open doors. It was decided that the public should be admitted.

NO FROST IN THE NORTHWEST.

Certainty of a Large Increase in Next Year's Acreage of Tillage.

WINNIPEG, Oct. 4.—Threshing operations will be finished in Manitoba and the Northwest in about three weeks at the outside. The weather continues perfect and in not a single portion of the Canadian Northwest, as yet, have even the tenderest plants been touched by frost. Fine weather enables the farmers to do much more fall plowing than usual, and the result will certainly be a very large increase in next year's acreage. The railroad companies report wheat shipments growing heavier every day and a continued increase in the demand for cars.

KILLED IN A PRIZE FIGHT.

William Duffy, Better Known as "Billy the Kid," Dead in Nebraska.

SIOUX CITY, Ia., Oct. 4.—William Duffy, better known as "Billy the Kid," was knocked out at the Fashion Theatre, a notorious resort in Covington, Neb., by Keefe, a heavyweight, after an easy five-round contest, and died within an hour after. Keefe and all the seconds are under arrest awaiting the decision of the coroner's jury.

Fire in Portland, Ore.

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 4. Early yesterday fire occurred in the Kamm Block, a four-story brick structure, causing a loss of $50,000. John G. Gray, carriage maker, was burned to death and Doc Huston, a fireman, was seriously injured. The U.S. signal office, located in the building, sustained serious loss in damage to instruments.

Bank Robbers Repulsed.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 4.—A special from Erie, Pa., says: A daring attempt was made to rob the Keystone Bank at 1 o'clock yesterday. Four men entered the bank and during a struggle one of them shot Frank V. Kepler, the assistant cashier. The men fled without securing any money, but after a hot chase all were captured. Kepler's wound is not serious. The attempt caused great excitement.

To Subdue The Unruly Reds.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—The War Department has received instructions from the President to send a detachment of troops to the Turtle Mountain Indian Reservation in North Dakota, to assist the Government commission now there to carry out their instructions. It is said that the Canadian mixed bloods who were stricken from the rolls because they are foreigners now make open threats that they will prevent any course of action that does not include them in the deliberations.

THE CARNEGIE STRIKERS.

THE WORD GOES OUT THAT THEY MUST WIN.

The Loss of the Struggle At Homestead Would Mean Death To the Amalgamated Iron Workers, Says Commissioner Mullen, and An Assessment Will Be Levied On the Members.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 4.—Jury Commissioner Mullen, who was formerly a member of the Amalgamated Association, says the National Organization has now recognized the Homestead strike in a much more determined way than formerly. "The lodge," says Mr. Mullen, "now realizes that the loss of the Homestead strike means the death of the organization. They will now levy an assessment upon the members to sustain it. During the strike the surplus of the National Lodge, $268,000, was not touched, but it has been determined to use every cent of it, if necessary, to win out."

Admitted to Bail.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 4.—Four of the Homestead strikers charged with treason furnished the required $10,000 bail each this morning and were released. They were John Dierken, George Rylands, Daniel Lynch and W. H. Gaches.

David Lynch, another of the strikers who has been diligently sought for a month on charges of murder, riot, conspiracy and treason, was arrested yesterday.

Non-Union Man Assaulted.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 4.—A non-union man named Smith, employed at Carnegie's 33rd-street mill, was attacked by strikers while on his way home on Saturday night and so badly beaten that it is feared he will die. Andrew Volski, another non-union worker, was assaulted on the same day. He was approached from behind and felled with an iron bar.

A CHANCE FOR SULLIVAN.

Corbett Says if He Is Not Satisfied He Will Fight Him Again.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—The statement said to have been made by John L. Sullivan in Boston that he intended to challenge Corbett for another fight, was the main talk yesterday in sporting circles here. The New York World will report Sullivan as saying to one of its reporters that he "made no such statement for publication." He also said he was "doing pretty well now without fighting," and that he expects to have $50,000 in the bank at the end of this season.

The Herald will also print an interview with Sullivan, in which he said: "I have peculiar ideas about the causes which led to my defeat, but for the present I prefer that they remain untold. The time may come, however, when I will see fit to talk and when I do some people will be greatly surprised."

When asked squarely if he intended to challenge Corbett Sullivan gave an evasive reply.

The Herald adds that Corbett was much surprised when he heard of what Sullivan had said, and he remarked that if Sullivan was dissatisfied with the result at New Orleans he would give him the preference for another fight over any other challenger.

HE WAS A HIGH ROLLER.

The Exploits of Fred Crawford, Clerk of a Fashionable Hotel.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—Fred M. Crawford, for a long time the trusted manager, clerk, cashier and bookkeeper of the Endicott, a fashionable uptown family hotel, has disappeared and left his employer, the guests of the house and numerous friends in the lurch for at least $20,000.

Crawford had full swing in the office, the proprietor, Mr. Fuller, being engaged in other enterprises which took his full time, and so attentive was he to his duties that the guests placed implicit confidence in him. He not only appropriated the money the guests paid to him as cashier for rooms, but that which they left with him to pay their livery and other bills. Many of these bills were paid by checks, but Crawford forged Fuller's name to them and easily secured the money.

In the Tenderloin precinct Crawford was known as a desperate gambler, and, what is more strange, as phenomenally lucky one. The proprietor of the gambling house refused to play for the stakes as demanded. Although but 21 years of age he could manipulate cards with a cleverness that made veterans open their eyes.

He disappeared Sept. 3, but his guilt has just been discovered. He was last seen in New Orleans, where he won nearly $10,000 on Corbett, besides several thousands at faro. Just before Crawford left this city he borrowed several thousands from guests of the Endicott in sums ranging from $100 to $200. It is supposed he has left the country.

CHOLERA LEAVES NEW YORK.

The Station at Camp Low and Camp Ehren Abandoned

CAMP LOW, Sandy Hook, Oct. 4.—Mrs. Dowiz, who had entirely recovered from cholera, and her four children, were sent to Ellis Island yesterday and the quarantine stations at Camp Low and Camp Erben are things of the past. The officers were ordered to report at their former posts of duty, and have everything packed and on the dock ready to be shipped in the morning.

Twenty-Seven New Cases In Paris.

PARIS, Oct. 4.—In Paris and its suburbs there were reported yesterday 27 new cases of cholera and 10 deaths.

One Death At Cracow.

VIENNA, Oct. 4.—Three new cases of cholera and one death were reported in Cracow yesterday.

One Death At Charlottenburg.

BERLIN, Oct. 3.—One death from cholera was reported in Charlottenburg yesterday.

The Queen to Take a Rest.

BOSTON, Oct. 3.—It is the plan of her owner to retire Nancy Hanks from the track after this season, temporarily at least. She will be bred to Arion. This is the arrangement at present, on the authority of the Forbes Stable.

The mare is in Doble's hands at present and the famous driver has full control of his charge. She returns to her owner's care towards the end of the year and will enter on a well-earned rest after three years of campaigning.

A Reception For Egan.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—The Irish-Americans in the city will tender a public reception to Patrick Egan, Minister to Chile, upon his arrival here this week.

THE DEHORNING COMMISSION.

The Practice May Continue in Ontario on Certain Conditions.

TORONTO, Oct. 4.—The Dehorning Commission having concluded the taking of evidence met yesterday afternoon in the Rossin House for the purpose of completing the drafting of the report and recommendations to the Government.

It is generally conceded by the commissioners that inquiry has thrown considerable light on the question, and a recommendation to the effect that dehorning be permitted, conditionally, will be the sum and substance of the report, the commissioners holding that no strong evidence had been adduced whereby the practice could with reason be declared inhumane.

The report proper will consist of a volume containing over 200 pages, in which the results of experiments both in Great Britain and Canada are exhaustively dealt with.

The various decisions, in the English courts of law, in cases bearing on the point in view, are also given in detail.

It has been made apparent to the commission that the process of dehorning a cow occupies from four to five seconds only, and that after this no pain is felt. In some cases where the work has been neatly done, a membrane grows across the stump of the horn and hardening into bone is in its turn covered by a coating of skin and hair, only an expert being able to tell whether the animal ever bore horns. The process has been proved to materially quiet an animal, rendering it less restive under restraint.

The members present at the meeting were: Hon. Charles Drury, chairman; J. J. Kelso, secretary; Henry Gleadinning, Manilla; D. M. Macpherson, Lancaster; Dr. Andrew Smith, Toronto, and Richard Gibson, Delaware.

A VICTIM TO GANGRENE.

William Jones Has But a Few Hours to Live.

TORONTO, Oct. 4.—William Jones, the man shot in the leg at Eglinton a week ago, made an ante-mortem statement yesterday to County Crown Attorney Dewart.

His story in brief was that on the night in question he went to Britton's house to collect an account of $150, due on some pigs he had sold him. He was refused payment. He went away but returned later, and for the second time demanded a settlement. Then young Britton fired a shot over his head. Jones says he then asked him (Britton) if he was going to kill him. Jones alleges that Britton replied: "I don't know but I will," and immediately emptied the contents of his gun into Jones' leg.

Yesterday afternoon a clergyman from Eglinton visited Jones at the hospital. After admonishing him he counselled him to seek forgiveness in prayer.

"That is all I have been doing during the last three days," he quickly replied. "But who are you? Are you a butcher?"

The gangrene in Jones' leg is gradually eating his life away and he is liable to die at any time. He refuses all nourishment. He still persists that he will live, but he nevertheless made a will, bequeathing everything to his wife.

A CONVICT'S BREAK.

Armed With a Knife He Defies the Penitentiary Authorities.

TORONTO, Oct. 4.—A convict named Jarvis, sentenced to six years' imprisonment in Kingston Penitentiary for burglarizing the residence of a Toronto citizen made a determined attempt to escape from the penitentiary yesterday. He was at work on the wharf when he bolted. He was soon observed and closely pursued by guards, who fired several shots at him. Being closely pursued he entered the residence of Mr. Allan Aimington, and terrified the inmates. On being driven out he drew a large knife and threatened to kill anyone attempting to capture him. After much difficulty he was disarmed and returned to the prison.

CRUSHED BY A SAND SLIDE.

Henry Windsor Heard It But was Unable to Get Out of the Way.

TORONTO, Oct. 4.—Henry Windsor of Norway was engaged teaming gravel from the big pit opposite "Blantyre." He was filling his cart when someone warned him that the gravel bank was cracking from the weight of a big tree stump on the top. Windsor made an attempt to get out of the way, but before he could do so the stump caved in, half burying him under the debris and breaking his thigh in two places. After half an hour he was dug out, but was so terribly injured that he died in 26 hours. The remains were interred in the Norway churchyard.

Buried With Military Honors.

TORONTO, Oct. 4.—Ralph Blackley the young law student, who was killed in Toronto on Saturday, was buried with military honors at Hamilton yesterday. The Thirteenth band and the bugle band turned out. The casket was borne to the grave on a gun carriage, which was draped with the Union Jack. There were many beautiful floral offerings sent by friends of the deceased.

The Short Ribs Corner.

CHICAGO, Oct. 4.—Millionaire John Cudahy and his associate, Austin W. Wright, appeared in court yesterday to answer the charge of conspiracy in cornering the short ribs market. The complainant was not in court and the case went over to Saturday. The defendants signed bail bonds in $1000.

Exquisite Music at Hazel Brae.

Is Delightfully Evoked From Bells and Bagpipes by Trained Boy Musicians of Dr. Barnardo's Homes Yesterday.

The superintendents of the Dr. Barnardo's Home invited many of their friends and sympathizers in the laudable work the institution is carrying on, to Hazel Brae yesterday afternoon to enjoy a rare musical treat. Miss Woodgate, the lady superintendent, and her assistants were on hand to extend a cordial welcome to each visitor, and by 3.30 o'clock the superintendent's parlour was filled with ladies and a fair representation of gentlemen. Mr. J. B Wookey, London, England, departmental secretary, presided. On the platform was a large table which was studded with bells of all sizes. After the singing of a hymn four small boys, all under twelve years of age, began the sweet bell ringing entertainment.

The first rendition was that of the village chimes. The youthful artists, nicely clad in suits of blue serge, trimmed with broad white braid, presented a fine appearance and handled the bells in such a musicianly manner as to produce exquisite musical effects, which were highly appreciated and warmly applauded. The next selection by the bell handlers was a Scottish air, faultlessly rendered, and at the close warmly applauded. The entertainers then discoursed two quartettes on the xylophone, dulcimer and mandolin, which were rendered with admirable effect.

MR. WOOKEY, who has been engaged for some years in the work of Dr. Barnardo's homes in London, said he would much prefer not to give a speech as the invitations had mentioned. He would not attempt to describe the work so feebly inaugurated by Dr. Barnardo, when he rescued his first little lad some 26 or 27 years ago. Since then by the help of God Dr. Barnardo had been instrumental in rescuing 20,000. In the Homes in England to day they had some 4,500 boys and girls, and where they came from all knew. The impression formed by some that all children had been rescued from the streets, from the haunts of dissipation and vice, was very untrue. There were children who had been rescued from homes of the darkest nature. Many, however, came untainted by either vice or crime. Mr. Wookey gave a pathetic instance of the latter case in which a poor mother, whose husband had died leaving her penniless, was compelled to commit her youthful offspring to the care of the Home in order that she might eke out a livelihood by sewing. The authorities in the homes spoke of these children as coming from orphanhood. There was no reason to think that these Christian mothers, through force of circumstances, having to part with their children, did not lead holy and virtuous lives until death. Others came in to the Central and other homes in London because too young at the death of their parents to work for themselves. The one passionate desire among all lads seemed to be to support their widowed mother as soon as they could work. All should take an interest in this work by being generous both in thought and in a practical way, on humanitarian grounds.

After one or two more selections by the boys and sample blasts of the bugler in the hours given to call the boys up, to meals, to prayer, etc., the party adjourned to the lawn in front of the Home where three "wee scotch bairns" in highland costume discoursed upon the bagpipes many native selections all of which were loudly encored. At the close choice refreshments were served and shortly before six o'clock the joyous gathering, which had spent a very pleasant afternoon at the hands of the ladies of the home dispersed.

Gibbon, the Historian, Speaks

Gibbon says: "As long as mankind shall continue to bestow more liberal applause on their destroyers than on their benefactors, the thirst of military glory will ever be the vice of the most exalted characters."

The wise, prudent and right thinking men and women of Canada believe: "That while there is sufficient ignorance in the community, and the necessary number of foolish and gullible people to buy and consume all the trashy nostrums advertised as cures, so long will misery, suffering and disease continue to exist in our midst."

When the sick and ailing look carefully and intelligently for a medium of cure and healing, they use Paine's Celery Compound, a scientific prescription given to suffering humanity by one one of the best physicians that ever lived.

Paine's Celery Compound, owing to its quick and marvellous cures in cases of nervousness, sleeplessness, dyspepsia, indigestion, rheumatism and neuralgia, has been raised to the highest pinnacle of fame. At the present time our best physicians prescribe it with confidence and pleasure. It is used by the very best Canadian people who would scorn to buy any of the trashy remedies so extensively advertised. All have faith in Paine's Celery Compound, knowing it is honest, safe and powerful to cure.

Dr. Barnardo's Boys.

A Brief Reference to Their Coming and Going and Their Homes and Prospects.

Mr. A. B. Owen, the energetic and wide-awake superintendent of Dr. Barnardo's boys home, Toronto, was in town to-day. He takes an active and intelligent interest in making himself an efficient intermediary between the boys and the clients whom he supplies. In conversation with a representative of the EXAMINER says that 600 boys have been placed this year in three squads, the last, numbering 111, having been four days in quarantine at Grosse Isle. One hundred of the boys were assigned to the Farm Home, Russell, Manitoba. There is a good and increasing demand in Ontario for Barnardo lads. The homes for the majority of the latest placed boys are generally superior to those heretofore provided. At the Manitoba farm there are 450 acres under crop and 300 heads of stock and kept The creamery department of the farm is particularly satisfactory, the butter made taking prizes at Winnipeg and western exhibitions.

With the last consignment of boys Mr. Owen brought out the fine musical band of nine boys who have been starring in Australia in the interests of the Home work, and the excellence of the music presented by them at their concerts is shown the fact that on the recent tour in Australia under the charge of Mr. J. B. Weakey, who is also with the boys now, the boys realize £12,000 and expenses for the benefit of the funds of the institution under whose auspices they were sent out. This band is in town at present and yesterday afternoon gave an entertainment at Hazel Brae, of which a report appears in another column of this issue.

A Startling Recital of a Determined Assault

On a Most Estimable Lady—A Fact That Should be Known by Everybody—Cause For Alarm Unless Prompt Action is Taken.

From Brockville Times.

Could those who walked this earth but fifty years ago reappear in the flesh but for a transient visit to the scenes of their earthly existence, what surprise and delight would await them. The wonderful discoveries that genius has evolved for the benefit of the race would puzzle and astonish them. In no one way has greater benefit been offered to the people of the present day than in the manner of perfect remedial agents for the cure of diseases. Following rapidly on the cure of the young man Norton, who has suffered for years from St. Vitus dance, by the use of two boxes only of Dr. Butler's Golden Pills, comes the same astonishing results of their use in the case of Mrs. H Cooper, of Springfield, Mo., a sufferer from nervous prostration, whose life was despaired of and whose story as related to a Times reporter is better told in her own words: "Up to within two years I enjoyed the best of health. Although living in a country in which malaria abounds, I never was a chronic sufferer from it. The ordinary dose of the specific Quinine usually dispersed the symptoms and I had better health than many of my neighbours. About two years ago the first inroad on my strength was made by a gradual decline of my appetite. In a short time I did not eat one good meal in three days. My nervous vitality sustained me for some time, but I gradually lost flesh. The doctor who was called in, one of the oldest practitioners in our town, prescribed for me and I took his medicines faithfully. They only afforded me temporary relief. My appetite did not return. I did not gain strength and I kept gradually getting worse. The severe and steady drain upon my nerve strength brought on finally that most dreaded of all nervous diseases, nervous prostration. Having read that our lunatic asylums were mainly recruited from those suffering from that dire disease added to my terror. My whole nervous system seemed to be in a state of utter collapse. I was very down and would have frequent fits of crying without any apparent reason. There were times when it was impossible for me to raise my hands to my head, and I began to despair of ever getting strong again. My husband suggested that I come north during the hot season, and visit my friends on the St. Lawrence. I did not think I could live through the trip, but remonstrance was of no avail. I was packed off in a Pullman and reached Brockville in a half dead and alive condition. I was at once advised to try Dr. Butler's Golden Pills, and more to please my friends than from any faith in them I began their use, one after each meal though my diet for the first two days could only by courtesy be called a meal, consisting of a little weak tea and crackers which served all my desire for food. After the fourth day my appetite improved and I longed for meal time to come round when I would discuss a piece of steak or chicken with great relish. a boon denied me for a very long time. I gradually grew stronger and increased in weight. I weighed 97½ pounds when I arrived and in less than four weeks I weighed 103 pounds. I continued to take Golden Pills with regularity during six weeks and now I feel well, cheerful and happy. I can most sincerely recommend Dr. Butler's Golden Pills to any one suffering from nervous exhaustion and general debility. In my case they appeared to possess the power of removing as if by magic that tired and worn out feeling replacing my despondency with cheerful vigor and restoring my long lost strength. I think I would be derelict of my duty did I not make my cure public.

The magical curative properties of Butler's Golden Pills is not confined to St. Vitus Dance or nervous prostration only; they are equally efficacious in all diseases dependent upon a vitiated condition of the nerves and blood, as Rheumatism, Palpitation of the Heart, Shortness of Breath, Asthma, Nervous Headache, Neuralgia, Paralysis, Locomotor Ataxia and all forms of Female Weakness, Suppressions, Irregularities and the many ills that attend women at the change of life, all Blood Diseases, Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Catarrh of the Throat and Stomach, Incipient Consumption and Chronic Erysipelas.

These Pills were formulated by a most distinguished practicner after years of trial and study. They are recommended as one of the most potent and effectual preparations for the cure of blood and nerve diseases. They are offered to the pub lic as a price that makes a course of treatment inexpensive. Never sold in bulk; always in packages wrapped in trade mark. No other remedy possesses such magical properties. Price 50 cents per box, or six boxes for $2.50. They can be had at all druggists, or by mail from Dr. Butler's Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

An Explanation.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—On my return home Saturday morning I saw reports in the papers of the town and heard of many weird and injurious rumours regarding the fraud committed on me and several Montreal fruit dealers by the abscounded Italian fruit vendors, of whom Joseph Balestro was the head. (Injurious I say because they to some extent would lead the public to imagine that as a business man, I was reckless and would imply a lack of business capacity.)

I beg to give a simple statement of my connection with them. They came here recommended by several Montreal men among them J. J. Vipond a wholesale fruit importer, from whose standing in business I should expect nothing but a correct report. Balestro & Co dealt with me from early in June. They paid a large account in cash in July, another in August, and from their off-handed way of doing business and their readiness to meet every demand I made on them for money, I could see no reason to distrust the integrity of their deal. When they first approached me I certainly told them my terms were spot cash, and cash I got to a considerable amount, and when credit I did give was based not only on Mr Vipond's guarantee as to their honesty, but also to some extent on the very prompt manner which they had met every demand I made on them up to a very short period before they left Peterborough.

I trust Mr. Editor you will kindly give me a space for this explanation and oblige,

Yours very truly,
M. T. CORBOM.

Methodist Missionary Members Meet.

They Leave This Morning for Belleville to Assemble in Three Days' Convention at Belleville.

The Central Branch of the Women's Missionary Society of the Methodist church will hold its annual convention in Belleville to-day, to-morrow and Thursday. The Bay City has prepared a warm reception for all the missionary workers and has arranged billets for them in several homes of the city. Those ladies who left Peterborough this morning at 8 20 o'clock as delegates to attend the convention were:—

George street church—Mrs. (Rev.) Locke, Mrs. J. Carlyle and Mrs Jas Kendry.

Two delegates from Uxbridge, Mrs. H. A. Crosby and Mrs. O'Neil, joined the party of local delegates at the station this morning.

The sessions of the great missionary body of ladies will be held in the Bridge street Methodist church and each evening there will be a local meeting. Some interesting services are looked to. An open meeting on Wednesday might well be addressed by Mrs. Gooderham, a returned missionary from Japan. Miss Hannah Land, Superintendent of Evangelistic work, will also address a public meeting during the stay of the ladies in Belleville. The delegates from Peterborough and vicinity will return on Friday.

Wm. Renwick, M.D., M.R.C.S.D., Victoria B.C., writes: I have used Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil in case of indigent patients with the most gratifying results. It does not upset the stomach, is easily assimilated and possesses undoubted power in rebuilding weakened constitutions, where the ordinary form of administering Cod Liver Oil is not admissable. For the future, whenever I have occasion to prescribe any preparation of Cod Liver Oil, I will give Miller's Emulsion the preference, being perfectly satisfied with its therapeutic efficacy. Although a child, I read in the papers about the beneficial effects of Ayer's Pills, and persuaded my mother to let me try them. With no great faith in the result, she procured and I began to use them, and soon noticed an improvement. Encouraged by this, I kept on till I took two boxes, when the sores disappeared and have never troubled me since."—H. Chipman, Real Estate Agent, Roanoke, Va.

"I suffered for years from stomach and kidney troubles, causing very severe pains in various parts of the body. None of the remedies I tried afforded me any relief until I began taking Ayer's Pills, and was cured."—Wm. Goddard, Notary Public, Five Lakes, Mich.

A Dedication Tea and Entertainment.

An opening tea was given in the new Baptist church on Park street last night. The attendance was very large, the neat edifice being crowded to the doors. Rev. J. E. Trotter, pastor of the Murray street Baptist church, presided, and after all had enjoyed the excellent tea provided so kindly by the ladies, from six to eight o'clock, the chairman made a few happy opening remarks. During the evening the choir of the Murray street Baptist church rendered a good programme. Rev. Mr. Ware, of Lindsay, was present and sang two solos in fine voice. Afterwards he delivered a brief humorous address. He congratulated the Baptists on their neat mission church, and gave some pointed remarks in reference to the duty of God's people towards missions. Rev. Mr. Bates of Campbellford, gave an address expressing his pleasure at being present, and with the events of the evening. Letters of regret were read from Revs. Geo. Edwards, Jos. H. Locke and others. During the evening a collection was taken up. The amount realized towards the building fund of the mission both last night and on Sunday was the handsome sum of $62. Regular service will be held in the mission each Sunday evening at 7 o'clock, Sunday school at 3 o'clock, and the Wednesday evening service at each week.

Mr. Fitzgerald started the bidding at 10c. for selections, and Mr. Clanton raised it to 10½, which offer was refused. Mr. Clanton offered 10¾ for the Peterborough Board and 10¾ for the Lindsay Board. After much delay and some juggling on the part of the buyers, all the Peterborough board sold unanimously, except Sheerer and Peterborough, at 10¾. Lindsay factories refused 10¾ when offered. Mr. Cook offered 10 5/16 for Peterborough and Sheerer for September. Mr. Clanton offered 10¾, and Peterborough and Sheerer sold. The number of estimated boxes made by the factories in the Lindsay district for October were then boarded and offers asked for the make of the Lindsay district factories for September and October, but none were made. Mariposa and Fenelon asked liberty to sell off the board, since the Lindsay district had not had an offer, and on motion the whole Lindsay district was allowed to sell off the board. It was decided to meet again in three weeks and make offer for the October make of cheese.

Sunday Sermons.

Preached by the Pastor of St. Andrews.

On Sunday morning a very fair congregation assembled in St. Andrew's church for worship. Rev. A. MacWilliams occupied the pulpit. The Rev. gentleman took for his text Colos. 3, 11, "Christ all, and in all." He divided his subject in two parts, dwelling only on the first part, and leaving the second part for his text next Sabbath morning. Before the sermon he referred to the Pan-Presbyterian Council held in Toronto. He said he had been present at its meetings all week, and said that never had there been a more harmonious assembly of divines in Canada than the Pan-Presbyterian Council. It was not at all like what it was represented by some of the papers, as some would lead the people to believe that the meeting was under false pretences, but a very beneficial and instructive meeting and said that he had derived great benefit from it, and hoped that the people would look for a correct account of it.

In the evening there was as usual a large congregration, Rev. Mr. MacWilliams occupied the pulpit and preached from the subject of the prodigal son. After detailing graphically his departure and its results, the state of want that followed and also the subsequent state of slavery, the preacher pictured his return home and the joy that return brought. He then applied this sketch to the Christian straying away from Our Heavenly Father but after seeing the folly returning back. The reverend gentleman was very earnest in his appeal to young men and women who should stray away, as the same thing happened in the present age as then. He urged them to take a higher, even an Heavenly guide with them who would shield them from all danger and harm.

In the morning the choir gallery was well filled. The anthem—"Our Lord is risen from the dead," was rendered with good effect. The solo in the anthem taken by Mr. Tilley was excellent.

In the evening the anthem—"Now pray we for our country," was sung with good effect by a full choir. During the collection a selection appropriate to the sermon entitled "Come," was taken as a duet very effectively by Miss Heubeck and Miss Harris the choir joining in full chorus.

Mr. Tilley who is a very energetic young man is preparing some special work in view of the Sunday School opening which is to take place very soon.

Valuable Park Lots in the Market.

This fifty acre block is the best fifty acre lot in the vicinity of Peterborough, and the most convenient to the town. If the town should decide to provide a fine and conveniently accessible park, the present is an opportune time to make the purchase, and the above lot is the finest site in the neighborhood of the town.

For the Good of Others

Rev. Mr. Williams Heartily Endorses Hood's Sarsaparilla.

We are pleased to present this from Rev. A. A. Williams, of the Sillsbee street Christian Church, Lynn, Mass.:

"I see no reason why a clergyman, more than a layman, who knows whereof he speaks, should hesitate to approve an

Article of Merit

and worth, from which he or his family have been signally benefited, and whose commendation may serve to extend those benefits to others by increasing their confidence. My wife has for many years been a sufferer from severe

Nervous Headache

for which she found little help. She has tried many things that promised well but performed little. Last fall a friend gave her a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla. It seems surprising what simply one bottle could and did do for her. The attacks of headache decreased in number and were less violent in their intensity, while her general health has been improved. Her appetite has also been better. From our experience we

Hood's Sarsaparilla

I have no hesitation in endorsing its merits."

A KNOTTY QUESTION
Which can only be Solved after Mature Deliberation.

Every father and mother, before buying Boots and Shoes for their children, should hold a consultation together and try and arrive at an answer to the following five questions:

1. What kind of boot do we want?
2. Are any to be got that will wear well?
3. Who keeps this kind?
4. Are these people reliable?
5. Can they afford to sell good boots cheap?

Having carefully analysed these questions to their satisfaction, why not decide to try

THE PARK STREET DRAIN.

Town Clerk Cobb reported as follows:

To the Mayor and Council:

GENTLEMEN,—I have examined the second petition referred to me re Park street drain in order to ascertain as required by the Act if the majority of the owners appearing on the last revised assessment roll, whose properties would be benefitted by the said drain, had signed the petition, and I now beg leave to report to on that the same is insufficiently signed. The petition would require to be signed by six additional persons to make a majority. The total number of persons whose property would be benefitted as far as I am able to ascertain is 116.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

JOHN R. COBB,
Town Clerk.

From R. H. Greer, market clerk, asking for improvements in the new market building and market square.—Referred to Market Committee.

From E. A. Peck, stating that he is instructed to bring the matter of the outfall of the Ellison sewer to the council's notice on the grounds that the outfall thus placed would create a nuisance, and in case the matter was pushed to apply for an injunction on behalf of Mr. A. McDonald—Referred to special Sewerage Committee.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

THOS. KELLY,

—Adopted.

HEALTH COMMITTEE'S REPORT.

Mr. Dawson presented the report of the Health Committee as follows:

To the Mayor and Council:

GENTLEMEN,—Your Health Committee beg leave to report and recommend that the George street sewer be flushed every week. your committee being of the opinion that if this is properly done there can be no ground of complaint.

Your committee has caused an inspection to be made at the point of the outfall of the sewer into the river at King street and find that the same discharges into deep water, there being no smell therefrom as alleged, that in the opinion of your committee could be considered injurious to the public health.

Your committee have further considered the question of the purchase of an ambulance as required by the local Board of Health and are of the opinion that the purchase thereof should be delayed for another year.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

ADAM DAWSON.

MR DAWSON said considerable reflection had been thrown on the town by the Board of Health in reference to the purchasing of an ambulance and the George street sewer matter. He had examined and found that the sewer emptied into fully three feet six inches of water in the river and all outflow was carried away. The sewer was in first class order and he had heard no serious complaints.

Mr. BRADBURN asked Mr. Dawson if he had considered the advisability of putting in traps and the probable expense. "We might try it anyway," said Mr. Bradburn, "we have one or two traps on hand."

Mr. DAWSON—No complaints are made of the sewer except in dry weather and we thought we would get Mr Jas. English to flush it once or twice every fortnight.

The report was adopted.

STREET AND BRIDGE MATTERS.

Mr. Cahill presented the report of the Street and Bridge Committee as follows:—

To the Mayor and Council:

GENTLEMEN,—Your Street and Bridge Committee beg leave to report as follows:—

1st. They recommend that the agreement made with the G.T.R. Co. in Oct. 1890 in reference to putting in protection gates at the Midland Railway crossings at Charlotte and Simcoe streets be ratified and that the clerk notify the railway company that this corporation is anxious that the gates be at once erected upon the conditions set forth in the said agreement. 2nd. That the Street and Bridge Inspector be instructed to build a walk in front of the new store on Albert street.

Your committee cannot at present recommend the granting of the drain asked for on Stewart street.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

THOS. CAHILL,
Chairman.

The clerk by request read the agreement between the town and Grand Trunk made in October, 1890

Mr. Ferguson moved, seconded by Mr. Meldrum, that the report be referred back to the committee to see what the town's expense in the matter would be and bring in their report—Carried.

THE FIRE, WATER AND LIGHT REPORT.

Mr. Meldrum presented the report of the Fire, Water and Light Committee:—

To the Mayor and Council:

GENTLEMEN, — Your Fire, Water and Light Committee beg leave to report and recommend that hydrants be placed at the following places in the town of Peterborough: On Gilmour street, between Park and Maughan Road, two hydrants; on corner of Locke and Maine street, one hydrant; on corner of Sherbrooke and Park streets, one hydrant; on corner of George street and Barnardo avenue, one hydrant.

Your committee have considered the advisability of the taking over by the town of the water works as provided for in the contract between the town and the water company, and would recommend that the required steps be at once taken pursuant to the contract with the company in order to acquire their works, your committee being of the opinion that it is in the best interests of the town that the waterworks should be owned and operated by them.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

W. H. MELDRUM
Chairman.

Mr. Meldrum moved, seconded by Mr. Ferguson, that the report be adopted.

Mr. Kelly moved in amendment, that the clause in reference to the waterworks be withdrawn and referred back.

Mr. Bradburn seconded Mr. Kelly's motion. He thought the probable cost of the waterworks purchase should be further considered. The committee had not given the matter enough attention.

Mayor KENDRY concurred in Mr. Bradburn's suggestion. The matter should be referred back. It would be best to collect all the information possible before taking action.

Mr. MELDRUM, in reply to the Mayor, said that was what the report was brought in for. No authoritative statement could be given outside of consulting the books of the company. The town was paying to-day as much as would pay the interest on the whole waterworks. It would be profitable, if this were so, that the town own the waterworks. This revenue should result to the town and help to reduce our debt.

Mr. FERGUSON said that if it was true that the waterworks were paying 7% dividend it would be wise for the town to own the waterworks. They could buy debentures at 4½ per cent. and 1% more would cover the sinking fund.

Mr. YOUNG was in favour of adopting the report and then referring it back to the committee to obtain the necessary information.

MAYOR KENDRY—By so doing, this report commits us.

The clause in reference to the waterworks was withdrawn and referred back to the committee. The remainder of the report was adopted.

CHARITY REPORT.

Mr. Winch presented the report of the Charity Committee as follows:—

To His Worship the Mayor and members of the Town Council:

GENTLEMEN.—Your Charity Committee beg leave to report that the amount of relief disbursed for the month of September, 1892, amounts to the sum of $95.34, divided as follows:

Ward No. 1, $17 49.
Ward No. 2, $55.85.
Ward No. 3 $8 00.
Ward No. 4, $14 00.

The parties receiving relief and the amount received appear by the statements herewith annexed.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

H. C. WINCH,
Chairman.

Mr. WINCH—I am glad to say that the charity expenditure is growing very much less each month.

THE MANUFACTURERS' COMMITTEE.

Mr. Bradburn presented the report of the Manufacturers' Committee as follows:—

GENTLEMEN —Your Manufacturers' Committee beg leave to report that a proposition in writing has been submitted to them by George Matthews requesting in the event of his premises at Peterborough being enlarged and costing an estimated expenditure on his part of $8000, that the assessment remain at the present figure. Your committee after consideration of the request decided to recommend that the same be granted in the manner recommended by the town solicitor and in accordance with the terms of the by-law which will be submitted to you for approval.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

I. E. BRADBURN,
Chairman.

The report was adopted and the clerk instructed to prepare a bylaw to exempt Mr. Matthews' establishments from taxation.

THE EDISON SEWER.

Mr. Best presented the report of the Special Committee as follows:

To the Mayor and Council:

GENTLEMEN,—Your special committee, appointed for the purpose of constructing the Edison sewer beg leave to report that pursuant to instructions received they advertised for tenders for the work, the result being that seven tenders were received from the following persons:—

John Farley	$1,627
Barns & McCormack	1,993
Charles Wynn	2,275
Wm. Jones	2,300
F. McKeown	3,497
W. Brocksaridge	3 600
J. J. Brealy	8,400

Your committee would recommend that the tender of John Farley at the price stated, $1 627 be accepted.

Your committee have arranged with the Standard Drain and Sewer Company for the supply of the required sewer pipe at 35c. per foot; junctions at $1.70 each, and bends at $1.50 each, and recommend that this offer be accepted.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

H. BEST.
Chairman.

The report was adopted.

THE MARKET SCALES BUILDING.

The account of Mr. Carveth, contractor, for $637 for the market scales building came up for consideration. The original contract of Mr. Carveth was for $485, but Mr. Winch, chairman of the Market Committee, explained that several necessary details had been omitted by the architect and hence the additional outlay. In revenue the town had, by the removal of the scales, got $50 for the rent of the grounds in the circus.

Mr. YOUNG, as chairman of the Property Committee, said it would take $75 to put the yard in shape in order to get out the fire engine from the back and this amount was chargeable to the Market Committee.

Mr. DAWSON blamed Mr. Winch for the extra amount it took to complete the contract. He never knew of a single case where the work did not cost the town more than the contract price.

Mr. WINCH said all the councillors had approved of the plans and he was not responsible for the additional cost of $152.

Mr. YOUNG thought that Mr. Winch should have called the committee together when these extra alterations were required and then brought the matter of additional expenditure before the council.

Mr. WINCH said, that calling the committee together would throw the men all out of work. He had consulted all the councillors he had met.

Mr. Cahill moved that the account be referred to the Market Committee with power to act. The account, as the Mayor said, had to be signed by the engineer.

Mr. YOUNG wished to know what about the $100 it would cost the Property Committee in order to get the fire engine out of the fire hall. When the report was referred to the committee he wanted this considered.

Mr. Meldrum seconded Mr. Cahill's motion that the account be paid when properly certified to—Carried.

PARK STREET DRAIN.

Moved by Mr. Kelly, seconded by Mr. Young that the petition re the Park street drain be returned to the promoters in order that it may be signed by the requisite number of the owners of the property to be benifitted.

Mr. CAHILL said Mr. Kelly's motion would delay the matter until too late. Seven members had declared their intention of carrying the drain up as far as Sherbrooke street. It would be in the interest of all concerned if the council would adopt his former motion of granting $500 to the drain, together with the $1000 which the Town Trust had agreed to give. This would take the drain as far as Bolivar street. He would be glad to see 100 feet built this fall for the suffering people—it would make it so many feet less. If his former motion carried the work could be finished this month.

Mr. KELLY intended to oppose the construction of the Park street drain until it could be built at once and not in sections. It should be built as a whole and assessed as a whole.

Mr. Best moved, seconded by Mr. Winch, that the drain from the present Edison drain on Park street be continued along Park Park to Sherbrooke street, and that the corporation sell the broken front lot at the junction of Park street and Sherbrooke street, and the proceeds be applied upon the construction of the above drain, or so far as the proceeds of the above lot will build the above mentioned drain.

Mr. Kelly's motion was put and carried.

Before Mr. Best's motion was put, after much discussion. Mr. Meldrum moved in amendment, seconded by Mr. McIlwain, that the drain on Park street be built from Sherbrooke street south, so far as the money derived from the broken front would carry it.

Mr. Cahill moved in amendment to the amendment that $500 or the amount appropriated by the report of the Street and Bridge Committee some months ago be employed in constructing that part of that portion of the drain from Wolfe to Sherbrooke streets provided the commissioners of the Town Trust will give $1000 for the same purpose and that none of said sums be expended on private property.

After some discussion Mr. Cahill's amendment to the amendment was put and lost. Mr. Meldrum's amendment was then put and also lost. Mr. Best's original motion was then put and lost also, the whole three motions being lost and the Park street drain matter standing just where it was.

A BY LAW SESSION.

Mr. Bradburn introduced two by-laws—one to exempt from taxation the addition to Mr. Geo. Matthews' manufacturing establishment in the town of Peterborough and another bylaw to grant aid to the West Riding of Peterborough Agricultural Society. Both bylaws were passed, the latter giving $100 to the West Riding Agricultural Society.

PUBLIC SCAVENGERS.

Mr. Cahill moved, seconded by Mr. Best, that the council is of the opinion that it is in the interest of public health that at least two public scavengers should be employed and paid by the general expense for the purpose of having the town thoroughly cleansed of all filth before the frost sets in and that the Health Committee be instructed to consult the Board of Health and that they have the power to forthwith carry out the purport of this resolution.

Mr. Cahill said it was the only way the town could be effectually cleaned. This would not interfere with the inspector or staff at present.

Mr. Cahill's motion carried.

OTHER MATTERS.

Moved by Mr. Meldrum, seconded by Mr. Best, that the travelling expenses of Mr. Ferguson to Toronto re sewerage, consulting with Mr. MacDougall, etc., amounting in all for two days, to $15.60 be paid.—Carried.

ASHBURNHAM TO PAY UP.

Moved by Mr. Ferguson, seconded by Mr. Dawson, that the town solicitor be instructed to collect forthwith the amount of the indebtedness due by the village of Ashburnham to the town of Peterborough.

Mr. FERGUSON said Ashburnham owed the town some $800 and the money should be paid. The village had not paid for fire protection for the past four or five years.

The motion carried.

Moved by Mr. Young, seconded by Mr. Meldrum, that the Market Committee be authorized and empowered to have the yard behind the town stables properly graded, planked, etc., so as to enable the firemen to use the extension of the building for the purposes originally intended, cost not to exceed $40

Mr. McILWAIN was in favor of having the yard blocked. It would be more healthy.

The motion carried.

Mr. H B Meharry was heard in reference to the regulating of the plan of Jackson and Lafayette streets which had been agreed to be taken over as soon as properly graded and which the street inspector had certified had been done satisfactorily.

Mr. Bradburn moved, seconded by Mr. Meldrum, that the request of Mr. Meharry be granted and that the same be taken over pursuant to the terms of the by-law previously before the council.—Carried.

Council then adjourned.

"We will leave it as it is until it can be removed safely."

"I think it would be better so. At day-break I visited the victims. Judith still sleeps, but is alive, the other four are resting the eternal rest. They will have to be buried. It almost seems as if Ishmael had power over them still, and had made their spirits seek his greater spirit in the life beyond."

"We will bury them to-day. We will then shut up the cave and all go home to Montreal. As soon as I settle you in a house, I will finish the journey my coming here interrupted. At Buckhorn we can get Zell clothes that will enable her to reach home without comment."

"What journey, Terry! You never told me why you came here."

Terry told of the will, and his trip as far as the cave.

"And I will have to stay alone in Montreal all that time."

"No. Shem will be with you, and you will meet many friends. We will have my friend Jack Boyd live with you to take care of you. He is a splendid fellow. One of the kind Shem means when he said there are those who to look at moves even him. He is a good talker too."

"Shem, where is Father Ambrose? Does he know we are going away. If he should come and no one here."

Shem drew his hand over his eyes, then looked to Terry for help.

"Tell her all, Shem."

Then Shem repeated what he had told Terry while Zell had been preparing Zanea for burial. At the close Terry said to her:

"So you see, Zell, you had a father, and a sister, near you all that time."

"I cannot realize Father Ambrose and Ishmael were one. That is a great loss to me, the loss of Father Ambrose. He was with me always, and yet he was only Ishmael, whom you call my father. I cannot think of saying Father Ishmael. It was Father Ambrose who was my father, and I will never see him again, never hear him speak in his kind, gentle voice. Terry, you seem to think I ought to be glad that I had a father and a sister in Ishmael and Zanea, but Father Ambrose was both to me for twenty years. Shem and he were more to me than Ishmael and Zanea; they were my father, sister, mother. Oh, Shem, I love you! I am so glad you were left me rather than Ishmael and Zanea."

Three days had passed, and the three were standing on the shore by the yellow canoe. Judith had died, causing a delay, but all were ready now for departure. Terry, with most charming carefulness, helped Zell into the large boat that lay alongside the yellow canoe. This boat had been supplied with wraps and pillows for Zell's comfort. He then stepped into his own.

"I will take the lead, Shem. I am very sorry to leave the Tarn. I have lived the best month of my life here, and regret having to leave."

They paddled to the entrance of the pass, then all turned to take a farewell look at the only place Zell had ever seen, then on into the darkness. Lights were lit, and the journey out was not so silent as the journey in had been, and Terry found he liked to be with Zell better than alone. They ate, talked, laughed, and Shem and Terry took turns in sleeping. Then they floated into the cave at the mouth of the pass, and on into Deer Bay. Zell clapped her hands in joy to be in the sun again.

Great Discoveries.

The astronomers who discover a new star, the scientist who finds a new fact, or the geologist who alights upon a new species of fossil, becomes deservedly famous; but the actual good such discoveries do is nothing when compared to the finding of a medicine which is an infallible cure for certain diseases. Such a discovery was made nearly half a century ago by an Eastern gentleman named Perry Davis, and his preparation is known to the world as PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER. It is a sure cure for Diarrhœa, Cramps, Cholera Morbus, Cholera, and, indeed, all bowel complaints. 25c. only for big 2 oz bottle.

"German Syrup"

Croup. We have selected two or three lines from letters freshly received from parents who have given German Syrup to their children in the emergencies of Croup. You will credit these, because they come from good, substantial people, happy in finding what so many families lack—a medicine containing no evil drug, which mother can administer with confidence to the little ones in their most critical hours, safe and sure that it will carry them through.

ED. L. WILLITS, of Alma, Neb. I give it to my children when troubled with Croup and never saw any preparation act like it. It is simply miraculous.

Mrs. JAS. W. KIRK, Daughters' College, Harrodsburg, Ky. I have depended upon it in attacks of Croup with my little daughter, and find it an invaluable remedy.

Fully one-half of our customers are mothers who use Boschee's German Syrup among their children. A medicine to be successful with the little folks must be a treatment for the sudden and terrible foes of childhood, whooping cough, croup, diphtheria and the dangerous inflammations of delicate throats and lungs. ●

THE MURDER OF THE BORDENS.

Mysterious Robbery in the House Previous to the Murder

FALL RIVER, Mass., Oct. 3.—New light that will no doubt have an important bearing on the trial of Lizzie Borden has been thrown upon the robbery of the murdered Mr. and Mrs. Borden, which occurred June 24, 1891. The facts of this robbery had been kept secret and were not brought to the public notice until after the mysterious murder of the old couple. The police after a long investigation of the matter were perfectly satisfied that they could place the thief under arrest, but this never occurred, because, it is stated, Mr. Borden declined to press the charge. Captain (then Inspector) Desmond and Inspector Perron were put on the case. They found that none of the members of the family had been away from the house during the day. All the doors as far as they knew were locked the night before, when the articles were safe in the desk. The burglary was committed some time in the forenoon. The first clew the inspectors found was a door at the head of the stairs which opens into Mr. Borden's room. A ten-penny nail was found sticking from the key-hole. The head of the nail was on the outside of the door. It was first thought that the lock had been picked, but a minute examination showed that it had not been tampered with at all. A thorough search of the premises failed to reveal any traces of the burglars. The officers reported what they had learned to Mr. Borden, and later had a talk with Mrs. Borden, Lizzie Borden, Emma Borden and Bridget Sullivan. Finally the inspectors sent for Mr. Coden, and told him that they could arrest the thief at any time. They told Mr. Borden something which astonished him, and the case dropped very quickly at the old gentleman's request. The facts concerning this mysterious robbery, it is understood, will be more thoroughly elucidated at the trial, and are expected to form an important part of the Government case.

THE UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO.

It was Opened Without Any Ceremony Whatever.

CHICAGO, Oct. 3.—The great new University of Chicago quietly set about its educational work Saturday without a formal opening or ceremony of any kind. Extreme simplicity marked the first work of the institution such as will be recorded as unique in the history of colleges. "It was my desire that there should be no ceremony to-day," said President Harper when questioned this evening, "and I am more than satisfied with the start we have made. I believe in doing, not talking, and have observed that the results are better."

Labby's Little Joke.

One day an aggressively irate countryman of the young attache with a grievance presented himself at the legation and demanded to see the British Minister. He was shown into Mr. Labouchere's room, who, with the suavity which never deserts him in the most pressing moments, explained that his excellency was not in.

"Well," said the visitor, evidently suspecting an attempt to bluff, "I must see him and will wait till he comes."

"Very well," said Mr. Labouchere. "Pray take a chair," and he resumed his writing. At the end of an hour the Britisher, still fretting and fuming, asked when the Minister would be back.

"I really cannot say, exactly," the attache answered.

"But you expect him back?" the visitor insisted.

"Oh certainly," said Mr. Labouchere.

At the end of another hour the irate visitor, bouncing up, insisted on knowing what were the habits of the Minister at that period of the day. Was he likely to be in in another hour?

"I think not," said Mr. Labouchere, with an increased blandness; "the fact is, he sailed for Europe on Wednesday, and can hardly yet have reached Queenstown. But you said you would wait till he came, so I offered you the chair."

A Horse Soldier.

Uncle—What are you going to be when you grow up, Johnny?

Johnny—A soldier.

Uncle—Ah, indeed! A horse soldier, or an infantryman?

Johnny—Oh! a horse soldier, of course.

Uncle—Why of course?

Johnny—'Cos it will be so much easier to run away when they begin to fight.

GENTLEMEN,—I suffered for three days very severely from summer complaint and could not get relief but kept getting worse and worse till the pain was almost unbearable and I become very weak. THE BEST FAMILY PILL IN USE

Keep the Works in good order.

NORMAN, Ont., January 15, 1890.

W. H. COMSTOCK, Brockville, Ont.

DEAR SIR,—Your "Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills" are the best regulator for the system that humanity can use. Life is as the time-piece: frail and delicate are many of its works. A tiny particle of foreign substance adheres to the smallest wheel in the works, and what is the result?—at first only a slight difference is perceptible in its time-keeping, but wait you; as the obstruction grows, the irregularity becomes greater, until at last, what could have been rectified with little trouble, in the beginning, will now require much care in thoroughly cleansing the entire works. So it is in human life—a slight derangement is neglected, it grows and increases, imperceptibly at first, then rapidly, until what could, in the beginning, have been cured with little trouble, becomes almost fatal. To prevent this, I advise all to purify the system frequently, by the use of Morse's Pills, and so preserve vigor and vitality.

Yours faithfully,
H. F. ATWELL.

THE CHOLERA RECORD.

No New Cases At New York and the Patients Convalescing.

QUARANTINE, Oct. 3.—The following steamships arrived at quarantine Sunday: Pharos from Liverpool, Orinoco from Bermuda, Eastgate from Progreso, and the Alps from Trinidad.

The only European passenger steamer which arrived was the French liner La Gasgogne, from Cherbourg, with 417 cabin passengers—all well aboard. The La Gasgone was detained until 4 o'clock in the afternoon, when she was allowed to proceed, the cabin passengers' baggage being all thoroughly disinfected.

At lower quarantine the steamer Bohemia is all that remains of the cholera fleet. Her passengers, who were removed to Hoffman Island, were all reported well this afternoon. Dr Abbott reports all well at Swinburne Island. The patients are all convalescent.

Cholera-Infected Hides.

BUDAPEST, Oct. 3.—It is officially announced that this city is infected with cholera. The authorities state that the disease was introduced here through the medium of imported hides. This fact was established through an investigation which proved that railway workmen who had handled the hides in question were the first persons to be attacked with the disease. Twelve fresh cases and five deaths occurred here yesterday.

Decreasing in Holland.

ROTTERDAM, Oct. 3.—Only one death from cholera occurred here Sunday and no new cases of the disease were reported. In Maasen three cases of cholera were reported to the health officials to-day.

The statistics of the plague show that throughout Holland during the last 24 hours there were 11 fresh cases and five deaths.

Ten Deaths in Paris.

PARIS, Oct. 3.—Many persons continue to be attacked daily by cholera in this city and suburbs and the total death list is being steadily augmented. According to yesterday's returns there were 35 fresh cases and 10 deaths from the plague.

Returns from Hamburg.

HAMBURG, Oct. 3.—The cholera statistics show that 43 fresh cases and 21 deaths occurred in this city Saturday.

Twenty-five Deaths in St. Petersburg.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 2.—In this city Saturday 25 new patients were reported and 25 deaths occurred from cholera.

Peru and Chili to Quarantine Strictly.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—United States Minister Hicks at Lima, Peru, reports to the State Department that Peru and Chili are very liable to follow Colombia in the establishing of a strict quarantine against European and American ports. This will place such an embargo on commerce as to completely paralyze trade and prevent even the interchange of mails. As the summer season is almost at hand in these countries they fear that an outbreak could not be checked.

Embargo on Passenger Traffic.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—The Secretary of State is informed by cable that the Hamburg-American Steamship Line has decided to transport at present no cabin passengers from Hamburg, and that the North German Lloyd Company will at present carry no more steerage passengers.

An Important Omission.

The mother's suspicions were aroused and that night when the young man left the house, and the daughter came up stairs, she interviewed her.

"Elizabeth," she said sternly, "didn't I hear Mr. Smipley kissing you in the parlor as I came along the hall?"

"No, mamma, you didn't," responded the daughter emphatically.

"Well, didn't he try to kiss you?" persisted the mother.

"Yes, mamma," demurely.

The mother spoke triumphantly.

"I knew it," she said. "Did you permit him to do so?"

"No, ma'am, I did not. I told him you had always taught me that I should not permit any young man to kiss me."

"That was right, that was right, my dear," said the mother encouragingly. "And what did he say to that?"

The girl blushed but was undaunted.

"He asked me if you had ever told me I was not to kiss a young man."

The mother began to feel that possibly she had omitted a vital link in the chain of her instructions.

"What did you tell him?" she asked nervously.

"I said I didn't remember it, if you had."

The girl stopped and the mother broke out urgently:

"Well, go on, go on."

"I guess that's what you heard, mother," and the daughter waited for the storm to burst.

POISON IN THEIR DRINK.

New Cincinnati Courtesans Incapacitate Their Victims.

CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 4.—The police are investigating a number of mysterious deaths from poisoning. Three days ago a printer named Frank Randall died at the City Hospital. The post mortem revealed evidence of arsenical poison. About the same time Eugene Lennon died, and the analysis showed traces of poison. Both men had been drinking the night they took ill with dissolute women in an Over the Rhine concert hall. In both cases the men became dazed at the wine tables and were hustled away to the women's apartments. Randall was known to have $100 with him which he had taken from a bank that afternoon. Lennon also had money. Both were penniless when taken to the hospital. Coroner Bange has a theory that many of the women who frequent the concert halls carry small pills of poison which they hold concealed in the crease of the bent little finger. As they clink glasses the tiny messenger of death is dropped into the goblet of the dupe. After being robbed the men are put on the street. Randall and Lennon must have been given extra large doses of poison.

WAS HE MURDERED IN NEW YORK?

A Wealthy Citizen of Colorado Said to Have Been Killed and Robbed.

DENVER, Col., Oct. 4.—John Reese, an old pioneer in Colorado, who was worth $600,000, has been murdered in New York city and robbed of from $3000 to $4000, which he was in the habit of carrying with him, because of his lack of faith in banks. Reese was 84 years of age and had accumulated his fortune through gaining possession in early days of much real estate in this city, and, besides landed property and ready cash, he is known to have invested $20,000 in government bonds, which are now hidden in some place selected by the old man.

Reese lived in a suburb of Denver called Colfax. He had often made known his desire to visit Wales, where he was born. Being of an enfeebled mind he was controlled by his relatives, and they knowing his childish ways permitted him to start alone on the long journey. He left here on April 19 last, and as nothing was heard of him for several months an investigation was set afoot by his relatives here. John Reese, junior, went to New York a few days ago. He found first his father's hat and valise and then he found the body. He also made the discovery that the old man had been murdered and robbed. Young Reese is now on the way from New York to Denver. The intelligence of the finding of his father's remains was conveyed in a private despatch received here by his sister, and no further particulars are obtainable now as to the circumstances surrounding the murder and robbery.

A GOLD CURIST SHOOTS HIMSELF.

A Wealthy Young New Yorker Found Dead in His Apartments.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—J. Barlow Moorehead, a young man reputed to be worth half a million dollars, and recently a Keeley-cure patient, committed suicide yesterday, shooting himself through the heart at his boarding house, No. 56 West 35th-street. The suicide was not discovered until Garland Goden, an actor, called to see Moorehead in the afternoon. Moorehead was but 21 years of age, made several trips around the world and managed a theatrical company in Europe. Actor Gaden became acquainted with Moorehead a year or so ago.

Young Moorehead spent six months at the Keeley Institute at Philadelphia and was discharged as cured. He told Goden that if he ever touched drink again he would blow out his brains. He returned to the drinking habit some weeks since.

HE WRESTLED IN PRAYER.

But The Prayers Did Not Produce The Wanted Funds of The Iron Hall.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 4.—F. D. Somerby, who is trying to reorganize the Iron Hall on a new basis, addressed a meeting of about 600 people in this city last night. He had been warned that he would probably be given a rotten egg reception, and therefore a police guard was present.

His speech did not take well, particularly that part in which he declared, with tears in his voice, that after he was served with the injunction in the Iron Hall receivership proceedings he spent the entire night on his knees in prayer, during which the plan of the new order he is trying to start was revealed to him by light from heaven. He was frequently interrupted and the meeting was a disorderly one.

PHILADELPHIA WINS.

The Irish Cricketers Outplayed In the Quaker City.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 4.—When play in the International cricket match between the Irish team and All Philadelphia ceased on Saturday afternoon, the Irishmen had lost 3 wickets for 75 runs, leaving them 142 runs to make to win the match. But they were retired for a total of 193, 24 short of the 217 needed by them to win. In the two innings the Philadelphias scored 338 runs and the Irishmen 315. The score:

	1st Innings.	2nd Innings.	Total.
Philadelphia.....	157	181	338
Ireland.....	123	193	315

As the Irishmen won the first match by a margin of 127 runs at the conclusion of the second game to-day a third and deciding match was started with the visitors at the bat. When stumps were drawn at 5 o'clock the Philadelphians had captured 2 wickets for 51 runs.

SIXTEEN, AND A SUICIDE

A MERE YOUTH USES A PISTOL UPON HIMSELF.

Was in Possession of a Stolen Bicycle and Feared to Face the Exposure—Cycling On the Brain—The Books the Boy Read and the Company He Kept.

TORONTO, Oct. 5.—Ernest A. Knowland, 16 years of age, and employed as messenger boy by the Imperial Bank, committed suicide by shooting himself in the cellar of the bank at about 9 o'clock yesterday morning.

He was found by Caretaker Griffin at the north end of the cellar, while yet alive, with a bullet hole in his temple. He lingered for about an hour, but was in an unconscious condition.

On the wall written on a piece of wrapping paper was found this message:

Oct. 4, 1892, 9 a.m.

To the Officers of the Imperial Bank and my Brother:

The reason I have for dying is because I am mixed up in a bicycle affair. I hope to meet you all in heaven. Good bye. Please tell my brother, Union Insurance Company, Leader lane. I have the paying teller's revolver. I leave my keys for my brother Frank. Do not tell my mother. I know it will cause her death. I am going straight to heaven; yes, I am going home. Keep it from my mother. E. A. KNOWLAND.

How His Brother Got the News.

His brother, Frank Knowland, who is employed in W. A. Badenach's office, reached his place of employment at 9.15 and found the following letter sealed and addressed in lead pencil:

DEAR FRANK:

I am going to commit suicide because I have got mixed up in a bicycle scrape. Good-bye. Good bless you. I hope to meet you in Heaven. Don't tell mamma. E. A. KNOWLAND.

The letter had evidently been written at home and shoved through the letter slip as Ernie went down to the bank at 8.30. Scribbled in blue pencil on the envelope, apparently at the last moment, were the words:

"See Mr. Wells of Chas. Stark Company about this."

Frank immediately ran with all speed to Charles Stark & Co.'s to find out about it, not realizing that his brother might kill himself at the bank. He saw Mr. Wells and heard the following story, which indicates the cause of the boy's taking his life:

The Story of the Bicycle.

On Sept. 7, a Black Prince bicycle, with Laforce tire, belonging to Mr. Bruce Robinson, was stolen from the hallway of Charles Stark & Co. The matter was reported at police headquarters, and Detective Slemin took charge of the case. It could not be located until on Sunday afternoon, Mr. W. J. Wells, an employe of Stark's, who sees every bicycle which passes through their hands, met Ernest Knowland riding the wheel in Queen-street. As there are only one or two such wheels in the city he made no bones about interrogating Knowland as to where he got it. He told a straightforward tale to the effect that he had it on trial and was going to purchase it, paying $10 down and instalments of $5 per month until paid for. Mr. Wells was inclined to believe the story, except that the boy said he knew nothing of the owner of the wheel, neither his name nor address, but thought he lived in Markham-street. He told Knowland that it would be worth his while to find the man who wanted to sell him the wheel, and at 5.30 on Monday evening Knowland telephoned to Wells that he would call on him that evening. He had not come.

Frank Knowland at once hurried down to the bank to see if his brother was there and found that his life was already taken.

Popular In the Bank.

Ernest Knowland's duties were those of messenger boy, and he had to register the time that every employe came in the mornings. He was very popular among the bank officials. He was a stocky-built English boy of fair complexion and small for his age. He was formerly in the employ of the Great Northwestern Telegraph Company.

His mother is a widow, now in the hospital, and up to a short time ago the brothers had boarded together. On Sept. 15, however, Ernest went to board with Mrs. Lizzie Aldridge of 51 Trinity-square.

Mrs. Aldridge was seen by a reporter last evening and stated that she became acquainted with Ernie through his friendship for her son George, a boy in the employ of the Queen's Hotel. The two were almost inseparable and she had got to look on Ernest as her own. He had had a bicycle for several months; she had once asked George how Ernest came by it, and he said that the officials of the bank had given it to him. Long before he came to board with her he had been in the habit of leaving his bicycle at her house when he did not have it at the bank.

About a month ago Ernest rode up to the house one day and asked how she liked his new wheel. He said he had traded off the old one and got $5 to boot; she gave him a slight rebuke for selling what had been a present from the gentlemen at the bank. Ernest took off the iron guards over the wheels and the tool bag, which are now in the room he used to occupy.

On Saturday night Ernest had bought a new serge suit, and George had done so, too. The boys had taken the bicycle off in the afternoon for a ride and did not bring it back. On Monday two gentlemen had called at the house to see the wheel which they wanted to buy. On Monday night, the one before his death, he was unusually quiet and in reply to Mrs. Aldridge's questions said he meant to sell the wheel for $50. He was accustomed to read the paper aloud to her, but did not do so and seemed very quiet, but when he went to bed he went in and talked to her boys for a while. At breakfast yesterday morning he was quiet, but seemed in good spirits; Mrs. Aldridge urged him to try and come home to dinner at noon. He said he would come that day. It was amazing to Mrs. Aldridge that he should have written the letter to his brother Frank, which he must have done before he came down to breakfast. He got her son Walter, a little boy of 11, to accompany him part of the way to the office and had pressed his watch upon him, asking him to keep it a while for him.

A reporter was afforded a view of the room where Ernest made the resolve of ending his life. It was neat and of good size. A number of books and magazines were there, which it was his habit to read in bed. There was not one dime novel, but all the books indicated a boyish and wholesome taste for adventure. One was a present from Mr. J. H. Eddis, an official of the bank; another from Williamson & Co., who bank at the Imperial. He seems to have had cycling on the brain. A great many copies of Cycling and numbers of The Boys' Own Paper and Outing showed the trend of his thoughts.

Manager Wilkie said last evening that he was unaware of a bicycle having been given to the boy by the bank.

It looks as if there was some third party who was primarily responsible for the bicycle steal mentioned above.

TENNYSON PASSING AWAY.

The Great Poet is Sinking and Cannot Live.

LONDON, Oct. 5.—A telegram sent from Haslemere at 11 p.m. says:

Lord Tennyson is quite prostrate. It is not likely that he will survive the night.

The Queen has telegraphed to Haslemere at brief intervals enquiring as to Lord Tennyson's condition.

Living This Morning.

LONDON, Oct. 5.—A despatch from Haslemere, sent at 4.15 a.m., says that the condition of Lord Tennyson is unchanged.

TWO KILLED, FIVE WOUNDED.

A Freight Train Strikes a Crowded Street Car.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 5.—A switch engine backing south with three loaded cars of freight on the Cincinnati, Washington and Baltimore road at Harrison-avenue last night struck a John-street horse car, killing two people and wounding five, badly shaking up 25. The switchman at the crossing permitted the street car to attempt to cross the track, and the freight cars struck the rear platform, on which were seven persons, cutting off the end of the car as smoothly as if with a razor. Two of the seven on the platform were killed, one and perhaps two were fatally injured and all the others were dangerously hurt. The dead are John Fries, aged 22, thrown under railroad cars and cut in two. John L. Murray, crushed chest and spine, died on arrival at hospital.

The dangerously injured are: Barney Fitzpatrick, back and spine injured dangerously; William Howard Johnson of Fairmont, skull fractured, the right leg broken, probably fatally hurt; Jacob Denhart, a 15-year-old boy, left leg crushed, very serious. The slightly injured are: Jacob Hermann and Jacob Spetnagle.

HOW COLORED PEOPLE "REVIVE."

Bullets Instead of Religion Poured Into the Congregation.

FULTON, Mo., Oct. 5.—Three men were killed, a woman fatally wounded and several persons shot, but not mortally wounded, at a colored revival meeting at Stephens Stone, a small town 20 miles northwest of here, on Sunday evening.

On Saturday a colored youth, Mike Turner, whipped another negro boy. The latter swore vengeance and on Sunday afternoon he entered the meeting and drawing a revolver began to fire at Turner. His first shot pierced the abdomen of a colored woman named Keys and his second mortally wounded her husband. Several of those present drew revolvers and took sides for and against the boy who started the shooting. The women screamed and fled in all directions, while the men were blazing away at each other. When the smoke cleared away two men were dead and several wounded. Keys died yesterday, and Mrs. Keys cannot live. It is learned that one of the negroes was cut to pieces.

AMERICAN'S SCHOOL QUESTION.

And an Emissary From the Pope Comes to Look Into It.

CHICAGO, Oct. 5.—Pope Leo is sending a "delegate apostolic" to this country, Mgr. Satolli, president of what is known at the Vatican as the Academy for Noble Ecclesiastics, a celebrated training school for ecclesiastical diplomats. Mgr. Satolli's object will be to obtain reliable statistics of the Catholic population in the United States and to inform himself as to the growth and influence of the church here.

It is said by those who know whereof they speak, however, that the apostolic delegate, who is to leave Rome forthwith, has been invested with other powers than those requisite for the fulfilment of these simple duties.

In this connection it is pointed out that the meeting of the American archbishops, which was fixed some time ago to take place in New York early this month, has been postponed until November.

The school question is the main issue to be discussed at the archbishops' conference, and the divergence of views is regarded as so marked as to render desirable the presence of an authorized agent from Rome.

TURNED HIS BACK ON THE CHURCH.

The President of Ohio University a Believer in Evolution.

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 5.—Dr. W. H. Scott, president of the Ohio State University, sent a letter to the Methodist Conference at Portsmouth withdrawing from the conference and returning his letter of ordination. He does so, he says, because of consciousness that he ought to "enter upon a freer and larger religious life." He had not been suspected of departing from the orthodoxy of his church.

Dr. Scott addressed the students in chapel at length to-day upon his action. He explained that he had left the church because he did not believe in its tenets as to method of creation, he tending rather to the evolution theory.

Fifty-two Horses Burned.

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—Fire in a livery and boarding stable in 71st-street yesterday burned up 52 horses. Two firemen were seriously injured. Loss $12,000.

A Prominent Northwest Legislator Dead.

WINNIPEG, Man., Oct. 5.—Word has just been received here of the sudden death of Joel Reaman, member of the Cabinet of the Northwest Legislature. He was the oldest member of the House and prominent in all public affairs.

The Prussian Ministry Object to Von Caprivi's Course.

BERLIN, Oct. 5.—Some of the papers of this city comment upon a reported difference between Chancellor Von Caprivi and the Prussian Ministry arising from the former's laying the Army Bill before the Bundesrath prior to the discussion of the provisions of the measure by the ministers.

The National Zeitung contends that the union of the King of Prussia and the German Emperor in one person is only possible when the Prussian ministry is able to explain its views to the King before he, as an Emperor, gives assent to imperial bills. The Vossische Zeitung blames the severance of the functions of the Imperial Chancellor from those of the Prussian premier for the existing friction and predicts a Government crisis.

TEMPTING CHOLERA.

A Russian Pilgrimage May Cause Another Outbreak.

MOSCOW, Oct. 5.—Thirty thousand pilgrims have started from the Kremlin for Troitza, to celebrate the 500th anniversary of the death of St. Sergius. They are accompanied by 1000 of the clergy bearing sacred symbols and images. The pilgrims passed Monday night in the village of Mitishachij in the open air. Their kerosene lamps revealed a weird scene. For three miles along the road the pilgrims were huddled together in groups, sleeping on sacks of bracken bread. The whole distance is 40 miles. It is expected 100,000 pilgrims will assemble at the Troitza monastery. Cossack regiments are leading and guarding the procession. St. Sergius was the chief actor in the 14th century struggle to throw off the Tartar yoke.

Figures From Hamburg.

LONDON, Oct 5.—According to The Standard's Hamburg correspondent Hamburg's cholera figures for Tuesday are. New cases 49, deaths 11, burials 131, patients in hospitals 813.

Dying Out in Holland.

AMSTERDAM, Oct. 5.—There have been reported in Holland yesterday 10 new cases of cholera and seven deaths.

Dr. Bryce Protests.

DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 5.—Dr. Bryce of the Ontario Board of Health attended a meeting of the local board here yesterday. He expressed indignation that immigrants should be quarantined at Windsor, as it was a great hardship to them and also an injustice to Canada. He further intimated that Ontario might adopt retaliatory measures if its just protests were disregarded. He said they could refuse Michigan-bound immigrants admission at Niagara Falls. The local board voted to accept certificates from Quebec, but said that the state was responsible for the present system of inspection.

DEMOCRATS WIN.

Mitchell Elected Governor by a Majority of 25,000.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Oct. 5.—The vote of the State is hardly as heavy as expected. This is accounted for by the fact that the poll tax requirements kept down the aggregate of qualifications in all parties. At 11 p.m. reports had been received from every county in the state, and from actual returns, coupled with careful conservative estimates, they show that Mitchell (D.) has a majority in all ranging from 3000 in Hillsborough (his home county) to 20 in Baker County, where the third party hoped for a victory by 100 majority. The footings of the estimated majorities indicate that Mitchell's majority in the state will be not far from 25,000. His vote will probably run to 31,000 and Daskin's will not exceed 6000.

ANNEXATIONISTS AT INNERKIP.

Goldwin Smith, Elgin Myers and Others Address the Meeting.

WOODSTOCK, Oct. 5.—Mr. Goldwin Smith addressed a public meeting yesterday in the Town Hall at Innerkip on freedom of speech. James Anderson, reeve of township and president of North Oxford Reform Association, acted as chairman. The attendance was less than 200, but was of a representative character. A number of Woodstock politicians were present and the program was carried out without any friction, although from the character of the meeting it might well be termed a political symposium.

Mr. Smith spoke about 20 minutes, stirringly condemning Sir Oliver Mowat for, as he alleged, attempting to interfere with free discussion of Canada's future.

Elgin Myers of Orangeville also spoke, defending his position and claiming equal right as the part of any citizen, whether County Attorney or private individual, to discuss Canadian relations with other countries. W. McGregor of Toronto also spoke.

Andrew Pattullo, editor of The Sentinel-Review, requested a hearing, and in the course of half an hour's speech warmly resented the annexation sentiment of the previous speakers.

Finally this resolution was carried: "Resolved, that this meeting protests against any interference with freedom of speech in regard to the question of our national future now before the Canadian people."

VERDICT OF "NOT GUILTY."

A Christian Scientist Acquitted Of a Grave Charge.

TORONTO, Oct. 5.—At the assizes yesterday Chas. Lougheed, a Christian Scientist, was put upon trial charged with causing the death, on April 19 last, of Robert John McCausland, 91 Marion-street.

Five days before his death the deceased, who has been suffering for the past 20 years with a disease of the liver, called into requisition the services of Mr. Lougheed.

The sick man, according to Dr. W. H. B. Aikins' statement, was deprived of proper nourishment, and hence the arrest of the Christian Scientist.

While standing in the dock the prisoner, who is a splendid specimen of humanity, seemed to fully realize the gravity of his position.

As it was clearly proven that the disease of which McCausland died was an incurable one, Judge MacMahon withdrew the case from the jury, ordering the return of a verdict of "not guilty."

John Stewart, who was arraigned on the same charge, was liberated by a like verdict.

The method of treatment in vogue among the Christian Scientists is to minister to ailments by mental argument.

A Stage-Struck Preacher.

BOSTON, Oct. 5.—A good deal of interest has been created in theatrical and church circles by the report that a Unitarian minister was about to discard his clerical vocation for that of an actor. The gentleman is the Rev. D. Crandon, well-known in religious circles in this city. Next Thursday he will make his first appearance before a Boston audience as "Richelieu."

Poison in the Food.

MARSEILLES, Oct. 5.—The British steamer Yorker, which arrived yesterday, reports that while she was in the Red Sea seven of her Arab stokers became sick shortly after eating one of their meals and died in three hours after suffering terrible agony. An autopsy disclosed the fact that they had eaten poisonous fish, which had been purchased at Perim.

Mrs. Harrison Not So Well.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5.—Mrs. Harrison's extreme nervousness has disturbed her rest during the past three nights and she was not feeling so well yesterday morning. It is stated, however, that no new symptoms have developed.

How Pure Apple Cider is Made.

A Visit to Mr. D Knox's Cider Making Establishment—Sketch of the Process That Produces Pure Cider.

The hot weather and consequently the soda water season ends with Mr. D. Knox, at his establishment on Queen street with September. To keep himself profitably busy at an otherwise comparatively idle season, he has introduced the latest and most improved cider-making plant procurable and every appliance is employed contributes to the end aimed at:—making that pure apple cider—not only pure as to being the unadulterated juice of the apple, but pure and clean in all the process of manufacture.

The apples used are procured from the farmers of the vicinity. They are purchased by the pound, cash being paid as they are manufactured into cider—the farmer receiving in payment as the price of his fruit one-third of the cider it yields. The apples are passed through a grinding machine at the rate of 150 bushels per hour. The crushed apple is placed in sacks and subjected to pressure. The cider flows from the vat and which removes every possible foreign matter. From this the cider passes by means of pipes to tanks in the cellar, in which it is kept the proper time and then racked off, when it is ready for the market or for being kept till needed for sale. The cider as it is drawn from the barrels when ready for use is pure and sweet, of a clear limpid amber colour. Mr. Knox has tank capacity for 10 000 gallons of raw cider. The cider is ready for the market when racked off, but if the demand should make it necessary, Mr. Knox has means without the use of any chemical expedient of keeping cider sweet from season to season, and will be offered for sale in bottles or kegs. At the Knox Cider Works apple grinding will continue in case the supply lasts till the first of December.

Any person who needs pure apple cider for domestic or drinking purposes can secure the real article at Mr. D. Knox's establishment, wholesale or retail, at the places where such beverages are kept.

First Ten Months of Baby's Life.

For the first ten months of baby's life it should be fed on Lactated Food, if it is deprived of its natural Food, breast milk. It is a grand mistake to suppose that solid foods are more nourishing because they are solid. Infants cannot properly absorb solid foods, as their organs of digestion are not fully developed.

It is owing to this foolish and ignorant system of feeding young infants that so many of them die before they are two years old.

When the baby must be fed with artificial food, use only the Lactated, and all will be well. Baby will rapidly gain in flesh, bone and muscle; it will sleep well, and become a joy in the home.

A Voice From the Canadian Press:

The Black Death!

The Secure of the East.

Grim Asiatic Cholera is marching with stealthy but steady strides to these Western shores.

The foe is at our doors. Sanitary science with powerful disinfectants, fumigations and rigid quarantine regulations, stands guarding our ports.

But this fell destroyer an pestilential wing seems to float in the very air, and defy all efforts to beat him back. Wherever there lingers impurity and putrefaction he takes up his abode, and the seeds of the pestilence germinate and multiply.

Public sanitary vigilance is imperative. Let the sewers be flushed and every form of impurity be swept away. Let the health of the community be maintained to the highest possible degree. But in addition to all this let every individual be on the alert

The human body has the most perfect and complete system of sewerage, defying the utmost art of man to rival.

A wise Creator has provided means for the eradication of all effete and impure materials from the human body.

Morse's Indian Root Pills is such a perfect combination of the best and most energetic remedies provided by a beneficent Providence for the purpose of cleansing the whole system, "flushing the sewers," rousing up the liver, the kidneys and the whole intestinal tract to their proper functions and at the same time imparting vigor and tone to the whole system, that it is with the utmost confidence that we recommend it to the public as the best preventive of the fearful ravages of that justly dreaded disease, Asiatic Cholera.

Change to Welcome.

GENTLEMEN,—For twenty years I suffered from rheumatism, dyspepsia, poor appetite, etc., and received no benefit from the many medicines I tried, but after taking five bottles of B.B.B. I can eat heartily of any food and am strong and smart. It is a grand medicine and has made a wonderful change in my health.

A Friend

Wishes to speak through the Register of the beneficial results he has received from a regular use of Ayer's Pills. He says: "I was feeling sick and tired and my stomach seemed all out of order. I tried a number of remedies, but none seemed to give me relief until I was induced to try the old reliable Ayer's Pills. I have taken only one box, but I feel like a new man. I think they are the most pleasant and easy to take of anything I ever used, being so finely sugar-coated that even a child will take them. I urge upon all who are of a laxative to try Ayer's Pills."—Boothbay (Me.) Register.

In Need

"Between the ages of five and fifteen, I was troubled with a kind of salt-rheum, or eruption, chiefly confined to the legs, and especially to the bend of the knee above the calf. Here, running sores formed which would scab over, but would break immediately on moving the leg. My mother tried everything she could think of, but all was without avail. Although a child, I read in the papers about the beneficial effects of Ayer's Pills, and persuaded my mother to let me try them. With no great faith in the result, she procured and I began to use them, and soon noticed an improvement. Encouraged by this, I kept on till I took two boxes, when the sores disappeared and have never troubled me since."—H. Chipman, Real Estate Agent, Roanoke, Va.

"I suffered for years from stomach and kidney troubles, causing very severe pains in various parts of the body. None of the remedies I tried afforded me any relief until I began taking Ayer's Pills, and was cured."—Wm. Goddard, Notary Public, Five Lakes, Mich.

The Lt.-Governor's Thanks to the Town.

The following letter was received to day by His Worship Mayor Kendry, and fully speaks for itself:—

GOVERNMENT HOUSE,
Toronto, October 3rd, 1892.

SIR,—I am directed by His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor to write and thank you and those gentlemen who kindly assisted, for the very cordial reception tendered to himself and Mrs. Kirkpatrick on the occasion of their recent visit to your town, the memory of which will not readily fade.

I have the honor to be sir,
Your obedient servant,
FRED'K J. LAW, C.R.N.,
Official Secretary.

His Worship the Mayor of Peterborough.

Our Growth.

With just pride we point to the two words at the head this article our growth, one of the most remarkable in the mercantile history of this town. In 1885 we commenced business in the small premises at 415 George street. This store occupied about 720 square feet. Almost immediately our business began to increase and six months later we were obliged to have extensions made. From that time until January 1890, the same untiring, perservering energy that compelled the first change to keep up with the increasing business, compelled change after change, addition upon addition, entailing considerable sums of money, and unlimited courage, grit and determination. Since removing to our premises three years ago, we have kept on, keeping one idea uppermost in our minds—to treat our customers honestly and fairly, and to give them the best stock of goods, and, if possible, the best store on George street. The result shows that the people of Peterborough, town and county, have been keenly alive to our efforts, helping us by their patronage, and believing in us and encouraging us. We take this opportunity of thanking you, one and all, good people of Peterborough for the seventh time in seven years, from the newest customer to the tried friends who commenced dealing with us away back in '85. From the 720 square feet in '85 to 4,720 square feet of selling space in 1892. That's the change. From a small store, selling a few small lines of dry good, to our present mammoth establishment with piles of dry goods of foreign and domestic textures reaching to the ceiling. Last October we treated our customers to an October discount sale. Now we intend doing so again. During this month we will conduct a regular bargain sale. On all purchases of $1 or over a discount of 5 per cent. will be given. Remember the store, No. 358 George street. Yours respectfully, J. J. SHERRY.

Don't delay upon the order of your buying, but buy at once.

THE EXAMINER'S NEW DRESS.

On Friday the DAILY EXAMINER will appear in an entirely new dress. Owing to the great amount of labour required in re-setting in one day in new type, the complete standing advertisements and other matter of the paper, which will require the work of our whole staff, the DAILY EXAMINER will not be issued to-morrow, but will re-appear on Friday as usual in a complete new dress; and we are sure that the improved appearance and generally improved readability of the paper will satisfactorily compensate for a day's omission of issue. The next issue of the Weekly will also appear in a new dress throughout.

Marriage of Mr. Wm. Rudkins and Miss Coty.

A very happy event took place at St. Andrew's Roman Catholic church, Oakville, on Tuesday, when Mr. William Rudkins of Peterborough, was united in marriage to Miss Mary Agnes Coty, daughter of the late Louis Coty, of Oakville, and sister of Rev. Father Coty, formerly of the Cathedral. The ceremony was performed by the Very Rev. Dean O'Connell, of Walkerton, uncle of the bride, assisted by Rev. J. H. Coty, of Hamilton, brother of the bride, and Rev. P. J. Rudkins, rector of St. Peter's Cathedral, brother of the groom. There were also present in the sanctuary Rev. E. P. Lakefield and Peterborough each Score One Goal at Association Football.

Peterborough Football team went out to Lakefield yesterday afternoon to play the return match with the Lakefield Club.

The home boys kicked with the wind in the first half, and after 30 minutes play the ball went outside for a corner kick. Hendron took the kick off, and Wasson headed it through the poles. Near the end of the second half the Lakefield boys scored, T. Ridpath doing the work. The Peterboroughs claimed a foul but their contentions were not allowed. The home team played a good game throughout. Hendren, Wasson, Kearns, McCabe and Christie did good work for Lakefield. J. and T. Ridpath, Hill, Friz and Clarke did fine kicking.

For the Good of Others

Rev. Mr. Williams Heartily Endorses Hood's Sarsaparilla.

We are pleased to present this from Rev. A. A. Williams, of the Sillsbee street Christian Church, Lynn, Mass.:

"I see no reason why a clergyman, more than a layman, who knows whereof he speaks, should hesitate to approve as

Article of Merit

and worth, from which he or his family have been signally benefited, and whose commendation may serve to extend those benefits to others by increasing their confidence. My wife has for many years been a sufferer from severe

Nervous Headache

for which she found little help. She has tried many things that promised well but performed little. Last fall a friend gave her a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla. It seems surprising what simply one bottle could and did do for her. The attacks of headache decreased in number and were less violent in their intensity, while her general health has been improved. Her appetite has also been better. From our experience with

Hood's Sarsaparilla

I have no hesitation in endorsing its merits."

Your committee recommend the payment of the account of the Peterborough Gas Company when they make a rebate on the amount charged, as nearly all the gas consumed is used for experimental purposes.

Your committee would recommend the Board to make a contract with the Water Co. on a fix d amount per annum instead of by measurement.

All of which is respectfully submitted.
GEO BURNHAM,
Chairman.

The report was adopted.

THE PROPERTY COMMITTEE REPORT.

Mr. McBain presented the report of the Property Committee as follows:

To the chairman and members of the Board of Education:

GENTLEMEN,—Your Property Committee beg leave to report that as required they advertised for tenders for the supply of coal, and awarded the contract to the Rathbun Company, they agreeing to furnish during the coming season the best quality of screened egg and nut coal for $6 22 per ton, to be delivered at the different schools as required.

All of which is respectfully submitted.
J. J. McBAIN,
Chairman.

The report was adopted.

REPORT OF SUPERVISION COMMITTEE.

In the absence of Mr. Deane, chairman, Mr. Ferguson presented the report of the Supervision Committee.

To the chairman and members of the Board of Education:

GENTLEMEN,—Your Supervision Committee beg leave to report and recommend that Mr. Seward be granted the use of the hall in the Collegiate Institute after school hours for the teaching of vocal music in the school, but that his request concerning the collecting of fees and appointing a teacher to keep order during the lessons, be not entertained.

In regard to the petition of George W. Powell and others, after consulting the inspector your committee recommend that no action be taken.

Re the communication of John Perry, secretary of the Galt Public School in reference to a return of the semi-annual entrance examination. Your committee owing to the illness of the chairman and to the fact that we have been unable to obtain the opinion of the principal of the Collegiate Institute and Public Schools, ask that this matter be laid over for another month.

All of which is respectfully submitted.
W. G. FERGUSON,
Acting Chairman.

The report was adopted.

THE DUTIES OF JANITOR.

Mr. W. H. Hill proposed to offer a report as to the duties of school janitors and with the boards, consent have it given as notice of motion. Some janitors refused to do certain things which others did claiming they were not obliged to do so, and he purposed in a report to define all the duties of a janitor.

On motion of Mr Stevenson, seconded by Mr. McBain, Mr. Hill's report was referred to the committee of the whole board for consideration.

THE LOCAL INSPECTORSHIP COMES UP.

Mr. Hamilton referred to the finding of the committee which some time ago brought in a report favouring a local superintendent for the schools, who should devote his whole time to them, and defining his duties. On a vote he said the report had been defeated, simply owning to the chairman's ruling, although nine voted in favor of and only two against the report.

Mr. Wrighton—I went according to the law in my ruling. That is all I have to go by.

Mr. Hamilton continuing said it was rather a strange state of affairs that, although the majority of the members were in favour of the adoption of the report, the chairman by his decision can'd defeat them.

Mr. Wrigston—I simply did what was my duty, Mr. Hamilton, you are getting too personal in your remarks towards the chairman.

Mr. Hamilton—I am not making an attack on you. I am only telling what took place and discussing the matter." Mr. Hamilton, continuing, said a change in the manner of running the schools was necessary and he would like to see the will of the majority put into effect in their management. He then moved the following resolution, seconded by Mr. Law; that for reasons herein mentioned the secretary be instructed to notify the inspector of public schools for the town that the Board will not require his services after the 31st of December next.

REASONS.

(1) The time at the disposal of the inspector is entirely inadequate to the wants of our schools.

(2) That the inspector has not carried out, nor can he consistently with his other duties carry out, the rules laid down for his guidance by a resolution of this Board.

(3) The inspector is not a resident of the town of Peterborough and consequently not easily accessible to the Board.

(4) Owing to the great increase in the attendance and the consequent increase in the number of teachers employed, it is important that the inspector be in constant attendance to supervise and direct the work of the schools.

VIGOROUSLY OPPOSES THE MOTION.

Mr. Dumble was somewhat astonished at the motion as there appeared to be something all along that the members did not understand. After the excellent results of the examinations this summer and in face of the fact that no schools in Ontario came near the town schools in their standing, he did not see why they wanted an Inspector the same as some other places whose names had been mentioned and whose schools they had greatly outstripped. There was a misapprehension of fact. Those were no schools that had done better in Ontario in passing a large percentage of pupils and shown as high standards as Peterborough. He did not know on what grounds or object this motion was framed. The motion said the Inspector had not time to give attention to the schools, but how much time did they expect? He gave twice as much as the law allowed for, and how much time were they prepared to pay for? It would be extraordinary to put such motion on record in view of the results of the mid-summer examinations. In his opinion there was something behind the resolution which seemed to be personal. They did not want a school officer who would cost per year $1200 or $1500 of the people's money, when in no single department could there be shown incompetency, bad management or poor results. If there were he would be the last man to oppose the present resolution. He was prepared to appoint a committee to inquire into the state of the schools, and if anything was found neglected in their management or the state of the schools, pupils or teachers shown to be inferior in the slightest, he would heartily vote for the resolution. He warned the members against making such a change.

UPHOLDS HIS CONVICTIONS.

Mr. Hamilton said it was hard to convince Mr. Dumble, since he would not be convinced. He did not want him to impute improper motives to other members of the Board when their convictions and opinions were as honest as his. Since he had been on the board he had striven to do his duty as best he could. He could not, he said, judge perhaps as well as Mr. Dumble, who was a good scholar and had a better education than he, of the state of the schools, but as a business man he saw that the schools were grossly run. He would give Mr. Dumble credit for honestly and faithfully doing all he could in the interests of the schools, but he must allow others to exercise their own judgment as well as he. The object of appointing an inspector was brought up not through any unfavorable feeling against Dr. Tilley. The committee had no fault to find with him, but there was a large number of teachers in the schools who had no superior or head over them. They were almost isolated. What they were anxious to get was a good man—even if he did cost $1200 a year—to take full charge. The people of the town demanded such a man to give the schools his entire attention. The speaker criticised the present school conditions. Schools were overcrowded and nothing had been done. Small pupils remained two and three years in one room without being moved on because the teacher had not the time to attend to this matter.

A USELESS EXPENDITURE.

Mr. Stevenson asked who the man appointed was to be, whether he was to be an inspector, teacher or what? The Board in a recent resolution put certain duties on the present inspector and they had not yet given him an opportunity to fulfil these duties. The resolution was therefore very unfair. He never knew such an unfair thing occurring in the board during the past forty years. Mr. Stevenson spoke encouragingly of the state of the schools and on the magnificent result of the recent examinations. They would gain nothing by the change; simply increase the school expenditure. The present inspector was the man they could procure. He would like to know something of the abilities of a new man over the present inspector before contemplating a change. The board could not undo one night what they had done the night previous. They were making the biggest mistake they ever made if they changed. They schools were now first class and they could not afford to try such a novel experiment as this in regard to the matter. He thought the resolution should be left over and considered by the whole board in committee.

HIGHER STANDARDS ONLY GAINED BY EXPERIMENTS.

Mr. Law thought that the schools should be improved even though they were admittedly good now. Every art and science had been improved by experiment only and it would be well to try the change. They wanted an inspector to examine their ughly the schools. In the inspector's report he noticed that the latter mentioned one or two faults of certain teachers and nothing had been done to remedy these imperfections, although the matter had been running on three months. The inspector should visit the school every day or two.

Mr. Stevenson—He had better do the teaching altogether then.

Mr. Law, continuing, said the expenditure would be a prudent one although costing some $500 or $600 more a year.

AGAIN SPEAKS AGAINST THE MOTION.

Mr. Dumble again spoke strongly against the resolution. The remarks of Mr. Law were casting a direct reflection on the schools and although the plan proposed had been tried in other cities, the schools were in no better condition and in many places not so good as ours. When we were constantly stepping higher and higher was it wise to take such a leap as this? Nine pupils from outside towns were able to step into a corresponding grade in our schools and hold their own with our scholars, so much higher was the standard in Peterborough.

MORE DISCUSSION PRO AND CON.

Mr. Law said if they had an inspector to devote his whole time and attention, any teacher who a bad slight fault in teaching methods could be corrected in a day, whereas (under the present system) they would go on teaching in the same manner until the inspector came around in a month or more.

Mr. Stevenson ridiculed the idea of the change in a humorous brief, pointed speech. He thought that the members had enough British fair play in them not to put the matter through to night. "It is a perfect condemnation of Dr. Tilley and an uncalled for slur upon the fine condition of our schools" said Mr. Stevenson.

MR. HILL REVIEWS THE QUESTION.

Mr. Hill said the opponents of the change had a wrong conception of the motion. In the motion no ill will was expressed against Dr. Tilley. The man was not the question at issue, but it was the system which was aimed at. Dr. Tilley spent about one month each year in our public schools or about two hours in each room during the month. They had paid him for an ex cessive of time. Did the previous speakers mean to say that no man could fill Dr. Tilley's position? They wanted a man to devote his whole time and attention to the matter. If Dr. Tilley gave two hours every month he would certainly not do any harm if he spent three or days each month. The principle of having an inspector give his whole time was what they wanted. The present system of inspection was in vogue 40 years ago. He thought the system proposed should be adopted by the board because it was the correct one. It was for this reason he urged its adoption.

Mr. Hartley said that where this system was carried out the schools were not as good as our own, hence he was opposed to the motion. He not believe in going along in the same old rut all the time; but this new experiment in other towns had not brought their schools ahead of Peterborough. The town schools had steadily improved under the present system, and it would be useless to spend a $1000 a year more to inaugurate a system which other places had failed to prove as good as our own.

THE CRISIS COMES

This ended a heated discussion of over an hour's duration, as a result of which some of the members were somewhat excited, and ready for the vote so Mr. Hamilton's motion.

Mr. Wrighton—"Gentlemen, are you ready for the question? In a matter such as this which involves the dismissing of the Inspector, the school law in certain cases demands a two-third vote of the members of the board to carry, while in other cases it requires only a majority vote. In this instance I shall waive a two-thirds vote and it will require only a majority of the members of the board to vote for the resolution in order to carry it. "Gentlemen," said Mr. Wrighton, continuing, "Are you ready for the question?"

The vote was then taken resulting as follows: Messrs. Hamilton, Hill, McKee, McBain, Ferguson, Burnham and Law voted for the resolution, whereupon Mr. Wrighton said: "I declare the motion lost." [A majority of the whole board—15 members—of whom twelve were present, had not voted for the motion.]

At this point amid the excited remarks that followed the chairman's declaration, Mr. Stevenson moved that the Board adjourn. This motion finding no seconder, Mr. Stevenson, Mr. Dumble and other members of the board arose and left their places, to retire, pausing a moment on their way to the door, when Mr. Hamilton said that the majority of the board objected to the ruling of the chairman. Mr. Wrighton responded that he had to be guided in his decision by the law.

Mr. Hill pointed out that some of the members were leaving, which they should not do, as the motion to adjourn had not been put.

Mr. Wrighton—You had better take the chair yourself, Mr. Hill.

Mr. Stevenson—I think we had better retire from the board and allow Mr. Hill to run it.

Mr. Hamilton—We press our resolution.

Mr. Wrighton—I shall not put it.

Mr. Hill moved, seconded by Mr. Hamilton, that the chairman's decision be not accepted by the Board.

Mr. Wrighton—You will have to get another chairman, gentlemen. I am going strictly by the law.

Mr. Hill—You are not the Board.

Mr. Wrighton—I don't care; the majority of the board can't override the law.

Mr. Hamilton—You had better resign then; you are not fit to act as chairman.

Mr. Wrighton—I shall do as I like," and he followed Messrs. Stevenson and Dumble, who had meantime left the room.

After considerable talk as to the power of the board to appoint a chairman pro tempore under the circumstances, there being an unput resolution before the board and no chairman present, Dr. Burnham was voted to the chair, and Mr. Hill's motion declining to accept the chairman's decision on Mr. Hamilton's motion was put and carried unanimously, only those who had voted for Mr. Hamilton's motion being present, except Mr. Hartley, who was not in his place but standing near the door.

The members then separated.

"Oh, Terry, if Zanes could have come to see all this!"

It was moonlight before the roar of the falls told they were at Buckhorn.

"Terry Denver, I do not know the locality: it is twenty years since I was here. Will you lead?"

Poor Shem. His long seclusion was beginning to show. He leaned heavily on Terry more ways than one. The landing was made safely, and Terry led the way to the door of Mrs. Jones' home. The door was ajar, and around the table sat mother and children.

CHAPTER XII.

MRS. JONES, will you keep us through the night? You see I have returned from the land of enchantment."

"Land sakes alive, how you scared me! Now, who'd a thought you'd a looked so well after been spirited for a whole long month. Were they witches, sir?"

"Yes, and here is one or two of them."

"Lordy! but you must have been to heaven, stranger, and lured away one of them shining angels. But sit down, sit down after your long trip."

"Will you keep us to-night, and can you supply us with a suit of clothes for Zell?"

"Now then, and would you change that angel into a mortal like ourselves?"

"Yes, will you say what you can do? She is not an angel."

"Dill, you take her back and put your maw white dress on her. You are a wise."

Zell had stood by Terry, looking from one to the other, then at the coarse surroundings, so different from her own dainty, silken lined home. Now she looked up at Terry, her strength; let her hand rest on his arm a moment, then timidly followed the girl Dill into an adjoining room. In half an hour they had finished the toilet and came out to receive approval. Terry's eyes twinkled with amusement and there were symptoms of an outbreak of laughter, but tenderness veiled all. Zell had on a white dress of muslin. It was frilled and decked with blue ribbon bows. Her feet were encased in leather boots, heavy and coarse, and much too large for her. She took a step or two toward Terry on the bare board floor, then stood still, holding out her hands to him. She looked like a little one about to take its first step.

"Oh! Terry, I make such a noise, and they hurt, and this hurts, and all I have on is so stiff and hard."

Tears came fast, and so did Terry. She nestled in his arms, sobbing, sobbing.

"There, Zell, do not cry so. This is one of the many trials you must overcome. This is the first one, are you going to sink under it?"

"You will not let me sink. I tried to but you kept me up. Tell me, Terry, what am I to do with my hair? They cannot fasten it up, and they say it taught to be, that I am too old to have it blowing about my ears. What will I do?"

Terry laughed but a sympathetic mist hid his lovely Zell from his sight a moment.

"Wait until the morning, then we will see what is to be done with your hair."

After an hour's talk and answering of the questions Terry felt inclined to answer, Zell retired and Shem and Terry went to remove the contents of the caves to the house. Terry detained Shem at the water's edge a moment.

"Shem, wait. What is Zell's name?"

"Name? Why, Zell."

"Yes, but she must have another. Did you never hear Ishmael's name?"

"I never thought of that. No. I never called him aught but Ishmael. I never heard another."

"We will have to adopt a name for her, then. What shall it be?"

"Terry Denver, I am unfit to give thee advice. Choose a name thyself."

"Will we call her after Father Ambrose? He was, as she said, the only father she knew about. It is a pretty name too and she would like it."
